Freshman Week has again opened the school year for 1935-36. It has been an interesting one for the new student. He has been advised, introduced, and entertained. He has been made to realize that there is much more to getting an education than the study of text books. Already he has been shown the opportunities that will last a lifetime. He has had a taste of college life and knows what to expect throughout his four years here.

During the course of the Freshman Week activities each and every new student has conducted himself with a notable seriousness that suggests a desire for greater knowledge and an appreciation of the finer things of life.

For the next four years he will be constantly doing new things and assuming new and greater responsibilities. The seriousness with which he has applied himself to the Freshman Week program will also enable him to gain the most from his college career.

The staff of The Ithacan wishes the individual members of the Class of 1938 the utmost success in their studies and the intenseness with which it is carried on in each department a student's main interest lies within the department. Nevertheless, it is to his advantage that he participate as far as possible in the activities of the departments outside his own.

To each new student, it is extremely urged that he take part, at least, as a spectator in the week of his fellow students. With the unusual number of concerts, recitals and musicals offered by the Music Department the excellent plays, recitals, and theatrical entertainments given by the Drama students and the imposing schedule of athletic contests to be played by those in the Physical Education Department, it is sure folly for any student to ignore their worth.

Make your college career something to be remembered and at the same time a start toward a full life in the enjoyment of diverse interests.

be said, cannot be accomplished by anything gained from a college education. He explained the necessity of each student being an independent individual and the part this would play in furthering education.

ATHLETES SAY:
"THEY DON'T GET YOUR WIND"

JOSEPHINE MCMIN, Olympic champion swimmer. "One of my hard and fast rules in connection with smoking," she says, "is that I always choose a Camel. Camels are such a mild cigarette. I can smoke them steadily, and they don't interfere with my physical condition. They never bother my wind. I'd walk a mile for a Camel!"

LESTER STOEFEN, U.S. tennis doubles champion. "No matter how steadily I smoke, Camels are so mild that they never get my wind. And Camels have a better flavor."

YOU'LL LIKE CAMEL'S MILDNESS TOO.
Your own physical condition—your wind...your energy...the good health of your nerves—is important to you. So remember this about smoking: it is a fact that Camels are made from costlier tobaccos. They are so mild you can smoke all you want. Athletes say Camels never get their wind or throw their nerves off key.

We have on hand at all times for CHESTERFIELD cigarettes upwards of 350,000 bales of Turkish tobacco...

The pleasing aroma and flavor of Turkish tobacco is almost necessary if you want a good cigarette.

Turkish tobacco is more costly when you take into account that you have to pay 35c a pound duty, but we have to have it to blend with our mild ripe home-grown tobaccos.

It helps make Chesterfields milder, it helps give them better taste. Just try them.
