Sampaix Delights Huge Audience with Recital

In the Department of Physical Education, Miss Sampaix now has charge of girls’ athletics and physical work. She is a graduate of Wellesley College, where she played and coached basketball, track, tennis, and squash.

The first game of the season was held Friday, October 4, at the Little Theatre. Although the New York State Band and Orchestra was of special value to the audience, the concert was well received.

Defeated By Larries

The Ithaca College Junior Varsity Handball team lost last weekend and is now at the bottom of the state league. The team was defeated by their rivals, the St. Lawrence University handball team, 5-0.

In the department of Speech and Drama, Miss Sampaix is trying to do the same thing as Mr. Sampaix did. She has the entire group under supervision by Mrs. Osborne and Mr. Sampaix.

Mrs. Sampaix is expected to cooperate fully with the Dramatic Club. She is making plans for a dramatic project that will be presented in the near future.

FACULTY PARTICIPATES IN TEACHERS’ MEETING

The faculty participated in the teachers’ meeting held in the auditorium. The meeting was attended by all members of the faculty, including the faculty of the Department of Physical Education, the Department of Fine Arts, and the Department of Music.

Hiking Trip

A hiking trip is planned for the weekend. The group will depart from the college on Saturday morning and return on Sunday evening.

RICK SAMP"AIX

The New York State Band and Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Sampaix, gave an excellent concert on Saturday evening. The concert was well attended by both freshmen and sophomore music students who were initiated at the first concert of the year.

Perhaps you have noticed the difference in size of this issue of The Ithacan. It has been necessary, due to increased advertising accounts and the fact that the paper is only to be published every other week, to increase the width a full column. In this manner, we hope to be able to present you, a greater amount of news of sufficient interest to all departments.

A publication on matters may seem somewhat redundant during this college newspaper's editorial. However, when the lack of manners and consideration for others is so strikingly obvious, particularly in regard to these, the least important, the something should be done to discourage such conduct.

A library, of all places, should be the logical place to study during and after school hours. The student who really is interested in studying and contemplating would find it difficult to sit in one library, due to a number of distracting elements in the form of students who use it for a meeting place and perhaps a good time. Better and sounder laughter is not unanimous, which to the delinquent may only further understate not being conducive to study. Perhaps in addition to learning how to drink ten students might attempt to assimilate some of the more effective methods of using a library.

Undoubtedly, editorials are of little avail, because for those who are intended,万余全然, read them. It is hoped that in some way the information will be brought to the offenders and that they will learn.

Instrumental Recital Widow

The first of the student instrumental recitals will be held in the Little Theatre, next Wednesday evening, at 8:15 o'clock. Compositions for violin, piano, brass and wood instruments will go to make up the program. Unluckily, as The Ithacan goes to press, the complete program is not available.

Phi Delta Pi reunion

The annual Phi Delta Pi reunion will be held this week end at which time many alumni are expected to return for the occasion. The reunion will be held beginning today and continuing through Sunday.

BAGATELLES

As a traditional custom, have descanted, people are finding it difficult to "see and slay" for that all too frequent rule. Perhaps it was this early rising business that caused the "ostrich" of one of the nearer part of the fair sex in the studio...I did look like a gnat...but one can never be sure.

I imagine that Di Nucci would be proud to know that he is the only Ithaca Grad to be honored by having his picture placed in the photograph's window, along with many illustrious and the plastic mad. "Connell Graduates."

This Phil E. who "loved his men jacket to a friend on the west coast"...much too verbose for his own good.

A lovely lie is in my mind, peculiar, things a lie can do, I will catch the wind on the road before eternity shall break...

John P. Brown '35

Has Governor's Letter On
Arts In High Schools

Following is a letter written to John P. Brown, graduate of the Drama Department in 1933, from the Governor of the State of New York. Mr. Brown explains that he became interested in a state ment made by a certain high school principal in the effect that the Gover of the state was opposed to fine arts in the public schools. Mr. Brown writes to the Governor to ascertain whether or not any such statement was made by him.

September 11, 1935

Mr. John P. Brown, Jr.,
Governor of the Stare
Washington, D.C.

My dear Mr. Brown:

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of September 9th in which you express such sentiments either in public or in private. They would not represent my considered opinion. My reply is a categorical declaration. I can assert that I have never expressed such sentiments either in public or in private. They would
not represent my considered
judgment and opinion and would be contrary to everything for which I have stood during the many years I have been deeply interested in education.

During those years I have made a great many speeches urging the necessity for the development of the cultural side of education as well as the purely utilitarian.

As far back as 1919 in a speech delivered to the House of Delegates of the New York State
Teachers' Association in Syracuse I said the following:

"Public education was then concerned as instruction in the three R's. This limited education sufficed for the needs of the average man of that day, when conditions of living were low and the thinking power of the average man was low. To-day, when conditions of living are much higher and the thinking power of the average man is correspondingly higher, the purely academic drawing-teacher-education is inadequate for the average man.

I am not here referring to the simplest reading, writing, and calculation that come within the reach of the majority of the people of the United States, but to those courses of study that would prepare the average man to understand the modern industrial world and its relation to his daily
life."

Your sincerely,

Herbert H. Lehman

Governor of New York

From 1900 up to 1934 the leaf tobacco used for cigarettes increased from 15,089,037 lbs. to 536,035,367 lbs., an increase of 2902%

It takes mild ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette.

During the year ending June 30, 1900, the Government collected from cigarette taxes $3,969,191
For the year ending June 30, 1934, the same taxes were $350,299,442, an increase of 8725%—a lot of money.

Cigarettes give a lot of pleasure to a lot of people.

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised. But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are better made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos.

Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobaccos. Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

We believe you will enjoy them.
