Graduate School To Offer New Courses

The Graduate School reports another step toward greater contribution to advanced education. This fall the curriculum has been expanded to offer a full year's work leading to advanced degrees. Twenty-two of them are pursuing the Bachelor's level in 1943. The summer session of that year found 100 miles to take evening and Saturday afternoon classes. The introduction of two semesters of advanced work in physical education in 1946.

Before this fall, majors had to attend either the summer or the extension courses. Now they may spend two regular semesters in advanced study and receive their masters in June.

Recent Veteran Restrictions Rescinded

The recent order restricting the right of veterans to change courses of study in schools under the G.I. bill has been cancelled. Veterans are now permitted to change courses and to take postgraduate study or to enroll in schools established under the G.I. bill for the first time.

The new regulations contain a ban on an additional restriction on education benefits, or wishing to change his course or instruction, must show in his application the name of the course and the institution.

The order becomes effective Nov. 1.

Beginning on that date, any veteran desiring additional training benefits, or wishing to change his course or instruction, must show in his application the name of the course and the institution.

Here are the latest figures on veteran enrollment at I. C. as of October 1949: Business, 141; Drama, 37; Music, 107; Ph. Ed., 308; Photography, 75; Graduate School, 34.

This is a total of 722, or a 17% drop over the new enrollment of the year, 875.

The vet's office is located in the Administrative Building, first floor, across from the Bursar's Office. If you have a veteran, please be sure to check with Mr. Devries or his assistant Mr. Mann.

Business Seniors Tour Plant As Guests Of National Association

On October 5, a group of students from the School of Business, accompanied by two faculty members, Mrs. E. Barton Dulac visited the Shep­ard and Nile Crane and Host Company at Montour Falls. These students were seniors and included the following: Oswald Quaas, Joseph Vincent, Daniel Maloney, and Ed­gar Bredbenner Jr. The group was shown the construction of various types of cranes, and hoisting. Such as welding, riveting, winding of coils, assembling of motors, and the milling of various parts. Different sizes of cranes varying from the very small sizes to a twenty-ton crane which was nine feet in length were shown. The plant visit was sponsored by the Elmira Area Chapter of the National Association of Cost Accountants. The firm later entertained the visitors at the Execu­tives Club and the students also had an opportunity to meet a few of the executives from other companies who were also visiting the plant.

Alumni Loyalty Fund To Be Launched

Preparations are virtually completed for the Ithaca College Alumni Loyalty Fund. The purpose of this fund, according to an alumni committee, will be to make the Alumni Office self-supporting.

Approximately $5000 annually will be needed to meet adequate expenses of the office, now deferred by the College. Contributions will be made in amounts of $1 to $5.

The Alumni Office has been organized as the Office of the Vice President, and has operated during the past year. The members of the College are now devoting part time services to the office. The office is to be run by Dr. Charles E. Haines, vice president; Mrs. Harold Jansen, director, and public relations.

Some of the current activities of the Alumni Office include printing and mailing three NEWS LETTER issues, issuing up-to-date class rosters and names and addresses of alumni by geographical areas, planning and supervision of the Annual Spring Reunion, in on-campus, maintenance of complete and accurate alumni files, and handling of extensive alumni correspondence.

Accounting Room Gets New Look

The new look has added to the Accounting Room in the School of Business. Forty new desks of steel and linoleum tops were installed on October 7. Although initial student reaction to the change was favorable, it is still desirable to have the students comfort in preservation. There is a definite improvement in appearance of the room which is now used as a classroom for shorthand, correspondence finance, and office machines.

Frosh Frolic For Early November

Plans are well under way for Frosh Frolic for November 5, which is sponsored by the W.C.C. These events will take place during the week of November 6. Frosh Frolic for November has been presented annually since 1928 by the freshmen girls with each department putting on a skit in competition for a cup. The winning group is chosen by members of the faculty, appointed by the W.C.C. on the basis of originality, quality of performance, and audience response.

Meetings were called last week and sophomore girls from the W.C.C. were appointed to take charge of the different departments. Beverly Thorne and Elizabeth Williams will direct Business Department, Arlene Fox and Dee Merill—Drama; Lois Fox, Terry Bernnard—Music; Marilyn Freedman—Physio­therapy; and Nancy Bush, Anne Wolcott—Physical Education. Ideas were discussed at these meet­ings and arrangements for admission to the frolics will be necessary to meet adequate returns.

During Freshman Week there will be Frosh Frolics for every department. Three sophomore men from each department will compete in this with the number of freshmen. If the lower classmen win they may discontinue wearing their "spuds."

Is Ithaca College Doomed?

The press release issued by the College Board of Trustees in dropping plans for the relocation of the College is a matter of great regret to the students who have built up hopes of a new campus of their own. It is, after all, the right of the Trustees to make these decisions. But there are two reasons for the action—no other adequate opportunity is available and the stated interest of Ithaca businessmen in retaining the College in Ithaca.

The first reason is understandable because of the large sum necessary to build a new campus. But the Trustees have not been forewarned of our plans, nor have they been consulted. Why should the Trustees pass up the opportunity of developing a new plant without any cost to them? Why should the faculty and their belief that nowhere else can they receive comparable facilities be disregarded? The money can, and doubtless will be wisely spent for we are fortunate in having a most capable chief executive, but it will make little difference to any of us. President Job indicated in an interview printed in the local papers that he must find the recent action understandable.

The second reason is not so easy to understand. Why should the Trustees refuse to provide the students with the opportunity of working with a new plant? To build a new plant is only a way of solving our plant limitations. Can they possibly think that we are not capable of appreciating a new plant? Perhaps it is not worth their while to provide us with a new plant.

We understand that the Trustees are concerned about the fact that much of our plant will be transferred to the new College in West Orange, but we do not understand why the Trustees should be concerned about this until the Trustees themselves are located in West Orange. Why should we be forbidden to work with a new plant? Can they possibly think that we will not appreciate it? We are not the only ones to enjoy the advantages which a new plant offers. The Trustees have also been the beneficiaries of any locally organized attempt to aid it. The College is certainly under no obligation to the Ithaca community. On the other hand, we are under no obligation to the community. Our only obligation is to the College and to all returned students. Ithaca College students have long suffered victims of the deplorable conditions in which they have been housed and instructed. They continue to come to and remain in Ithaca because of the excellent faculty and their belief that nowhere else can they receive comparable facilities. How can the Trustees expect us to do otherwise? It is not a question of whether we can afford to do otherwise, but whether we can do otherwise. The Trustees must understand that, because of the antiquated character of the College plant, it is necessary to spend more than twice as much per capita for operation and maintenance as is average among American Colleges. Why throw good money after bad money any longer than is absolutely necessary?

What is Ithaca College Doomed?:

Since the Trustees are only concerned with the immediate needs of the College, we must be content with the answer that we are not doomed. This is an encouraging thought. However, we must be always alert to the possibility that the Trustees may decide otherwise.

Foreign Students at I.C.

By William Briggs

Ever since my early, irresponsible days of playing hooky from school, I have been a great admirer of free thought and opposition to authority. While I have no direct evidence to support my belief that nowhere else can Ithaca College students receive comparable facilities, I have learned that the Declaration of Independence provides an indication that I.C. is not ready for such a venture. The three-month deadline may keep many a prospective composer from entering. But as they say in Brooklyn, no matter how much this year's harvest, just wait until next year.

COMPOSERS AT I.C. TO COMPETE

It is a known fact that most music students have finally decided to recognize their composers to a greater extent than using their diries for Scampers. The fine arts now encourage original talent with a pinch of cleverness, comment be be- tted. I sincerely hope this will not be a one-year attempt. The first year of such contests may show that the College's indication that I.C. is not ready for such a venture. The three-month deadline may keep many a prospective composer from entering. But as they say in Brooklyn, no matter how much this year's harvest, just wait until next year.

SCAMPERS SCAMPING ALONG

On Thursday, the committee on Scampers hashed out various ideas for the forthcoming production. A theme for the show was decided upon and the plans began to work out. It has unfortunately been Scampers' custom to always work past deadlines. This year an effort is being made to keep the show running smoothly. We may come out of the show a little bit earlier than usual.

Ithaca College on the Cornell Stage

For those who might be interested, Pete Gunnaisy is a member of the cast of Paul Osborn's "The Vinegar Tree." The show is being done this weekend at Cornell.

CAMPUS NOTES

Inter-Frat Sponsors Parade

Inter-Frat has held two meetings this fall at which almost everybody was present and covered many important topics. They wish to remind all students, especially freshmen, that to be eligible for membership to a sorority or fraternity on campus of the same name also in West Orange, New Jersey, work hard now and there should be no trouble in participating in this fine display of school spirit.

Delta Phi Joins Forces

Naomi Roth, Delta Phi zeta president, has announced that the Delta Phi sorority and Alpha Xi Delta, a sorority on campus of the same name also in West Orange, New Jersey, will join forces. The Delta Phi's and Alpha Xi Delta's pledge classes will become one, with the new Delta Phi sorority. Delta Phi is one of the oldest sororities on campus, and Alpha Xi Delta is one of the newest.

Phi Mu To Have Smoker

There are many new faces in the Phi Mu house this September. Five girls are moving into the Phi Mu house opening and dance for the entertainment of Theta Mu Alpha Raffle. The grand prize will be a 2 piece set of luggage, and entertainment or any other prize. Phi Mu started the new semester by recognizing their composers to a greater extent than using their diries for Scampers. The fine arts now encourage original talent with a pinch of cleverness, comment be be- tted. I sincerely hope this will not be a one-year attempt. The first year of such contests may show that the College's indication that I.C. is not ready for such a venture. The three-month deadline may keep many a prospective composer from entering. But as they say in Brooklyn, no matter how much this year's harvest, just wait until next year.

Beat Rochester 3-0
On October 15, the I.C. Soccer team beaten the University of Rochester for its second game of the season and its second victory, 3-0.
After a very slow first quarter without many scoring chances,
I.C. came to life in the second period to a 2-0 home goal. After only 45 seconds had passed, Ben Sheridon shot a beautiful cross from his wing position to Ralph Hufflin who in turn shot it by the goalie. This gave our boys more chances than had been shown any previous season, and they roamed back for a second goal at 8:20. This time center Hanlon set up another two for the tying goal. The rest of the period found I.C.
pressing Rochester as the half ended.

The second half opened with the same pattern of the offensive. After only 3 minutes and 14 seconds had passed Carl Goffney made good on
-shot from Ben Sheridan, who brough the ball down nicely and helped set up this. This was the end of the scoring for the afternoon. Coach Daviey started running in the second team and they played on even terms with the 1st team. For
