THE BENEFIT PROGRAM

With pride The Ithacan calls attention to the announcement in another column concerning the proposed scholarship benefit scheduled to be presented in Little Theatre on Tuesday evening, April 14. We are proud that we have been able to enlist the services of such an numerous and energetic group of artists as have consented to appear. Their complete willingness to assist in this source of complete gratification is most unusual. The artists have been selected from each music school, and from the expression school of this institution. Two from each department will appear. We believe that they represent the most excellent talent in this community. Any one of them would be worthy of an ovation in an individual recital. The combination should prove to be phenomenal.

Dean Hill has kindly consented to oversee the financial details connected with the project. Under his watchful care, students may be very sure that their funds will be directed to the chancels designated.

We wish especially to point out the fact that every precaution has been taken to forestall any suspicion of graft in the matter of presenting this benefit. Personally, we have seldom had much faith in the students here and would be willing to trust them with sole management of the arrangement. There are those, however, who might rightly question any disposition of funds and for the benefit of such, the matter has been quite removed from the hands of members of The Ithacan staff. They will act only in planning the program and in furthering its completion.

It would seem that in view of the splendid program planned, little advertising for the purpose of selling tickets would be required. The purpose of The Ithacan will inform its readers from time to time as to the progress being made, however. We believe that the tickets for this benefit will be at a premium several days before the date of presentation, plan now to bring back seventy-five cents when you return from your vacation. The ticket sale will commence until that time; but when it does, students here will be thoroughly canvassed. In the event that tickets remain several days before the date of presentation, they will be available for the public at all large dramatic and music schools. And those of you will be left only with their own regrets.

Support this thing! The Ithacan offers you an unusual opportunity to hear the finest this school offers. The money will help a fellow student, selected by your Student Council representatives, The Ithacan Scholarship Benefit program will be one at which you will want to be present.

DEnquENTS

In another section of this paper appears an announcement of the effect that senior students in this school are neglecting the matter of submitting their photographs to the editors of The Cadgwood. What this condition should lead to is a matter which requires little consideration. It is due to indifference, and laziness, and this latter is the cause of all whose names appear in the list printed. The Ithacan did not submit to the request that the names appear in its columns for the purpose of mortifying the delinquents, necessarily, but rather to assist the fellow laborers on the staff of the annual publication of this school.

Seniors! Get your pictures in. It is a small matter to you, but one of tremendous importance to those ambitious souls who are exerting every effort to meet a contract which stipulates that all material must be in the hands of the publishers in the very near future.

BENEFIT SHOWS PROMISE OF INCREASING

Laurence S. Hill, dean of the Ithaca School of Physical Education, announced that request for enrollment of the school are being received at the rate of fifty a week. Fifteen people have already sent their applications for the fall term. Present indications are that there will be an enrollment of two hundred in the school next fall.

The placement bureau is already receiving many requests for directors of physical education, for whom there is a great demand.
