ENROLLMENT INCREASE NECESSITATES FIVE ADDITIONS TO FACULTY
Because of the steady increase in enrollment, it is necessary to add five new members to the faculty. The administration has been fortunate in securing the services of men and women outstanding in their respective fields.

Two newcomers to the Physical Education staff are Miss Page and Mr. Chris West. Miss Page, graduate of Union University and Student Teaching at Physical Education, received her B.S. at Buffalo University, and recently teaching under Pauline Chisolm. She was assistant director of Physical Education at the Knox School in Cooperstown, and supervisor of Physical Education at the Danvers School in Danvers, Mass., and was head of the Danver Women at Buffalo University and at Sargeant College. During the years 1939-1937, Miss Page taught Junior and Senior high school physical education, instructed practice teaching and full time teaching. At the Saranac Summer Camp in Peterboro, N.H., she taught tennis, basketball and land sport super. She also supervised track, tennis, and field events.

Mr. Chris West has a Turn Vers Training background. He received his Bachelor of Physical Education degree from Harvard University, where he held the highest grade in his class, and received his Master of Science degree from Rutgers, and is now working on his Doctor's degree. He is a major in recreation and a minor in Tests and Measurements. In 1934 he studied in Germany with Carl Loges. He has assisted in athletic meets in and is an approved official in the Eastern States. Last year Mr. West was a member of the Red Cross Aquatic School Faculty and to the American Swimming Coaches Association. Orange Y. M. C. A.

Mr. West was at Faneur College of Physical Education for seven years as right top notch gym teacher, apparatus instructor, ball work, tumbling, and coaching. The course will be conducted in the gymnasium under the observance of all three faculty members.

Professor Thachter of the Speech Department, born in Merrick, Long Island was graduated from Park College in 1929 and received his Master of Art's degree at Princeton and Columbia University in 1933. He was director at Junior College, Bath, New York, and of the British Broadcasting Service, which is a New York State project, and was affiliated with the BBC, broadcasted weekly from station WOR (Continued on page 2)
Hart-Kaufman Hit First Offering Of Season By Players
Hart and Kaufman's popular "Love Story," which will be the first production of the Drama Department in the new season. It will open October 25 and run for four days: 25, 26, 27, 28.

The production is going on in a face, will consist of Harold Ware as Morton Vanderbroek, Robert Lavery as Niles Pendleton Slayton, Edmund Howard as Edward Howard, and Charles Kelby as Mr. Kirby, Alice Mitchell as Miss Simms, and James Baker as Koloshen. The remainder of the cast remains open.

Our Town which will follow "Love Story" is not definitely decided upon. However, realizing the great amount of work the drama students under the observance of Mr. Dean, in an attempt to save them a lot of worry, hopes that it will be unnecessary to do the casting now and to advance.

Last week there was an opportunity given to all freshmen to read any selection of their choice under the observance of all three faculty members and to attempt to learn the parts by Monday. The directors were very much pleased with the ability they discovered.

An improvement over former years, the freshmen will study in a play acting class, and in the September and October class, two types of courses will be offered. Dr. Boos will give a course in reenactments. In the course of two years he will be offered an advanced course in play acting, both a course in acting under Mr. Dean or a course in scene designing under Mr. Hoerner. A ten hour cycle course will be given the course in which half of the class will carry out over a two year period the course of the other half under the observance of Mr. DePinna, who will then teach the group. The course will include a study of Greek literature and includes modern plays. Mr. DePinna will have a radio production course.

During the summer, a refugee group given under the direction of Dr. Boos and Mr. DePinna on a Vassar Theatre which met with considerable success. The group has continued to rehearse the luffe and flow productions by Lothar Meier. This year through the cooperation of the Italian States Students and the Italian Teachers, we shall have better sound equipment and the group has had in former productions.

ACTIVITY MARKS FRESHMAN WEEK; Dr. J o b ADDRESSES CONVOCATION
Students' Program Features Initial W.S.G.A. GATHERING
A program by a well chosen group of performers was one of the highlights of the first W.S.G.A. meeting this year in the Little Theatre, Wednesday, September 27. Helen Sherry, a senior in the Music Department, presented two vocal selections: "The Desert Song" and "Thine Alone." An announcement made by Miss Betty Woodruff, the Freshmen Representative, concerning the forthcoming "Freshmen Frolic," which are held on Saturday, October 7, Miss Evelyn Tise senior in the Drama Department read a selection "Going to Red Earth" which was warmly received by the audience. Miss Marian Lather completed the program with the presentation of a recital.

The officers of the W.S.G.A. executive board who were elected for the fall semester are as follows: President- Beatrice Gardiner, First Vice President, Marian Grey; Second Vice President, Grace Combs; Secretary, Katherine Lee; Treasurer, Elizabeth Woodruff; and Sergeant at Arms, Mrs. Margaret McKillop. They are very happy.

Fall Orientation Week began with its usual vigor Monday morning. With an approximate 360 freshmen and 700 returning students as students of Ithaca College, the day began with a mass meeting, at which Dr. Job, Registrar, instructed the new students on how to register. After giving the instructions the students met with their respective departments and set up their schedules for the semester.

In the evening a Convocation was held in the Little Theatre, and the students had the pleasure of hearing the director of the Music Department render solos. Mr. Leon Sampson, head of the Division, played Chopin's "3rd Scherzo" and "1st Mazurka" by Liszt; while Mr. William P. J. Davis, violinist, played a Chamin on "Rostropovich's" and "Mozart's" "50th Variations." The President of the Freshman Women's League, Miss Betty Woodruff, introduced President and announced that the students had wished them success as they embarked upon their college career. He said that students entering this college have chosen work in a scholarly environment and he referred to the manner in which education is carried on in certain European states, he said, "Fortunately education in America is still an individual matter. As individuals we do as much as we can, in seeking higher education and no attempt is made to dictate what education we shall receive. The exercise of individual preference is the procedure of the college in everything else. It is good, indeed, that it is the only way for the students to follow out the lines of our own interests without distortion from state authority." Dr. Job also stressed the importance of the students' ability to pursue the fields of specialization. He said, "It is so much that the faculty of a college is in an essential part of our college is in an essential part of our college. We are of the conviction that the students are the college, and we believe that the students should have the right to study and to be educated in the manner that they desire to study and to be educated."

Sympathy

The Ithacan wishes to take this opportunity to express the sympathy of the students body to Mr. Chadwick and Mr. Freeman in their recent bereavement.

"Chad," as he was fondly reknowned, was a delightful man who was with the College for fourteen years and during that time was such that all who came in contact with him were moved by his winning personality.

It's Your Paper

Dear Editor,

I wish to say here that the "The Old Wives' Tale" that there is somewhat trite and commonplace, is showing itself in the cases of what you are most interested in. I say, "Be good sports-two tnosti all that is asked of you."

Your

The expression, "You get as much out of a course as you put into it," is somewhat trite and commonplace, but I think it definitely touches up the meaning of the lines: "what shall we do with the rest of our lives?"

I believe that there is a universal musical talent. If there anything you can do about it?

Sincerely,

Letters to The Editor

We begin this new season with the hope that this year shall it be the best newspaper in the history of the school, with columns and will endeavor to make each issue consist of at least six pages. The staff is a competent group and working journalists from the beginning of a successful college career.

I don't mean that you must necessarily spend your undergraduate days "grinding," I do mean that you should spend your time in such a way that you would be well to remember the lines, "And if men ask ye why ye smile, tell them ye smile, for your eyes know tomorrow." It is for us, the new voters of this country, that we must be much more enthusiastic if both sides will be much more enthusiastic if both sides.

During this sad, difficult era, one should strive conscientiously to be optimistic about the future. It would be well to remember the lines of "I Clive Dill and Forrest Wood...

Scrap Basket

In these times, when every individual in America is doing everything to get a job, it is we who are citizens of these United States, and more is the pity about it, we don't have to carry our enthusiasm to such a point that we begin to shout, "These damn Germans, or those damn Russians!" It isn't the fault of the Germans or the Russion people that we are now living in a war age. Granted that Hitler is a direct cause, and that Stalin is certainly in the trouble, it is still true that when the Treaty of Versailles was executed, it must have been scrapped and rewritten.

The beginning of a year has always been and always will be the perfect time to turn over that proverbial new leaf. Therefore, if we resolve to do this, we ask you (our readers) to sit back and gain as much of the spirit accompanying this column as you can. The spirit is one of enthusiasm and fun and friendship. In other words, throughout the year you will find pleasant and malicious intent whatever. So don't worry about the future. We hope you've had a summer of privacy—because you have.

Armand Vorce is starting the off-campus board game with the four-man relay on the Pebble Beach lawn this afternoon. You know somebody one of those young, attractive freshmen. And while we're mentioning the freshmen—they certainly are lovely and abundant.

From observation we find a lot of these blooming new students just can't get enough of campus. They seem to branch from a variety of levels of society and have equal beauty constituent. We hope they'll get our democratic ways at least get in step with it! Campus rules to know:

- Music freshmen who have been accepted into the college choir, band, and orchestra.
- The annual drama party renewed many things; popular songs, Don Baker rushing Virginia Heider. But, by the way, here's a situation—contrary for_filter:

  - Gordon Johnson (of all people) sponsoring his own rush party for Miss Bevin in the form of a long evening where all the girls and boys come to a meeting on a Saturday night.

- To make it more complicated, Jean Koeber and Gordon have been seen around a lot. Oh, My! It's a vicious circle!!!

- And one of our precious hints that we just must tell you about confidentially of course. Our only and only Hal West has concocted some trick this summer at the playground. Yes, but! Believe it or fly! She's from Wellesley and everybody says he's in love! But things do happen, don't they?

Since Jennifer and Kitty Cameron have come to the parting of the ways, while as contrast, we have several engagements (including Jeanette Cipoth and Bob (King) Carlyle of the freshman class, who have won out for the full length of the race.

Continuation Of Cheerleaders Would Improve School Spirit At Games

We feel that this, our first edition of the year, offers an excellent opportunity to advocate the continuance of the extremely desirable group, which first made its appearance last year and continued because of the demand. The rise of our "school spirit" was al most entirely dependent upon the achievement and activity of this group last the few home football games of the '38 season. However, the capacity crowds attending our basketball games in the gym, found the cheerleaders mentally conspicuous by their absence. The moral and spirit of both our teams and the student body would be inestimably increased by this addition at our athletic contests. Here's an urgent plea for cheerleaders—more spirit, hips, and fun, for by, and for the student body.

The annual Drama party, sponsored by Theta Alpha Phi, was held Thursday evening, Sept. 21, in the Green Room.

B. S. O. C.

In the autumn of 1932 Glen Hughes, director of drama for the University of Washington put into these black outs in order to be able to leave the stage more quickly and cleanly.

Furniture must be carefully chosen for height and finished on all sides in order not to obstruct the audience's views.

Arts must be taught to ignore the audience despite their facing them.

The director must adapt the action to the four-wall room remembering that the audience completely surrounds the "stage."

There must be a concentration of light on the "stage" without a glare on the eyes of the audience.

The auditorium should have a theatrical atmosphere, but it must be simple and intimate. This system is not as easy as it sounds. Without the aid of scenic background and conventional stage atmosphere, an ordinary actor is not a very effective instrument. It is a matter of drawing the audience into the arena with nothing but art and the words of the play. To survive that ordeal, he must be good.

Shall we enlarge our facilities? Shall we extend our scholarships and other special benefits? Shall we extend our services to the community in general? Shall we enlarge our programs in general?

Soccer Team
Hard Hit By Graduation

"Hard-hit by graduation and practice teaching assignments which account for the loss of twelve members of last year's club, soccer coach, Doc" Yavits is trying to assemble something out of the wreckage. The 1938 team was one of the finest of last year's club, soccer to assemble something out of the finest of the many top-notch clubs that Coach Yavits has turned out since he came to Ithaca.

With one of the longest and hardest schedules ever undertaken by any Ithaca soccer team, the boys are hard at work in preparation for their opening game, October 4 at Colgate. The schedule calls for four home games and five out-of-town games this season.

Among the leading a large squad and giving them all plenty to do in an effort to find a winning combination. So far this month the team has practiced hard, and Coon in the goal; DeShaw, Taffs, Lanyak and Ingle; backs; Kersch, Koster, Lull, Weimann as half-backs; and Mattern, Sicke, Austin, Harmon, Formasecki and Tarbell in the front line.

Although there is a terrible loss of material from last year's club, there is a feeling around school that from the above list of men, together with several newcomers who are available, the team will again come forward with his usual line team.

Professor Thatcher was the professor of Radio and Speech at South Carolina College. At Presbyterian College he directed the dramatic and musical clubs, and he taught courses in social and economic problems. Recordings were made and reproduced over various stations. The students of the college owned Professor Thatcher's original script. Professor Thatcher will teach English and French composition for physical education students as well as some French courses for the sophomore drama department students.

The late Mr. Chadwick, while Martin Avery will be the official Stage Manager, Mrs. Zeller will take over some of the private instruction classes for the Drama students.

Pierre Henrotte, former concert master of the Metropolitan Opera, is professor of violin and conductor of the college orchestra this year at Ithaca College.

Born in Liège, Belgium, Mr. Henrotte was in the Royal Conservatory of Music in Liège. At sixteen, he won a prize in a violin competition which brought about an offer to play first violin in the orchestra of the theater of Sables D'Olonne, a summer resort on the French Atlantic coast. He also played in the orchestra of the Grand Theater of Nantes.

Professor Henrotte, at the age of twenty, came to America in 1904 and made his debut at the old Waldorf Astoria in New York. He was concert master at the Metropolitan Opera Company for thirteen years and also was associated with the Minnesota, Boston, Chicago, and San Carlo Opera Companies. He has been the leader of several chamber music organizations, including the Chamber Music society of New York and the Minnesota Orchestra.

In 1937, Mr. Henrotte retired to private teaching and was for a time head of the violin department at the Ernest William School in Brooklyn and at the Piddlesbury Junior College at Poultney, Vermont.

Mr. Henrotte has brought with him to Ithaca, several famous and valued violins.

Mr. George Driscoll, graduate of Ithaca College in 1912, taught at his Alma Mater last semester and is now resuming his work here as a teacher of Theory and private instructor in piano. Since his graduation, Mr. Driscoll has been teaching privately in his own studio.

University of Wisconsin Opens New Theater

Madison, Wis. (Special) — A brilliant year-long program, climaxing in a two-weeks' festival in the spring, will celebrate the opening of the new Wisconsin Union Theater at the University of Wisconsin campus.

Events definitely scheduled which will be added to will mark a new era for the Arts and the State University community, were announced recently by Porter Butt, Union house director.

First will be an appearance of Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in the New York Theater Guild production of "The Taming of the Shrew," highlighting the formal opening of the building the week of October 8.

The opening program will start with a general inspection of the new campus center on Sunday, October 8, and will feature an "Information Please" type of radio broadcast.

The Lunts will play on October 9 and 10, with the opening night planned to include a dedication program.

Starting soon after the opening week, the Union will offer its 20th annual musical series, headlined by Marian Anderson, the negro contralto. The concert series is one of the most distinguished ever presented by the Union, including Enrico Caruso, baritone; Emanual Feuerstein, violin; Robert Casadesus, pianist; Joseph Szigeti, violinist and for the first time in many years a symphony orchestra.

The Minnesota Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dimitri Mitropoulos, will present two concerts in mid-winter.

In the dance field, bookings have been made for Ted Shawn and his nine men dancers for the first semester, and the Jooss Ballet for the second semester.

Continuing through the year, a strong student dramatic program, including five major productions will be presented by the Wisconsin Players under the auspices of the University speech department. The Daracon and Club will present an annual musical show in the spring.

A two-weeks' festival in May, now on the University calendar, will bring the dedication year to a close, highlighted by a popular Shakespearean program to be given by the Pro Arts Quartet which appeared here last spring.

Professor Thatcher was the professor of Radio and Speech at South Carolina College. At Presbyterian College he directed the dramatic and musical clubs, and he taught courses in social and economic problems. Recordings were made and reproduced over various stations. The students of the college owned Professor Thatcher's original script. Professor Thatcher will teach English and French composition for physical education students as well as some French courses for the sophomore drama department students.

The late Mr. Chadwick, while Martin Avery will be the official Stage Manager, Mrs. Zeller will take over some of the private instruction classes for the Drama students.

Pierre Henrotte, former concert master of the Metropolitan Opera, is professor of violin and conductor of the college orchestra this year at Ithaca College.

Born in Liège, Belgium, Mr. Henrotte was in the Royal Conservatory of Music in Liège. At sixteen, he won a prize in a violin competition which brought about an offer to play first violin in the orchestra of the theater of Sables D'Olonne, a summer resort on the French Atlantic coast. He also played in the orchestra of the Grand Theater of Nantes.

Professor Henrotte, at the age of twenty, came to America in 1904 and made his debut at the old Waldorf Astoria in New York. He was concert master at the Metropolitan Opera Company for thirteen years and also was associated with the Minnesota, Boston, Chicago, and San Carlo Opera Companies. He has been the leader of several chamber music organizations, including the Chamber Music society of New York and the Minnesota Orchestra.

In 1937, Mr. Henrotte retired to private teaching and was for a time head of the violin department at the Ernest William School in Brooklyn and at the Piddlesbury Junior College at Poultney, Vermont.

Mr. Henrotte has brought with him to Ithaca, several famous and valued violins.

Mr. George Driscoll, graduate of Ithaca College in 1912, taught at his Alma Mater last semester and is now resuming his work here as a teacher of Theory and private instructor in piano. Since his graduation, Mr. Driscoll has been teaching privately in his own studio.

University of Wisconsin Opens New Theater

Madison, Wis. (Special) — A brilliant year-long program, climaxing in a two-weeks' festival in the spring, will celebrate the opening of the new Wisconsin Union Theater at the University of Wisconsin campus.

Events definitely scheduled which will be added to will mark a new era for the Arts and the State University community, were announced recently by Porter Butt, Union house director.

First will be an appearance of Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne in the New York Theater Guild production of "The Taming of the Shrew," highlighting the formal opening of the building the week of October 8.

The opening program will start with a general inspection of the new campus center on Sunday, October 8, and will feature an "Information Please" type of radio broadcast.

The Lunts will play on October 9 and 10, with the opening night planned to include a dedication program.

Starting soon after the opening week, the Union will offer its 20th annual musical series, headlined by Marian Anderson, the negro contralto. The concert series is one of the most distinguished ever presented by the Union, including Enrico Caruso, baritone; Emanual Feuerstein, violin; Robert Casadesus, pianist; Joseph Szigeti, violinist and for the first time in many years a symphony orchestra.

The Minnesota Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dimitri Mitropoulos, will present two concerts in mid-winter.

In the dance field, bookings have been made for Ted Shawn and his nine men dancers for the first semester, and the Jooss Ballet for the second semester.

Continuing through the year, a strong student dramatic program, including five major productions will be presented by the Wisconsin Players under the auspices of the University speech department. The Daracon and Club will present an annual musical show in the spring.

A two-weeks' festival in May, now on the University calendar, will bring the dedication year to a close, highlighted by a popular Shakespearean program to be given by the Pro Arts Quartet which appeared here last spring.
