Nash Challenges Students To Make Better World

"At the assembly last Thursday, Dr. Nash, Professor of Education and Chairman of the Department of Health and Physical Education at the New York University, delivered a talk on the subject, "Morale for a Dynamic Democracy."

The fundamental content of his speech was the fact that the future of society rests in the hands of today's youth, and that there must be a reawakening of making a dynamic democracy.

"America today is the most disorganized nation in the world," he said, "and the reason for this improper culturing of enthusiasm and fraternal spirit in childhood. In Germany, the fanatically enthusiastic youths have kept the nation on its feet. From the time of Hitler to the present, the enthusiasm for their country has not been extinguished. From the time of the war, they have been responsible for so many of the German atrocities in the war. Their thirst for revenge, their invidiousness, they have advanced superbly in medicine and education."

"Therefore, how can we build a dynamic democracy?" he continued. "We must start with the youth. The youth of today faces the greatest crossroad in history—the future of not just America, but of the entire world. Small nations are coming into prominence. The Chinese and the Negro will no longer submit to domination. "Are we ready to accept them?" asked Dr. Nash. "Are we ready to ride the wave of change? We must choose wisely for it is we who must live by our decision."

The average American boy goes off to war with a confused and humble attitude. In his mind he has many things for which he is fighting. A cross-section of his mind might prove to be something like this: Coney Island, Hedy Lamarr, Sunday morning church services, a fraternity dance, ice cream sundaes, Dick Tracy, his dad's First World War stories. He might not be able to tell you in scholarly words just what he's going to fight for but he thinks of things he's always known, parts and pieces which have made up his life. He is being true to himself.

There are two types of traitors: one is obvious to everyone, with whom he comes in contact, the other is recognized less easily. He is a traitor to himself.

Almost every young man or woman has certain ambitions, certain goals. Often these goals center about social approval or recognition in a chosen field of endeavor. Nevertheless, to all people one person is the most important in the world, the person himself.

When a goal is reached, whether it be in the service, or in civilian efforts, a man or a woman must look to himself for the confirmation of his success. For ultimate happiness he must "...to his own self be true."

French, which was at one time one of the richest and most prospering nations of the world, fell because of disunity and disinterest among the people. It was civil strife and chaos that made France fall. Therefore the well-organized Germany.

"Therefore, how can we build enthusiasm and loyalty?" asked Dr. Nash. "Eate, fear, and revenge are standards too low for America," he said. "The only way to establish a "dynamic democracy" is to instill in children a fraternal spirit of consideration for others, and the incentive to give and cooperate."

George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and Tennessee Johnson each reached a crossroad vital to America. The average American boy goes off to war with a confused and humble attitude. In his mind he has many things for which he is fighting. A cross-section of his mind might prove to be something like this: Coney Island, Hedy Lamarr, Sunday morning church services, a fraternity dance, ice cream sundaes, Dick Tracy, his dad's First World War stories. Registration Dates Set For Spring Term

Yes, a new term is almost here. The Fall session ends the twenty-turnout. Ithaca College students will register for the spring term begins the twenty-ninth, that is the following Monday. All students may register from the twenty-fourth, and the Spring term is almost necessary stage equipment and man power. Scampers was put together and produced in a most effective and satisfactory manner. Much of the credit for the production is due to the cooperation of the cast, crew, and directors. One of the most important factors in any college production is a sincere and earnest effort of all those who take part to work together. Some of the outstanding changes, and exceptionally out- standing show are: a definite thesis in place of indefinite continuity, shorter playing time, rapid scene changes, and exceptionally appropriate songs and dances. 1944-45 Scampers can be placed on a par with any former Scampers productions at Ithaca College.

BASKETBALL TODAY

The Ithaca College Bombers and the St. Bonaventure Bonnies will meet this afternoon at 3:30 in The Ithaca College Gym. This will be a return game. The Bombers blasted the Bonnies at Olean earlier in the season. Let's make it a wonderful game by having a large home crowd to cheer us on. Ithaca College students will be admitted on presentation of their student activities card.

This Above All

"This above all, to thine own self be true, thou canst not then be false to any man."

No one has ever admired a traitor; a man who sells out to an opposing faction, thereby forsaking his own beliefs and his true reasoning for the sake of cheap profit. The world of honor and justice abhors the cruel and narrow-minded philosophy of the Nazi. Yet we cannot help but admire the spirit of stick-to-itness which such people possess. Perhaps in their own way such antagonists are being true to their beliefs.

Schulz, Lasker Win DeMattie Scholarships

This year the annual Earl W. DeMattie scholarship has been divided between two sophomores, Ruth Lasker and Robert Schulz. The two were chosen by an underclassman of the Drama Department who in the opinion of the director is deserving of such aid.

Miss Lasker has maintained a consistently high average since her Freshman year at Ithaca College. Important roles in "Cradle Song", "Love From A Stranger", "Guest In The House", and "The Ivory Door" have been the deciding factors in Mrs. Schulz's case.

Both students are entirely self-supporting.

Bombers Drop Close Game

Before a large gathering the Ithaca College quintet played its first home game of the season against the naval trainees of Bloomsburg State Teachers College. The game was a heart breaker to all the Ithaca fans, because with only 2 minutes to go and the score knotted at 18-18, the experience showed up and they snatched the game out of the fire with 2 quick baskets which was matched only by a one-pointer by Pat Fiore.

The game was played on an even pur most of the way except in one or two small stretch where the Bombers were in the lead by 8 points, longest lead of the game and when Bloomsburg led at the start by 5 points. The standouts in the first half were Neil Pronay and Stu Sarkisian of Ithaca and Saul Mariashin of Bloomsburg. At the end of the first half the Huskies led 24-25. In the second half for a while the Bombers really came to life, and with Capt. Red Lynam and Pat Fiore leading the way, took the lead and at one time led 37-28, but the Huskies lost no time in narrowing the lead down at the three quarter mark the score was 38-33 in favor of Ithaca. But with 3 minutes left and the score 46-42, the Huskies tired and the Huskies tied it up, and went on to win a thriller 52-48.

Both teams played a fast game with rushing tactics. Most of the scoring was done on long set shots, with the home forces breaking through the Huskies defense occasionally for shots underneath. Saul Mariashin of Ithaca and Capt. Red Lynam of Bloomsburg starred in the 1944-45 Scampers production at Ithaca College.

Rhodes General Hospital

Playing without the services of Pat Flore the Ithaca College Bombers bowed to an experienced Army quintet from Rhodes General Hospital in Utica, N.Y. Leading the scoring was Red Lynam with 17 points.

In a game which saw two Ithaca College men leave the game because of injuries the Cornell Army quintet defeated the Bombers 45-38 to remain unbeaten. Without the services of Capt. Red Lynam and Hank Crouse the superior height of the Middles took toll, but the game was much more closely contested than the score indicates.
