Dramatic Department Opens Season
With Sadou's "Madame Sans-Gene"
Play Expertly Staged by Roberts

One of the most interesting recitals this season is scheduled to be presented by Miss Lila Sigler, Professor of Violin at the Ithaca College Conservatory of Music, and Mrs. Baldwin, the director of the Sulmnad Music Department. The program is divided into three parts. The first two parts, "Major Scenes" by Bach, although they might be considered as a celebration of the birthday of the composer, is still quite worthy of mention. The second part of the program is a treatment of the majority of the contents which is as vital as that performed in concerts. The first part, of course, is identical with the original edition published by Simrock, Berlin, Leopold Auer says this of the piece: "It contains a wealth of invention and inspiration: the "Finale" is one of the most moving of the contents. The saturation of Spirit of the piece is a masterpiece of modern composition. The melodiousness of the piece is an integral part of its rhythmic interest." The third section of the program is a "Serenade" by Beethoven, and we find this to be one of the most interesting looks at the work of this man.

Mr. Albert Durand
To Lead Story Group

In response to repeated requests, Mr. Albert Durand, well-known as an authority and teacher under the name of Ruth Sawyer, will conduct the Story Group this fall. Mr. Durand has had a long and active career in the field of story telling on the first floor of the Dormitory. From 7:30 to 9:30, beginning the evening of October 19, the group will meet in the Parish Hall of the First Unitarian Church, Buffalo, N.Y. Mr. Nevin is in hope that a limited number of students who desire to attend the course will be admitted to the course.

Ithaca College Wins
From Cortland Normal
By Single Touchdown

The Ithaca College football team played a first-rate game at the national stadium of Cortland, and they came here with a more balanced and more coordinated offense. They will see action in the game, and we find that to be a great source of pride for all Cornellians. The program is as follows:

Mary Osborne Plays Title Role
Michael Pancott Portrays

On Thursday afternoon the Ithaca College band will present its first concert of the season, "The Nutcracker." The program will include all the music by Tchaikovsky, including the "Swan Lake" movement. The band will be led by Mr. Newens, and the orchestra will be conducted by Mr. Nevin. The performance will be given in the Parish Hall of the First Unitarian Church, Buffalo, N.Y.

Dr. Alfred Newens, Head of the Physical Education Department, has been invited to participate in the Ithaca College football game. The program will be given on October 29, and the band will be conducted by Mr. Newens.

FOOTBALL VARITY TO PLAY E. STROUDSBORO

Just half of the football schedule opened last week, and the Ithaca College Sophomore team played against the rival Tufts University. The game opened with the Sophomore team leading, and we find that to be one of the most interesting parts of the game. The Sophomore team has been admitted to the possible condition for Sophomore's game at Percy Field.

FOOTBALL TEAM TO PLAY STRoudSBOro

Coach Yavis and his squad reached Stroudsburg, Saturday at 10 o'clock, and are working out during the week that they may be in the best possible condition for the game this Saturday night. The opponent will be one of the finest teams in the state, and we find that to be one of the most interesting parts of the game.

FAIRY STORY

Little Red Riding Hood

In the first place, children, I suppose that you would like to know who Little Red Riding Hood was.

Little Red Riding Hood.

Because of the elegance, Little Red Riding Hood’s wardrobe was daily dispelled. Of course the day had a new evening gown and wraps, but when she went out into the field tall figure, during the day, she had nothing to wear but a football hood that left them all the better to call her their neigh. All the neighbors called her Little Red Riding Hood, but I might as well mention that the original story thought that Little Red Riding Hood sounded more feminine, so that is why she is known to us as Little Red Riding Hood.

One day, Little Red Riding Hood’s mother said to her, “Bertha, (that was Little Red Riding Hood’s name) that dollar you got your old man brought home is for you. I wish you would put it in the bank, and take it to your Aunt. I know she has seven chapters and over five thousand and active alumni members.”

And it so happened that the ex­ pansion of one of our practices in this school, “Don’t You know,” we read, “that physical education experts are having ever more and more upon us with music by bodily, for dev­ eloping physical character. That this idea of our school is also the practice in other places, and that what we learn here will not be foreign in alert concert is heartening. An enlarged perspective must con­ tinually be cultivated if we graduates in the professional world are to hold our own.”

Ungrammatical Songs

Sigmund Speth in The New York or­ questra, of the music school, “ungrammatical songs”: “...we ought to be, of course.”

I'd never did what I'd do, if I'd had of saw we was breaking Guit. I'd never of kissed you, I thought love glad, didn't mean to. But the passions we had drank the both of us mad. But if I had of knew what a fool would of know, I'd never of did what I'd do, if I'd had of saw we was breaking Guit.

Just A Few of the Kicks

Getting out this paper is no picnic. If we print jokes, people say we are silly. If we don’t, they say we are too serious. If we clip things from other maga­ zines, we are too busy to write them ourselves. If we don’t, we are stuck on our own productions. If we don’t print contribut­ions, we don’t appreciate our geniuses, and if we print them, the magazine is filled with junk. If we make a change in the other fellow’s make-up, we are too critical. If we offer a choice, we are narrowing our appeal. Now, like as not, some guy will say he can never get this from some other magazine.

WE DID. From The Pathfinder.

Madeline Faxon, in the role of the dynamic and impetuous Napoleon, showed his great technical skill in a perfect interpretation of that famous character. He used his excellent voice to good advantage and showed the whole picture of Napoleon, and a reality of manner that made his forceful performance one of the most outstanding in the play.

Playing opposite Sally Osborne was William Cameron, as the fiery, but not quite methodical, young French

E. W. more.

Game went. The game was played hand although reach breaking preliminary at three times. Several penalties were on both teams, making it easy for the Ithaca team to win.

The team plays its first game to this far.

Every player did commendable work and with the biggest part of the schedule
yet to be played they are working hard for a victory.

The team suffers only one caution and that is the loss of Tommy Nunley, center man, who suffered several injuries.

members of the troupe of last year
that they are enjoying a very successful season.

Shadows

This room is filled with shadows.
Some are friendly, some reserved.
That shadow, there by the fire,
Is full of peace and quiet charm.
It is, I am sure, a part of you.
That you forget and left behind.
But these shadows by the head-doves,
Ever stand there grim and relentless.
They were, I am sure, put there To save me from idleness.

Let's find out why
Turkish tobacco is so important to a good cigarette

On the sunny slopes of Smyrna... in the fertile fields of Macedonia... along the shores of the Black Sea
...grows a kind of tobacco that is different from any other tobacco in the world.

These Turkish tobaccos are the only tobaccos of foreign cultivation that are used to any great extent in making American cigarettes.

Turkish tobaccos are famous for their spicy aroma, and a blend of the right kinds of Turkish tobacco with our own home-grown tobaccos is better than any one kind used alone.

In Chesterfield we balance mild, ripe tobaccos grown in this country with just the right amounts of the right
kinds of Turkish.

It is by blending and cross-blending these different tobaccos that we make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.
