Beeler Starts Campaign To Clean Up I. C. Lobby

Walter Beeler, professor in the Music Department, who recently assumed his teaching duties after spending some time in the Armed Forces, has brought to the students' attention the unkempt condition of the lobby.

"It is the most disgraceful thing I have seen," said Professor Beeler, "not only does it create a bad impression on students in the school and visitors from outside, but it also affects the reputation of the students. No student can expect to have a well-ordered mind if he is in the habit of throwing his possessions into the mess that is always seen in the lobby."

Mr. Beeler continued to say that no principal, seeing the students in the lobby as a representative group of Ithaca College students, would consider him as a teacher from the school. Neither would parents allow a home to remain in this constant state of untidiness.

The fault cannot be cast to rest with one department, for the books, papers and packages are also products of all three departments. Finding the Band Room in much the same situation, Mr. Beeler has noticed that the band not only shows disrespect, but had more pride in its appearance than the school which not only shows disrespect to the school, faculty, our fellow students, but to ourselves.

Especially in the latter instance, when we are made to ask some small sacrifice to better the situation, let's not immediately jump to the defensive, but investigate the matter intelligently, and see whether there is room for compromise. Such a policy should certainly make for better feeling on all sides, but by changing them we will improve the college as a whole and set a higher standard to be maintained by future classes at I.C.

March 17 Set As Date For Junior Prom

According to the Junior Class President, Constance Conroe, Junior Week will end on March 17. Because of the date, the decorations for the prom, the week itself, will probably include the St. Patrick's Day holiday.

Dixie Dugan, Bernice Anderson, Angie Terzian, Furniture: William West, an opportunistic member of the Drama Department.

March 17 and 19 will be junior week. Among the most successful productions of all three departments will have a page here. C. A. L. Newman, Olga Heffner, David Terzian; Chaperones: Alice I. H. Sohmer, the lobby, Miss. Dugan, the Band Room, William West, William Reich.

March 20 is the evening of the evening will be the presentation of the queen with her attendants, and the highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the queen with her attendants, which will be chosen from the following:

The dance will be held in the Ithaca College Gym from 10 to 2, noon. Dr. Joseph D. Job said.

Johann Reich Returns To Drama Department

Announcement was made today that Mr. Johann T. Reich, former assistant professor of drama and production director, will return to the Drama Department in the very near future.

Mr. Reich taught here for four and a half years before leaving for the West Coast, and in that time he directed a large number of plays. Among the successful ones produced under his direction were "A Midsummer Night's Dream", "Faust", and "Everyman".

Upon his return to Ithaca College, Mr. Reich will again take over his duties and will teach classes similar to those that he had before he left.

Mr. and Mrs. Reich were to have left children for the summer, and are following this week and should reach Ithaca within the next few days.

Cayugan Asks Students For Informal Snapshots

The Cayugan staff is very anxious to get informal snapshots of life around school that can go in the Cayugan, photographic editor of the yearbook, announced today.

All students who have any pictures which would be suitable are asked to submit them as soon as possible and before Christmas vacation.

The plan is to have five pages of shots of campus life. These will be divided equally among the three departments. Each of these departments will have a page and two pages will be for general photos.

In speaking of the need for these pictures Mr. West said, "The Cayugan is the student's book and they can make it or break it. We want all types of shots, and we want the negatives. They will be returned, so just put your name on the back, and slip them in an envelope and put into my box today."

Radio Students Give Broadcasts Weekly

Every Monday afternoon at one o'clock, W.H.C.R. broadcasts a half hour student show from the Green Room. These programs are class projects, under the direction of Mr. Karl J. Hinnenklaus, class instructor, designed to give practical experience in all aspects of radio directing and management.

The programs vary each week, often including original scripts, practice commercials, news broadcasts, and transmissions. Each week a different program manager is selected. He picks his crew, thereby giving each class member an opportunity for diversified experiences.

The class began its course of study by learning certain technical aspects of radio. They also make practice for radio voice development and work on sound effects.

All Ithaca College students will be an audience for any of the W.H.C.R. broadcasts at one o'clock every Monday afternoon.

Educators Form Plan To Train Health Teachers

At a recent conference in New York that Mr. Leonard J. Job attended, a group of educators compiled a course of study in Physical Education for teachers. For Informal Snapshots

The program has been designed to prepare health teachers, to include in five years with a degree enabling them to teach Health.

It was recommended at the meeting that such a course should be 18 hours of Science, anatomy, physiology, and bacteriology with 36 hours of applied physiology, bacteriology, hygiene, child care, home nursing, health guidance, food nutrition, and similar subjects.

Ithaca College will be prepared to train teachers for such a health program as soon as it is requested.

Music Department Recital Set For December 6

The second recital of the present school year will be held December 6 at 8:15 in the Little Theatre, it was announced by the Music Department.

Among those participating will be a piano selection by Rachmaninoff, and "I'll Take You There" by Debussy. Betty Adony and Alma Burger will sing several vocal numbers. Miss Adony and Miss Burger will sing a selection by Donizetti followed by a sonata written by Schubert. Instrumental solos will also be included on the recital.
Blue and Gold Season
Opens Tomorrow Night

Working diligently under Coach Yavits the Ithaca College basketball squad will inaugurate another campaign on Dec. 2 with the St. Bonaventure squad supplying the opposition. The valves will be at Olean, according to the schedule released today.

The Blue & Gold must be placed in the "Dark Horse" category as far as this season's race is concerned. Coach Yavits has made his final cut in the squad, retaining about 18 men of which only 8 will travel to the games away from home. Just what may be expected of this group is a matter of conjecture and only performance can help give the team a definite rating.

Coach Yavits and his men have made a few trips up on the hill and they have scrimmaged both the Cornell Varsity and Midshipmen. Asking Coach Yavits how they looked, his only reply was, "They lack experience." The men who will make the trip to Olean are: Red Lynam, Neil Pronay, Stu Sarkisian, Hank Crowell, Pat Fiore, Russ Stead, Art Stone, Roy Barker, Jim Hercinger and Ed Koch former Phy Ed's who have been at midshipmen's school at Cornell graduated this past week.

Johnny Nolan, formerly of the class of '46 is now an ensign. He was back for a few days a while ago.

Van Snowden who graduated in 1942 was back. He is now a lieutenant (j.g.) and has two stars for the D Day invasion of Normandy and also the invasion of Southern France.

Had a letter the other day from Joe Berle thanking us for the Ithacaan. He is in the Navy in Alaska now and in the past month four fellows from I. C. have met with him there—Aaron Norton, Joe Jastrab, Al Gentile, and Howie Ward.

Minot Stewart, Jr. is with the Field Artillery in Germany. "Stewy" went there via England, France, Belgium, and Holland. In his latest letter he said that he intends to return to I. C. when the war is over. We'll all be glad to see you back, "Stewy."

Nicky Chrisicos is in the Medical Detachment and writes that he is aid man for cannon troops in France. A letter from Carl Randall tells us that he hopes to be back in Ithaca sometime this month. He has been in the Northern Pacific for over a year, and incidentally will be celebrating his first wedding anniversary soon. Congratulations!! He also intends to come back to I. C. to finish his course. Word comes from Bob Bradley telling us that he is at Harvard University and is a pharmacist's mate in the Navy.

Dan Safford tells us that his brother "Bing"—(Bernard) is now in the Quartermaster School at Bainbridge, Maryland. Also heard that Ken Baumgartner (remember him in Scampers a while back?) is now stationed at the Naval Hospital in San Diego, Cal.

We're all keeping plenty busy these days, Johnnie, what with Scampers coming up very soon, et al.

Hoping to hear from lots more of you very soon—love and stuff . . .
