10-21-1959

The Ithacan, 1959-10-21

Ithaca College

Follow this and additional works at: http://digitalcommons.ithaca.edu/ithacan_1959-60

Recommended Citation
http://digitalcommons.ithaca.edu/ithacan_1959-60/4
College Announces Campus Plans

Initiates Fund Raising and Development Project

A new $15,000,000 campus fund raising and development project has been initiated by Ithaca College, it was announced Saturday by President Howard I. Dillingham and the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Dillingham said that the development project includes plans for new dormitories, academic buildings, an administration building, a Student Union building, and miscellaneous service buildings.

The first phase of the building project is expected to be completed for the fall of 1961, and will include dormitories for some 800 students, a Student Union, a Liberal Arts building, and a Science building.

The second phase of the project, to be completed by the fall of 1963, includes additional dormitory facilities, a "million dollar" gymnasium, a music school building, a theatre, and an infirmary.

200 acre site

Dr. Dillingham said that the new campus will be situated on a 200-acre site on Ithaca's South Hill.

The announcement was made Saturday by Dr. Dillingham at the College's Fall Convocation. The Board of Trustees met and approved the project Friday in Ithaca.

The entire project, according to Dr. Dillingham, is scheduled for completion by the fall of 1965 or early in 1966.

Chapel to be added

To be added later are a chapel, an administration building, and miscellaneous service buildings.

The building project will be under the supervision of the architects Tallman and Tallman of Ithaca and the design to be utilized, according to Mr. Robert Tallman, will be "organic contemporary."

The fund raising program will be under the supervision of William J. Sliwa, Assistant to the President of Ithaca College, and will involve federal loan funds, foundation funds, and alumni contributions.

President Dillingham said that the final decision of the Board of Trustees to erect a new campus on the South Hill site was prodicated on the acceleration of interest in higher education on a national level.

He said that the proposal that was announced today has been under consideration for some time. He added that the South Hill site, with its beautiful location and its extensive area, would allow Ithaca College room for future expansion.

This property has been owned by Ithaca College for some time and part of it serves as its athletic and practice fields.

Dr. Dillingham said that the South Hill site offers great opportunity of year-round use by independent educational and cultural groups.

(Continued on page 4)

Frosh Frolics opens tomorrow

Thursday night at 8:15 P.M., the Froshmen women will present Frosh Frolics. This year's theme is "L. C. Follies."

The Froshmen women are divided into competing departments of Radio-TV, Speech and Drama; Phys. Ed. and Physical; and Liberal Arts and Music.

Frosh Frolics is under the sponsorship of the Women's Student Government, W. S. G. appointed advisory to the various departments are: Radio-TV, Speech and Drama, Pat Boe; Phys. Ed. and Physio, Sharron Taylor; Liberal Arts and Music, Jane Bridgenaugh.

Cup to be presented

The traditional cup will be presented to the winning department, if the cup is won by the same department three years in a row the cup is returned to that department.

Last year's winner was the Radio-TV, Speech and Drama department.

There is no admission fee to the event.

November 12

SAL to present benefit recital

Epsilon Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota will present a benefit recital featuring Miss Nancy Grifflin, Violinist, on Thursday, November 12, at 8:15 P.M. at the Ithaca College Music Hall.

The proceeds of the recital are to go to the Sigma Alpha Iota Foundation Fund, the purpose of which is to aid financially in the broadening of opportunities for American youth in the field of music.

Miss Cirillo will perform sonatas for violin and piano by Shubert, Brahms, Debussy, and Hummel.

She is currently performing at Carnegie Hall in New York City, and has appeared in numerous professional recitals.

Accompanying her will be Miss Prudence Cirillo, a former Ithaca College student, and a member of S.A.I.

Tickets are on sale at Hickey's Music Store and may be purchased from any S.A.I. member.

Javits stresses peace and world integration

Senator Jacob K. Javits, deliver a speech on "Peace and World Integration" at Ithaca College's Fall Convocation, Saturday morning, October 17.

"The integration of the free world politically and economically is the number one problem in the struggle for peace. With such integration the massive strength of the free world politically and economically—when to its moral strength—will offset communist advances and secure freedom for all," said Javits.

"It is the United States leadership which will determine the success of the free world."

Mentions "systems"

The text of Senator Javits' presentation mentioned "two great systems—those of freedom and communism." These wars of ideas possessed by Americans and Europeans are being tested, based upon their ability to hold power and their success.

Using such concepts as disarmament, international law, education, he clarified his reasons for support of this integration.

Later, in an interview with Javits, he was asked what he thought (Continued on page 4)

Crew Positions Still Open on Scampers Staff

Bennie Buittenberg and Jared Brown, the head men of Scampers 1960, have announced that the following positions are open on this year's staff: Stage Manager, Assistant Stage Manager, Costume Designer, Lighting Designer, Choreographer, Musical Director, Choral Director, Publicity Manager, House Manager, Stage Carpenter, Prov Master, and Costume Mistress.

For all those interested the sign-up sheet is posted on the bulletin board in the hallway adjoins the Snack Bar. All Ithaca College students are eligible, regardless of class.

Format has changed Scampers, an outstanding tradition at Ithaca College, started years ago as an evening revue performed each of the fraternities on campus. It was delivered a speech on "Peace and World Integration" at Ithaca College's Fall Convocation, Saturday morning, October 17.

"The integration of the free world politically and economically is the number one problem in the struggle for peace. With such integration the massive strength of the free world politically and economically—when to its moral strength—will offset communist advances and secure freedom for all," said Javits. He continued to say, "It is the United States leadership which will determine the success of the free world."

Mentions "systems"

The text of Senator Javits' presentation mentioned "two great systems—those of freedom and communism." These wars of ideas possessed by Americans and Europeans are being tested, based upon their ability to hold power and their success.

Using such concepts as disarmament, international law, education, he clarified his reasons for support of this integration.

Later, in an interview with Javits, he was asked what he thought (Continued on page 4)

Javits stresses peace and world integration

Senator Jacob K. Javits, deliver a speech on "Peace and World Integration" at Ithaca College's Fall Convocation, Saturday morning, October 17.

"The integration of the free world politically and economically is the number one problem in the struggle for peace. With such integration the massive strength of the free world politically and economically—when to its moral strength—will offset communist advances and secure freedom for all," said Javits. He continued to say, "It is the United States leadership which will determine the success of the free world."

Mentions "systems"

The text of Senator Javits' presentation mentioned "two great systems—those of freedom and communism." These wars of ideas possessed by Americans and Europeans are being tested, based upon their ability to hold power and their success.

Using such concepts as disarmament, international law, education, he clarified his reasons for support of this integration.

Later, in an interview with Javits, he was asked what he thought (Continued on page 4)

Javits stresses peace and world integration

Senator Jacob K. Javits, deliver a speech on "Peace and World Integration" at Ithaca College's Fall Convocation, Saturday morning, October 17.

"The integration of the free world politically and economically is the number one problem in the struggle for peace. With such integration the massive strength of the free world politically and economically—when to its moral strength—will offset communist advances and secure freedom for all," said Javits. He continued to say, "It is the United States leadership which will determine the success of the free world."

Mentions "systems"

The text of Senator Javits' presentation mentioned "two great systems—those of freedom and communism." These wars of ideas possessed by Americans and Europeans are being tested, based upon their ability to hold power and their success.

Using such concepts as disarmament, international law, education, he clarified his reasons for support of this integration.

Later, in an interview with Javits, he was asked what he thought (Continued on page 4)

Javits stresses peace and world integration

Senator Jacob K. Javits, deliver a speech on "Peace and World Integration" at Ithaca College's Fall Convocation, Saturday morning, October 17.

"The integration of the free world politically and economically is the number one problem in the struggle for peace. With such integration the massive strength of the free world politically and economically—when to its moral strength—will offset communist advances and secure freedom for all," said Javits. He continued to say, "It is the United States leadership which will determine the success of the free world."

Mentions "systems"

The text of Senator Javits' presentation mentioned "two great systems—those of freedom and communism." These wars of ideas possessed by Americans and Europeans are being tested, based upon their ability to hold power and their success.

Using such concepts as disarmament, international law, education, he clarified his reasons for support of this integration.

Later, in an interview with Javits, he was asked what he thought (Continued on page 4)
The Ithacan

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

This week a notice appeared around school from Dean Clark which is an intrusion on one's personal rights. Why do we have to live, all of a sudden, and at the whim of the Dean, wear a tie and sport coat to the Sunday noon meal in the college dining hall, with a reservation, which that fact stuck in the nature preserved by Dean Clark ought not to be altered.

What makes the Sunday noon meal seem semi-formal attire; and why is the Sunday noon meal singled out? What is the matter with Saturday noon? What is the matter with making the respectable appearance in a pair of shoes, a sport shirt and a creaker soon, for instance? One is not required to wear such attire when eating in the College Inn for instance. Dress as mathematicians are acceptable, I have eaten in the Inn and I'm informed.

For second point, I paid $10 for my mate, as everybody did. At the time I signed the contract with Slater System there were no rules given pertaining the wench in question. I assumed that as long as I dressed with reason would be all that Dean Clark is only requirement. It seems that now that the "game" has started, the rules have been changed. That spells out not only foul play but also a violation of personal law that states that a contract can only be changed by consent of both parties. It notes that the contract was altered by a party acting for Slater System, Dean Clark, without consulting the students and that is unfair.

If my grape is my disgust at the complacent attitude assumed by the student population when this notice was issued. Are you men thinking for yourselves or are you allowing someone else to think for you? If it is the latter, you're in trouble and the source you wake up the better off you'll be.

I think that Dean Clark has overstepped his bounds in taking this sudden action. If this matter were related to subjects of grave importance such as the conduct of women in the presence of men, it is certainly his duty to issue and enforce regulations; however, this is a matter of removing specks of personal odor, and is unjustified.

Sincerely,

(name withheld upon request)

Inexpensive.

According to excellent testimony, during the final performance of Tartuffe, Miss Paolini decided to slip her dress into D-center without even waiting for the clock to strike twelve.

After a thorough search of the premises, seven pairs of shoes of various sizes (most of which were taken from under the rocks in the backyards of the hallways) and a slate 16% glass army boot.

If there is anyone who lost a class army boot in D-center, your prince charming is looking for you.

RECRUIT.

The second period of the faculty recital series will take place Sunday, October 25, at 8:15 in the Ithaca College Music Hall.

Dear Rabbe:

I have a real problem. I wear glasses and so does my girl. We are always arguing about who should take his off.

Sincerely,

(name withheld upon request)

Dear Friend:

Why don't you try contact . . .

Incidents

The views of columnists and editors used in this paper do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the editors or faculty. Any contributions must be signed, but the name will be withheld upon request.

Page Two

The Ithacan

Wednesday, October 21, 1959

Moliere's "Tartuffe" by Robert Thompson

Critics have noted for many years that Monsieur Moliere wrote much of his material for a particular actress, the great Louise Gerin who was of the same mold as his Tartuffe. This notice. Also, Moliere wrote his plays for a cast, and in the writing he so designed it as to display the actors' abilities. Agnes Tartuffe is no exception.

Moliere would not have been disappointed had he been able to attend this year's production of Tartuffe, for Agnes Tartuffe is just as she was in the original. The production was both a fitting and historical performance, as well as a fine acting job on the part of the actors. They proved greatly as a whole to be extremely entertaining to audiences with the reshaping of Tartuffe.

Monsieur Organ (Michael Halpern) a well to do bourgeoisie, was put up on the stage of the seminally place and very adventurers. He is so much under Tartuffe's spell that he brings him into his own house, offers him all the conveniences of his home, which seems Tartuffe decides to also influence, Organ's wife, and also proposes that Tartuffe should marry his younger daughter, Marianne. Finally Organ goes to the extreme of making Tartuffe heir to his estate, Mr. Halpern played his role admirably, conveying to the audience just how much of a fool one can be.

Tartuffe is an astound. If there are any who lose a class army boot in D-center, your prince charming is looking for you.

MOSHE'S "TARUFFE"

Rally Round the Table

Dear Editor,

In the years past, the "Snack Bar" has been a home to the last souls of dear I.C. Now, when a member of the set enters, he finds many changes have taken place. Whether these changes are for the good or the bad is a matter of personal opinion; but the opinion of most seems to be on the negative side.

The reason for the wondrous color of the walls can be explained to all but the house mothers of the girl's dorms that have been trying to get the school to paint many of the rooms. The poorest members of the set was to do with the booths and long tables and replace these with tiny tables and scores of chairs. No longer is there a place to put books—now they must be put on the already small tables. When one or two students sit down at a table with three books and a tray, there is no room left. My new seat has cut down on the space available to the student.

In light of this, why was the old system done away with? Has not the school better things to do with its money than buying new tables that are not getting the use that a proper arrangement could have?

In years past, I enjoyed dropping down to the "Snack Bar" for a cup of coffee; but now it's too hard to find a place to sit down.

Sports Editor .......................................................................... Daniel Drew

Staff:

Michael Halpern, Ken Scheuer, Don Roberts, Charles Murray, Nancy Figard, Gloria Campagne, Paul Lankau.

Editor .................................................................... Joanne Bennett '62

Ithaca College:

Manager: Irene Maltar '62

120 E. State St.

Robert Thompson

For the shop good sports

FANRYME

The store for all good sports

128 W. State St.

Div. of Athletic Equipment, Inc., Co., Inc.

Athletic, Recreation Equipment, Fishing Tackles — Also Sportsware

...Farrowed by Ithaca College Men

See Ithaca's most complete selection of university styled clothing and accessories at

IRV LEWIS MEN'S SHOP

120 E. State St.

a open student charge account
TViewing

United Fund Remote

by John Drybed

The Tompkins County United Fund campaign received a promotional boost last Monday evening via the program facilities at W.I.C.B. television and the community cable system.

The program, W.I.C.B.'s first of the fall season, was well organized in both appeal and performance and provided 60 minutes of viewing pleasure for local citizens interested in community activities.

Several items of entertainment, all brought off in splendid style, added considerably to the success of the presentation which centered upon an appeal for support of the campaign, its goals, and its theme, "LOVE COSTS MONEY".

These included: music and marching by the Goodman Dance Workshop; Ithaca College's own Chat Corvis marking a couple of "old standards"; a comedy routine by Ithaca magician, "Selly" Brewer; and vocal selections by a Cornell group, known as the Shawmores.

The appeal was more directly advanced by the sincere opening and closing addresses of Dr. John Hirshfeld, United Fund president, and Mr. Anthony C. DiGiacomo, campaign chairman.

Wells credit for the quality of the production should be extended to director, "Ted" Kavanau, and his entire crew of technicians and assistants, who handled a complex show with a minimum of adversity. The brightest star of the evening, in our opinion, shown on the person of one Mr. Robert Earle master-of-ceremonies. Although Mr. Earle's appearances on camera were sparing, his overall sense of showmanship lent a pleasant air to the program and added in ensuring viewer acceptance of the message.

In conclusion, permit us a prediction and an observation. The prediction: If the people of Ithaca support the United Fund Drive with the same degree of enthusiasm evidenced by those involved in the presentation of this program, its financial goal should be achieved with little difficulty.

The observation: From all appearances, the quality and scope of W.I.C.B-TV's programming activities during the end of the 1959 spring semester, seemed constantly to be growing; if Monday evening's show was an indication of things to come in the fall semester, this growth, to the advantage of all its viewers, promises to become an integral part of the station's policy.

Bonnie Jo Studying Drama In New York

Since Ithaca College's own Bonnie Jo Marquis represented New York State in Atlantic City's annual Miss America Pageant, she has led quite an exciting and busy life.

After the contest Bonnie had a series of interviews with Twentieth Century Fox, who offered her screen tests, and Mitch Miller, who offered her a chance to record for Columbia. As Miss New York State she won a scholarship, and is now studying at the Neighborhood Playhouse in New York City. She resides at the Barbizon School.

Career-wise, Bonnie hopes to be able to make a screen test sometime soon.

Bonnie's future plans outside of her career include a trip to Hawaii the guests of Miss Hawaii.

You can always do better at MORRIS' MEN SHOP for your suit, sport jacket or whatever you need...
P.S. Just "60 Seconds from State"

CHANDLER'S JEWELERS
122 E. STATE ST. — FIRST NATIONAL BANK BLDG.

You always do better at MORRIS' MEN SHOP for your suit, sport jacket or whatever you need...
P.S. Just "60 Seconds from State"

JUNIOR CLASS MEETING TONIGHT!! Room 24, Annex, 7:30 p.m.

ONLY GENESSEE HAS THE BRIGHT TASTE IN BEER!...because only Genesee brews exclusively with the water of spring-fed Hemlock Lake!
Once upon a time in a far away land, there was a college. It was a very nice little college. It was a friendly place where everybody got along with everybody else and where there was ever hardly a ripple on the calm surface of academic tranquility.

Yes, this college was really a model of upbringing. The professors taught—and were happy. The students studied—and were happy. And the administration administered—and they were happy. Everyone was happy. Then one day... she came to town.

She was a rather nice little lady. She was light; she was gay; she was free; she was happy. She was the embodiment of those things which have lifted the spirits of men since the world began. She was all of those things but, as everyone in college knew right from the start, she was a devil.

When the students first came into contact with her they immediately lost their heads. One student said of her, "She must have been a beautiful baby, cause baby looks at her now." Yes, she certainly did drive the little boys wild. The girls (this was a co-ed school, and a very progressive one for the middle ages) looked upon her with feelings that could best be described as, "something less than true friendship." Some co-eds, in fact, were jealous and even downright resentful of her. But those girls who did get to know her quite well said that they really enjoyed being with her, and added that she was really quite friendly.

The faculty took to her slowly at first. Also some of them never did get to know her. Others however, became almost as well acquainted with her as the students. They were forced to admit later that she really could be quite intellectual when she wanted to be. As for the administration, well we are sorry to say that the administration never did get to know her at all. (At least they didn't.)

For Jeannie, ingenues over being told that they must not associate with her, sought her out and in even greater numbers than before the ban. They came to know her as they never had before, and many students began to relax the moments that they could spend with her. They found ways to be with her as near as possible to the restricted area. It was even rumored that some of the students actually found ways to be with her in secret on the campus. (Oftentimes the chance they were taking.) Some of the students made arrangements for secret rendezvous with her. The psychology department was kept busy analyzing the psychology of the students who were attempting to run the blockade.

That frivolous free soul is still in that same territory stalks the halls of the same college. (She seems to like it there.) Inside the gates of that college, there is still a calm tranquility but more and more of the students are falling under her spell and there are often periods of great discontent among the students who, in increasing numbers, are clamoring for admittance through the closed college door. Meanwhile, the administration stands fast as true to the faith that some day she will simply go away of her own free will. When that day comes the students once more will be safe and the gates can be opened.

Jovits (Continued from page 1)

Joel Nelson G. Rocke&ter's chances for the nomination for president on the Republican ticket in 1960. Jovits tersely replied: "I'll say what I've always said. If he runs I'm all for him."

New Campus (Continued from page 1)

tural groups in affiliation with Ithaca College.

The reception of the recently announced "Ithaca College Plan," a proposed curriculum revision in the Arts and Sciences, by high officials in the national government and by educators generally was also a contributing factor in the final decision to build a larger, more functional campus than had originally been planned.

Scamper (Continued from page 1)

the material is selected and assembled on November 20th. All proceeds from the run of Scamper go to the Oracle Loan Fund. Oracle, the Senior Honor Society, serves as producer of Scamper.
CORTLAND DEFEATS BOMBERS 13-7

The Bad Dragons of Cortland State defeated the Bombers of Ithaca College by a score of 13-7 in a game played in a light rain at South Hill last Saturday.

Ithaca gave the drilled twirlers something to yell about in the opening minutes of the game as it received the opening kickoff and marched 73 yards down the field on a series of well executed plays to score.

Some key blocks were thrown by Steve Bedrosky and smart Quarterbacking by Bob Ryan helped the cause.

Bradshaw scores
Jim Bradshaw was the man who finally crossed the goal line for the Ithacans, and Jack Gutman’s placement gave Ithaca a 7-0 lead.

The teachers came right back with a 67 yard sustained drive to make the score 7-7.

Cortland’s touchdown was scored by Riccio, the right-halfback. The Cortland fake kick, then pass conversion try was knocked down by Charlie Brady, and Ithaca had a slim lead of one point at half time, 7-6.

Riccio runs 51 yards
The third quarter proved Ithaca’s downfall as Cortland recovered an Ithaca fumble, and on the next play, Riccio scampered 51 yards to paydirt, with what proved a slim lead of one point at half time, 7-6.

The Red Dragons of Cortland State recovered an Ithaca fumble, and on the next play, Riccio scampered 51 yards to paydirt, with what proved a slim lead of one point at half time, 7-6.

Ithaca, hampered by injuries and penalties, was unable to score again but held the strong Cortland team from crossing the goal line again.

Both teams were practically of equal strength, but some bad breaks for Ithaca plus sharp defensive work by Cortland gave the visitors the 13-7 victory.

Rules Listed By Infirmary

Students wishing to see Dr. McCauley weekly are requested to report to the infirmary as near 1 A.M. as possible.

In the case of an emergency, please call the infirmary or report in person before calling Dr. McCauley.

Please report all accidents and illnesses as early in the day as possible.

There will be a charge for all special medications, laboratory work and X-rays except chest X-rays. The insurance will pay for the first H.

All long distance calls must be reversed.

Promptness Urged

Please be prompt about returning all articles borrowed from the infirmary. We must report all outstanding articles to the office by the tenth of the month unless the student has reported they are in use.

No radios are allowed except by special permission. When in use, please keep them turned down.

Infirmary hours are: Monday through Friday, twenty-four hour service. Saturday and Sunday from 7:00 A.M. to 8:30 P.M., except for emergencies. Over the weekend students are requested to report for treatment as early as possible.

Visiting hours are 2:00 P.M. to 4:00 P.M.

Bed patients in the infirmary will be excused from all classes missed during their stay in the infirmary.

Joe Daly, Tom Findura, Smokey Joe Kelley, Joan Pericone and other I.C. weekenders smile for photographer at V.F.W. dance last Friday.
Fall Weekend Picture Review

by Paul Lankau and Dan Healy

I.C. students at Newman Club sponsored bonfire-pep rally held at South Hill last Friday.

Another “weekending” couple have fun at “Indian Summer Swing”

Senator Jacob J. Javits, speaking at last Saturday’s Convocation

Do You Think for Yourself?

(BLAST OFF ON THESE QUESTIONS AND SEE IF YOU GO INTO ORBIT*)

Do you believe that when a man insists on doing what he can do best, regardless of where he finds himself, he’s (A) a valuable member of the community? (B) an independent spirit? (C) apt to be pretty silly?

If you saw a fully clothed man about to jump into a river, would you (A) assume the fellow was acting as piece of personal exhibitionism? (B) dismiss the whole thing as a piece of personal exhibitionism? (C) rush to stop him?

Do you believe that “a stitch in time saves nine” is (A) an argument for daylight saving? (B) a timely blow against planned obsolescence? (C) a way of saying that when you use foresight you get along better?

In choosing a filter cigarette, would you pick one that (A) says it has a new filter? (B) merely says it tastes good? (C) does the best filtering job for the finest taste?

When you think for yourself . . . you depend on judgment, not chance, in your choice of cigarettes. That is why men and women who think for themselves usually smoke Viceroy. They know only Viceroy has a thinking man’s filter—the most advanced filter design of them all. And only Viceroy has a smoking man’s taste.

*If you have checked (C) on three out of four questions . . . you think for yourself!

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows—

ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN’S FILTER . . . A SMOKING MAN’S TASTE!