Bombers Blasted In Basketball Blitz

The power laden V-12 unit from St. Lawrence was too much for the all-civilian Ithaca College quintet as they were beaten in a walk away 57-28. In a previous engagement, the Larries were held to only 27 points, the Larries were beaten in a 63-40 halftime lead. The Bombers had tough luck in their shooting and proved to be very erratic in their defense as the Larries kept breaking through time after time to score. Leading the scorers was Paul Dorkin of the Larries who gathered 16 points; he was followed by Hank Crowell of the Bombers who led both teams in scoring with 20 points and 7 rebounds.

Tonight the Bombers meet the University of Scranton at Scranton, hoping to break this new two-game losing streak.

Panzer Quintet Wins

In a hard fought game the Ithaca (V-12) unit could not contain a Panzer College of Phd. It was the 9th win in 10 starts for the New Jersey lads who have bowed only to City College of New York. The Panzer lads displayed clever ball handling and were easily able to pentate the Bombers defense time after time. After leading 4-3 in the opening minutes, the Bombers never again assume the lead, although they did come within 3 points of tying the game early in the third quarter. The Panzer quintet proved to be a better balanced team than the Bombers, although lanky Red Lynnough, Ithaca's pivot man, led both teams in scoring with a 20 point harvest gathered on 7 goals and 6 fouls. For Panzer, Kornkut was high with 16 points.

MAIL CALL

Dear Johnnie:

Well, Johnnie—We've just buzzed through our exams, turned in all of our papers, and registered for another semester. So if this letter is a little foggy, you'll understand, I know. Many gay parties have been planned for our graduating seniors. Wish you were here, Johnnie to see them off.

Speaking of Ithaca College students and their accomplishments, the word comes to us that Fred Cannon, whom we haven't heard from in a long time, is in the Second Infantry Division Band, been promoted to a First Lieutenant and is now in Italy, serving as a navigator in the Air Corps.

Surprise! Dorothy Conger sends word to us from Hollywood that she is married.

Private Bruce L. Nary has been sent to Las Vegas to the Flexible Gunnery School for B-29s. Former Phi Mu man, Hank Orlovsky is now a lieutenant, j.g. in the Navy Air Corps at Kingsville, Texas.

Those Phi Mu Alpha men are really all right. Mrs. Tallcott received an interesting post card from John Brady who is now a prisoner of war in Germany. He says that there are two other Phi Mu brothers in the camp and that they have organized a band.

Here are some new addresses we have:

Pvt. Robert Messinger 32934722

Well, Johnnie—It's time for dining hall, and we can afford to be locked out. So long, Johnnie ... Love and stuff...

IIthaca College Wins

Over St. Bonaventure

After piling up a five game losing streak, the Ithaca College quintet finally broke home and piled up 72 points to easily defeat the St. Bonaventure quintet on the home court. 45 fouls were called in the ball game, but yet the game was not roughly played. In this game the Bombers proved to be a well balanced team, with everybody breaking into the scoring column.

Pat Fiore stole the ball on the tap off and scored first for the Bombers, but the Bonnies tied it up on a long shot by Jim O'Connell, but from here in the Bombers piled it up leading 10 to 2 after 2 minutes of play. Leading the scorers was Capt. Red Lynnough, Ithaca's pivot man who racked in 19 points on 6 goals and 4 fouls. For the Bombers, Kornkut was high with 16 points.

Cayugan orders now being taken. See representatives in house and place your order early.
