TO THE CLASS OF 1936

The first issue of The Ithacan is dedicated to you just as the entire first week of the college year has been entirely devoted to your interest.

The Orientation Week activities in which you have been the central figures were promulgated as a gesture of welcome from the officers of the school, from the faculty, and from the upperclassmen; as an aid to you in acclimating yourself to your new surroundings; as an encouragement to well-organized scholastic, and extra-curricular activity, and also for the purpose of making you acquainted with the officers with the faculty, and with the upperclassmen who are prominent in school affairs. The editors of The Ithacan want all of you to be friendly hearted good wishes for the year, and hope that they, through personal contacts and also through The Ithacan will be able to contribute to your happiness, and to your development.

As the past few days you have learned much about the school with which you have become affiliated, but it is highly improbable that you could have gained any conception of the wealth of experiences that Ithaca College has in store for you. You cannot gain this concept until you have been here long enough to make an estimate for yourselves. We find it very difficult to advise you as to how to make this estimate. It would not be amiss to try at least to give you some advice as to your procedure.

Approach your studies seriously even though all of them will not be new to you. Endeavor to always be alive to the personalities of the teachers and the students about you, and be curious concerning their example all that will be of assistance to you in your advancement; emulate only the best and you will soon be the best. Be friendly, but maintain a fitting reserve. Learn to depend upon yourself, without excluding the benefits that come from association with others. Be kind to all that seems to you worthy of your loyalty, and you may be sure that you will find little in Ithaca College that will be unworthy of your attention. It will not be long before you will find yourself by and by. You cannot gain this conception until you have been till you get home, may

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

As a parting word may we say this: Take what has been given you, and try to show them how very wisely, the you has been said wisely and sincerely, and has been done out of a fine, generous, kindly feeling for you that is held by all the officers of the school, by the faculty, and by every upperclassman.

The following article has been printed in The Ithacan as an expression of appreciation in the character of Ithaca, to its parents and student patrons who have contributed as generously to Orientation week at Ithaca college.

EDITOR'S NOTE

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Some of you young men and women who entered college this fall are going through some troublesome experiences concerning your religion. Some of the things you and your loved ones have always believed have come into conflict with other things you learn at college. A few things which you cherished most highly you hear other students, in the minds of your professors, and of the Student council, and of the president of the Sophomore If you may be expected to take toward other

You are merely working out a practical program by which you can find your way back to the right track. Religious religious training has value in itself, but is for the sake of the things which once seemed most important you may take a smaller plane.

Welcome, Co-ed's Whatever Your Wardrobe Whatever Your Budget

No news, this, except to '35! For this year's sophomores and juniors already know it's smart to be frugal at Holley’s . . . that here they find just what college girls need for a well-ordered wardrobe, that here skilled choosing will make a comparative few clothes look like a veritable man! For Holley’s know the requirements for college fashions: how the modern collegian must have just the right clothes for sports, for campus wear, for dinner and dancing. And all about budgets too! So forget that particular worry; shop Holley’s first for college clothes, and go away with a lot more things than you’d ever dreamed you could have . . . and still have plenty left for the little luxuries one just must have!

CLASS OF 1935
IS GREETED
BY THE ORACLE

The Oracle society takes this opportunity to welcome all new students to Ithaca college and to wish you success in the course of study you have chosen.

The Oracle is the Senior honorary organization of Ithaca college. It elects those who are highest in scholarship, character, service, personality, and leadership in the college. To be elected to the Oracle is the highest honor that can be conferred upon a student in attendance here.

Each year the Oracle works out definite projects. Last year the organization subscribed to Horsemen Magazine for three years. The magazine is in the library and is available to all students. We also offer a cup with the name of the class holding the highest average upon it.

We wish every student success in aiding his class in obtaining the highest average in the college.
