College Adopts New War Orphan

Ithaca College has been made the foster parents of a little Korean girl in place of its former child, Kim, a war orphan.

In 1954, Ithaca College, under the leadership of the Civic Committee, undertook the support of a Korean war orphan, Kim Nam Sun. The car-washing project of October, which was well supported by the student body, was a welcome help.

Kim has now rejoined his brother who was recently discharged from the Korean army and engaged in farming. Because their living standard is adequate, Kim is no longer in need of outside assistance. He will always be grateful for the contributions of his foster parents during a needy time of his life.

Ithaca College, in continuing its work, has invited another little girl, Kim Sun Soo, in place of Kim. Sun Soo has had an unhappy, disturbed childhood. Her father died in 1949, of TB after six months ill, leaving his wife with three children and an ailing grandmother. They are two boys besides Sun Soo, Chung Soo (10) and Choong Soo (6). They went to live with an uncle in Yangpyong after the war broke out, but their uncle was left with them because he could no longer support them. Sun Soo was then placed in the Sandong Welfare Home and when her mother found her, she was already rushed there to get the child. She is happy to have her again, but her parents are poor and there is much poverty in their home. Mrs. Kim wants to get Choong Soo back as well but will have to get a room to live in first. At present she and the children have to sleep where they can as the grandparents have only one room for themselves and their family.

PLAN aid for Sun Soo will give her family the necessary encouragement and enable her to get on her feet again. With winter coming, life will be hard for the family unless outside aid is given to them.

Sun Soo, a quiet and gentle girl with a tender heart, is loved by everybody for her nice nature. She is very grateful to be living with the college, and when asked what she wanted to be, replied, "A merchant, so I can go to the market to make my mother happy."

The friendly interest and vital concern of the students will provide a valuable measure of security for Sun Soo, making her life brighter. Contributions for a Christmas parcel for Sun Soo should be taken to Dean Taylor's office as soon as possible.

College Radio To Add AM Station Soon

Rumors flying about the campus concerned themselves these past two weeks with the alleged fact that Ithaca College would soon add an AM radio station to its already existing FM station.

In order to clarify the rumors and to inform the students, THE IT HACAN, in an interview with Mr. Robert Earle, chairman of the Radio Department, stated:

"In an interview, Mr. Earle stated that plans for an AM station were definitely under way. The purpose of the AM station (which is also to be a commercial station) would be to allow the college radio students to gain the necessary experience necessary for a future commercial operation and to reach the college students since there are a very few reached now due to the shortage of FM receivers.

"The matter of fact, Mr. Earle admitted testing the AM equipment and actually test-broadcasting over a week ago. Many more tests are in the offing, and once they are completed and the station is launched, he will have students take turns on the AM station to take it to the air. It was also true that preliminary studies have been made and it is expected today that in so doing, the station might over-radiate (that is, exceed the watts allowed) and thus run into conflict with the Federal Communications Commission. Rather than possibly delay the AM station, the decision for the immediate future will be reached and therefore, the station will not commence broadcasting on the date of the New Year."
Editor's Note

The Ithacan has been lately accused of being "radical" and a "scandal sheet." We welcome these labels for it shows one thing — more improvements are planned.

Contractions and suggestions are invited on the grounds that they may be of assistance in any way possible, we hope.

The awake alarm rang, but Annie was already out of bed. Her room was cleaner than usual — but things were back to normal today. Annie was marchin' to her room.

We could not have had a more willing nor a more cooperative scapegoat. The Student Council and the ITHACAN do not have control over the students, but they feel that they may be of assistance in any way possible, we hope. The ITHACAN staff would like to take this opportunity to thank them publicly for the help in putting out the best ITHACAN in years.

It is the last issue of THE ITHACAN for this calendar year. This is the only fifth issue published during the current school year, but already many improvements have been made in the paper. Many more improvements are planned.

The ITHACAN has been lately accused of being "radical" and a "scandal sheet." We welcome these labels for it shows one thing — more improvements are planned.

Betty Abelow — Liberal Arts

We think the registration should be done by classes; an alphabetical list of names and etc. It would cause no more trouble than is put into the procedure at present.

Carry Miller — Technical Advisor

We have bemoaned the fact that there is a definite lack of school spirit here at Ithaca College. However, we did not end with mere lamentation. We sought to create spirit. Our second issue, dealing with a "blaze" against Station WITJ, did precisely this. For a few days, it divided the students into two opposing camps. It caused reader interest. That was our only reason for "sensationalizing" and for violating good journalistic practices by editorializing on the front pages. It may have been unethical, but it worked! Our thanks are extended to Station WITJ for their cooperation in that venture. We could not have had a more willing nor a more cooperative scapegoat.

Our editorials and articles have been concerned with the sorry doings of students and the library. The doings of the Student Council and a general report on the events taking place on campus.

We have a staff that is enthusiastic and loyal and we would like to take this opportunity to thank them publicly for their wonderful help in putting out the best ITHACAN in years.

The ITHACAN will become a weekly newspaper.

We feel that we could offer this word of explanation to our readers and a word of thanks to our workers and members of the staff. As can be readily seen, THE ITHACAN is a progressive paper and is continually looking forward. The new issue of the paper must be better than the last. With the continued cooperation of our staff, this will always be the case.

It is true that.

This Picture Should Never Have Been Taken!
by Carl Pirko

See that car? Doesn’t look like much now, does it? It used to be capable of high speeds and could transport the owner from one place to another. Well, it can’t do that any more.

See that body? It’s a body now. Just a few minutes before this picture was taken, it wasn’t a body. It was a living thing. It could walk, run, laugh, cry—and drive—a car. Now it’s a body, stiff and absolutely lifeless.

Every year around this time college students all over the United States are threatened and unceasingly warned to drive carefully. Slogans are hurled at them. States are threatened and cajoled to raise speed limits. But do they have much effect?

No. It’s not pleasant to look at. And it’s not a pleasant sight. At what cigarette commercial on television goes: “It’s a psychological fact.” Psychology won’t help keep you alive on the road if you’re a poor, discourteous driver. If you are a good driver and are courteous on the road, you can be sure that you won’t end up either on the psychiatrist’s couch or on that cold hard slab in the morgue.

Merry Christmas!

Your Student Council Reporter

by Carl R. Pirko

On Tuesday night, November 29, the Student Council met in plenary session to discuss many matters facing the students and organizations on Ithaca College's campus.

At the outset, Dean Clarke, adviser to the Student Council, introduced a guest whose purpose it was to promote the procurement of a new Bloodmobile. The guest was a young man who sat in the audience for the entire meeting.

The meeting became highly charged with the issue of the Bloodmobile being a source of controversy. It was soon clear that the Bloodmobile would not be coming to Ithaca College. The guest was asked to leave the meeting.

The meeting then adjourned.

The ITHACAN now casts its vote for honest elections. After valid elections are held, their votes will be published.

Congratulations to Larry O'Brien, the President of the Student Council, and to the Student Council, who, on the evening of November 29, were awarded by Co-Reo Director Hank Holaling's medal ceremony.

Radio Review

The ping pong tournament wound up after a short delay on the evening of November 29. Three games that were played proved the skill of the three winners, who were Harry Reid, Donald Roh, and Howard Hammer.

"Wouldn't Pamela be just as impressed if you phoned her?"

Just "cause she's your big flame doesn't mean you can understand smoke signals. Sure they're impressive—but then so are grenade explosions. The best way to keep her burning for you is with regular telephone calls. She really gets "your message" when you phrase it phone-wise! And it won't bite into your buds and pinch cash either. Because you get the holiday spirit ... many Christmas shows are being produced. If it's Christmas music you like we'll say "Slalom" and "Snowcap," and if you'd rather hear a dramatic story on Christmas we'll have that too ... WITJ at 9:15 on the FM dial.

Meet the Bombers
by Dave Feldman

Bombers Lose 87-72
The I. C. Basketball Team lost their opening game of the season at Wilkes, 87-72.

Despite the apparent lop-sided score, the game was close until the final two minutes of play when Wilkes outscored the Bombers by 19 points. The Bombers were particularly poor from the foul line where they scored only 16 of 27 foul shots.

Sam Burnell played fine ball for the Bombers. He scored 21 points and grabbed 17 rebounds. All-Chadwick was second highest scorer with 17 points. Both Chadwick and Burnell were the best shooting percentage of the night for Ithaca, hitting for 7 of 10 shots from the field.

The Bombers play their first home game tomorrow night against Rider.

1956 was the perfect example of a ball-player, the 1955-56 I.C. varsity basketball team, so that those now in school may become more familiar with their ball-players.

BOB BURNELL—"It's those ten seconds that I want to forget," is the way I like to describe our big likeable Center. For obvious reasons, Bob has blossomed in school may become one of the main cogs in the I.C. basketball machine. He is the perfect example of a ball-player who spends countless hours practicing every possible spare minute to better himself and help his team. He's the king of player he wants on our team, because he's a team man right from the start. Last year Chad averaged 24 points per ball game, yet actually had to be told to shoot more. Possessor of an unstoppable hook shot with either hand he has practiced it so often that he is even more dangerous than before. On the foul line, it is almost a certainty every time he is fouled. Al is also a senior majoring in business administration and a native of Deale, N. Y. He attended Dundee High School and served with the Marines during the Korean conflict.
