Team to Play at Home

With three weeks of practice the Ithaca College Variety basketball team started anew their way this weekend throughout Massachusetts and New Hampshire. They played against St. Ambrose at Manchester N. H., last night and they are playing Springfield this evening. Coach "Dix" Yavits carried with him his best ten men for this trip. Captain Tow Andreas, Dutch Postel, Cary Wood, Frank Prunell and Les Barton are the starting five.

Ithaca College students will have an opportunity to see the famed Francis five from Brooklyn perform in the Seneca Street Gym on January 24. The Ithaca Varsity Basketball Team will be the preliminary to this contest and will start at 7 P.M. Manfield Teacher's College will play on January 22.

College Band Presents Concert; Large Audience

Variety of Well-Chosen Numbers Presented

One of the most enjoyable events of the fourth band concert in the Ithaca Theatre last Sunday evening. Such a variety of well-chosen numbers played with alacrity accounted for the enthusiastic ovation which greeted this program. General opinion has it that it was the band's best performance this year; it was in most respects. "Overture to Ruslan and Ludmilla," break, then another, "Mazurka," with sure distinction. The number is to be heard again in the orchestra in the beginning which preceded the rest of the program for the most part. In conversion this number would be heard again at the beginning of the movement of the body of the orchestra. In this number the ballad seems to announce the award of the Cayugan Will.

Music on the movement of the body in Mr. Dean's studio and the music highly popular currently with those biggest types of dancing are among the most welcome to concert goers. Principal with sure distinction. According to Mr. Parson, the various types of dances are basically jazz and an interpretation of the music being played. The past year has brought a radical change in the trend not only of the so-called "dance" bands but in the conversational types as well. Principal influence his own compositions of music on the movement of the body--the ballad part is presented.

THIS THING?

By ME.

Dirt, dirt, and more dirt, they want it, they shall have it, you mean things, you dear readers. While we have prowled unmercifully into the every-day hustle and bustle of our dear Alma Mama, we've been seen, but not conquered. Apparently a hot and accident stage drama, scenes, take heed, all that goes up down stays down. De Vox tries the path to Westminster once again while the sun paints the hill with a loopy light, Mr. Gabardine, noted teacher of music, exalted as a leader of all which goes on in every single kind of work at our fine school.

THE UP-BEAT

By E. DE VAUX

In the School Musician December, 1937, there are several interesting articles on music and music teaching, and one of these deals with some specific problems and projects concern- ing the school music teacher. One article, however, is particularly offsetting because it is concerned with music projects con- trolled by music students—prospectively teachers or otherwise. It is a discussion filled with the possibility of many new opportunities for the music teacher, and the opportunities derived from these opportunities are of course of interest to any music teacher. Mr. Warmell first brings up the prerequisites (1) genuine love of music, (2) an ability to work in connection and background (4) application of the music teacher's own talent,

SKIIING

By WILLIAM J. PARKER

One felt that there was something notable about the Thompson Skiing Line. All the ski folks unless marred otherwise have either special knowledge and understanding or else experienced some sort of winter sport. Mr. Warmell in his line: (1) first, of those who are interested in the subject, second, of becoming long-haired farm to school work, third, the man should grab his partner around the waist, and fourth, the three of them go together. The dance and music work will be found in the nearest line of activity owing to the million, grades, bad, and innumerable forms of this art. It is very certain that in this field one can start at the bottom and work up. HE SELLS TOBACCO TO THEM ALL

But Branch Bobbitt, like so many other independent experts, prefers Luckies...

A T AUCTIONS in my warehouse, says Mr. Branch Bobbitt, "the higher the tobacco sells for, the better my profit. So I'm always glad to see Lucky Strike buyers in there bidding. They know what they want and they'll keep bidding right up to when they get it." He finds that, among cigarets—"it's the tobacco that counts. I know tobacco and I know what tobacco is in what cigarettes. So that's one reason I've smoked Luckies for 5 or 6 years."

Mr. Bobbitt represents the "aristocracy" of tobacconists. He judges the tobacco that the growers grow. He's impartial, not connected with any cigarette manufacturers. Many other experts agree with Mr. Bobbitt. Sworn records show independent tobacconists, experts, Luckies have twice as many exclusive smokers as have all the other cigerettes combined.

JUNIOR CLASS

A junior class meeting and party was held in the Green Room, January 12. The main topic for discussion was the Junior Prom. President Matthews appointed several committees to arrange the details of this important occasion. Watch The Ithacan for the date and other announcements about the prom.

After the business meeting there was the party, with tobacco in abundance. The Big Apple was led by Jim Johnson, and Paul Winfield had charge of the music. The high point of the evening was the beautiful performance of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell. Their act consisted of hand balancing and other stunts which were really of a professional caliber. The entire junior class joins in thanking these boys for their fine act.

DELTA PHI NEWS
On the night of November 2, the Delta Phi sponsored an Artists' Party in the Green Room for all freshman and transfer girls. It was the idea of Delphi Miss. She put out the word and all from the three departments.

An entertainment committee under the leadership of Betty Cornell arranged an exceedingly pleasant program. Upon arrival each girl received a paper which she was to complete. It demanded the knowledge of the names and incidental facts of the majority of the girls present. The procedure was simplified by having the participants wear name tags in the form of a costume.

Following this were series of songs which proved very amusing. After a program of readings and glee singing, the guests were served refreshments.

A DISCUSSION ON MODERN MARRIAGE
The Ithaca takes great pride in presenting an article from "The Houghton Star," We believe that this article is of special interest to students of any university or college. It is presented here in its entirety.

MODERN MARRIAGE.
Public discussion of the marriage question is a new step. We realize it. But its inauguration is becoming general. From the November 23 edition of the Allford University Panel we learn that thirty college newspapers, members of the Intercollegiate Press Association, have begun a concerted campaign against syphilis by educating college students against venereal disease. Inclusion of the Waterman test in every student health examination is the main objective of the drive.

From the main editorial of this same issue:
"One of the most progressive signs of the modern age is the disappearance of social taboos on frank discussion of sex, marriage, and venereal disease. Everywhere students are talking and thinking in a new light; many colleges and universities have inaugurated courses in love and marriage.

Vassar college has brought the subject of marriage and family life into the lecture hall. Result: "Leda: chaperon about sex among the students," says the students. Candid discussions of subjects ranging from 'Biological Aspects of Marriage' and 'Courtship and Marriage in a love' to "Philosophy of the Budget" have been held by a "Novartive-shoulder" shoulder" doctrine. Dr. MacCracken, president of Vassar, approved the course. Dr. Horace Vassar's assistant physician, says: 'It will help the students face facts realistically when they are engaged, and not go thoughtlessly to the altar in a cloud of white face and orange blossoms.'

Is there no way of impressing the facts upon Joe College and Betty Good that love and marriage are facts that have to be faced? Even more, that they are not being faced successfully today? Did any recently published statistics on our divorce problem? The large acceptance of the Social Science this last Monday evening has convinced us that Joe and Betty are willing to be told. The realization that we don't know everything is a beginning.

We are constantly reminded that this is a delicate subject. We have gone even so far as to wonder if the disappearance of the social taboos on the frank discussion of sex, marriage and love is in actuality an ideal. We hope it's both. It is neither, so long as embarrassment, vexation, timidity, and downright fear continue to hinder.

The newspapers, college and daily, are instituting a nation-wide campaign against venereal diseases. Popular but authentic magazines such as the Reader's Digest, the Women's Home Companion and the Forum are among the first to break down these print facings concerning our country's increasing graph of immorality. Certainly it is time a progressive college student body at least be informed as to what lies behind these facts.—H.G.A.

PHI MU ALPHA

On Sunday afternoon, January 9, Phi Mu Alpha held its fall initiation which had been postponed until that date. There were three faculty members initiated and seven upperclassmen. The members of the faculty initiated were Mr. Dean, Mr. Devricks, and Mr. Finch. The upperclassmen were Walter Smiley, Herbert Marsden and Homer Pi. After the initiation there was a delightful buffet supper at the chapter house. The junior class members of the fraternity were in charge.

An informal dance was held at the home the night of January 7. Brother Gott was the official record keeper. Miss Gertrude Evans, Miss Marcelle settings, Miss Dorothy Goodwin, Miss Dorothy Bickham, Miss Dorothy Conant, and Miss Dorothy Raymond were invited. The affair was a delightful affair.

S.A.I.

The formal opening of Pan Pipes Inn was held at the S.A.I. house on the fourteenth of January. This concluded the rush parties of the fraternity for the year. It was quite an event in the form of a musical with many of the members or guests.

Every so-called celebrities were the freshman girls and the members of the fraternity were in charge.

The formal dance will be held at the house the night of January 7.

With this new installation it is certain that Kappa Gamma Psi will make definite forward strides towards the immediate growth of the fraternity both at the residence and on the campus.

Extra—Extra—All about the big convention. I mean the Eastern District Convention of Phi E K, held at the University of Temple campus. Plans in the form of national projects were discussed, and suggestions for a fraternity place were brought forward. It has been decided that the house of Sigma Alpha Iota will be used.

On Tuesday night, the 18th, a smoker for the freshmen was held at the local fraternity house. Faculty members from our department and Doctors Catworth and Lan- don gave short speeches to the freshmen. Entertainment was provided by McBride and Mitchell, also a short skit by members of the fraternity. About the former, the strength, timing and rhythm are superb. Rehearsals are well under way for Scampers. Our central theme is definitely educational and we feel that it will be our biggest triumph of all Scampers’ programs.

PHI DELTA PSI

Monday night, January 12, the Phi Deltas gave their first rush party. It was in the form of a progressive dinner, the first course was held at the Asiatic Gardens, from there they went to the Ithaca Hotel, for the main course. Here they were entertained by Jos De Vavv, Ralph Ivor and Horst Maas-dien. Next for the last course the party progressed to the Victoria Inn. After short speeches, details were given about the treasure hunt which was to follow. Refreshments were served at the Phi Delt house. What’s next? Scampers? . . . just what fun!

SOME NEWS FROM COLLEGIAN WORLD

If you go to Texas Institute of Technology you can hire someone to think for you.

One student has started a card index of students who complain they forgot such weighty details as their sweetheart's birthdays or when they last had a hair cut. All that embarrassment is now eliminated. Instead of running around with their fingers tied up in strings they call their remembering service. The student charges a card and pesos, up comes the dope!

"Bismarck" is just a dog, but he has been pledged by an Ohio State University fraternity. They claim he is the only canine in the world officially affiliated with a Greek letter organization.

Picked up last winter, freezing and half-starved, the lanky tan dog lives at the Zeta Beta Tau house. He nearly cost our fraternity its hard-earned money. The dog was ordered out by one of the members who later admitted he did not realize he was neglecting such an important personage.

Immediately, every Zeta Beta Tau present rose in anger and stalked out of the house behind his cowering pledge-brother. Before the injured brothers would return, they asked for, and received, a suitable apology.

Fraternity men at Washington University have at last done a thing for which their less courageous brothers all over the nation will bless them. They have outlawed corsages for their dates at school dances. They think, moreover, that flower boys should be limited to sorority formals and the Junior Prom.

One band had a contract but the other, which had no contract by failing to show up. They were both in town and had no intention of leaving. The student manager had been ordered out by one of the fraternities who later admitted he did not realize he was neglecting such an important personage.

The student manager of the Mortorial Union at the University of Kansas next week will be seeing double.

But there was nothing wrong with his eyes Two dance bands had actually rolled into town each bearing a contract to play at the sophomore hop. Unwittingly two student managers had on the same day signed a different orchestra for the dance. One band had a contract but the other had been paid a deposit. All though one would have been plenty, they were both in town and had no intention of leaving.

The student manager had been in the same pickle before. Only that time one of the bands broke its contract by failing to show up. This time his cross was indeed heavy $260 for one band, $500 for the other.

Getting wise to take their medicine is worse than trying to make music. Alberta陈列 exhibition of Dr. J. H. Elder of Yale. They're no one of the trick of putting it in orange juice, too, he aver. The only way to get them drinks, in Dr. Elders' experience, is by injection.

The cooperative department of Cleveland College, where students alternate equal periods between work and school, had more students at work than in school during the last semester, according to the supervisor.

Chinese words for distinguishing opposite personalities are used in the costume clinic for students at Mount Mercy College. "Yang" Chinese for "sun" goes to those who are more sophisticated, tall, willowy and perhaps incompetent. "Ying," made up by the students themselves, indicates one who is neither definitely one nor the other.

Students at Trinity College are presented by an accident group insurance policy protecting each student against any type of accident either on the school property or elsewhere. The plan provides for reimbursement of all expenses of treatment for any one injury to an amount not exceeding $50 except dental bills which are limited to $12. The student contribution is compulsory $15 a year. A new form every day is advocated for girls in their "mess" by Dr. Walter B. Townsend, Butler University professor.

Drizzling in New York's "Stream-Line" Haircut

"It Pays in Less Well — When You Dance"

Every cigarette features something...

Chesterfield features the one thing that really counts...pleasure. It all comes down to this: Chesterfields are made of mild ripe tobaccos...rolled in pure cigarette paper...the best that money can buy.

That's why Chesterfield's milder better taste will give you more pleasure.

We are prepared to do our best to serve you Musically.
