DEDICATION

No one sees Ithaca College during vacations—because it isn’t here. A visitor sees empty buildings. To show him Ithaca College would mean taking him to all parts of the U.S.A. —to you—students of the past and present, because you are Ithaca College—and to you we dedicate this book.
ANNIVERSARY

The full meaning of anniversary years does not appear until time has hallowed our memories. In the history of an institution, fifty years is not long. To individuals they represent all of life that is left after college days are ended. These years span the time in which our talents grow to full fruition and we use them for good or ill according to our individual destiny. It has ever been that institutions survive individuals, but institutions live only because of what the individual is able to contribute to the welfare of mankind. They serve best if they stand in the minds and hearts of men and women throughout the years as guides to high personal achievement.

Each of you in this anniversary class will long treasure the golden moments that at times crowded your college experience. The memory of the unhappy and evil moments will pass with the years. Mellow memories will flood the mind and move the heart to generous and helpful acts that shall allay the suffering and soften the shocks of a needy but unsympathetic world. The golden year we now observe will soon pass, but the achievements of these years make the heritage of those to come all the richer. They have brought to each of you the advantage of experience. Our fifty years of college experience have been compressed into four years for you. They have made it possible for you to take with you the skills of your profession, disciplined minds, essential ideals, and a measure of wisdom. You have learned that living is only the means by which we grow and share and achieve together. Anniversaries are the milestones of successful living.

Women’s Self-Government Association

Women’s Self Government Association sounds formidable to any and all who must appear before its official board for a day of reckoning, but actually it’s the entire mass of Ithaca College girls that makes the rules for its own government.

W.S.G.A. has stood behind many fine efforts in the development of the College, and while W.S.G.A. stands high, so did and will the morale of Ithaca College.

DELPHI — founded one decade ago by Ida A. Powell, Dean of Women — recruiting every year those freshmen who are scholastically top notch in their class — leading those top twenty-five per cent on to greater heights, possibly Oracle, by giving them recognition — lauding them at a fall banquet and a spring tea — combining scholarship with brotherhood — sterling worth and accomplishment are what count in this group.

SCHOLARSHIP — leadership — loyalty — service — character — make up the qualifications for Oracle, the society to which Juniors and Seniors are elected. It isn't being a grind that gets you into Oracle, but doing the things that really make Ithaca College what it is — real people doing a real job in everything in which they participate. Election of outstanding alumni this Anniversary Year carried out Oracle tradition of recognition of real worth in any field.

The Ithacan is the Official Student Publication of Ithaca College published every other Friday during the School Year

Reviews, previews, slants on every phase of interest, helped to insure the selection of The Ithacan as a member of the Student Opinions Surveys of America, a national weekly poll of college thought.

The Ithacan, this year among 500 other college papers, was entered in a college newspaper critical service and the results were completely satisfactory.

Progressive as ever, The Ithacan this year had the largest staff in the history of the publication. More pictures, illustrations, and feature stories were introduced. Editors were appointed to manage each department and above all every student in college had the opportunity of writing for the paper.

The Ithacan emerged on January 8, 1931 from the Once-A-Week of 1926 and The Keynote of 1905. Every other Friday, we still hear the familiar cry, "Hey, fellows! The Ithacan's out!"

ACTIVITIES
FOLLOWING the baton of its tireless director, Walter Beeler, this musical aggregation rose to its highest pitch at the Annual New York State Music Clinic held in Syracuse. Emitting the superior type of music which their audiences have gradually come to expect, the Concert Band gave the Clinic listeners a pleasant thrill.

Again—in February—the Concert Band performed in the Little Theatre under the batons of Mr. Beeler and his guest conductor for the evening, Craig McHenry.

The achievement of this group has been an envious one and was accomplished under severe handicaps. Mr. Beeler built an organization equally as effective as last year's, in spite of the fact that several experienced and talented musicians were graduated last spring. For enthusiasm, sincerity, and hard work, the Concert Band and Mr. Beeler are to be commended.
Symphony Orchestra

WITH the advantage of well-rounded instrumentation and superlative leadership and inspiration—the Symphony Orchestra has completed a full year’s work. It took on a really symphonic quality under the experienced hand of Pierre Henrotte, and excited the enthusiasm and admiration of music lovers throughout the state. In the early fall, the Orchestra presented the “First Symphony” of Brahms with richness and a definite expression of true, accomplished musicianship.

Later—at the New York State Music Clinic—the Orchestra performed at a joint Band and Choir Concert. The Orchestra saw its director given tribute when he was invited to conduct the All-State Orchestra at the Clinic. At another notable appearance, the Orchestra shared the platform with Miss Viola Wasterlain, violinist. The climax to an exceptionally successful year of music was the appearance of the group in the memorable “Requiem” of Verdi, under the direction of Dr. Rebmann.
College Choir

"BEAUTIFUL." This is the adjective most heard after any appearance of the College Choir, and no other word could be more appropriate. Whether treating the tried and true classics or taking a flight into the realm of modernism—the Choir, under the direction of Bert Rogers Lyon, never fails to move those who are fortunate enough to make up the audience.

At an appearance in the Little Theatre or at one of the many out-of-town engagements, the comment is still the same—"Beautiful." In the last annual Christmas Concert, the College Choir outdid itself with a program that will be remembered long and gratefully.

Football

WITH an inexperienced backfield and a better than average line, Coach Freeman and his gridders went through a poor season of two wins and four losses. Injuries played an important role in the season which saw Ithaca College win against Kutztown and Potomac State — and lose to Clarkson, Hartwick, Thiel, and Westchester. In midseason, too late to really do any good, a combination was hit on which was effective enough to hold and almost defeat the highly lauded Thiel College Squad.
REALIZING the importance of seasoning and experience, Coach "Doe" Yavits and his boys went through the acid test of a season without victories, but already they are pointing to next year.

Although "the will to win" and perseverance were decidedly not lacking in the team—the experience of the opposition proved to be too much for the Ithacans. The opposing teams included: University of Rochester, East Stroudsburg, Panzer, Bloomsburg, Lock Haven, and Cortland.
IN ATTAINING seven victories against four defeats, the Frosh Cagers hung up an enviable record for the past season. With a month's pre-season practice, the Frosh started with a win over Cornell and a loss to a strong Syracuse quintet.

Victories followed over C.C.B.I. of Syracuse, Manlius (twice), R.B.I. (twice), and Cook Academy (twice). Scranton and Morrisville both proved to be stumbling blocks and in the season's finale, the Frosh bowed to a more improved Cornell aggregation than the one it had defeated at the start of the season.

The valuable experience gained under the tutelage of Ben Light gives the yearlings reason to look forward to competition for next year's varsity and a season of successive victories.

CAPTAINED by "Big Mike" McKillop, the Ithaca Bombers ran up 933 points to their opponent's 724, a good season in any man's league! Opposing some of the best teams in the East—Coach Yavits and his cagers chalked up an extraordinary season with a record of sixteen wins against three losses.
Basketball

Highlights of the season were victories over Scranton and Panzer, and a memorable losing struggle with a powerful East Stroudsburg team.

The team scoring leader was Frank Urso with a 277 point total, followed by McKillop with 164, Bob Carlton with 137, and Turner Carlton with 130. Contributing to the Varsity’s success was a wealth of reserve strength which speaks well for the future of the next Varsity Basketball Team.
ALL ABOARD for the Girls Sports Limited! We have many stops to make along this athletic route, so step up and take a seat on Track 19, Car 42.

Our first stop is at the hockey field where we find the co-eds of each class engaged in hearty competition. Field hockey has gained definite prominence at Ithaca College, under the guidance of Mrs. Kreinheder. The highlights of the hockey season were: a very successful play day sponsored by Phi Delta Pi and our trip to Long Island, which proved both beneficial and enjoyable. Iris Carnell, while at the Hockey Tournament, was selected for the All Eastern Reserve.

Our winter excursion included stops for golf, badminton, bowling, speed ball, and fencing. Also at this time the Women's Athletic Association was formed. It includes all the girls in the Department of Physical Education and its aims are to promote a higher professional at-
At Ithaca College. The main winter station, however, is basketball. A play day was sponsored by the W.A.A. and was held in March, proving to be worthy of all the efforts spent on its organization. Again the honors go to Iris Carnell, for receiving her national official basketball rating.

Next we called time out for rhythms, wand drills, tapping feet, and moderne dance under the supervision of Miss Hugger and Mr. Wuest.

Our next stop-over included both track and softball, which came in the Spring, under the favorable eye of the weather man, which is unusual here in Ithaca.

Our last stop found us at our destination, Camp Singing Cedars, in Vermont. We found the girls engaged in the various summer sports. Our camp days were filled with many pleasant memories of canoe trips, hikes, and inspiring sunsets on Lake Champlain.

These are the days never to be forgotten, the days on the Girls Sports Limited of 1942!
Baseball

THE CAYUGAN goes to press as "Bucky" Freeman sends the 1942 baseball edition of Ithaca College into its initial action of the year against Colgate.

Very few college nines are on the ten-game schedule of the Blue and Gold. Instead, practically every club coming under the banner of the powerful Canadian-American League will be met, which minor Leaguers play a superior brand of baseball to that of the average college squad.

So, "Play Ball!" fellows!

Track

Even "Doe" Yavits couldn't predict too much in the way of actual wins and losses for his 1942 Track Team as the CAYUGAN went on the presses, but in spite of the shortened school year, the team had a pretty good schedule lined up.

The "men of the spikes" expected to participate in meets at the University of Rochester, the Penn Relays, and climax the season at the Annual Physical Education Conference which this year formed part of the Ithaca College Golden Anniversary Celebration. This last contest included East Stroudsburg, Trenton, and Cortland.
DO YOU REMEMBER?
"It was my plan to build a school of music second to none in the excellence of its faculty, the soundness of its educational ideals, and the superior quality of its instruction." These standards were promulgated by the founder of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music, W. Grant Egbert, whose dream was to instill in the hearts of young musicians the art of teaching fine musicianship to others. To him we owe the foundations of the Ithaca College of today.
Since the inception of the Ithaca Conservatory of Music in 1892, several important schools of music have been incorporated. Today the Department of Music has its studios and business offices in an impressive colonial house on Cayuga Street.

The Choir, under the direction of Bert Rogers Lyon, is one of the many Ithaca College organizations representative of the ideals and principles that took form in Grant Egbert’s dream.

The Departments of Drama and Physical Education have become affiliated with the Conservatory to comprise the Ithaca College of 1942. The Little Theatre has been the scene of hundreds of magnificent memories for students, faculty, and friends of the College.

TO THE SENIORS

May we take this opportunity to thank you for your valued patronage during your stay at Ithaca College? This patronage has been a constant challenge to us to increase our facilities and improve our service. Even after you leave Ithaca, you may find it desirable, like scores of other graduates, to call upon us for your musical needs. We place ourselves at your service. Your wants will receive the same prompt and efficient handling that you have enjoyed while here in college.

The Senior Class

has had their printing problems solved at the Norton Printing Company for four years. The associations have been pleasant and harmonious. The future classes of the College will find our files a great help to them in the purchasing of future printing.

THE HALF CENTURY CAYUGAN brings the final summation of fifty years of Ithaca College, and of days, weeks, and months of untiring effort on the part of the staff.

We couldn't have done it alone, nor did we, because we had the following people to guide us, and to give us of their time and patience. Thanks, people, we think you're "swell."

Dr. Theodore Thayer, Faculty Advisor, always there to help us make decisions

Miss Florence Howland, Registrar, for the directory

Mr. Taylor Ward and the Ithaca Engraving Company, for excellent workmanship and making working with you so enjoyable

Mr. Albert MacWethy and the Norton Printing Company for prompt and courteous service

The Advertisers, for their patronage

EDITH LUNDQUIST,
Editor-in-Chief

ROBERT W. WADSWORTH,
