"Pillars of Society" Listed As Next Play

Curiously, it has run rampant since the close of "Houseplay." Everyone one is anxious to know the nature of the next play. The secret is a secret no longer—the new play is "Pillars of Society" by Henrik Ibsen.

"Pillars of Society" is the second of a series of prose plays which deal with modern life. It is concerned with the literal and commonplace facts of life as found in a small and narrow-minded community. The people are afraid of expanding for fear they will lose some of their apathetic contentment.

The story centers around a big manufacturer, Consul Kristo Berntsen, and his efforts to keep silent some facts about his dark and muddy past. There has been a scandal created when he returns with Mrs. Berntsen's step father, who makes every attempt to force Berntsen to confess his past in order that his brother-in-law may live free of undue distress. Whether or not Berntsen confesses is for you to learn by seeing the play.

First presented in Copenhagen in 1877, "Pillars of Society" caused such a breach in the author's reputation that a special commission was set up to study the matter. The commission found no room for doubt and submitted its report to the author, who accepted it with a smile.

Cheerleaders Chosen

From about 90 students who competed for the cheerleading position, 4 new cheerleaders were chosen on January 16. In addition to Angie Fischer, from Chappaqua, N. Y., and Olga Heffner from Endicott, N. Y., Senior Phyl. Ed. cheerleaders, the following people were announced: Carrie Fischette, Junior Phyl. Ed., from Chappaqua, N. Y.; Barbara Dempsey, Freshman Phyl. Ed. from Schenectady, N. Y.; and Marion Christman, Freshman, from Jersey City, New Jersey.

The selection was made by a committee composed of Dr. Louise Toner and Miss Eiste Hugger. Choice was based on personality as a cheerleader, voice and form.

The new cheerleaders will function in their official capacity throughout the year in college. Their uniforms will consist of navy blue skirts and white sweaters.

New Instructors Announced

Among the new faculty members of Ithaca College is Dr. Leroy Fischer. A graduate of the University of Illinois, Dr. Fischer was recently discharged from the army. He will teach history to the new class of physical education students entering the college.

John G. O'Neill, a graduate of Ithaca College, and recently discharged from the Marine Corps, will give a course in the science of the universe. He also is teaching intramural courses in the Physical Education Department.

Housing Plans Announced By College President

Dr. Leonard B. Job announced today that the building furnished by the Government Housing Authority to house former G.I.'s is larger than expected, and will house 156 men instead of the anticipated 34. The T-shaped structure, not fitting the original site on E. Buffalo Street, will be moved to a site not yet decided upon. The building which will be shipped from Mineville, New York, is expected to be here within a month. The reconstruction necessary, it is anticipated, will take a very short time, and the building should be ready for occupancy within 6 weeks.

The college has leased the 4th floor of the McKinney block to be used in housing men entering Ithaca College. Approximately 60 men are being housed in this dwelling.

Dr. Job Announces Full Summer Session

President Leonard B. Job announced today, that due to the strong G.I. demand for a summer session, a full undergraduate session will be held this summer. After one week of vacation at the close of the spring semester, the summer term will begin June 10 and run for 12 weeks. This added session will be effective in all departments and will be held in conjunction with the regular 6 weeks graduate session.

Physical Education students will move to Camp Danaca the first two weeks of September, where they will begin their summer session and will receive training in camp work. Two credits may be earned in camp training.

Tournament Won By Dr. Job

The Archery Tournament sponsored on January 25 by Boynton Junior High by the Community Recreation Class, was most heartily enjoyed by faculty and students alike. 12 persons tried their skill on 2 ranges, while 25 spectators witnessed the proceedings. The attribute of the evening consisted of a novelty shoot with a false target face and small colored circles. Dr. Job won both contests, with Dr. Grimshaw as runner-up.

The college archery team placed 2nd in formation in the Anarchy Club with Dr. Job as President and Mrs. Grimshaw as Secretary.

The committee, composed of Catherine Tarbell, Chairman, and Mary Telles and J. O'Neill, presses its thanks to all who made the tournament a success.

Speaker Slated at Keuka

Hightstown, New Jersey.—Dr. Wilbur E. Saunders, Headmaster of the boys' school, will give a series of addresses from January 27th to 30th during Religious Education Week at Keuka College, Keuka Park, New York.

Music Students Placed in Teaching Positions

Two senior music students who will be graduated this term will enter positions as high school music supervisors.

Alice Terzian, of Darlen, Connecticut, who was graduated from Darien High School in 1941, attended Julliard School of Music in New York City for a year before entering Ithaca College in September 1942. A piano major, she is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota and Adelphi honorary Society. Some of her other activities at "I.C." include participation in Student Recitals, two Scampers Productions, Lab. Band and Junior-Fraternity committees.

Two graduates of the Music Department who will begin their teaching in the fall include recently discharged veterans—Robert Jacoby and Moses Sherman.

Robert Jacoby, of Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania, was graduated from Moyer High School in 1937.

He began his course at Ithaca College in the fall of 1938. While he was here he was the position of Treasurer of Phi Mu Alpha, was a member of both Adelphi and Oracle, end of the college choir, and played trumpet and cornet, respectively, in the college orchestra and band. Some of his other activities include participation in two Scampers Productions, the position of assistant Business Manager of the Cayuga in 1941, and Business Manager in 1942. He was on the Dean's List and had the honor of being written up in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Moses was graduated from Ithaca College in December 1942. Following a refresher course here, he will take the position of instrumental instructor at Van Horneville, New York.
The Plight Of Foreign Students

Since students, possibly more than other persons, understand student problems, the Ithacan feels it timely and pertinent to publish records of students in other nations who have suffered deprivation because of war conditions. The World Student Service Fund, 20 West 40th St., New York City, is one of the few organizations presenting this problem, and it is through their facilities we publish facts we think every American college student should know.

Greek Students Suffer In War's Aftermath

Students at the University of Athens in war-seared Greece desperately lack the primary needs of life, according to a despatch from Margaret House, World Student Relief worker, to the World Student Service Fund on October 29th. Of the more than 8000 students, 200 are sheltered in miserable student centers, many live with friends, but a great number have no fixed abodes. Mrs. House describes vividly one of the better student centers. "I had been warned that it was horrid, but I was not prepared for the atmosphere of hopeless depression among the students themselves. There was no handrail up the stairs. The first room was a study. Thirty students had beds, with two blankets each but no sheets. Perhaps it was better so, there was no laundry. A room for six people had two chairs. One nail on the wall near each bed was enough for a boy's whole wardrobe. "The bathroom was just a doorless, windowless landing. The kerosene had no furniture excepting a sink and a copper, but on top of the copper was a log fire, and on it a sort of something wholesome, out of tins, of course. Theoretically, the pan contains enough to yield 2000 calories all round, but it is all eaten in 20 minutes. The students are quite believe that they are 2000 calories better off at the end. In any case, 2000 is not enough."

These students last year lived on one meager meal a day consisting of beans cooked in olive oil, 742 of them contracting tuberculosis due to undernourishment and exposure. Funds contributed to the World Student Service Fund go to help these and other students in Europe and Asia. A recent report gives the number of students in Europe and Asia who have suffered deprivation and the number of their friends who paid for more than five years, along with the other war-devastated lands in Asia.

China Plans Great Educational Expansion

"Democracy and industrialization are the key words for China's development," says Miss Yang Chou-han, professor of English literature in evacuated National Peking University, in an article "Chinese Education under War Shadow," written especially for World Student Relief. The article relates how the professors and students trekked for ninety days by foot, finally making thirty miles a day, ending at Kunming, an ele- vation of 8000 feet. The National University amalgamated with other evacuated universities into Southwest Commercial College University, and in the first ten years of reconstruction, China had more than 7500 students. The Chinese government has announced that in the first years of reconstruction, China should turn out from the universities and colleges 232,500 doctors and 31,000 graduates of arts, law, and commerce. This means more than 50,000 graduates annually.

Funds contributed to the World Student Service Fund help to maintain a student center at Kunming (one of fourteen such centers in China) and purchase garments cheaply for the students against the bitter mountain cold, give nutritious diet to undernourished students, and help them in self-help program for work students. Funds also help students in other war-devastated lands in Asia and Europe.

Universities in the Philippines Rise Again

"The University of the Philippines is in ashes," writes Dr. Marino M. Kalaw, a leading educator, and statesman in the Philippines. "The University of the Philippines in Manila had more than 7500 students and 714 professors before the war. Santo Tomas, the oldest uni-

Presenting Miss Daniels

Miss Bess Daniels, teacher of Music Appreciation and Form, and also piano has been a faculty member of the Department of Ithaca College since 1938.

A native of California, Miss Daniels studied in Los Angeles and Pomona College. She also spent some time in Paris studying piano under the direction of Maskowski.

Before coming to I.C., Miss Daniels taught in Pomona College and Polytechnic High School in Los Angeles. She also did considerable work for R.C.A. and Gim and Company in Boston.

Miss Daniels enjoys reading—especially the New York Times and Times. She is an active sportsman and another one of her hobbies. She is very fond of cats and at one time was the owner of Persian cats.

Miss Daniels "pet peeves" while teaching the piano are wobbley fingers, uninteresting fingering, and sputtering" on the piano.
Bombers Trounce Oswego 70-45

In a game that started slowly, Oswego took the lead early and then went on to rack 2 field goals before I.C. served one from the foul line. There was a time-out in the 1st quarter and a time out to give the Bombers a "Tete-a-Tete," the home team went back to help Van Nest and had a good lead in a row and one. With the score at seven all, I.C. finished up the quarter leading by 15-8.

Smith started the 2nd quarter with a field goal. Oswego made one before Beaney and Smith could each knock a field goal for the Bombers. Then VanNest and Smith rang the bell for I.C. Delean, Os­swego's tall center, chalked up 20 points for the Bombers and I.C. led 35-29.

At the beginning of the 2nd half, McNa­marra scored on a tap. Des­singer, for Oswego, made 2 from the side court and one lay up before I.C. offense got wise to him. Then after time-out leading 46-32, a scoring fray started for the Bombers. Van Nest and Smith put up the most points in hitting the strings. Van Nest at the end of the third quarter had chalked up 20 points for the Bombers and I.C., led 53-36.

The last act of the scoring spree showed I.C. making 17 more points. Van Nest was taken out early in the quarter and the crowd showed their approval of the tall man's efforts in the field goals and 1 foul for 25 points. I.C. played their most consistent game of the season in this game. Besides playing a steady offense, they were well heeled on defense.

PROJECTS SUCCESSFUL

- Ithaca College students and members of the faculty put aside examinations and studies to play away their worries on a nine-hole miniature golf course at the college gymnasium for the first time this week.
- The program, put on by Committee No. 4 of the Organization and Administration, consisted of the nine-hole miniature golf course, dancing to popular records and club room games. Warren Hughes, a former 8th Air Force Ace, scored again in taking first place, a mounted golf ball, with a six under par 20 strokes. President Job came in a close second with a 22 for the 9 holes.

The splendid attendance and reception given to the students by those attending pointed to a mounting interest and demand for college recreational programs.

Among projects presented by members of the Community Recreation Class was Parent-Children Night. Held on January 18 from 7:30 to 10 p.m. for the 4th grade Fairchold school children and their parents. Games in which offspring and parents competed were included in the program. About 40 or 50 people joined in the fun of the evening. The evening was planned by Violet Schallenberg, Arleeda Bombard and Paul Moore.

Girls Teams Compete On Basketball Court

On January 16, 1946, the Sophomore II team overwhelmed the Frosh IV by a score of 20 to 7. "The Crossett was the main reason the Frosh team was defeated. She scored 12 points against the feeble attempts of Wanda Yaros­chik who took scoring honors for her team.

In the other game played that day the Sophomore team defeated the Soph III team by a score of 33 to 31. Plimer and Yankowski chalked up 20 points for their efforts against Wilson with 12 points and Kaufelt with 14 points.

The Sophomore I team defeated the Junior I team to the tune of 25 to 16. The scoring was pretty evenly divided among the Sopho­more with Mary Diana taking a slight edge with 10 points. Gerry Tower paced her Junior team with eight points.

Those Freshman did it again! The Fresh Frosh team defeated the Junior II team in a closely con­tested game by a score of 15 to 14. "Ellie" Schulz helped her team out by scoring 11 points. On the other hand "Gamers" were honorably evenly divided. Carrie Fischette and Ann Mathews had five and four points respectively.

The final games will not be able to be played until probably March. Team classes are being chosen and these teams will represent their classes.

Sleigh Ririe presented a program of singing, playing games and seeing movies. It was enthusiastically received by the younger members.

The program was put on by Committee No. 3 of the Organization and Administration, which is located near the lab on East Avenue.

The program consisted of "The Battle Invalids," a very close contest. Even the scribe participated in the event, and as the healthy in­digenous ability who was in the score of forces would say, "Oh, my achin' bones!" From now on the expres­sion is "The Battle of Invalids"... J. G. O'Neill is now helping the Phy. Ed. Dept. in some of the biol­ogy classes and will also help with intramural "gammas." Dr. Hill says "J.G." was one of the best students that the college has had in science.

I.C.'s Joe Crums

We don't want you people to get the idea that Joe has been faith­ful to his hom­ework, which has just come to a close. The truth is, Joe had a really full schedule—he was carrying two foreign language classes, a typing class, and drama­drum& drum. Joe, in his last two weeks, decided it was time to get and push a few of them. Not that we think for one minute badly, but we won't be about the exams, but we offer the following incidents which happened to our hero in the classrooms during the second week.

He can't draw your own conclusions... only the other day in English Composition the Proff. asked Joe if the word "trowsers" was singular or plural. Joe thought for a minute or so, and then answered, "They're singular at E.SU. Joe turned to a member of Joe. "Well, aren't they? To show you the rut a person can get into, the teacher asked Joe in Human Relations (Ethics to you) if he knew what "paying it forward" means. Joe thought definitely that Joe paid that thing on the back. If he had made a test, "Name two...'/service serenade...""the same thing." You'd think he'd laugh forever.

Don't laugh, and Cleopatra. One student who resembled Elsa Bonacci, Robert Schulz, Arthur Heffner, and Malcolm (Squak) McNaughtes, Henry (Hank) Carr and Ray Myers. With the membership bolstered by the excellent personal traits and the fine musicianship of these newly initiated pledges, the I.C.'s fraternity for the next semester should be interesting as well as educational.

Mr. Hoerner interviewed

In Ithaca College, we hear a lot about the players, the girls, and the plays. But behind the scenes? We decided it might be interesting to interview the man who makes the scenes, the man who makes the girls, the man who makes the plays. Mr. "George" R. Hoerner.

Mr. Hoerner, not only designs the sets for all Ithaca College productions, but he also teaches Stagecraft, Scene Design, and Production Management.

Born in New York City, Mr. Hoerner attended grade school and high school there. He also attended the Art Students' League, New York University. Mr. Hoerner came to Ithaca College in 1933 as a special student and assistant to Mr. Charles R. Butman. Mr. Hoerner attended I.C. at that time.

Mr. Hoerner has been a costumier, has done display work, and commercial art. He has worked in various summer stock companies, including the Woodmere group in Long Island and the players at Erie, Pennsylvania.

Some years ago, Mr. Hoerner, in conjunction with Mr. Joe Short, organized the Cayuga players. These productions were held here in Ithaca and took one of their shows on the road.

Mr. Hoerner was in the bomber group during the war, and it was then, influenced by Roland Stebbins, producer of "The Green Pastures," that he came to Ithaca and decided to become a costumer.

The place is Westminster Hall at 329 North Tioga St. The date is Saturday, February 9. The time is 8-30 P.M.

A good time awaits you men so call up and get your tickets now. Got tickets? Go to the box office.
