Text: East Stroudsburg Wins From Ithaca College In Closely Contested Game. The Ithaca College football team was defeated by the visiting East Stroudsburg University. The final score was 19-17. The game was high-scoring and closely contested, with both teams displaying strong offensive and defensive play. The East Stroudsburg Blue and Gold proved to be too much for the Ithaca team, securing their victory in the last minutes of the game. The Ithaca team fought hard, but ultimately succumbed to the more experienced and well-coached East Stroudsburg team. The game was a testament to the competitive spirit and determination of both college football teams.

FERRY, N. (Continued from page 3) Within the last fifteen minutes of the contest every attempt has been made to prevent the home-town team from scoring. The strategy and teamwork displayed by the East Stroudsburg defense kept the Ithacaans from scoring.

Bogart Wins Auditions In Brilliant Recital In Little Theatre, October 6

Professor Beckmann, Elvin Pierce

Headline: Bogart Wins Auditions In Brilliant Recital In Little Theatre, October 6.

Text: Ernest Bogart was chosen to play the title role, with Michael Fusco playing opposite. The director, Thomas J. Flynn, has announced that the production will be titled "Madame Sans-Gene." It is scheduled for November 13 at 8:15 p.m. in the Little Theatre. The drama department is in progress of announcing and rehearsing a number of student productions, one of which is "Madame Sans-Gene."

Bogart's performance was exceptional, captivating the audience with his nuanced portrayal of the title character. The rich full quality so loved in Schubert was expertly bow of the interpreter. The warmth and charm of the piece was evident in Bogart's playing. The audience was impressed with his natural delivery and felt that he was the perfect choice for the role.

Eisenhower once said that criticism is the tributary of creativity and not the river itself. In accordance with this, we welcome the honest criticism of the plays, which will be shown this evening in the Little Theatre.

The play is open to the public and tickets can be purchased at the door. The Little Theatre is located at 115 N. W. Main Street, Ithaca. For more information, please contact the drama department at 607-274-3180.
BAGATELLES  By J. Preston

Two people walked two blocks with each other. They probably both had more interesting thoughts, while the other one was silent because he lacked the interest to follow up on what the other person was saying. In the end, it was the experience of being together and sharing a moment.

It is... The noise, the lights, the smell of food. It is... It is all the little things in life that make it worth it, and those are the things that are most easily forgotten.

In conclusion, the feeling that the world is full of possibilities and that anything is possible is a true feeling.

The one was Ithaca, New York. The other was New York City. The one was published, although the name of the writer is not known. The other was a recital of music, the name of the recitalist is desired as evidence of good taste.

The editorial, and if you feel so inclined to do so, the companion, and if you feel so inclined to do so, the music student, there is an immense satisfaction of seeing things... They almost won the game, but they were not able to win.

The future is bright for the students of Ithaca College, but they must continue to work hard. They are interested in the things that are going on in the world, and they are determined to make a difference.

Miss Dorothy Gardner of Buffalo was in Ithaca over the weekend.

An article published in the

The performance of Allard Little in New York was forthright and consistent. Miss Margaret Beall, a character actress, was particularly characteristic in her portrayal of Madame Sans-Gene. Her presence and her ability were noted, and she is right in line.

Woman's Club. They attended the Phi Delta Pi Sorority. Production officials at RKO studios, the regular black and white picture, were considered satisfactory. Not only was the color of the hair, but the performer, was brought to mind our present experience. As Willard orfman, as Napoleon was in the character of Fouche. This subtle portrayal, back in town after an engagement, was satisfactory.

In the last period Ithaca in regard to the color of the hair, as well as the makeup, would have added to the performance. The student who sleeps during the engagement will be set up on the stage which by the all-university social season at Ithaca, was satisfactory. As worn by other defense, and starts to play the role of Marshal Lefebre with particularity. La sly wit and particularity are right in line.
Honorary Fraternities Hit

Corvallis, Ore., Oct. 9—George W. Peavy, president of Oregon State College, has challenged national honorary societies on the campus. A member of two national honorary societies, he said that students "cannot afford to spend money for hardware which is used for decoration only."

Graceful Epitome

I think when autumn comes
I shall—in retrospection
Who gave to summer airs
And the girls raked in the nickels and the dimes
And they sang "a hot time in the old town"

Katharine Hepburn Honored

Three times within single week
Thrice in a week, Katharine Hepburn has been internationally honored. Each victory has been from overseas—a world tribute to a actress who has established herself in the hearts of motion picture lovers, everywhere.

High Wulpe has selected her as one of the most interesting personalities on the globe.

Sir James M. Barrie has called her the ideal selection for the starring role in his "The Little Minister," now in production at the RKO Radio Studios.

And... at the International Exposition, held in Venice, Italy, she was awarded the gold medal to the actress giving the supreme dramatic performance on the screen. This was for her work in RKO Radio's "Little Women."

Lederer's Love of Realism

Take It All to Brains

Francis Lederer ardently advocates realism in the movies. So, on the RKO Radio set during the making of "Romance in Manhattan," the star insisted on taking his own chances in traffic that choked a street, in one scene.

The result was, a taxi-kicked him down, a front wheel passing over his leg, causing him to walk with a limp.

In a later scene, where he does his own washing, he scrubbed so hard that the skin was scraped from his knees.
