Religious Emphasis Days
To Feature Rob Roberts

Next Monday and Tuesday, November 12 and 13, the Inter-Religious Emphasis Days will be held in the Little Theatre and in the Annex. The sessions will be held at 9 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Each session will be opened by an invocation delivered by one of the clergymen representing the four major faiths represented at Ithaca College.

The theme selected is: “Your Faith and Mine.”

Carl R. Pirko, director of the program, states that these Religious Emphasis Days are being held “...to stimulate inquiry on the part of Ithaca Collegians as to just how their education can bring greater meaning into their lives as religious people and how their religious beliefs can give fuller meaning to their goals as educated individuals, to provide some serious thinking about the deeper religious and its relation to the mind of the College, and to provide Ithaca Collegians with an opportunity to participate directly in the discovery and formulation of their own beliefs.”

In an attempt to explain the differences in religious clergymen during the first afternoon session includes: organizational structure, theological and historical differences, religious beliefs.

A class meeting was held on November 1, to explain the new procedure and to hand out nomination papers. November 6 was the day set for, the handing in of the nomination papers so that the committee could check their validity and draw up the list of candidates for the primary ballot.

The primary ballot will be held on Friday, November 9, from 9:00 to 12:00 and 1:00 to 3:00. At that time the top two candidates for each office will be selected to run in the final election.

On the evening of November 13, the candidates will be given an opportunity to speak to their classmates. The final election will be held on Friday, November 16, from 9:00 to 12:00 and from 1:00 to 3:00.

Frost Elections Set: Sans Stuffed Ballot Box!

Freshman class elections are now underway. A Student Council Committee headed by Don Dulin is conducting the election in accordance with a new method proposed by a freshman, David Scotch.

The student wanting to run for an office or for the Student Council should be furnished with proper nomination papers, obtainable at the Dean’s office. The papers will consist of spaces for names of students who will support this candidate. There must be twenty-five signatures for the nomination to be valid. It will be noted that a

NEW ELECTION PROCEDURE

In two recent issues of the Ithacan, editors recommended that the Student Council take action to revise class elections. This advice has been heeded. At the October 23 meeting of the Council, a Freshman, David Scotch, spoke to the group about class elections and proposed a new method of conducting them. (The proposal appears in its entirety elsewhere in this issue.) The Council voted to try the proposed method in the coming Freshman elections. After these elections the Council will vote whether or not the method proved successful enough to make it the standard for all future class elections. Congratulations to David for his interest in getting good elections and to the Student Council for taking this much-needed action.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor,

It has been brought to the attention of many of us that what this school needs is a good jazz concert and jam session. Complaints have been flying fast and furious, the more so because in one school we know a class election is to be held. As far as we know, Shaft is on the way. So, here is our proposal:

1. Let's have a jazz concert and jam session.
2. Complaints have been from two students, as much as we know, that no one in the school knows that no one in the school knows what is that a jazz concert and jam session.
3. Let's have a jazz concert and jam session.
4. Then we can really dance and enjoy the music and have a good time.

Sincerely yours,
The Junior Class

PHILOSOPHY FOR THE WEEK

If You Use Cornell's Library Read This!

The following procedure has been established in order to clarify the use of the facilities of the Cornell University Library. The student will be required to identify himself with his Ithaca College identification card in order to use the holdings of the Cornell University Library. The student will be required to use the book form available in the Cornell University Library. The two copies are to be the same book, signed by the instructor who has a card available in the Cornell University Library. Gladys Wasser, a senior in Radio and Television, explains to this reporter there are two things she is most humbly grateful for—her heritage as a Pennsylvania Dutchman and her support of the Republican Party. Gladys is an individual who believes the best interests of the American public are served by the Republican party. She comes from Canton, Pennsylvania and Binghamton, New York, at the same time. (Can you figure that one out?) While in high school, Gladys took a college preparatory course and did well enough to obtain a scholarship from Ithaca College to study Liberal Arts. After the first semester here, she decided to change her course. Only in Radio-TV, she wrote to the Board of Trustees and submitted her request for a transfer. They granted her request and also gave her a grant-in-aid for the same amount that her scholarship had been so she might continue to study in her chosen field.

Since she was born on three scholarships, Gladys devoted most of her first year in college to high grades. That year she was treasurer of her dorm, Beth Rogers Hall. Her work in the house had been used as an I.C. Executive. In her sophomore year, Gladys became president of the form and was initiated into Adelphi. However, one of the most interesting things of her college career was her interest in the theatre. Gladys, as President of the form, was introduced to Adelphi. However, one of the most interesting things of her college career was her interest in the theatre. Gladys, as President of the form, was named for the first time as best actress in a drama. In her senior year, Gladys was named an All-American and an All-State for her work in the theatre. Gladys was named to the National Thespian Society. Vets May Work; Won't Affect VA Checks

Veterans in school under the GI Bill may earn any amount of money outside of class without jeopardizing their monthly GI allowances, Mr. George F. Havell, Manager of the Syracuse VA Regional Office, said today.

"These outside earnings need not even be reported to VA," he added. The explanation that some veterans still have the Korean GI Bill with the original World War II GI allowance formulation was based on an incorrect "ceiling" that applied to veterans taking all types of training—in school, work force, and on the farm.

Mr. Havell said there is no such "ceiling" for veterans in school under the Korean GI Bill. However, he added, there is one for Korean veterans taking on-the-job training. Under this ceiling, when a veteran's on-the-job training wages, plus his tax allowances, exceed $310 a month, VA will scale down the allowance accordingly, by $1 for every $1.25 of earnings.

Rates for veterans in school full-time under the Korean GI Bill are $310 a month with no dependents.

Frost Elections

The papers will also provide opportunity so that the respective candidates can have their Deans give their approval as to the student's academic standing and time of nominations. In the case of Probst, the individual teachers will give their approval, based on the work already done by the student.

Following the submitting of the necessary papers by the candidates, there will be a primary election. From this election the top two candidates from each office will then be eligible for the final election. The two elections the candidates will be afforded the time and place to make speeches to the students of his or her particular class.

The election will then be held. After the final election, the Student Council will review the election and determine its legality.

Dick Hyman has come out here with one of the richest albums I have heard. I was frankly quite bored with thirty-five minutes of this album and came very close to falling asleep by the time, I got through it. However, if you are an insomniac, I recommend it without hesitation. Recording and performance files.

The announcement of the Inter-Religious Conference at Ithaca College met with a spontaneous, enthusiastic response from the faculty, administration, and students.

Many credit it due the students, especially those in the Conference Committee, for planning a program of challenging topics to be presented by extremely qualified clergymen and laymen.

This joint faculty-student activity may well become an annual event which will help to fill a felt need of many persons in our college community. We ask the cooperation of all in making it a success.

Dear: Dr. Vrooman, the President of Cornell University:

Your Faith and Mine is a very large topic, yet an intimate and a personal one. One's faith is very important to the individual from each other.

Without faith it would not be possible to live happily in our present society with its many pressures and frustrations. Faith makes it possible for leaders to continue with the high aims toward which they struggle in efforts to bring greater good to more people.

To make the aims and dreams, fostered by faith, come true we all need to work together. All the students, teachers, administrators, and college personnel working together can produce wonderful results. It is difficult to find security in uncertain and troubled times and only through faith can a measure of security be found, and only if we all—the whole college Family—work together through faith and the demonstration of faith.

Local Pastors Will Take Part Also

IC Bows To Lockhaven
In Final Game; 34-6

The Ithaca College hopes for an improved season was dashed dramatically Thursday when the Bombers were defeated at Lock Haven State College 34-6.

Except for Perry Field and Dick Carmel, who received it on about the 5 and 1, and intercepted it for the score. The game in which they scored, the Bombers did not penetrate beyond their opponents' 25-yard line at any time. On that occasion, which was midway in the second period, their drive broke down after three incomplete passes.

Distin was the leading groundgainer for the evening with 122 yards in 21 carries and a 5.9 average. Prebys was tops for their 1ers with a 7.8 average on 56 yards in eight carries.

Bombers Break Into Win Column Over Brockport

After a two-season, eight game losing skid, the Ithaca College gridironers finally raised victory on a cool Friday evening, October 24, as they slammed Brockport, 19-7. Perry Field was the scene of the action.

The game was full of thrilling action which had the crowd on their feet all evening. It was appraised from the beginning that the approx- imately 1,000 faithful who turned out were in for some lively grid dingo.

Brockport drew first blood early in the first quarter when halfback Bill Simonger capped a 44 yard drive by charging 12 yards to pay dirt. The conversion was missed, and it looked like the same old story to long-suffering Bomber fans. The quarter ended with Brockport in the lead, 7-0.

However, the Bombers really grabbed a crowning drive that placed the Bombers within striking distance rolling in the second period. After of the Brockport goal line, quarterback Perry Noun fed a 21-yard pass that end Ray MacParle snatched away from a pang of enemy defenders in the end zone. The conversion attempt went awry, and that's how the first half ended—Brockport, 7; Ithaca, 0.

The tally that finally put the Bombers ahead was scored on a 39-yard field goal by chugging 12 yards to pay dirt. The conversion was missed, and it looked like the same old story to long-suffering Bomber fans. The quarter ended with Brockport in the lead, 7-0.

WITJ-WICR
Return To The Air-Waves

WITJ has returned to the air after an extended absence due to technical problems. The radio department is now operating two radio stations: WITJ on the FM band, 91.7, and WICR, a carrier current AM station at 600 on the dial.

Meanwhile, progress has been made in providing a well-balanced program schedule. Several programs on the air are being produced independently, by radio majors. These productions range from disc jockey programs to dramatic shows.

Majority report covered completely both the national and local elections. This program, produced by Cordell-Rhysling, gave comprehensive reports from Democratic and Republican Headquarters, and the Ithaca Journal. Interviews were held with local political personalities, and the complete picture was placed before the listening public.

Simulcast operations involving WITJ and WICR have proven successful. Reports indicate that almost all of the east hill dormitories are receiving the new AM station satisfactorily.

Sports coverage of football games provided the only play by play description of our home games available. The tentative schedule for basketball broadcasts includes both Ithaca College and Ithaca High School games. A definite schedule will be worked out after mid-term exams.

WCC Expresses Gratitude

The Women's Civic Committee wishes to express its gratitude to those students who helped make the Car Wash for Kim a success.

The Committee feels that special commendations should be given to Kappa Gamma Pi, Delta Kappa, and to the two freshmen who donated their time: Carol Krain, Kay Martin, Sheila Coyle, Kathy Jones, and Esther Glatt.

Those students who participated did so voluntarily in the effort to raise money for the support of Kim, the Korean war orphan, whom the college has adopted.
