More One-Acts Soon

In answer to any inquiries, "The Blood of Sydney" takes this opportunity to inform the faculty and students that the committee has not been sitting idle since the last program. Several plays will be given early in the coming weeks, and it is expected that the members of the faculty and students will be present.

Due to the absence of Miss Mary Lee, the committee is unable to announce the play that will be given early in the coming weeks.

The committee is also unable to announce the play that will be given later in the coming weeks.

Doris Wator To Read Milne Play on Thurs.

Miss Doris Wator was given the responsibility of reading Milne's play, "The War Horse," in the Little Theatre on Thursday, January 21st. The play will be given at 8:15 in the Little Theatre.

Talk on Atom Is Feature Of Fine Assembly

Following the screening of the first film of the series, "The Atom," the students were given the opportunity to discuss the implications of the atomic age. The discussion was led by Professor Brown, who is an expert in the field of atomic science.

Editors Seek Aid in Compiling Caygan Copy

First Material Already Gone to Press; Staff Confident of Success For the Future

The first copy of the Caygan has gone to press. More material will follow during the coming weeks, and to get it on time we are requesting the students to contribute to the Caygan. We hope that the students will cooperate in this venture.

Dorothy Jones to Read Milne's "The War Horse"

Miss Dorothy Jones was given the responsibility of reading Milne's play, "The War Horse," in the Little Theatre on Thursday, January 21st. The play will be given at 8:15 in the Little Theatre.

Student Players Excellently Received In Interpretation Of Joseph Lincoln’s “Shavings”

Large Audiences Great Performers On Thursday and Saturday Evenings: Play Directed by Mr. Sisson and Architects to Make Impression In Initial Appearances

The reception that was given to the students was splendid. The students were given the opportunity to present a dramatic reading of the play, "Shavings," by Joseph Lincoln. The reception was held in the Little Theatre on Thursday and Saturday evenings, and the students were directed by Mr. Sisson.

EXAMINATIONS

Examinations begin on Monday, February 2. For a few of the courses they will be especially important as many of us will want to have them finished in time to attend the World’s Fair in New York. All examinations will be given immediately after class hours, and are to be made up promptly. Why do we have to have examinations? One just begins to "hit his stride," and along comes the announcement that he has been caught napping. This is true of examinations which often prove to be disturbing. In many cases the results have been known to have disastrous effects on one’s collegiate career—socially if not otherwise. Examinations are all right. They are as essential to the student as an inventory is to the merchant. They provide him with an insight into his own scholastic status. They encourage him in his good work and warn him of the need of improvement. They provide the one reliable medium by which the student may see himself as his teacher sees him.

In the way in which the students of the school spend their time during the next two weeks we may capture largely in the results recorded on the report cards to be issued next month. The mind will absorb much more efficiently the material re-moved from the brain during an interval of time. Psychology teaches us that a part of the work that we study seven hours tonight will be lost in the morning. Let’s begin to review earnestly in the next two weeks the material offered us by our instructors.

In other words, let’s cram "sensibly" this year.

IN APPRECIATION

For any organization in the school to bring to the con-sciousness of the group of artists we would like to extend an appeal to our patrons for their cooperation. We believe that it is the right of all of us to demand the highest possible standards in all of our work. If our patrons do not expect the best we shall be encouraged to produce the best. Let’s do away with that system. Let’s begin now and re-press our gratitude to Miss Gertrude Evans, Director of Publicity at the Ithaca Conservatory and Affiliated Schools.

Her duties have been so many and so varied that it is impossible to enumerate them here. Her chief duty, however, has been to see that the Ithaca Community Council is properly represented in all matters of public interest.

Miss Evans, we hereby recognize the multitude of kind acts of the past which she has done for the Conservatory and the community. We feel sure that her efforts will not be in vain, and we have every confidence that she will continue to do her utmost to further the interests of the school.

PHI MU ALPHA
We are pleased to announce that we have adopted a new plan for the pledging of new members. This plan is designed to make our pledges more effective in their future duties.

Pledge Day will be held on the 15th of next month, and all pledges are requested to be present. This will be an opportunity for us to strengthen our bond of brotherhood.

Mia Coogan was entertained at lunch by Mrs. L. Menon, who kindly volunteered to serve as our hostess for the occasion.

Public School Music Students to Have Dance
The Ithaca Institute of Public School Music will hold an annual formal dance on Friday evening, January 19, from 9 to 11. The dance is open to all high school students of both sexes.

The dance committee, consisting of students from the various music classes, is working diligently to make this event a success. We encourage all interested students to attend.

Dear Eric Teachers,

In connection with the new formal dance being held Friday evening, I write to inform you of the following arrangements:

1. All students are encouraged to attend, regardless of their class standing.
2. Dress is formal, with special attention given to attire.
3. Refreshments will be served.

I hope to see a large turnout at the dance, and wish everyone a fun and enjoyable evening.

Sincerely,

TRUMPEETERS AND SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA OF FRATERNITY
Following the excellent program offered by the Glioria Trumpeters and Miss Ellerman, contralto, in the Little Theatre on Friday evening, January 16, we are happy to announce that the Sigma Alphas will be presenting a formal dance complementing the performance, and the Sigma Alphas' fraternities, their hosts, were held at the Philo Alpha house. Unfortunately Miss Ellerman fell ill on the evening of the event, but the Sigma Alphas hosted a formal dance for the benefit of the Philo Alpha house.

A formal dance was held at the Sigma Alpha house on Saturday, January 17, and was attended by students from both fraternities. The evening was filled with music, dancing, and refreshments, creating a delightful atmosphere.

The Sigma Alphas presented a variety of musical performances, including songs and recitals. The Philo Alphas contributed their own musical talent, resulting in a harmonious and enjoyable evening for all in attendance.

In conclusion, the formal dances held by both fraternities were a resounding success. The Sigma Alphas and Philo Alphas would like to express their gratitude to all who participated, and look forward to future events together.

Sincerely,

A Review of the Week's Outstanding Events

MUSEUM HEAD SWINDLED
Edward Holmes, director of Boston Art Museum, purchased two paintings for $25,000. These had hardly arrived in Boston before an expert declared that they were bogus. Mr. Holmes communicated with the Italian dealer, and the two paintings were returned. He was then sent a bill for a reputed price of $95,000 which purchase has also been termed a 'swindle'.

TROUBLE IN CHINA
Washington has been notified through the local headquarters of the Italian Legion Catholic Mission of the abduction of seven Catholic priests and two nuns and the murder of two priests by outlaws

SEWAGE
"We have given way to something ridiculous," said Mr. Sisson. "If we had not done this, he showed he had the ability to get his point over to everyone in time, his articles were received with many laughs.

FRESHMEN DO WELL IN CAST OF "SHAVINGS"

Mary Taylor played the 'New World Symphony', in contact with the "Fiddling of January 13", played by Miss Ellerman. Miss Hathaway, Mr. Lyon, and Mr. Dona played by Miss Ellerman and Mr. Hathaway for the trombones.
