committed to the school administration by the ITHACAN editor, Martin J. Shannon, and the ITHACAN faculty advisor, Dr. E.W. Terwilliger, in an effort to create a scholarship fund out of the profits derived from the newspaper.

The IC administration, in a gesture that proved them aware of the importance and influence of the college press, endowed wholeheartedly the "Ithacan Scholarship Fund," and expressed the desire to cooperate in every way in the administration of the fund.

The fund will consist of the "profits" gained from the operation of the ITHACAN for the school year, and, once in operation, will provide a scholarship of about $1,000.00 ($250. per year) for the selected candidate. This will make the Phi Mu Alpha Scholarship the largest offered by the College.

Complete provisions of the scholarship have not been worked out as yet, but the ITHACAN intends to have the finished business off the presses by the first of November.

Selection of the candidate will be made sometime in the spring by a Selection Board comprised of two members of the administration and two members of the ITHACAN. The Phi Mu Alpha representatives will probably be the editor and the faculty advisor.

New Dean Takes Over Gen. Coll.; Succeeds Clarke

Dr. Hickman will be dean included the departments of Liberal Arts, Speech, Drama, Business, and Business.

Dean Clarke, in his new post, will be in charge of the many and varied activities related to student life. He is looking forward to the task generally handled by a dean of men.

President Job said that "in making the new assignment, we have been conscious of the opportunities and responsibilities of the office of Dean of Students, and we believe that Dean Clarke's special interests fit him admirably for the job."

For about four years during the last World War Dr. Clarke was director of the USO in San Juan, Puerto Rico. He was vice-president and for two years acting president of the Polytechnic Institute, San German, Puerto Rico. He was, for a long period, a high school principal and superintendent of schools, and the North Dakota state director of student work. He became dean of the General College of Ithaca College in 1948.

 freshmen must wear Beanies — Or Face Exposure

All freshmen will wear their Fresh Caps every day from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m., unless after the October Fresh Frosh Frolic, upper-classmen may ask a Fresh to "sound off". The Fresh will then give name, dorm, and department. Cases where a Fresh has failed to comply properly will be published in the Oct. issue of the ITHACAN.

Freshman Week Starts Today

The master of ceremonies for Freshman Week is Dr. John B. Macfadden, associate professor of history. Dr. Macfadden will also act as the freshman class advisor. Following is the Freshman Week schedule, as prepared by the ITHACAN. It is imperative that you attend the meeting and that you complete the test for the class as quickly as possible. Most students will find it handy to have a full fountain pen with them at all times during this first week.

Monday, Sept. 20
8 a.m.—Fresh music students, music aptitude test. Music building. Room D.
9 a.m.—Placement tests for all freshmen and transfers. Annex. 1:30 p.m.—Freshmen Music students only, background test. Music building. Room D.

Welcome Back, Seniors!

Seeing that most of this issue seems to be directed to the incoming Frosh, we thought it would be nice if someone said a few comforting words that might help them cope with the ups, downs, juniors, and seniors.

At Ithaca, before you know it you'll notice your change in the older plans—externaly, just as the way we left it last spring. Internally, though, you'll start to notice some injustice in it.

The first change that will probably meet your eyes is the increase in teaching staff. Unfortunately, we have expexted with the increase in enrollment. This is bound to carry over from the College's point of view, probably while the College teachers are getting younger looking every year.

Another change we'd like to notice is the news that the main's lounge is in. (That's where the new snack bar is supposed to he!)

Several events took place over the summer on the old campus. A summer theater group called The Green Room played for their four productions, including "Little Sheba," and "I Am A Camera." The mainstays of the troupe is the summer theater troupe, which includes, Ithaca College's new snack bar.

Another change for this year, which we hope is of some interest to the students, is a new snack bar to be located in the Annex in August and was acclaimed a decided success by the hundreds of people who visited the exhibitors. The council from all over the United States were represented.

It seems to us that the favorite editorial topic for a school paper's first issue (or any other issue when the editor can't think of anything else) is "School Spirit." In such an editorial, it seems to us, the editor invariably explains the lack of school spirit. This lack is usually true of any school, and, of course, to any school, in its infancy. However, we have a different type of problem. The Students of IC do have school spirit—but not for the College as a whole! The average IC student in the student body is concerned with his own department and has had little or no attention to the other departments of the College. This situation shouldn't exist in a college in the size of Ithaca, and it is up to the students, especially the incoming Froshmen, to do something about it. Part of our college education is in getting to know our classmates. We should see students of other departments and show an interest in what they are studying. We can't get a well rounded education or have any fun by barrisong ourselves in our own department, so let's get started and get to know each other and the students of the other departments.

Editor from the past...

Over two million students will enroll at 1851 colleges and universities throughout the United States this month. This enrollment exceeds the enrollment in 1925 by over 1 ½ million. The Bureau of Labor Statistics conservatively estimates enrollments to reach 4 million by 1970. More liberal estimates are a staggering 5½ million students. And the trend is expected to continue. What is more stunning is that 50 students of these 1000 will become acquainted with more people faster, better, and quicker.

For those of us that were in IC in January 8, 1931, it is our turn to be older, to mature, and to pass the torch on to the incoming Frosh.

Chirp Capitano: It gives them an opportunity to have the friendly guidance of the upperclassmen.

Dean Clarus: It gives them a chance to get acquainted with more people faster, better, and quicker.

Sylvia Parks: It gives them an opportunity to be with students of other departments and show an interest in what the other students are doing. It is just as interesting as what you are doing.

Flippy Baldini: It allows them to take their surroundings and get acquainted with upperclassmen and classmates.

I'm returning it because it's light enough for a woman to use—that's why.

A full house watching one of last year's basketball games at the Seneca Gym. In the past 20 years the trend has been toward Field lights, record crowds are expected to be on hand to watch the big games. We hope the IC Bombers attempt to reap the glorious stature of you.

Counseling Office

The Counseling Office does much more than counsel, although this activity is the primary reason for the existence of the office. And counseling is not necessarily so formal as it seems.

Of what does "counseling" consist? Often it is just your discussion of something that bothers you. The very act of talking about a situation and hearing your own words may clear up your difficulty. If not, an indication of the need for professional counseling may arise.

"Well, how did you make out in the big game, Dear?"

Guest Editorial by Old Hand At It

The editor from the past, as noted in this issue's third editorial, in Joe Palmieri, he was editor-in-chief of the ITHACAN during the 1948-49 season. The ITHACAN during this time was under the watchful eye of the new editor-in-chief, the author.

At our request, Joe consented to do a "guest editorial" for our first issue this year. He admits to being a little out of practice in this nature of writing, but welcomed the chance to try his hand at it again.

Mr. Palmieri's "guest editorial" is the first of a series of guest editorials which will be submitted by various people and which will be published in this feature, the ITHACAN.

The turn of the century the changing economic conditions and international situation of the times, has forced industry and government to demand trained individuals capable of handling responsibility with an optimistic outlook for the future.

You are extremely fortunate to have the abilities, opportunities, and resources to attend college this fall. To use an old stilted phrase, which still gives good advice: "Make the most of it." If a college student's grades are only high enough to permit a "skin-of-the-teeth" passing, remember, he is still more adequately prepared to cope with his problems of the future than is the high school valedictorian with no college degree at all.

Learning is like walking through topographic rooms. Each room is bigger than the previous. As you "learn" your way to the next room—completely absorbing the knowledge the present room contains—you feel you have a new key to unlock the door to a much larger room more rich than the previous. You are sure that this room is certainly the end to learning only to find the rooms of knowledge become larger and wealthier.

You can say without reservation, "the more you know, the less you know." With this type of knowledge, I want to congratulate the Ithacans and the staff for establishing a very fine scholarship fund for a worthy high school applicant.

ROUNDER REPORTER
by Jerry Rachmiel

Shirley Miller: It gives them a chance to get acquainted with more people faster, better, and quicker.

Joe Palmieri: I was editor-in-chief of the ITHACAN during the 1948-49 season, and was largely responsible for the advent of advertising in this newspaper.

As you can see, our students have faced the problem of gaining experience and explanation of something that bothers you. The very act of talking about a situation and hearing your own words may clear up your difficulty. If not, an indication of the need for professional counseling may arise.

"Well, how did you make out in the big game, Dear?"

Alumni Were Freshmen Once
by Lillian S. Voil
Alumni Secretary

Now, as the college opens for its 43rd year it is a pleasure to report to freshmen and other undergraduates about the former students we now call alumni.

Beginning as a Conservatory of Music in 1802 in a small house on East Seneca Street, our school has expanded to train as many as a thousand and more a year for various professions. During this growth the physical plant has been extended to accommodate the various schools and departments which have been added.

The Williams School of Expression and Dramatic Art was the first affiliated school. Later, courses in Public School Music were offered and the School of Health and Physical Education was started. The Onaway Band School, and Martin School of Speech Correction were until added even before our school received its charter as Ithaca College in 1911. The newer departments of Radio, Business and Physiotherapy already add many alumni to the growing alumni list.

All of these alumni comprise a group inherently fitted for and especially trained for positions which carry on the great work of a democracy like ours.

In teaching and training and aiding the youth of America our alumni are "teaching the hearts and minds of men."

During the summer months many alumni who teach were pursuing "Y" activities, some in "pro" baseball, others in summer stock, opera, orchestras, and bands.

Many who teach were pursuing graduate study here at Ithaca College or at other colleges and universities. Quite a number attended "Y" camps and other positions held by graduates of the various phases of their professional work. These alumni comprised a group inherently fitted for and especially trained for positions which carry on the great work of a democracy like ours.

Some are in "pro" baseball, others in summer stock, opera, orchestras, and bands.

The courses will be divided into essentially three classes: (1) Advanced educational preparation for public school teachers; (2) Pursuit-study for employed and non-employed business personnel; and (3) Seminar in inter-cultural relations, especially conducted for volunteer and professional group leaders and teachers.

Most of these college level courses will be conducted between 9 and 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday, or on Saturday, 10 to 12 a.m.

A great many, who pursue studies toward undergraduate and graduate degrees in Business, Education and Social Science, Music Education, and Health and Physical Education.

Classified Ads
Now To Be Seen
In Ithaca

Commenting with this issue of the ITHACAN, there will be a "Classified" ad section in each issue throughout the year. This service is being offered in answer to a demand for a medium to exchange informal degrees this year.

With the expected increase in enrollment the bulletin boards will now become more of a mass than ever, but will still remain satisfying for the "absentees" type of notice, such as forthcoming dates, etc.

The individual or organization that desires to advertise something, be it goods for sale, services to be rendered, rides wanted or pro-"viced, or any classification of advertising for that matter, will find the school newspaper to be the ideal medium.

The service will be offered at nominal rates, the revenue of which is not expected to much more than cover the printing costs. The first classified ad section of the year appears on page 8 of this issue.

Musically
by Larry Roy

Music is a glorious end in itself and with the start of another school year the many new students at Ithaca College will have a world of sound opening up for them.

It is to these new students, the class of '58, that this article is directed. It will be you, Freshman, who this year will suddenly be allowed into the mystery of music. You've had music training in high school and you probably think that you know a great deal about it and perhaps you do. But now you are about to delve quite a bit deeper into the mechanics of the art; the who, what, when, and how. You will be exposed to music as never before.

Every waking minute will be devoted to the production and/or listening to music. You will eat, talk, and, no doubt, even sleep music.

You will be carefully guided along every step of the way through your advances in music. Your guides will be the many fine teachers here who will unlock for you this treasure chest of sound. Teachers in the classrooms are not the only guides to the understanding and enjoyment of good music. However, there are three quite worthwhile facilities on the campus that are devoted almost exclusively to music.

For the men there is either Kappa Gamma Psi or Phi Mu Alpha. For the girls there is Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Phi. One of the primary functions of these organizations is to turn music into something alive and moving. They present at various times throughout the school year recitals and musicales covering music from pre-Barth to post-Straubinsky.

Phi Mu Alpha presents frequent informal recitals in the living room of their house. Kappa Gamma Psi sponsors an original composition recital every term, written and performed by the student members. Almost every week there is a recital of one kind or another going on somewhere. Faculty recitals as well as student affairs are quite common here at IC, as you will see in the term programs. Once a year the combined efforts of the Music and Drama departments result in a formal opera. Farewell was last year's presentation and turned out to be one of the most successful productions ever done on the '54 stage. The various music organizations such as Concert Band, Orchestra, Choir, Glee Club, Marching Band, etc., have all been organized for your participation, and you have a wonderful year ahead of you.

Amongst our many sciences and specializations, medicine finds us not lacking in importance. It seems to be the one field whose future importance may be for choosing any one of the fields, the significant factor in determining the future of the accomplishments.

Four years of what? For what? If we have been asked this mental and physical requirements which best fit the objectives that are to be guided and pushed into trains of thought relevant to physiography. The ideal approach to the assembly line for mass production of men’s arms and legs. The reward for all these.-through the study of the story of polio becomes a dramatic one. Polio is a disease in which there is a decrease in the function of the muscles of the leg, and the opposite, the true strength of the function for her beauty—but the intangible feeling of fulfillment—for a job well done. The reward was another mark in an old sence— a young profession.

2. Observe the regulation that cars are never to be driven upon the pavements onto the grass.

3. Refrain from removing any of the athletic equipment or trees (sticks for hot dogs have levied a heavy toll on shrubbery at this altitude) in the park area.

4. Observe the regulation regarding the serving of beverages in park shelters. The Commission plans to enforce this regulation strictly.

Dear Freshmen:

You have already noticed the "Welcome Flag" is out for each and all of you. You have come to a college where the individual is important. The individual is each of you.

Your numbers indicate that we shall have a wonderful four years together. At least, they should be good years. They will most certainly be if you try as hard to make them good as we officers and professors will try to do our share. It will be a matter of sharing. None of us can do anything for you if you do not try equally to make the best four years of your life. We expect that you will try this and this is our promise that you will not be alone in your endeavor.

THE ITHACAN
Monday, September 20, 1954

DEAR FRESHMEN:

The School of Health and Physical Education includes the Department of Physical Education with its Majors in Physical Education or Recreation and the Division of Physiotherapy.

Beginning September 1954, Ithaca College will offer a four year course of training leading to a B.S. degree in major recreation. The course, best described as professional leadership in recreation, is open to all students. Job opportunities exist in municipal government, county agencies, the school system, private or voluntary recreation agencies, the church, clubs, recreation specialties in all social groups. Industry, professional leadership in commercial recreation in its manifold aspects. The course of study offers an opportunity based upon job performance, eligibility for teaching, administration is essentially practical but not so highly specialized that we lose sight of your responsibility to turn out educated ladies and gentlemen.

All of you are most welcome at Ithaca College where the individual is important. The individual is each of you.

If it is true that there is a certain superficial pattern to which conformity is expected, then the man or woman who refuses to play the game is unique in that he or she is not part of the pack. Individualism is the single most essential characteristic of man. No man can be a real man unless he is an individual.

Your attention is again called to the importance of demonstrating leadership and responsibility when it comes time during your senior year to seek employment. Your main objective while in college is to thoroughly prepare yourself in your major and minor fields and to learn and continue to grow in the professional knowledge and skills required in your chosen occupation. This means a budgeting of your time for study, regular attendance of classes, recreation and social life. Members of the faculty will deem it a privilege to assist students in such planning and to give sympathetic counseling of your problems.

We plan for orientation and guidance conferences with freshmen during that week of the fall semester. It is important that freshmen majoring in Recreation and Physical Education attend these sessions. The best way to get acquainted will be announced at the opening meeting. All college freshmen on registration day, Tuesday, September 20th.

We are anticipating having you with us and hope for a happy and prosperous college year.

Cordially yours,

Laurence S. Hill
Dean

DEAR FRESHMEN:

It is rather generally assumed that a college man or woman exemplifies certain characteristics which set him apart from others. Some say, "You can tell a college man." How? By the way he talks, wears his clothes, walks, by a certain manner or bearing? Perhaps. If it is true that there is a certain superficial pattern to which conformity is expected, then the man or woman who refuses to play the game is unique in that he or she is not part of the pack. Individualism is the single most essential characteristic of man. No man can be a real man unless he is an individual.

DEAR FRESHMEN:

Adelphi Honors Top Index Students Of Freshman Class

Joan Bepperly of the Economics Department has been named Adelphi's top index student for the fall semester. She had a cumulative index of 70 or over.

Adelphi's biggest project for the year is its annual banquet at which the individual whose efforts have won for him the respect and affection of his colleagues is given a personal touch with vigorous energy by its new officers. Plus the future activities are being contemplated by the president, John Seely.

You are starting a very important new experience when you enter college, and many of you will have more independence than you have ever had before. Because of the feeling of independence with which you come to college, you sometimes misunderstand what freedom really is.

Freedom does not give you the right to do as you wish. No one ever had that kind of freedom. Freedom is the right to disregard the rules and laws, and to lose your life, and which were drawn up for the protection and welfare of everyone.

There is an extra effort in which you accept the controls which make freedom possible, and which expect of you your maturity and your preparation for independence.

You who have a talent for a wonderful year.

Let's Have Another Hit Show This Year

Three scores from last year's smash hit production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Carousel." The musical marked the first time that a current Broadway hit show was produced here at the College, and extra Sunday performances were completely sold out days in advance. This is the one yearly stage production that the departments of Music and Drama combine their talents into one huge effort, although no dramatic undertaking here at IC is ever strictly limited to either department.

Bill Carrozo, '55, of the Business department, sang the male lead, Billy Bigelow, and Jeanine Mauwillet, '54, Music department, played the part of Julie Jordan. Carousel pictured the undying love of Julie for the stubborn, defensive Billy. Although he truly feels love and compassion for Julie, Billy is guided by his independence of character, is never moved to show his true feeling until he dies.

The Varsity Club

The Varsity Club, which strives to promote fellowship among lettermen and to create incentives to participate in sports, has come a long way since its installation at Ithaca College in 1948. With over 70 members initiated annually, the Varsity Club plants itself as one of the largest organizations on the campus.

This past Spring, at the Varsity Club annual banquet officers were elected for 1964-65. Robert (Slam) Burnell, varsity basketball player, succeeds George Marlo, varsity golfer, as president. Tom Carroll, football, succeeds John Calbert, wrestling, as vice-president. Caesar George, football, assumes the position of secretary.

Among the outstanding activities the Varsity Club has prepared for the coming year are: the sponsoring of the annual club show, the awarding of letters and sweet­ ers at the annual banquet and finally the picnic held at the end of the Spring term.

SAI Welcomes All Frosh

A big and hearty Hi! to each and every freshman from the girls of SAI. What's SAI? you ask? Well, Sigma Alpha Iota is a National Professional Musical Sorority for Women. It was founded June 12, 1905, at the University School of Music in Ann Arbor. That was 51 years ago, and now there are over 100 college and alumni chapters in the United States. Epillon, the Ithaca College Chapter, was the fifth to be established.

You can recognize us by our emblem, the Pipes of Pan. Look for us; you'll see us around campus everywhere. And our shingle, the Pipes of Pan, is always out for you at 440 East Buffalo St., so come on up and see us.

Sigma Alpha Iota within every freshman a wonderful and successful four years here at Ithaca College. We'll be seeing you!...
Alumni Were Freshmen — - -

have been vacationing, traveling to see the great National Parks and wonders in our own country and abroad where they attended music, dance and drama festivals. They report visits with class-mates and other interesting trips. Hidden a day went by that someone did not call at the alumni office or another department of the college to introduce a fiancee, husband (or wife) and children. We learned of new positions, new humus or "expected" members of the family.

Those alumni who are serving as officers in the IC Clubs reported summer picnics, meetings, elections and plans for the year. During September the Clubs in Albany, Buffalo, Elmira, Ithaca, Rochester and Binghamton will meet.

An organization meeting scheduled for Sept. 15 for alumni of the Mid-Hudson Valley to be held at the "Y" in Poughkeepsie will be past history by the time you read this.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Muller extended an invitation to alumni of the New York City area to meet at their home, 10 Gracie Square, New York City, the evening of Oct. 22nd. Mr. Muller is the chairman of the Board of Trustees of the college and received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in 1953. Mrs. Muller is a graduate of the college.

Over 50 per cent of our undergraduates have heard about IC from our former students. They could help the secretary by calling at the office and giving us the latest data about the alumni they know. We try to secure this through correspondence and personal contact but must check the records constantly to keep them up to date.

The IC Alumni Council met in late June. The chairman reports that they have approved membership in the American Alumni Council. The leading colleges and universities in the country are members of this council. The new constitution for our alumni association is now being mailed to all alumni for their approval.

Of course the Service has claimed some who would otherwise be employed. To keep them and others informed about their Alma Mater and the news of alumni organization growth, an IC News Letter is sent periodically. Drop in at the alumni office the end of the month and get a copy of the September "extra" which is mailed to about 5 thousand. The office is located in the 2nd floor rear of the main administration building.

The Ithacan
Football Squad Opened Practice Sept. 7

A squad of 40 Ithaca College men reported Monday for the 1953 football season at 2:30 p.m. in the gym on Tuesday, Sept. 7, and left later for practice withHamilton, the new coach. These are the boys, mostly freshmen, who journeyed into Ithaca early for the usual prescholl practice and who will form the nucleus for this year's Bomber gridiron combination.

Head coach Joe Hamilton, assisted by staffmen Arnie Wilhelm, Herb Brownell, and Curt Wood, greeted the boys and passed out equipment.

The entire squad was scheduled to be at their Phys. Ed. physicals that morning with the year's first actual practice taking place at 3 p.m. in the afternoon. Hamilton will put his squad through two-day drills, one at 10 a.m. and the other at 3 p.m., with blackboard drills every evening at 7 p.m. right up till the first game.

Four Oldbrians were among the early returnees, three of them letterman, and two or three reporting back after a two-year absence. Lee Drewey, back, and Walt Harnsiner, guard, two let-termens on the 1951 eleven, are straw and Dan Dudek of Brattle-ham, VT, both seniors this year. Florl was head play-caller last year and is expected to repeat in that capacity this season. He's a good passer.

Gerald Coulton from Umdills, a junior, reported in and will fill the center spot vacated by big Bill McFarlane, who won't see any football service this year because of an injury.

Ed Stehrer from South Wales and Mel Cohen, both tackles, are slated for first string duty this fall. About the only change that Hamilton has made to date is the shifting of Stan Weiner, a sophomore from Brodick, from his last year's fullback position to the end position.

Phil Delta Pi Welcomes Fresh

Phi Delta Pi, the national Phyed fraternity for women, welcomes all the Phy-ed and Recreation majors to a happy four years at IC.

We have been on the IC campus since 1932 and pride ourselves in the active part we have taken in school affairs.

Our first official event for the year will be a professional meeting Wednesday, Sept. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in Room A in the Student Gym. At this time we would personally like to meet every one of you and talk about the ideas of a P.R. and Rec major at Ithaca College.

Plans are still underway for a square dance which will be coming up soon, but we would like to extend our invitation now and urge you all to attend.
