'48 Cayugan Under Way

Bomber Grapplers Bow In Season Opener To Strong Cortland Squad

Ithacaans Host to Alfred University Tomorrow at 3:00 P.M.

Jan. 10, Cortland, N. Y.—Wrestling before a large crowd at the Cortland State Gym, the Blue and Gold charges of Coach Clyde "Whitney" Cole went down to defeat in a closely contested match to a powerful Cortland State mat squad. The final score was 29-5, but the school received a victory over what some considered the best cuffed match of the year. It was the second straight loss for the Bombers.

The official title of Scammers of '48. The Scammers Committee chose from this five: "The 1948 Scammers production will have a one-act, "Oh, I See.'"

Germiller Heads Cayugan Staff

The Cayugan will definitely be published this year under the editorship of Eileen Germiller. Eileen is a well-known figure on campus, being a member of Delta Phi Zeta, Phi Delta Pi, and Oracle, and an active member of the class of '48.

Scammers Music Ready, Singers and Dancers Rehearse

The way things are shaping, this year's SCAMMERS production will have some fine musicals. Pete de Lucca, in charge of all music for SCAMMERS, says that he is particularly pleased with the excellent staff that has been obtained to direct the playing and singing of the various groups.

Beeler To Conduct Band On January 18

On Sunday, January 18, the Ithaca College Concert Band under the direction of Prof. Walter Beeler, will present its second concert of the year in Foster Hall. The program is as follows:

- Symphony in C Minor
- "The Prodigal Son" Allegro
- Allegro
- Concerto for Timpani

Eileen Germiller

Cayugan Chief for '48 is Mjla Eileen Germiller, senior in the Phy. Ed. Dept.

This year's Cayugan is guaranteed to be bigger and better than ever before—If—If the student body cooperates in the venture. A new staff has been named, and they are ready, willing, and able to compose the book but they can not do it without due these must have a guarantee of a minimum number of subscriptions—simply because they must know how many they'll have to work with. The staff is as follows:

- Editor-in-chief: E. Germiller
- Business Manager: Mike Yavits
- Art. Bus. Mgr.: Mike Yavits
- Arti: Photograph Editor: Martha Creasci
- Literary Editor: Bob Jahn
- Advertisement: Frank Costello
- Copy Editor: Leo Makris
- Sports Editor: Ed Gorman
- Art Editor: Jerry Allen

The pictures that have already been taken for the school records will be used for the Junior and Senior pictures. If you do not like the results of your pictures, or haven't had any taken in the school library, it is your responsibility to submit one of your own choice by: March 1—ABSOLUTELY DEADLINE.

If you have any informal snapshots, save them for the Cayugan. As soon as the staff finds a permanent office, pictures can be left there.

Fraternally Yours

ATTENTION ALL STUDENTS: This message is of vital interest and importance. The CAYUGAN has decided to go ahead with a special yearbook this year. The size of the yearbook will depend on cooperation and interest of the whole student body.

The CAYUGAN will start a subscription campaign requiring a down payment of two dollars. It is hoped that as many students as possible will subscribe.

The campaign will last until the end of January and, if necessary, a little longer. Help the staff assure you of getting a top-notch book and one that each one of you will be proud of. It will be a good yearbook.

WHO IS "YVONNE FIX"?—Walter M. Costello of the Carrier for the answer. We hear that not only is it a very nice name, but the whole school will be colloguing this gal's voice. The Fix is also supposed to be a swell arrangement of a "pop" song. Other people to watch for this year's edition are Bob Juhren, "the good side..."

This is a school venture and will be a true test for the "good" side. We must congratulate Mrs. "T." for another statement that has been remembered by the student body for a long time.

A school poet and a good spirit! . . . Meanwhile, watch the bulletin boards and the ITHACAN for late news about the Fix.

Students Conduct Repertory Band

On January 9th, the Ithaca College Repertory Band under the direction of Carl Weckstrum presented its first concert of the year in the Music Auditorium. The first part of the concert was in charge of five student conductors, and the second was in charge of a group of student conductors, each one with an "A" grade in their own number.

The program began with Horn Concerto No. 1, by Haydn, as an encore Mr. Weckstrum said that this was the first time he had ever had an encore being a" small" concert. This was followed by a selection of "Yvonnes Fix" as an encore. The Fix was supposed to be a swell arrangement of a "pop" song. Other people to watch for this year is Bob Juhren, "the good side..."

by Paul Hadley

This week's feature is on the Cornell campus radio station WCRU. It's the place where you can find some of the best-known musicians and performers. The station is run by the Cornell Student Council and the Cliff-Dwellers' Society, and its programming includes a variety of shows, from local talent to national acts. The opening of the Little Theatre is one of the highlights of the week, and the radio station is there to bring you all the latest news and updates. So tune in and join the fun!

Green Room Ghosts

by Wolf Learner

Have you ever heard stories of ghosts haunting theaters and movies? Well, you're in luck! This week we bring you the true story of the Green Room Ghosts, a group of apparitions that have been haunting the Green Room at the Cornell Theater for years. The ghosts have been sighted and heard by many, but no one has been able to prove their existence. Some believe they are the ghosts of actors who once performed in the Green Room, while others say they are the ghosts of former staff members. Regardless of their origin, the Green Room Ghosts are a mystery that continues to fascinate and terrify all who encounter them.
