Daytona Beach is a spring break classic. It is also one of the cheapest destinations for students. With 23 miles of sandy beaches, pool deck parties and hopping clubs, this is a destination that won’t disappoint.

Cancun, Mexico is one of the wildest spring break destinations. The action is nonstop, with partying on land or sea and a full range of activities. The rum-filled nights start at Fat Tuesday to Senor Frogs, and the parties don’t end till dawn.

South Padre Island proves that everything is bigger and better in Texas. Located on the Gulf of Mexico, the island offers 34 miles of fun in the sun, including volleyball and sunbathing. Club Rio is a favorite complete with foam parties!

Jamaica offers two spring break hot spots—Negril and Montego Bay. Whatever the choice, a laid-back vacation is guaranteed. Gorgeous beaches offer a relaxed atmosphere, while the crazy nightlife will satisfy the need to party.

Vail, Co. is the destination if you prefer the hills for spring break. This 14,000-foot mountain will satisfy skiing and snowboarding desires. The city is home to several bars and nightclubs, that are known for happy hours that are sure to help you forget about school.

Year In Review 29
Did you know ninety-eight percent of music school alumni are employed or attending graduate school.
What is your most vivid memory concerning the class of 2003?

Our two tours of Ireland: Once with the Choir during the class of 2003’s junior year, and again with the Chamber Orchestra during their senior year. It ended with a superb concert in the National Concert hall in Dublin.

Did they do anything you’re especially proud of?

I am particularly proud of the way so many of them worked hard during the first two weeks of their senior year to prepare a performance of the Mozart “Requiem” to commemorate the one year anniversary of the 9/11 attack.

How do you want them to remember Ithaca College?

I want them to remember regular ensemble concerts, Ford Fest and the annual Commencement Eve Concert. I want them to remember their conductors, private teachers, classroom teachers, and the way they cared so much about each student’s development.

If they opened their yearbook 20 years in the future, what advice would you still have for them?

Follow your star. Always seek to improve yourself and to follow your own intuition about your career development in music. Be willing to give everything of yourself as a teacher or performer.

IC Jazz Club

The IC Jazz Club has been a positive addition to the jazz scene at Ithaca College since it began. The club has played a major role in financing guest artists, purchasing equipment used in performances and the addition of Jamey Aebersold Play-Along CDs to the music library. The club has brought well-known guest artists to the campus to perform with students including Carl Allen, Claudio Roditi, John Mosca, Jeff Ballard, The James Carney Trio, and Ithaca College graduate Darmon Meader. The club’s Jazz Education Series has brought such educators as Jim Doser, Jack Wagner, and Bob Shaut to speak on several jazz education topics. A trip to New York City is planned every spring in which the Tuesday/Thursday Jazz Workshop gives a free concert to students of the Frederick Douglass Academy in Harlem. In addition, IC Jazz Club members give free lessons to interested students. The trip is concluded with an opportunity to experience one of New York’s famous jazz clubs. The variety of activities presented by the club is made possible by the gracious funding of the Student Government Association and through fundraising efforts, namely the semiannual Ithaca College Jazz Festival. This festival has brought in thousands of people over the years to experience several different bands including faculty big bands and combos, the Cornell Big Band, the Monday Jazz Workshop, the Tuesday/Thursday Jazz Workshop and several other small groups. The club’s past advisors, Steve Brown and Paul Merrill, have been invaluable sources of reference and support in terms of ideas, contacts, and assistance concerning artists, equipment and events. The club benefits from the Brown Family Jazz Room that provides a facility to be used for jazz any time. Seniors Tom Kline, past president, and Gina Alduino, past treasurer, have contributed greatly to the mission of the jazz club and will be greatly missed. The Ithaca College Jazz Club plans to continue the progress Tom, Gina and so many others have made.

Did you know the average number of students in an HSHP class is 16?
What is your most vivid memory from the Class of 2003?
The kickoff reception for the new clock. It was amazing that there was such a large turnout and support for what is basically an alumni-type event.

What surprised you most about them when you arrived?
Their ability to focus on interdisciplinary as well as their specialized areas of education. They are a very open group.

What do you see in the future for the Class of 2003?
Meeting a large potential that they developed from their personal talents and the education provided at IC.

How do you want them to remember their time at Ithaca College?
I want them to remember their professors, the dedication of the faculty and staff, and how they shaped the classes, individual goals, and aspirations by providing the knowledge and experiences to reach those goals.

What advice would you still have for them 20 years in the future?
When confronted with challenges, don’t react. Step back, think and then implement.

NSSLHA
The Ithaca College National Student Speech Language Hearing Association chapter had a very successful year. The club won the award for national NSSLHA chapter of the year. The club doubled its active membership and recruited approximately 20 national members. Two of the goals of this year’s group were to involve the club in community-based activities and to raise awareness for speech pathology and audiology related issues.

The group developed a monthly literacy program at a local bookstore, which involved a book reading along with numerous crafts, activities and projects to supplement lessons and themes of the books. They also contributed to the campus Helping Hands holiday party for underprivileged children in the community. In an attempt to increase group awareness, the club began educating via a faculty lecture series. Lectures included a presentation on graduate school admissions and Dr. Douglas Cross presented an innovative approach to stuttering therapy. For more information and pictures of the Ithaca College chapter of NSSLHA go to http://www.ithaca.edu/orgs/speechpath/.

Executive board members included Co-Presidents Andrea Vedock ’03 and Aaron Kaufman ’03, Vice President Stephanie Selzer ’03, Secretary Lauren Kravetz ’03, and Treasurer Kathryn O’Connell ’04.

Humanities & Sciences

The School of Humanities and Sciences has over 40 degree majors and 30 minors.
What is your most vivid memory of the Class of 2003?
Students seem more politically aware of world events and how they affect Ithaca.

Did anything particularly surprise you about them?
The students are very interested in services. Everything from community service to students who, after graduation, are seeking to extend that service culturally. They are selfless and continue to serve.

What are you particularly proud of from these past years?
Besides starting the Distinguished Speaker in the Humanities series, this is the highest quality graduating class we have ever had in Humanities & Sciences.

What do you want them to remember about Ithaca College?
Remember that Ithaca College needs your "support."

If they opened their yearbook 20 years in the future, what advice would you still have for them?
Continue to get educated. Educate yourself. It's the world's best investment and pays off every second of every day.

Students In Free Enterprise

Students In Free Enterprise is a student-run organization which has made its mission to expand economic growth and opportunity within local communities through activities that foster education and skills-building. SIFE is devoted to the economic and educational development of the Ithaca community. Our efforts, directed at college students, local youth and the interested citizens of the area, have traditionally been focused on the perspective of the individual. Nonetheless, as students who have experience studying in the fields of business, economics and corporate communication, we have come to the realization that we can also offer our knowledge and time to the city's local businesses to directly influence the growth of Ithaca in developing as a thriving marketplace as we enter the 21st century. Through such a student-run initiative, we see a cost-effective and creative new option for area entrepreneurs to utilize as a valuable resource for information, strategies, or just input from a different perspective, concerning any aspect of their business.

SIFE is a group specifically for non-business majors, but uses the business advisory board. This year's officers included President Shawn Avery '03 majoring in economics, Vice President Stephanie Hunt '06 majoring in accounting, Treasurer Jennifer Ivy '05 majoring in healthcare administration, and Secretary Evan Gever '06 majoring in business finance. Other club members included Jennifer Koo '06, Nils Horning '04, Chris VanSlyke '04 and Gail Moore '03. This year's club was very proud to receive the honor of being named the 2003 SIFE regional champions.

Did you know the students in the School of Business make up about 10% of the undergraduate population.
Bob Ulrich
Dean, School of Business

What is your most vivid memory from the past four years?

My thinking is in the way of “Childhood’s End” by Arthur C. Clarke. They know nothing except extraordinary peace. They came in with a roaring economy and within the span of the time they’ve been here, we’ve gone into a recession.

Did you have any regrets about their experiences?

Within their college experience? No. But I do wish I’d gotten here five years earlier and been able to raise money for a new building while the economy was hot.

What do you see in this generation’s future?

It’s an awakening into a world that’s unperfect. There are great challenges that are going to tax them mentally. Global economy is forcing us to come to grips with plights of other people.

If they opened their yearbook in 20 years, what advice would you still have for the students?

You get to a point in your life, and you’ve risen high enough that your horizon changes. You begin to think more about society, about citizenship, I guess. When you turn 40, you have to think about giving back. You find yourself becoming more involved as a citizen.

American Marketing Association

This year the AMA accomplished many things. They sent two freshmen to the International Collegiate Conference in New Orleans. Although these two members were young, they were able to gather a lot of useful information that will benefit the group in the future.

In October AMA sent 12 members to Grocery Innovations of Canada, a new product trade show in Toronto, Canada. There they observed what it was like for professional marketers to present new products to potential buyers. The IC chapter is the only student group that has the privilege of attending this event.

In April, 10 AMA members journeyed to Norwalk, Conn., to visit Stew Leonard’s. Stew Leonard’s is a grocery store that promotes itself through its farm fresh products. Stew Leonard Jr., an Ithaca College alum, is the manager of the stores. Mr. Leonard and management team delivered a presentation to the group about marketing procedures in the store.

The AMA also held several fundraising, community service and professional development events throughout the year. A fundraising highlight was the annual Chicken Wing Fling. This event gives students a chance to sample chicken wings from a number of vendors throughout Ithaca. Students pay one price for all-you-can-eat wings, and then vote on whose wings are the best in a variety of categories. This year, the event raised $680.00 for the AMA to use toward its various programs. The 6th Annual Etiquette Dinner was also a huge success. This event, which the AMA co-sponsored with Sigma Iota Epsilon and Career Services, gave students a chance to learn appropriate etiquette for a business lunch or dinner. Over 100 students, faculty, staff and recruiters attended the event.

Did you know that the Park School is the 14th largest communications school in the country by enrollment?
What is your clearest memory from the Class of 2003?
My clearest memory is the 30 students that I taught in Introduction to Mass Media in the fall of 1999. I enjoyed getting to know them and have particularly enjoyed following their progress for the past four years. I developed a special relationship with these students.

What will you miss most about them?
I will miss, as I miss with almost every graduating class, their youthful energy, their enthusiasm, and their unique way of looking at the world with both wonder and wisdom. I will miss their passion and their spirit.

What do you see in their future?
It is their future to create, not mine to predict.

Do you have any parting words of advice for them?
"Remember the blue highways."

Ithaca College Television

ICTV is the student-operated television production organization that serves 26,000 Tompkins County cable households with a variety of community-oriented programming. Participants are volunteers, and IC students in any major are encouraged to work on the production teams, which are student managed. Since almost all programming on ICTV is student-initiated, any semester’s productions depend upon the interests of the active participants. We can count on having sports and news shows, plus public affairs magazines, performances, comedy, drama, a game show and a children’s show. Usually 15 to 20 production teams operate simultaneously, utilizing around 250 volunteers. Productions from 2002-2003 season included “NewsWatch 16,” “Panorama,” “Frequency,” “All Angles,” Hodgepodge,” “Quabble,” “The Screening Room,” “Backstage,” “Thirty Minutes,” “Live on Tape,” “Another Late Night,” “Ya Think You Know Sports?,” “No Such Thing,” “Chords,” “The Gridiron Report” and “Ultimate Utopia.”

The 2002 football team, lead by captains Justin Daly '03 and Tariq Ahmad '04, carried on the winning tradition of Ithaca College, extending its consecutive winning seasons to 34 games, with a 7-3 record. This included a Homecoming victory against Springfield College by a score of 44-20. The season began undefeated with the Bombers winning five straight games, but unfortunately they lost three out of the following five to Brockport, Hobart, and Cortaca Jug winning team Cortland. Senior Dan Puckhaber lead the team in sacks and was selected for First Team All-Conference. Senior Brian Bicher finished his career rewriting the Bomber record book for punting and by earning All-American, All-Conference, and All-East recognition.

Did You Know?: The first intercollegiate “football” game (played between Rutgers and Princeton in 1869) was actually a soccer match.

“Although the team didn’t reach its ultimate goal of a NCAA playoff bid and National Championship, they represented the Bomber tradition with class, great effort, and winning football. The graduating seniors will leave with great memories and many victories achieved on the field of play.”

The men's cross country team began its season ranked seventh in the preseason national poll. The members opened their season with a seventh-place finish at Buffalo State's Daniel Walker Memorial Invitational with their top nine runners not racing. The Bombers worked hard and were able to make a trip to the NCAA championship. The 13th-ranked Bombers placed 17th of 24 teams at the NCAA Championship. This was Ithaca's third consecutive appearance at nationals and ninth time overall. Ithaca has placed in the top-20 eight times, including this season. Senior Dale Cocca was the Bombers' top finisher, placing 47th (25:56.4) in the 215-runner field. Junior Mike Styczynski was the team's second finisher, placing 99th in 26:25.9. Eight seniors will be leaving the squad at the end of the season after four years of hard work.

Head Coach, Jim Nichols
“This year's seniors were a great bunch. Over the past four years they have helped lead our team to many accomplishments including three straight trips to Nationals. This group has had some of the best finishes in Ithaca College history. The leadership shown by our seniors will be greatly missed.”

Did You Know?: Cornell led the formation of the Intercollegiate Cross Country Association in 1899.
Ithaca made its third consecutive and 12th overall appearance at nationals in 2002 to cap another stellar season on the cross country terrain. The Bombers placed inside the top 10 in every meet, including a trio of second place finishes at the pre-NCAA meet, the NYSCTC Championships and the NCAA Atlantic Region Championships. Seven runners qualified for nationals, including juniors Amanda Laytham (44th) and Kristen Cravotta (64th) and seniors Erin Boshe (79th) and Anne Ruminski (86th). Ithaca has placed in the top 10 nine times, including this year, which was the program's top finish since placing third in 1989. The lone disappointment for the Bombers was the failure to defend the state championship, the team lost the crown to Geneseo by 12 points. Laytham placed second (18:40) and senior Lindsay Hyman finished seventh (19:09) to earn first-team all-state honors. Receiving second-team all-state honors were Cravotta, who placed 12th in 19:23; and Lillian Jones, who finished 13th in 19:24; while third-team all-state honors were awarded to Boshe who finished 18th in 19:37; and Alyssa Tingle, who placed 21st in 19:40.

The Bombers concluded their fall season seeded sixth in the New York State Women's Collegiate Athletic Association (NYSWCAA) tournament. Ithaca upset the top seeds en route to winning the state title. The girls beat third-seeded Geneseo 2-1 in overtime in the quarterfinals, won to second-seeded Rochester 4-2 in the semifinals and defeated host Manhattanville 3-2 in the title game. Top scorer Natasha Snowden '06 led the team with her 11th goal of the year. Junior Tamara Payn and sophomores Brooke Aldrich and Sarah Gibble were named to the all-tournament team. The Bombers have now won eight state titles. The program’s last state championship came in 1997, when the Bombers shared the crown. The Bombers said goodbye to senior Heather Meyer who concluded her senior season with one goal and one assist.

The Bombers opened their season with a pair of wins at Cortland's Cortaca Classic tournament. Ithaca knocked off Worcester State 1-0 and defeated Emerson 3-1. Junior Eric Deyle lead the team scoring with eight goals and one assist, followed by sophomore Benjamin Visnyei with five goals and three assists. The Bombers reached the regional semifinals of the NCAA playoffs. The team’s last win was similar to the first topping Worcester State 2-0 in the opening round. They later lost 2-1 to eighth-ranked St. Lawrence in the regional semifinal. Ithaca was making its 13th NCAA playoff appearance. The Bombers ended the season with a 12-6-2 overall record. Senior goalkeeper Glenn Palmieri ended his season with a .848 saving percentage and eight wins, three loses, and two ties.

In a successful season overall, the Bombers went undefeated in conference play and compiled a 13-6-2 record to rank sixth in the NCAA New York region poll. With a bid to the NCAA playoffs riding on a victory in the Empire 8 tournament, the Bombers tied with Nazareth in the finals and were declared co-champions of the conference. However, the Bombers were denied a bid to the NCAA tournament after Nazareth claimed a 4-2 advantage over Ithaca in penalty kicks. Junior Becca Berry's domination of opponents helped carry the Bombers to the top of the conference. Her 14 goals set a new record for the most goals scored in a single season. Junior Liz Bishop was also largely responsible for the Bombers' success. Her protection of the goal could be likened to a wall blocking the net. She held conference opponents scoreless in regulation time through the entire season. Both Bishop and Berry were declared Empire 8 players of the week on numerous occasions. The team's solid season helped coach Mindy Quigg to become the winningest coach in the program's history.

The 2002-2003 Volleyball squad was a young team composed of two seniors, three juniors, three sophomores, and four freshmen. Among the returning players seven were letter winners. These Bombers were led by captains Janet Hammond '04, Jessica Raymond '03, and Kristen Sharp '03. The season turned out to be very successful with an overall record of 32-10. The girls placed second in the ECAC North playoffs hosted by Plymouth State, placed third at the NYSWCAA Championships at Hunter College. The success doesn’t end there, because these Bombers also placed second at the Empire 8 Championships.

Did You Know?: William G. Morgan of Mt. Holyoke first invented volleyball as a game for older men so that they didn’t have to run up and down a basketball court.

Head Coach, Janet Donovan
"The 2003 volleyball season was one of my most memorable and enjoyable ones in my 11 years at Ithaca. My seniors Jessica Raymond and Kristin Sharp were two of the best team leaders I have ever coached. They played a huge part in our success this year. They will be greatly missed."

Despite winning seven of their last 11 contests, members of the men's basketball team failed to find a consistent rhythm during the 2002-2003 season. The Bombers entered the year with hopes of returning to the NCAA tournament after clinching their first Empire 8 title a year prior an 11-3 conference mark. Ithaca did show signs of its potential during the season's stretch run, securing fourth place in the Empire 8 at 8-6. The Blue and Gold missed a chance to qualify for any postseason play by finishing the year at 12-13. Junior forward Tyler Schulz led the Bombers in two statistical categories, averaging 11.7 points and eight rebounds per game. Sophomore guard Jesse Roth played his way into the team's starting lineup early in the season, and finished second with 10.1 points per game, including a career-high 23-point outburst at Elmira. Ithaca also said goodbye to three seniors. Center Jason Wallen finished his final year on South Hill with 10 points and five rebounds per game. Forward Matt Riggins was never able to find his scoring touch, ending his two-year Bomber run with six points per game, 44 assists and 22 steals. Forward Will Hill caught fire at the end of the season, posting 14 points versus Alfred and 10 against Hobart.

Before saying goodbye to one of the most prominent players in the program's history—Kerri Brown—as well as fellow seniors Heather Savignano and Corinne Farneti, the Bombers took their success to the next step they had been hoping to reach since the start of the season. After reaching the second round of the NCAA playoffs for two consecutive years, the Bombers made a third-round appearance, losing to Rochester by only six points. The Bombers continued their reign as one of the more dominant teams in the nation, ranking in the top 25 during the entire season. Though they did not finish atop the Empire 8, the Bombers received an at-large bid to the NCAA playoffs. In the second round of the tournament, the Bombers got revenge against St. John Fisher. With a strong motion offense and pressure defense, the Bombers possessed a batch of solid shot-makers who also knew how to take the ball to the basket. Stephanie Cleary '05 led the Bombers in scoring with 447 points and tallied a team-high 81 steals during the course of the season. Jennie Swatling '04 scored 337 points on the season and led the team in three-point percentage—43.9 percent. Kerri Brown '03 led the team with 97 assists.

"I'd have to say the feeling around our program is optimism and excitement. Reaching the Sweet Sixteen for the first time was a great accomplishment for the IC women's basketball program.... It proved that with commitment, hard work, and teamwork their goals could be attained. ... The win at Fisher in the second round, which earned us the trip to the Sweet Sixteen, was one more step toward becoming a team that can compete and win."

The Bombers wrapped up their winter season by placing seventh at the NCGA Championships. The Blue and Gold made their 17th straight appearance at the national championship meet. Krystal Kaminski '06 earned all-American honors in the floor exercise with her fifth-place finish. Ithaca placed second at the ECAC Championships. Kaminski was Ithaca's first individual champion since the 2000 season. Kaminski's 9.475 ranks third all-time at Ithaca. Rachel Edelson also helped the Bombers by placing second in the balance beam with a 9.625 (third all-time at Ithaca). The Bombers said goodbye to three seniors this year: Andrea Cunningham, Heidi Sanderson, and Caitlin Worth. Their presence on the team has made a tremendous impact on the success of the team.

Head Coach, Rick Suddaby
"The Ithaca College gymnastics team experienced an exciting '02-'03 season. Throughout the season they earned a spot at the top of the Division III rankings and remained No. 1 until Nationals. Krystal Kaminski '06 earned All-American honors in the floor exercise Andrea Cunningham, Heidi Sanderson, Carly O'Brien, and Caitlin Worth were all named All-American in academics to round out their senior year in gymnastics. They will be sorely missed, as the team looks forward to the '03-'04 season."

Entering the season as two-time defending state champions, the Bombers were hungry for another title, but the pursuit had to be made with 20, rather than the usual roster of 30 men. During the regular season the Blue and Gold swam to a 15-1 record, suffering a lone loss to Hamilton. With the regular season finished, the Bombers traveled to the UNYSCSA where they placed second behind an extremely deep Alfred squad. While they did not win the championship, the Blue and Gold brought home eight event titles: Sean Kavanaugh '04 (200 and 400-yard individual medleys), Mike Thurk '03 (100-yard breaststroke), Devin Fay '03 (1- and 3-meter diving), Steve Barnes '05 (1650-yard freestyle), and Ryan Orser '04 (200-yard breaststroke). Kavanaugh, Thurk, Jay Sellers '05 and Sasha Kuznezov '04 also combined to win the 200-yard medley relay. Thurk and Fay qualified for the NCAA Division III Championships in Atlanta, Georgia. At nationals, Fay finished 17th in the 1-meter and 18th in the 3-meter event. Steve Barnes, who tallied 412.75 points to lead the team in scoring and was followed by Sean Kavanaugh (375.75), Sasha Kuznezov (356.75) and Mike Thurk (276.5). Fay also had an outstanding season, scoring 208 points on the year and breaking the school's record in the 1- and 3-meter diving events at the NYSCSA championships.

The women's swimming and diving team opened their season with a 156-85 win over visiting Rensselaer. The team's success continued when the Bombers won the Harvest Relays hosted by the University of Rochester, taking the top spot in each and every event. The season came to a close with the lady swimmers seated 11th at the NCAA Championship at Emory. Megan Hughes '04 earned All-American honors in the 200-yard individual medley, placing 8th in 2:08:97. Kristen Shorette '04 earned All-American status by placing 13th in the 1-meter diving competition. Ithaca, ranked 27th nationally, placed 23rd at the NCAA Division III Wrestling Championships hosted by Ohio Northern University. The Bombers sent three competitors to nationals: Sophomore Jad Duca in the 149-pound weight class, senior Bill Parry at 165 pounds and junior Jeff Edelstein at 184. All three were wild-card selections from the Empire Collegiate Wrestling Championships. Parry and Edelstein placed seventh and eighth respectively, receiving All-American honors by finishing in the top eight in their weight classes. This was the 20th straight year that Ithaca has had at least one All-American. Three seniors will be leaving the team, including Parry, whose last win was the 105th of his career, which places him eighth on Ithaca's all-time list. He ended his senior season with a 34-10 overall record. Other seniors included Seth Lind with a career record of 21-23, Adam St. Ours with a career record of 5-14, and Andrew Locke who went 20-4 this season and 56-38 for his career.

The Men's crew team ended its season by competing at the ECAC National Invitational Rowing Championships. The Bombers placed second in the all-points trophy standings (which combine men's and women's results), trailing only Division I Michigan. Ithaca's men's boats combined for a 10th-place finish. The varsity eight boat took fifth in the semifinals. The Bombers' time of 6:01.7 was just 0.4 seconds out of third place and 0.1 seconds out of fourth. Ithaca's varsity eight was made up of junior coxswain Evan Wassel-Thews, senior stroke Brian Koltzau, senior seventh seat Neal Brodsky, junior sixth seat Geoff Marsh, junior fifth seat Derek Fosmire, sophomore fourth seat Will Greer, senior third seat Jason Frank, junior second seat Ron McMurry and sophomore bow Steve Ives. The second varsity eight boat posted a fourth-place finish in the grand final, its highest finish ever. Ithaca finished just 0.17 seconds away from a medal with a time of 6:14.7. This was the best season the men's crew team has had since the 1970s.

The women's crew team had a successful season which ended with Ithaca tied for second at the NCAA Championships. Ithaca and Puget Sound had 12 points each. Ithaca’s finish was the best in the program history (following a third-place tie last spring). The Bombers were making their third straight appearance at nationals and fifth overall. At the competition, the second varsity eight boat won the petite final and the varsity eight boat placed fifth in the grand final. The varsity eight boat, ranked eighth nationally, posted a time of 6:54.06. Ithaca’s varsity eight was made up of senior coxswain Sarah Repicky, freshman stroke Heather Luke, senior seventh seat Robin McCann, junior sixth seat Nora Lahr, freshman fifth seat Stephanie Knabe, sophomore fourth seat Meghan Musnicki, senior third seat Carrie Johnson, senior second seat Joy Langley and senior bow Alison Bliznick. Ithaca’s second varsity eight was made up of junior coxswain Catherine Gloo, senior stroke Michelle Becht, senior seventh seat Irene Woodward, sophomore sixth seat Kristin Keller, junior fifth seat Jessica Selock, junior fourth seat Leslie Nichols, junior third seat Jill Moler, sophomore second seat Jacy McFall and senior bow Anna Dunham.

The Bombers finished their season as the ninth-ranked team in the conference. The Blue and Gold lost to 13th-ranked Nazareth after six periods. Senior Nick Mayer led the offense with two goals and three assists. Teammate Dennis Juleff ’03 helped the Bombers, adding three goals of his own. Senior goalie Ryan Martin made a huge save in double overtime, to finally succumb to the Golden Flyers for their 13-12 victory. Mayer became the 10th Bomber to score 100 career goals and raised his career total to 166 points, good for ninth on the program’s all-time list. Juleff extended his scoring streak to 55 games, and his 24 goals this season gave him 120 for his career. The Bombers said goodbye to 11 seniors this year: Ryan Crawford, Morris Jemal, Dennis Juleff, Kellen Labelle, Ryan Martin, Nick Mayer, Dave Mazzotta, Jeff Metsky, Joe Pensabene, Tim Riley, and Jeff Tousant.

The 12th-ranked Bombers came to an impressive end of the season. The Blue and Gold claimed their first-ever Empire 8 conference tournament title with wins over Hartwick (19-3) and Nazareth (11-6). Winning the conference tournament gave the Bombers an automatic bid to the NCAA playoffs. They closed the season with an 11-5 loss to Williams in the playoffs. Ithaca was led by junior Michelle Schlegel with two points on two assists. Ithaca said goodbye to three seniors this year: Jessica Welch, Calyn Acebes and Alina Lacey-Varona. Jessica Welch became Ithaca's all-time point leader with 207. Senior Calyn Acebes concluded her senior season with 10 goals and four assists. Alina Lacey-Varona ended her career with two assists. The seniors will surely be missed.

The softball team started its season ranked first nationally. The team opened with a 2-0 victory over Westminster, and had continued success by ending with a final record of 30-10 and 11-1 in Empire 8 play. Captains for the squad included seniors Abby Hanrahan, Kim Stephens, and Elizabeth Yentema. The season concluded with the Bombers being placed third at the NCAA Northeast Regionals in Cortland. Third seeded Ithaca began their 10th consecutive regional appearance with a 7-3 victory over fourth-seeded King’s College. Senior Liz Yentema concluded her college softball career with success by hitting her first career home run, and by going 2-3 with two runs scored in her second to last game.

Head Coach, Deb Pallozzi

“We had a very good season again this year. Even though we didn’t accomplish the ultimate goal of playing for a national title, we won 30 games which makes it the 4th consecutive year of 30 or more wins. That is a true sign of a solid program. As far as the three seniors go, they we very much a part of the successes over these four years and in particular our 2002 National title run. The three were captains this season and did their part to continue the successes Ithaca College softball has become known for. Without their efforts over the past two seasons we would not be where we are today.”

The Bombers ended their season on a powerful note. The Blue and Gold extended their winning streak to eight matches as they concluded their season with a 4-3 victory over Oneonta. Seniors Scott Rubens and Mike Medvin led the Bombers to eight consecutive victories and the program’s first Empire 8 championship since 1989. Medvin secured Ithaca’s school-record 15th victory with a three-set win at third singles, 7-5, 6-7 (11-9), 6-1. Medvin wraps up his senior season with 10 straight singles victories and finished 19-1 overall in Ithaca’s last 10 matches. Senior captain Scott Rubens met his 61st career singles win by surpassing Oneonta at first singles. Rubens ends his career as the Bombers’ all-time leader in singles victories. Juniors Blair Watkins, Carey Sherman and Adam Blakney and freshman Chris Ciolino also posted straight set victories against Hartwick.

The Blue and Gold finished their season with an overall record of 10-4, a second place finish at the Empire 8 Conference Championships, and an 8th place finish at the New York State Women’s Collegiate Athletic Association (NYSWCAA) Championships. Junior Meghan Carroll finished the season second with the Bombers career singles wins list with 43 and third in overall career victories with 78. Sophomore Gretchen Fisher led the Bombers finishing with two singles victories at the William Smith Tournament. As a young team, the Bombers look forward to another successful year.

Did You Know?: The Staten Island Club held a tennis tournament in 1880, but some refused to participate because the ball was too small, too light, and too soft.

Head Coach, William Austin
"The Women’s Tennis Team had a fine season. Meghan Carroll was named to the Empire 8 first team for singles, second team for doubles (with Jen Beekman), and honorable mention for the All-State Team. Jen Beekman was also named to the second team for singles. Angela Tennis and Rachel Abelow were named to the president’s list for the Empire 8 conference for Fall 2002.”

The Bombers closed with an impressive end to the season. They competed in a number of invitationalss and meets. After placing third at the NYSCTC Championships, the Blue and Gold recorded seven first-place finishes. Senior Jim Ravener finished first and set a school record in the 500-meter dash (64.76). The distance medley team of Brian Cocca, Ravener, Brandon Mallette and Garrett Wagner set a school record and recorded an NCAA provisional qualifying time of 10:05.30, the third best time in the country this winter. The 1,600-meter relay team of Robert Pickels, Adam Lang, Mallette, and Ravener also finished first and set a track record, with a time of 3:22.93. Junior Greg Hobbs also set a school record in the 55-meter hurdles in a time of 7.93, good for second place. The Bombers placed sixth at the ECAC Championships, tying the team's second-best finish ever. In addition, the Blue and Gold placed fourth in the New York State Collegiate Track Conference (NYSCTC) Championships. To conclude, the Bombers competed at the Larry Ellis Invitational at Princeton University. Senior Drew Davidson took 10th in the hammer throw, setting a school record and qualifying for the NCAA Championships-the nation’s best performance this spring.

Did You Know?: The first intercollegiate track meet was to be a two-mile run for a prize, but there was so much interest that five more events were added.

“We were led by an outstanding group of veterans including captains Amy Holvey, Erin Boshe, and Steph Vitale. I was impressed with the almost universal improvement of our athletes, particularly in a very cold spring season. Our dominance in the 10,000m at the outdoor state meet, with two of the top two spots going to seniors Anne Ruminiski and Erin Bishe, set us up for our sixth straight championship. The positive energy and team chemistry were very evident throughout the meet.”

The Bombers, led by seniors Erin Boshe, Amy Holvey, and Stephanie Vitale, recorded four NCAA qualifying performances en route to a fifth-place finish at the ECAC Championships. Ithaca has recorded 15 top-10 showings in the last 17 years, including 10 top-five finishes. Senior Erin Boshe took fifth in the 10,000-meter run (37:53.90). Senior Anne Ruminiski placed third in the 10,000-meter run with a NCAA provisional qualifying mark of 5-7 (the third-best mark in the nation this spring). The Blue and Gold won their sixth straight state title at the NYSCTC Championships. Ithaca finished the day with six state titles and 45 all-conference selections. The Bombers went on to finish seventh at the ECAC championships hosted by Tufts University. The team collected their sixth straight top-10 finish. The Bombers said goodbye to 10 seniors: Erin Boshe, Erica Colella, Beth Goldstein, Leah Greene, Amy Holvey, Lindsay Hyman, Lynn Janovich, Lillie Jones, Kim Van Pelt, and Stephanie Vitale.

What is IC Unbound?
IC Unbound is the Ithaca College’s largest recreational sports club, and the only student dance company on campus. With close to 100 participants, they put on two full-length performances each year, featuring student choreography and student dancers. The shows feature many different types of dance, including jazz, tap, ballet, modern/lyrical, hip-hop, swing, musical theater and more. In addition to the shows, IC Unbound also plans dance workshops, trips, and other activities for club members.

Mission Statement:
To hold public dance performances that provide an outlet for personal expression and interaction with others who share a love of dance, and unify without competitiveness.

The Student Auxiliary Safety Patrol is a group of 25 to 30 student workers who patrol the campus in pairs nightly from 9:00 pm to 3:00 am whenever classes are in session. SASP workers are trained to be alert to the safety needs of the Ithaca College community as they patrol the residence halls and parking lots on campus. SASP workers patrol campus by foot and bike, and are always in radio contact with Public Safety dispatch.

SASP provide the following services to the college community.
* Escorts
* Vehicle jump starting
* Monthly blue light phone checks
* Assist Life Safety with fire drills
* Special event assistance

Below: The S.A.S.P. members are required to go through some special training including situation simulations as seen below.

The structure that sits atop Textor Hall has received much attention throughout the years. The aluminum structure, “Disc,” was created by Ithaca artist Jack Squier. Described as a work of “polyester resin over fiberglass over styrene foam placed on a steel foam placed on steel frame,” and covered with aluminum, it was commissioned by the President and Mrs. Howard Dillingham after seeing a model in a New York City gallery. The IC community did not accept Disc right away. Reactions included intrigue, vandalism and defacement. “Disc” soon assimilated to the IC culture and remains one of the most visited places on campus.

Did You Know About IC's Co-ed Dorms?

In the 70's, Landon Hall participated in the SWAP program, which stands for Switch With Another Person. The plan consisted of assigning rooms to people of the opposite sex in one week intervals, meaning you would receive a different roommate of the opposite sex every week. At the time, Landon was a “Living-Learning” dormitory and this was seen as a useful experiment in interpersonal relationships. However, when a student filed a story about the SWAP, newspapers saw the program as promoting promiscuity. Ithaca was not pleased by the publicity. The college stood by its academics and denied negative comments.

Dear Graduates:

It is my pleasure to extend congratulations to you on your commencement from Ithaca College and to welcome you to the Ithaca College family as an alumnus.

You will recall, just a few short years ago I greeted you at our traditional fall Convocation. At this important moment as you began your Ithaca College experience, I shared with you my hopes and dreams for you. It is my sincere hope that you have explored many of the exciting opportunities available to you, in and out of the classroom. I am confident that today each of us is a different person as a result of these experiences.

I hope that many of the friendships you have developed here will last you a lifetime. I trust you have enjoyed your time with us and have found your preparation rewarding. We thank you for sharing your time, talents, ideas, and perspectives with us. You have enriched our learning community and contributed to the quality of life that we all enjoy.

On behalf of the entire Ithaca College community, please accept my very best wishes for a successful and happy future. I look forward to the contributions you will make in your professional and personal lives and to seeing you back here on South Hill or at a future gathering of alumni and friends.

Sincerely,

Peggy R. Williams
