An unusual feature of the program will be the baritone accompaniment to the recitatives. The harpsichord is a musical instrument which is quite rare in orchestras.

TO HAZE OR NOT TO HAZE

The University system of education grew in Europe during the 11th and 12th centuries. Out of the rowdiness and brawling of many of the students came the system of haze. In those days it was very spirited and often violent, but today haze is a matter of good taste. What little does remain seems to be for the most part confined to fraternities, sororities, and the wearing of "frats" and the "frat" shuffle of the campus girl.

Now there is little manifestation of that medieval form of sadistic pleasure, the college haze. Different Colleges have different ideas. Good. What little does remain seems to be for the most part confined to fraternities, sororities, and the wearing of "frats" and the "frat" shuffle of the campus girl.

A FACTOR OF IMPORTANCE

The use of student workers by colleges in their food departments has become a factor of importance both to the student employed and the institution. In most cases the students work for their meals, thus helping finance college expenses. It has become a privilege to be granted work awards and many of the students granted this privilege have honor students from their high school classes. The work affords the opportunity for forming good work habits, habits of punctuality and reliability, as well as learning respect for discipline and order. It is also an experience for mature thinking and planning. They are learning team work, that any and every task is important, that for efficiency of the whole every student must do his best. In fulfilling their duties, these students contribute materially to the well being of the girls in the dining hall.

Besides their work during meal hours, scholastic averages must be maintained. They are often included in class officers, hold office in fraternities, sororities, honor societies, reporters on school papers, as well as enjoy sports and other extra curricular activities. They should take with them into the everyday living habits of confidence and faith in meeting and working with people, good food habits and good habits of sanitation.

Letters To The Editor

DEAR SIR:

Are Ithaca College students any different than any other college students in the country? I am especially curious in asking this question right now since I am quite aware of something that appeared a few weeks ago on the Cambridge Daily Sun.

"College students anxious to get involved with any campus community can stop worrying," the article stated.

"Many schools postponed opening after the Thanksgiving holiday. Others announced yesterday they would allow absences to be considered excused if the students delayed by the weather." The article went on to say that the University in Columbus, which will resume classes Monday for its approvingly nicknamed "Thaw Day," announced that weather-bound students would be excused and allowed to make up the lost time later.

"Pitt, Carnegie Tech, Duquesne, and others" have also announced that weather-bound students would be excused.

Public schools have three legal excuses for absences, among which is illness. Thus, weather-bound students are not excused for their absences. The parents of students should be kept informed of circumstances beyond their control! Even though the students may not feel well to say that they would be late; they were still given no consideration.

Amid confusion caused by the Thanksgiving vacation and the fact that Program Director, Bill Mallia, had WITJ's program schedules with him in Maine, on rotation returned to the air last Monday. Even though we had only one speaker for 24 hours, we still worked with everyone pitched in and did a fine job.

The Ithacan Rocks this Weekend at the Workshop, Dave Rider, our student manager, was so exhausted, he went home to lie down and rest and slept the past time for a staff meeting. He was missed, but the gang pulled through and was at work Monday morning.

Barry Seidel, who scored a hit in "Judgment Day" as Judge Wade, is now on the staff as announced here at WITJ. He was formerly announced in commercial radio before coming to Ithaca College.

The storm that hit the country last week and caused so much damage, ripped a portion of the roof of Odd Fellows Temple. Our transmitters, which stands atop the Music Building, was not even damaged.

As the first point of information, Ithaca College Coeds have always been excused for absences, whereas IC women receive that right only after every Ithaca College concert, whereas IC women receive that right.

"Pran did not sit back and let the other fellow do the work. Did you see the petitions around school? Or is it going to be like the movement to mass suicide and hatred? Is your life, is my life worth as much as the lives of those who were shot there just a while ago."

Shall We Ski

By Ross Wayne

Old Man Winter is just turning seen to the corner all ready to put on another great show. The neighboring hills are clothed in a beautiful, white blanket of snow. This means just one thing for those who are enthusiastic about skiing.

In keeping with this and anticipating a very successful season, the Ithaca Ski Club will hold its first meeting of the year on Friday, Dec. 1, at 7:30 p.m., in the Aurora Gym Lecture Room. Movies of the skiing at Cortland will be shown, and a representa¬tive of the Cortland Ski Club will be there to tell you about various improvements which have been made on the slopes at Virgil and the Young Hill, and many other things which will be of interest to all.

Also on the agenda, will be a discussion of three proposed trips to be made by the club in the near future, weather permitting. The first one will be to Snow Ridge at Turin on Jan. 21 and 22; another one is planned for Feb. 17 and 18 to North Creek; and the final one will be to Big Bromley in Vermont over Mar. 3 and 4.

Don't think that because you are a member, you are not allowed to attend the meeting. It is one of the aims of the club to promote skiing throughout the community. Everyone is invited to attend.

Remember the time and date! That is Friday, Dec. 1, at 7:30 p.m., in the Aurora Gym Lecture Room. For those of you who might be unable to attend this meeting, there will be another one on Dec. 8. Let's all have a good time for this one!

Frosh to Play Jayvees

Tonight in a preliminary to the Ithaca City Basketball, Willkis, the frosh basketball team will play the jayvees in the first of their two annual classic basketball games. It is significant, regarded as traditional among Ithaca College jayvees and frosh, to give the home crowd their first chance to play against the boys who hope to make a fine showing as a year's final frosh contingent. The jayvees, on the other hand, will be seeking to average the frosh in the form of the city's basketball players. The frosh should be directed to Mike Buell, Al Pisano, Carl Oakes, Freddie Budziak, Charles Lent, class of 1946.
