To be sure, there is a certain aspect of aristocracy if one can remain good looks, or superior intelligence, or even a perfection of character. However, one can be an aristocrat and still be courteous. Snobbery is an indication of extreme illiberalism. One does not have to assume that the

As far as the freshman boys and girls are concerned:
The Upperclassmen are the aristocrats here. Your turn will be patient and bide your time. Try at least to put some conception now of the value to be placed on your

FRATERNITY NOTICES

WILLIAM GLYNN THOMAS

Whereas: At the beginning of this school year our halls are sail with the realization that one of our greatest, faithful, and beloved brothers, WILLIAM GLYNN THOMAS, has passed from this earth, and

Whereas: We shall remember him always for his kindness, his manly conduct, and his beautiful musicianship, and

Whereas: His untimely death has removed from our fraternal association an unreplaceable personality, therefore,

Be It Resolved: To extend a warm welcome to our brothers in Phi Mu Alpha, Siononia Fraternity of America, the place of our departed brother and have determined publicly to defend and cherish his memory by having one copy of this resolution sent to his bereaved parents in Granville, New York; by entering one copy in the book of the fraternity, and by printing one copy in the columns of the weekly publication of the students of Ithaca College.

Kappa Kappa Kappa

The Epsilon Chapter of the Kappa Kappa Kappa Fraternity was founded in 1931. Its membership is composed of thirty students of Ithaca College who are actively interested in athletics. The objects of this fraternity are: To aid and encourage Fellowship, Scholarship, and sportsmanship; To offer our earnest co-operation to the Alma Mater; To develop these traits so that your stay will be one filled with understanding and friendliness.

Attention is extended to all. This is expansion of our school, our fraternity, and our ideals of physical education for women. We especially should believe in the sacred bond of international修身, to give moral and material aid to its members; to promote broader understanding and friendliness.

Phi Delta Pi

We, as faculty members and upper-class students, welcome the new students. We hope that their contributions to our school will be of much happiness and success.

In choosing this institution, you have chosen a school that is dedicated to the ideals of that organization without revealing to the stipulated what these ideals are. It is our privilege to explain to you the ideals that are indicated in the name Kappa Kappa Kappa.

Kappa, the first, is the initial letter of the Greek word Kalliope, for the personification of poetry, which we should ever strive to incorporate in our lives. Kappa, the middle, represents the word Kneussthesia which from Kalliope, the muse of music, signifies guidance or leadership of which teaching, the profession that we have chosen for life work, is the noblest example. Kappa, the third, represents the Greek word meaning honorable; a trait which should mark and characterize all of our acts and deeds. Thus Kappa Kappa Kappa when translated literally means "Uprightness, Guidance in Leadership, and Honorable." Transliterating freely we live "True leadership is possible only through honorable and upright living."

Epsilon Chapter of the Kappa Kappa Kappa Fraternity is entering our school year at the 1931-1932 season. We extend an invitation to all new students, old students, and faculty to pay a visit to our new home.

Delta Phi

ADDRESS AT FIRST ASSEMBLY OF YEAR

for years have demanded shorter working hours. In response to this demand state legislatures and labor unions have prescribed a definite and ever-decreasing number of hours for daily and weekly work.reasonable assurance that all age retirements have had their part to play in the situation. That without question the greatest factor has been the substitution of scientific machinery for human labor. One modern machine will do the work of fifty or one hundred men. And this machine power is sure to increase year by year. This means that the total amount of leisure will likewise steadily increase.

What is the laboring man going to do with this leisure time? Will he follow the example of the "idle rich" and dispose of his time, as far as his means will allow, in display, luxury, feeding, gambling, and globe trotting? Or will he spend it with many of the "idle poor" in utter stagnation, physically, mentally and morally? Or will it possibly be a mixture of the two—an alternation of amusement accompanied by such external excitement as its means will allow.

If it is leisure in so far as one of these, there is no question of the result. Our civilization will crumble and go to destruction, and most probably in the name of "progress".
