Twelve Vie For Four Class Offices

Members of the Freshman class tomorrow will elect their officers.

A voting booth in the College annex will be open from 9 a.m.-4 p.m.

Three candidates for each of the offices of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer were chosen in a primary election last week.

The candidates are:

President: James Deline, John Kane, and Frank Racioppa.

Vice president: Leonard Colavito, Matthew Cappola, and Gary Kiev.

Secretary: Ellen Gordon, Ruth Gonchar, and Dianne Sears.

Treasurer: Joel Nisoff, Robert Stern, and Robert Tobin.

The three presidential candidates all are enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Deline attended high school in Syracuse where he was active in sports and student government.

Racioppo, from Pleasantville, earned letters in three sports and was a class officer for three years in high school.

Kane, from Cortland, was active in Hi-Y groups and a leader in music organizations in high school.

Kiev, a Liberal Arts student from Binghamton, was president of his fraternity, captain of the high school football team, and an officer in several school clubs.

Colavito, a physical education student from Seneca Falls, was active in high school sports.

Cappola, a business major here, was also active in high school organizations in Huntington.

Miss Gordon was active in Hi-Y groups and community religious organizations in her home town, Mt. Vernon. She is majoring in Physical Education here.

Miss Gonchar, in the college of Arts and Sciences is a native of Forest Hills. She participated in high school theater productions and represented New York State at a National Student Council Convention.

Miss Sears, also in the College of Arts and Sciences was an officer of her high school class, four years in succession. Miss Sears, from Jackson Heights, also worked on her school's publications and was chairman of various social activities.

Joel Nisoff, a native of Glens Falls, was active in his high school's student government and presided as an officer of both his class and fraternity.

Tobin actively participated in both high school sports and student government. A native of New Rochelle, he was a class officer in his senior year.

Stern was active in many organizations at his high school in New York City.

Nisoff, Tobin and Stern all are enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Rice's "Two On An Island" Opens Tonight; Performances Scheduled Through Saturday

"Two On An Island," Ithaca College's Drama department's second major production this year will be presented at 8:15 p.m. today through Saturday in the College Theater.

Under the direction of Robert Bardwell, instructor of drama here, Elmer Rice's modern comedy will star Patricia Wesenberg, a junior in the drama department, as Mary Ward, and Chet Carlin, also a junior in the drama department, as John Thompson.

Cast of 31

The fast-moving story of New York City life features a cast of 31 student actors in a variety of New York locales, including a subway train, a sight-seeing trip, theatrical offices, artists' studios and museums.

Two stage-struck hopefuls (Mary Ward and John Thompson) come to the big city to make their way in the theater.

Also included in the cast are Roger Ahrens, Margo Schekman and Ed Pilkington.

Tuttle Technical Director

Scenery designer and technical director is Barry Tuttle. Stage manager is June Conrey.

Carlin had the male lead in this year's first major production, "Arms and the Man."

Students may obtain tickets for "Two On An Island" at the college box office by presentation of their identification cards.

New Ithacan Editors Named

The editorial staff of The Ithacan is revised with the publication of this issue.

James P. Aversa, has been named editor-in-chief, filling the post vacated by the resignation of Joanne Bennett.

Aversa was elevated from the post of news editor. He was president of his freshman class, and is a member of the Newman Club.

Joseph A. Gillan, a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, has been named managing editor. He succeeds Virginia Walsh.

Gillan is president of the Newman Club, was treasurer of his junior class, and is a former managing editor and editor-in-chief of The Ithacan.

Other staff appointments:

News editor, David Canteen, who is sophomore class president; circulation director, Jack Learch; and music editor, Alan Goldsand.

Chet Carlin

THANKSGIVING RECESS

Beginning at 5 p.m. next Wednesday, classes will be suspended for Thanksgiving recess. Classes will resume at 8 a.m. Monday, Nov. 28.

College Student's Art On Exhibition At Local Store

Selected paintings of an Ithaca College student, who is a native of Utrecht, Holland, and who has been in this country only two months, are on exhibition today through Nov. 26 at Contemporary Trends, 115 N. Aurora St.

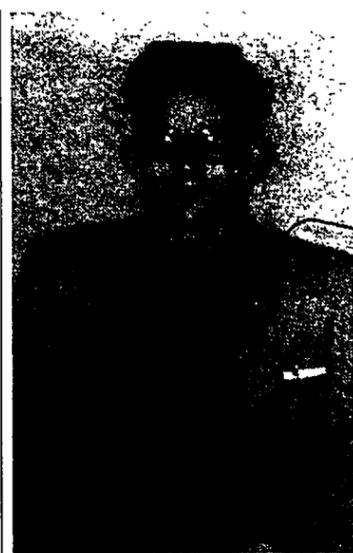

The student, Wim Heijmans, 25, is a language major here.

Heijmans has traveled extensively in Western Europe, where he developed his style and exhibited his paintings.

After finishing his secondary education in Utrecht, he studied art under a personal tutor. Later he enrolled at the Netherlands School for Drawing and Painting. During approximately the same period, he studied music at the Conservatory of Utrecht after which he devoted his full time to painting.

Wim has definite views on the nature of art. He feels that "while each artist will develop his own style, which may or may not be classified as an 'ism' the artist must have a classical foundation from which to work from."

It is, according to Heijmans, "through the study of the classical heritage that the artist develops a technique of painting."

Wim Heijmans

Wim's reason for coming to the United States was "to further his development as an artist."

After graduating from Ithaca College, Wim plans to go to the west coast for further study.

Bombers Beat Cornell, 8-6

The Ithaca College Bombers wound up their season on a successful note Saturday by defeating Cornell University, 8-6, in a hard fought contest.

The Bombers thus finished their season with a record of four wins and three losses, their third straight winning season.

"It was a team victory. All the boys deserve credit," coach Wood stated after the game.

Ithaca Scores First

Ithaca opened the scoring with two in the first, and, after Cornell scored its six in the third, the Bombers retaliated with six more in the last to ice the game.

Smith, Congden and Wiley starred for the Bombers, while Stevenson was golden in defeat for the Big Red.

Bomber coach Wood had high praise for Cornell's All-American candidate: "Stevenson is one of the best we've seen all year," said Wood. "He plays all positions well," he added.

I.C. Leads In Series

Ithaca leads in the series with Cornell, 14 games to 11. The first game of the series was played in 1926. The two teams have met each year since 1952, following a World War II break in the series.

A "Vic" dance, in honor of the Bombers' win, will be held at 6 p.m. today in room 26 of the Annex.

Scampers Tryouts Slated

Production of "Scampers '61" is well under way.

This year "Scampers" takes the form of an original musical comedy, "Two Tickets To Heaven."

The book was written by Carol Silver, with lyrics by Charles Moss and music by Larry Holdridge.

Singing and dancing tryouts will be held in room 50 (two flights above the box office) on Saturday, Dec. 10 from 1-5 p.m.

Acting tryouts are scheduled for Dec. 12 in room 24 of the annex from 7-10:30 p.m. Scripts will be in the College library by Dec. 3.

"Scampers" is student written, produced and directed. It is open to students of all departments. All proceeds go into a student loan fund.

Charles Moss, besides being "Two Tickets" lyric writer, is director of "Scampers '61." He was co-author of the last two "Scampers" productions ("Social Event of the Season" '59 and "Oh Say Can You See" '60).

Moss has had professional acting roles on network television ("Justice," "Kraft Theater" and "Omni-bus") and in motion pictures ("The Seven Year Itch," "The Caddy," and a featured role in "The Little Fugitive"). He has appeared in many Ithaca College productions.

Freshman Elections

Members of the freshman class tomorrow will have a chance to vote for the officers they want to represent them for the remainder of this school year. It is the duty of each freshman to cast his vote. One vote could make the difference in electing the candidate of your choice.

Dining Hall

Several students have recently been denied meals at the college dining hall because they were unable to present their dining hall cards. These students have been eating at the dining hall and presenting proper identification for the past four weeks.

In view of the fact that at least one hundred students per day do not show up for meals, it seems unfair that anyone should be denied a meal merely because he has forgotten his "dining hall pass."

A fair solution to this problem would be to take the name of the individual who has forgotten his card and if he is an "intruder," bill him for the cost of the meal.

Please Move

Many students congregate in front of the administration building, library, and dining hall while waiting for a bus to the Upper Campus.

Local citizens have complained that these students completely disregard the rights of others to use the sidewalks.

With the winter season approaching, snow and ice will further hinder pedestrian traffic. Students should respect the rights of others and should allow them to pass by without forcing them to walk in the road.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

As President of the House of Delegates of Cortland College of Education, I would like to express belated regrets, mine and those of our student body, with regards to the tragic death of Kevin Carney. It was unfortunate that this accident should be connected with our traditional football rivalry.

Please convey to the students of Ithaca College our sincere sympathy.

Sincerely,
James Cranfield
President, House of Delegates
Cortland State Teachers College

Dear Editor:

There has been some confusion in the minds of some seniors graduating in February as to the year-book (Cayugan) in which they should be listed among the graduating seniors.

It is the policy of the Cayugan to designate as seniors those who will receive their degrees in the calendar year in which the year-book is distributed. For example, those who will receive their degrees in February and June 1961 will appear in the 1961 Cayugan. The same policy will be followed in 1962 and ensuing years.

Sincerely yours,
Earl E. Clarke
Dean of Students

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to commend and thank the members of Delta Sigma Pi, Pi Theta Phi and Rho Mu Theta for their outstanding work in organizing, planning and executing Parents Weekend 1960.

It was certainly heartwarming to have so many parents visit our campus and then comment so favorably about the weekend. Parents Weekend 1960 certainly served to make the parents of our students feel more a part of the Ithaca College family.

Hopefully, I look forward to Parents Weekend next year, and in succeeding years, mainly because such outstanding work was done on Parents Weekend 1960.

Again, thank you all very much.
Sincerely yours,
Howard I. Dillingham
President, Ithaca College

WE SEE I.C. AT MID TERM... We See:

Scratches on the ceiling... Check marks after certain names in the new directory... Bags of knowledge under everyone's eyes; something to take home Thanksgiving... Freshmen buying Freshmen records instead of Little Richards'... Those same Freshmen asking "What do you mean I can't write. I wrote seventeen syllable Japanese poems in high school... Frustrated Freshmen who can't grow beards, no matter how hard they may try... Healthy pink cheeks turned to Ithaca grey... Old pro sophomores with all the answers... A deflated Young Republican's Club still asking how Kennedy's P.T. boat was hit by a Japanese destroyer... Speaking of Kennedy, it is so nice to have a prophet on our faculty... More than one person drinking at I.C. football games... Alumni Field as a place where discriminating people congregate... Unshaven faces of even the most meticulous ivy-leaguers... Check bouncers making rapid explanations... The calloused coffee fingers of those self-acclaimed James Deans... Cigarettes being smoked down to the filter tips... That our parents on Parent's Weekend, did eat a typical meal at dining hall... We asked a man the other day what mid term meant to him and he said: "All the way..." We would like to see pledging consist of stuffing turkeys and catching snow flakes... please keep it cool and not black 'n blue—no paddling or assorted nonsense.

Those who read this column for the rest of the school year, will find themselves ridiculed and laughed at. The only thing our column demands of you is complete bias. We find it amusing to see how difficult it is to be bearers of humor for you, but we'll give it a whirl. Keep in mind that if you don't laugh, you'll be reading a different column next week, so give us a break and get with it!

Critique

Reflections On Critical Thinking In High School

Following is a critique of Joseph J. Malone's "Reflections on Critical Thinking in the High School" in the current issue of The Sophomore student literary magazine.

This critique was written by Dr. John B. Harcourt assistant professor of English at Ithaca College. Malone is a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences.

(Ed. Note)

Most students of the American literary tradition are impressed by its predominantly liberal character. American society has had conservative movements and conservative leaders, but, unless we are willing to go back to Alexander Hamilton, few conservative thinkers. Our own century—the last ten years particularly—have attempted to remedy this deficiency, with figures as diverse as Barry Goldwater and William Buckley putting pen to paper in defense of the New Conservatism. We at Ithaca College have Joseph J. Malone.

* * *

The current issue of The Sophomore contains the latest chapter in Mr. Malone's attempt to define the relationships of God, society, and the individual. It is entitled "Reflections on Critical Thinking in the High School"—and appropriately so, for it is more a collection of random observations than a sustained argument for anything in particular. Mr. Malone examines the concept "critical thinking," writes with considerable vigor of its dangers to society, then, accepting the idea as a somewhat dubious assumption, he proceeds to consider its possible application in secondary-school teaching.

* * *

These reflections, like their author, are infuriating. It is hard to make out their direction or even to determine their conclusion; it is easy to point out their dependence upon unreal dichotomies of the either-or variety. Yet we are left with the disturbing awareness that probably as much might be said of the usual liberal dogmas, so often uncritical in their acceptance of the need for critical thought. Mr. Malone's function within the college community would seem to be that of Socratic gadfly; for one who apparently views critical examination of values with some suspicion, he succeeds in stimulating the very attitudes he officially decries.

Educators in an institution like Ithaca College tend to assume that the premises of their professional activity are immutably fixed. The value of Mr. Malone's article lies primarily in its harsh insistence that we face up to the question: Is critical thinking all that we say it is, or is it possibly a menace to the well-being both of the individual and society?

Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity Will Crown '60 "Rose" At "Moods In Blue" Dance Saturday

By RAY HOBART

Ithaca College's "Rose of Delta Sig" for 1960-61 will be crowned Saturday at Delta Sigma Pi's annual dance at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Hall, 416 E. State St.

Theme of the dance is "Moods in Blue."

The five finalists competing for the honor of "Rose of Delta Sig" are: Sue Ann Lurie (music, '63); Lucy Simon (music, '63); Mimi Teleisha (physical education, '62); Barbara Parlato (liberal arts, '63); and Pat Wesenberg (drama, '62).

Each year the brothers of Delta Sigma Pi, national business fraternity at Ithaca College, select a "Rose of Delta Sig." A picture of the winner is sent to the national office of the fraternity for judging.

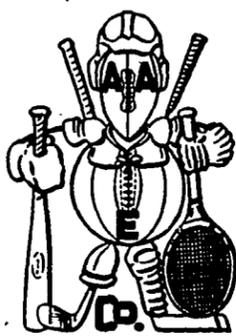

In past years celebrities such as Lucille Ball, Desi Arnaz, and Ed Sullivan have judged the national contest.

IC's 1959 "Rose," Miss Bonnie Jo Marquis, was chosen national "Rose of Delta Sig." She also was Miss New York State for 1960.

A seven-piece band from Geneva, the "Gaytones," will play for the dance.

"Moods In Blue" will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. College women will receive 1:45 a.m. permissions.

Tickets are on sale in the college annex for $3.00 per couple.

Basketball Team Prepares For Dec. 6 Opener Here Against Lock Haven State

By PETE PETERSON

Coach Carlton Wood's varsity basketballers have been working out on the Aurora street court for the past two weeks, preparing for their Dec. 6 opener against Lock Haven.

The Bombers list 10 home games and 11 road contests on this year's schedule.

Coach Wood faces the problem of replacing last year's trio of top guards, Phil Liebrock, Carl Wambold and Ken Slonis, all of whom were lost through graduation, along with forecourt performer Don Churchill.

Returning lettermen include Paul Mueller, Bob Burkley, Mike O'Brien and Jim Lockman. Also on hand is John Hewes, who saw service during the second half of last season.

Also counted on for help are Gary Gregorka, John Lilac, Tom Baker, Charlie Klump and Bob Risley, all up from last year's frosh squad.

Transfers Show Promise

Other hopefuls are transfers Art Meyer and Bob Serafin, and Bill Vesp, from the 1958-59 frosh team, who sat out last year, and Larry Carr, Del Borden and Bruce Theobald.

Wood tentatively plans to use Lockman and Hewes in the pivot positions, with the backcourt crew to come from Mueller, O'Brien, Gregorka, Lilac, and Serafin.

Mueller and Gregorka may also see service under the boards.

Hayride Scheduled Friday

Dashing through the snow
In our one tractor wagons,
O'er the fields we go,
Nipping on our flagons.
This well could be the favorite song Friday of those braving the cold and attending Ithaca College's first annual hayride.

The ride, sponsored by the Sophomore class, will start at 8:30 p.m. from Marshall Farms, on Mecklenburg road.

Rides to the farm will leave from in front of the College library at 8 p.m.

The hayride will last until 11 p.m. Cost is $1.75 per couple.

Adelphi Renamed Zeta Sigma Nu; Also Reorganized

Adelphi, the Freshman honor society at Ithaca College has been reorganized and will be known as Zeta Sigma Nu. The revamped organization features different rituals, keys and goals. The basic purpose of Zeta Sigma Nu is to "Stimulate high scholastic interest and attainment by all students." The Greek letters clearly express its primary idea, "Youth seeking wisdom."

Zeta Sigma Nu accepts as members every student, either freshman or transfer, who has attained a first year average of 2.0 or above.

To encourage the high ideal embodied in its purpose, Zeta Sigma Nu hopes to sponsor a series of discussions or forums during the next semester. Suggestions by students on topics of discussion are welcomed.

The new officers of Zeta Sigma Nu are: President, Mary Arlin; Vice-President, Judy Sleeper; Secretary, Sue Rork; Treasurer, Tony Schemizzi and Department Representatives, Barb Greacen, Lorraine Rehrens, Dick Waring, Rosalie Weiner, and Susan Rosenhoelter.

Music Frat Presents Own Compositions Tonight

Kappa Gamma Psi, an Ithaca College Music Fraternity, will present a program of original compositions by undergraduate and graduate students at 8:15 tonight at the Music Hall.

The program will consist of the following compositions: Chromatic Fantasy (Canon for Two Flutes), John J. Davye; Rondo for Trombone and Piano, Roger Keagle; Recitative Dance and Elegy for Flute and Marimba, John Engelman; Adagio for Bass Clarinet and Piano, Howard Feldsher.
