Philip Kessler New Instructor In Music

Mr. Philip Kessler, the new instructor of clarinet and bass violin, is a graduate of the Julliard Institute of Music and of Columbia University.

Before arriving at Ithaca, Mr. Kessler taught in the high schools of New York and at Julliard. In addition to his public school work he has played with the Radio City Pit Orchestra.

According to Mr. Kessler, Ithaca College's arrangement for specialized instruction is far superior to that of other schools in that it is of a private nature. He also thinks the college is foresighted. As an example he points to the plans for a course in marching bands.

GYMNASIUM GETS NEW COAT OF PAINT

The gymnasium of Ithaca College, after having been completely repainted inside, has had its face lifted with a coat of cream color paint. The trimming is of jade green. Not only has the new paint job changed the appearance of the building, it has become with its bright attractive colors a campus asset as well.

Soccer Team Opens Season With Colgate

The Ithaca College soccer team opened its season a week ago last Thursday by playing a 1-1 tie with Colgate. In a hard fought contest against a team which had beaten Cornell the week before, the Ithacans came from behind in the final period to knot the score. Colgate outplayed the home team in the first half but did not get many scoring opportunities. Martin, center forward for the visitors, scored their only goal in the second quarter after Temple had dropped a corner kick in front of the goal.

The second half was altogether a different story with the Ithaca team keeping the ball constantly in Colgate territory. Spike Mullally came through in the fourth quarter with the boot which evened the score. Ithaca came close to breaking the tie in the closing minutes, but the Red Raiders managed to protect their goal even though they could make no headway against the Ithaca defense. Because of injuries suffered by some of the players, an overtime period was not played.

The summary:

Phi Mu Alpha

Well, the starting of our voyage was a success. As you know, we opened up with our annual house opening which was more than a success. Sunday night, October 2, we had the honor of having Dr. Catherwood with us as our guest speaker. After supper he gave us a very interesting talk on his visit to England.

Sometimes I Wonder...

At—the student in Doctor Catherwood's American History class who said, "Why do we spend so much time discussing the European situation?"

At—the people who dozed during Hitler's speech on the radio, in the green room.

At—those people who loudly bemoan their unattractive surroundings and when they're made more attractive set about marring them.

Why—people try out for parts in plays, want them badly, and then kibitz at rehearsals.

Why—approximately only six people read their English Lit.

Why—all points have to be illustrated in terms of football to the Phy. Ed's. I doubt if they're that phy. edish.

Why—committees usually consist of one active member and the rest absentees.

Why—Ithaca College girls never chew gum in public.

Why—it is always the sophomore who says, "Spud Frosh!"

At—those who crab at college length assignments.

Why—so many boys go stag to Ithaca College dances.

The Ithacan extends its deepest sympathies to Miss Florence Howland, whose mother, Mrs. Zenas Howland of 209 Queen Street, died on Sunday morning, October 9.

Sue Hastings' Marionette Co. In Little Theatre

THE HARLEM DANCER

The Drama Department is this year inaugurating something new in bringing to the Little Theatre Stage some outside productions. The first of these is to be the Sue Hastings Marionette Company on October 19.

This marionette company is the largest and most active of its kind, enjoying an international reputation for having toured extensively in this country and Canada, and at different times having included England, Scotland, South America, the West Indies, Cuba, and the Virgin Islands. They have been warmly acclaimed by the critics who compared their work most favorably with famous Continental groups.

The Student Directory of Ithaca College will be published shortly. Any student who has changed his address since the beginning of the year should see that the change is listed with the secretary of his department sometime next week.

MRS. ROWLAND SPEAKS AT W.S.G.A. MEETING

The annual fall meeting of the W.S.G.A. was held Wednesday evening, September 28, in the Little Theatre. The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the freshman girls with the W.S.G.A. board and its various duties. Several upperclassmen from the diversified departments presented an interesting program. Miss Powell gave a short speech on "What is Expected of an Ithaca College Girl."

The high light of the evening was Mrs. Rowland's talk to the freshman girls. Mrs. Rowland stressed the importance of social contacts and of college friendships. She explained the necessity of adjusting oneself to a new and different environment. She advised the freshmen to sit on the side lines and to observe until they were familiar with our system. Above all, she emphasized the importance of being one's self. Much in her speech should prove helpful to upperclassmen as well as freshmen.

"Roadside" In Final Stages Of Rehearsal Under Dr. Zeller

Play Has Background Of Indian Territory

On the nights of October 27, 28, and 29, the Ithaca College Players will present Lynn Riggs' Roadside. This play, rich in the language and customs of Oklahoma Indian territory, is directed by Dr. Winn F. Zeller. The associate directors are Eunice Wilbur and Kay Tobin.

Roadside is definitely a comedy; and yet, there is more to it than its humor. The dialogue is an unusual combination of poetry and comedy, making Roadside more than just another play. The realism of the Indian territory is complete. Lynn Riggs has captured an entire community with his pen; and in Roadside he has selfishly given it to the world. The play and the players—well into the second week of rehearsal—have caught Riggs' spirit and meaning.

Rehearsals indicate that the play will be well-handled by a cast composed of: Clive Dill as Pap Rader, James Beebe as Buzzey Hale, Pearl Lee Provda and Shirley Sobelson alternating as Hannie, as are Eloise McIntire and Janet O'Daniel in the part of Mrs. Foster, Judson Pratt as Texas, Forrest Wood and George Charles as Red and Black Ike, Bert Lyon as Neb, Howard Hall as the marshal, and John Parkansky as the judge.

The various crews are headed by: Betty Hood, costumes; Margot Fortuna, props; Paul Mowrey, lights; Lucille Smith, stage. The construction crew is headed by George Hoerner, production coordinator. The painting is under the supervision of A. D. Chadwick, assisted by Philip Kane.

Student Council Dance Gives Entertainment For Those Present

The Student Council Dance on Saturday, October 1, furnished a delightful evening's entertainment through the splendid efforts of Ted Howe's orchestra. The music was excellent and the specialties presented were out of the ordinary.

The dance in honor of the Class of '42 was well attended by freshmen and stags. Faculty members were conspicuous by their absence. In spite of this the function served its purpose in furthering the acquaintance of the freshmen with Ithaca College.

The annual freshman frolic was explained and plans for it were made.

The Ithacan expresses its sympathies to Miss Margaret Green '41 of Hudson Falls, New York. Miss Green's mother, Mrs. John H. Stewart died at noon, Monday, October 10.

Football Season Under Way With Two Games

After losing its opening game of the season to Moravian, 6-0, the Ithaca College football team came back to tie a strong Alfred team, 20-20. This is the first blemish upon the Saxon records since 1936, but they have yet to lose their first game in two years. Despite the loss of several first string men, the Ithaca team played beautifully and earned the praise of Coach James Freeman.

Moravian Game

A fumble in the very first period by Ithaca in the Moravian game led to the only score, after which the Moravian team played defensive ball to prevent Ithaca from scoring. Ithaca made four marches down the field against the Moravian team, but when they came to scoring territory, they could not break through the opponent's defense. Ithaca was on the Moravian 17 yard line when the whistle sounded the end of the game. Both Fullback Jackson and Center Rand were injured in the game so that they could not play against Alfred.

The summaries:

Alfred Game

In spoiling Alfred's perfect record for the past two years, Ithaca forged ahead three different times but could not prevent Alfred from coming back to even the score. On the second play of the game Charley Baker threw a pass to Jack Kroh, who ran 45 yards for a touchdown. Les Barton, who blocked out the only possible tackler of Kroh, kicked the extra point. Alfred, led by Bobby Glynn, fought their way up the field to tie the score before the first period ended.

Again in the second period both teams scored a touchdown and converted the extra point. Charley Baker and Bobby Glynn scored the touchdowns on left end runs. Incidentally, throughout the entire game, both teams seemed to defend very weakly against wide running plays. Neither team scored in the third period, but both turned the trick in the fourth.

However, both attempts at conversion were blocked. In the fourth quarter Bud Fenton recovered a fumble on the Saxon 21 yard line. Using Coach Freeman's strategy of a pass play after a fortunate break, Ithaca scored when Les Bar-

FRATERNITY NEWS

Tuesday, October 11, we entertained the transfer and freshmen students of both the Drama and Music departments at a smoker held at the house at nine o'clock in the evening.

We are glad to see that the alumni members are taking notice of us as Brothers Henderson and Connolly were back for the week-end. Keep up the good work, men.

Again we remind you not to forget our annual Masquerade Ball Thursday evening, November 3.

In the Little Theatre, Sunday, October 16, we are holding our formal initiation for the following men: Finlayson, Morse, Stare, Wise, Weller, Wooley, and Kelley.

Sigma Alpha Iota

A lot has gone on at S.A.I. since the beginning of school. Our first Sunday dinner at the house was quite a notable affair, for we had the honor of entertaining Miss Gertrude Evans, our National President.

Our annual "house-opening," held jointly with Phi Mu Alpha, took place Wednesday evening October 5. Those in the receiving line were Miss Gertrude Evans, National President; Betsy Ross, chapter president; Mrs. Alice Lee Jones, house chaperone; Dorothy Russell, house president; and Mrs. Louis Sullivan, member of Delta Epsilon alumnae chapter and Eta Province President. Refreshments were served at S.A.I. Miss Helen Cady and Miss Bess Daniels poured.

On Saturday afternoon, October 8, we held our first rush party in the form of a sport tea. All Freshmen and transfer girls from the Music Department were invited. Dancing seemed to be the most popular form of entertainment but some played bridge; others had a few games of ping-pong. We were all entertained (after a bit of coaxing and proper music) by a bit of trucking done by Betsy Ross—and How she can Truck—mmmm!

The Sigma girls are going to hold their first informal dance of the year October 21. It will be a "vic" affair and we're eagerly looking forward to it. Some of the girls have been keeping up with times by purchasing new records.

Phi Delta Phi

Everyone is back and there are 27 girls in the house.

We are planning for our reunion in October, the date is after the week-end of the 14th. Lois Pratt, a sophomore, is transferring to Chicago to take up Physiotherapy. Betty Cornell was visiting us for the week-end. She teaches Physical Education in Dansville, N. Y.

Delta Phi

Delta Phi is pleased to announce five new initiates: Jeannette Cipoth, Grace Conklin, Jean Ayres, Ellen Hawver, and Marjorie Rausch. The pledging services were held last Sunday afternoon and the formal initiation will take place tonight at 8 o'clock.

Our annual "house-warming" held with Phi Epsilon Kappa took place Tuesday evening, October 11. We were glad to see so many of our new and old friends. Having Nancy Houston back made it seem like old times.

Bagatelles

Here's the kick-off . . . Stick with us and you'll have the final score . . . First, the Student Council Dance . . . The music was the best we've heard around these parts in some time, they play again tonight . . . Olin Johnson proved himself quite the versatile young man; he sings too . . . By way of an aside, if he should invite you to ride in that Studebaker of his, be sure to check the gas . . . it has a habit of running low, hasn't it Olie? . . . One of the nicest looking couples was Trill Gray and Bill Butler . . . Ruth Roosevelt . . . where was Stew? . . . Don Nelson swinging out with Bernice Schroeder . . . Kay Tobin . . . who was it? . . . Betsy Ross having more fun . . . The worried look on the faces of the men about the campus is merely financial—not romantic . . . the Carneys looking great . . . Dot Duffy . . . Ed Herendene's chaser for the blues . . . Earl Giffin and Sally Davies . . . it's getting to be a habit . . . Jimmy Eaton and Anita Gray . . . incidentally what about this hunting party which took place on Sunday? . . . Mary-Louise Halladay . . . stop using the "lamps" . . . leave it to Simone in Hollywood . . . Lucille Smith with Red Clarke . . . darn the boy scouts . . .

We've passed the twenty-yard line so here are some new plays . . . Roy Allen and Betty Ellsworth . . . have you noticed? . . . Norma Downs getting a rush . . . place your bets on the music department . . . if it's true that ladies prefer blondes . . . Bert Washburn is wearing Ed Sebring's fraternity pin . . . good luck kids . . . and Kenny Baumgartner is wearing his fraternity pin . . . At Delta Phi's house dance . . . Swifty Halladay with Harold Wise . . . Debby Page and Ed Kelly . . . Jane Post and Gordon Johnson . . . a fine time must have been had by all . . . George Ames' woebegone face, expressing so clearly the attitudes of all the widows and widowers in school this year . . . why can't those certain few seniors return . . . what a welcome they would receive . . .

The following was submitted to us . . . Ramon Prezioso, the "Million Dollar Kid," took a jaunt to Pittsburgh over the weekend, scouting for talent for his next production "Gold Diggers of '39" . . . Phi Mu rushing Rhoda Angel . . . or vice versa . . . Dorothy Russell takes to the Phy Ed school once again . . . Ernest Seyler received the number one student activities ticket . . . which will take looking into . . . and some of those Savage transfers play a mean game of ping-pong . . . flash . . . flash . . . everybody in Westminster enjoyed the salted nuts . . . tell Ralph to send them often Sara-Anne . . . and here's something new and different . . . Bill Dorfman teaches a Sunday school class in New York . . . By the way, what creative writing professor attends Westerns at the Temple? The attraction must be academic . . .

Now for the touchdown . . . Betty Kneitsch and Bert Lyon are saving pennies . . . all contributions accepted . . . Esther Curtis with Don Camp enjoying the full moon . . .

It does wonders for some students to become Seniors—look at Jud Pratt and Phil Kane—hair combed, suits on every day (gone are the Joe College days) . . . Speaking of seniors, there is a certain girl in the Senior class who has been dating all her letters, papers, etc., 1939 . . . just a little absent-minded wouldn't you say?

House-openings always cause much interest—What was the big attraction at the Phi Delt house? . . . Was it that picture in Marj Rausch's room? The boys out-did themselves this year in their houses—more power to you . . . Oh yes, buying things is very easy—getting what you pay for is something else, again.

that's why we're so strong for Arrow Shirts.

maybe there are shirts just as good as Arrows—maybe.

but we know—and so do you—that Arrows are always good that no collar fits as well as theirs does that they always stay the same size as they're made that they've got ample room for your body—but not too much that they're heroic shirts—the colors won't run, ever

Although all of the Ithaca players win our praise for their fine game, we especially liked the skill of Johnny Davis, playing his first college game.

The Theatre Guild has sponsored special engagements of the Sue Hastings' Marionettes in New York. This year is the tenth of an annual series presented at Columbia University, and more and more other leading educational centers are demanding similar series. This year marks the sixth at the Brooklyn Academy of Music under the auspices of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences.

The Sue Hastings' Marionettes cover a wide and diversified field ranging from entertainments for the most sophisticated audiences at night clubs and revues, entertainments for colleges, for clubs, and for younger children at schools. The performances at Ithaca will include a school children's matinee with Jack and the Beanstalk as the main feature, and an evening performance of Robin Hood and Puppet Follies of 1938.

Our first house dance held last Friday night was a huge success. Twenty couples danced so well that even though our chaperones were busy with their bridge game they couldn't resist watching some of the new dance steps.

Two former members, Mary Alice Whitman and Molly Smith, visited us last Saturday.

With regards to the fuss we raised in school over this column last week . . . the score is nothing-nothing . . . in favor of Bagatelles.

Sigma Delta Psi

Sigma Delta Psi is pleased to announce the new house it has taken at 507 N. Aurora Street. All students are cordially invited to visit us at any time. We held our first meeting in the new house on Wednesday, September 14, at which time the affairs of the house were straightened out.

We are happy to say that the house has a full quota of thirty-three boys. The house also has a dining hall, in which twelve of the boys have their meals.

Delta Phi started the new year off right by holding its first meeting Monday night, September 26. The president, Kay Tobin, laid out a few of the plans for the coming events and it looks as if this year would be more than busy for the girls.

A rush party in the form of a Kindergarten party, was held Thursday night, September 29, for all transfer students. The costumes worn by the girls were very appropriate and with the "kiddies" games the atmosphere of a kindergarten was complete.
