A LETTER TO THE EDITOR

If I knew anything about newspaper in general and the Ithacan in particular, the usual letter to the editor may be a form letter. A letter to the editor should be personalized, and the writer should be open to criticism. I, for one, am not an expert on this subject. Just for once, I'll try being honest. I can't think of anything in the newspaper that is interesting or informative. Just last week's issue of the paper is an excellent example of a well-written newspaper. I think the quality of writing is better than the typical student letter. Please accept my congratulations on this excellent job of college journalism. Maybe I'll try being honest again some other time.

A RECORD LIBRARY OF OUR OWN

If we aren't studying any more than the usual amount of work, we can all afford to read more books. The library is a great place to start. If we have enough money, we can buy as many books as we want. But if we don't have enough money, we can always borrow books from the library. I think the library is a great place to learn about new things.

HAROLD FRANKE '44

A LITTLE TO THE EDITOR

If something you've said or left unsaid is wrong, I'm not going to point it out. I think the best way to do it is to let the author correct it. I agree with your suggestion to have a feature to print letters from readers. I think it's a great idea. I hope it will be successful.

An album in which Ithaca College students might be particularly interested is Verdi's "Requiem Mass" which the chorus will perform in the spring. The solo parts of the "Requiem," one of Verdi's finest works, are sung by Marie

Caniglia (soprano), Elsie Siggins

(Mezzo-Soprano), Beniamino Gigli

(Tenor), and Erso Pinza (Bass). In addition to these great soloists, the chorus and orchestra of the Royal

Opera (Rome), under the direction of Tullis Serafin, give a splendid account of the chorals and orchestral parts of the score. This is a most favorable recording in which each part—vocal, choral or instrumental—can be clearly followed.

UP-BEAT
By Ed Green

Orchids to the lads and ladies who performed in the Woodwind and Brass recital. In spite of the large number of vacant seats they showed that they could "grin and bear it."

Prunes and many of them to all you Ithaca College students who were so busy that YOU couldn't spare fifty minutes—and that's all you required—to support your fellow students. Just because they didn't make the touchdown in the last football game, or weren't the stars of the last stage production doesn't indicate that they aren't worthy of your presence. Put yourselves in their places and see how you would feel.

An Old Story
Your writer is as tired of the subject of School Spirit as you are, but until something is done about it and a favorable attitude is the result, there will be much more said along those lines. Why not support those who have given hours to preparation? Must it always be an orchestra or band concert, a "hit" play, or a better football battle before you will stir from your self-centered world? Not only does this apply to school sponsored functions but social functions as well. Even these receive little support. Are we living in an age of introversion? If so, what a deplorable situation that is!

Get on that up-beat and be there when the down beat comes! Give support and you will be supported! Break down those walls about your little world and join civilization!

TAPE AND LINIMENT
By Fritz Becker

Now that Thanksgiving has passed, Christmas vacation is only three weeks away. In this short time "Des" Yavits must whip basketball team into shape and play part of its schedule. The first game for the Bombers will be played at Cortland on Dec. 6.

Practice begins at 2:15 each day and ends at 4:00. With less than two hours a day for practice and only 7 days left before the opener, let's give the boys a break. If you're not out for the team, stay off the court and don't ask for a "shot."

Most of the men are on the court before the regular practice begins so let them get as much practice as possible.

For the rest of the fellows who want to play, the intramural program is shaping up and will soon get underway. It's not too late to get your team entered.

Why is it that there are always a few fellows who support the efforts of the group? The Westchester Bombers picked Alvin White, the Purple and Gold left end, as the star guard, was omitted. Sorry about that, George Rock Matlock was unanimously elected co-captains for the '42 season. During the whole season the team was hampered by injuries. Freshmen were called in and though they played well the team didn't shape up as it was expected to. Of the whole first string that started the Clarkston game there was only one member who came to the end of the season without an injury and he was rather banged up.

I'm not making excuses for the team; they don't need any. They played as well as anyone can expect with conditions as they were. At a meeting of the football team which was held right after the Westchester game Butch Eisle and George Rock Matlock were unanimously elected co-captains for the '42 football season. Football is praise enough for Butch Eisle and George Rock Matlock.

The Cortland game is the opening game of the season for the Bombers and it's always a big game. Arrangements have been made for buses to transport students going to the game.oin to the reserved Ithaca section are
