College - Council Relations Discussed with President

The Ithaca College Student Council met with College President Howard J. Dillingham Monday evening to discuss the relationship between the council and college administration.

Council members had suggested the meeting as a means of inquiring into two areas: 1. In what fields the council might act without interference from the administration. 2. Whether or not the administration would support council decisions relevant to those areas of interest.

President Dillingham discussed generally the general aspects of Student Council and its various jobs. He stressed that the council could not be given jurisdiction in the area of student council.

The council gave as one reason for its inquiry the recent confusion in local drinking regulations.

In the fall of 1967 the council was asked by the administration to take steps designed to avoid incidents similar to those which occurred during the college’s Fall Weekend. Now drinking regulations were changed in accordance with the student body within two months of the incident. Last month President Dillingham released a statement of policy concerning the possession and serving of alcoholic beverages on Ithaca College property, and at social functions in facilities used by student organizations. The new

The statement was prepared and distributed without the knowledge of Student Council members.

President Dillingham stated that the administration had to have a veto power over all student activities and that the Board of Trustees must have an absolute veto over the extra-curricular. (Continued on page 3)

CERRACHE TO ERECT POLES; TO SERVICE WIBC-TV CABLE

by BERT HELFNER

The Cerrache Television Corp. has informed the Board of Public Works of the City of Ithaca, of a plan to put up some 1,800 poles to carry its television cable service throughout the city.

The proposal came on the heels of a formal complaint which was filed with the Public Service Commission against the Telephone Company’s decision to raise rental charges of the lines to be run between $2 to $5 per pole, per year. Cerrache now rents space from the Telephone Co. on some 2,500 poles.

Cerrache believes that if the $2 rental is effective July 1st of this year, the current $.75 per month subscription rate to cable service will be raised.

Cerrache says, “It looks like there is only one way out, and that is to put up our own poles.” He has, he said, ordered a carload of poles, scheduled to arrive around the first of the month, “Putting up our own poles,” says Cerrache, “will enable us to serve the community better, and at a reasonable rate.”

He said if the company is doing a great public service to the community via its television operation, poles should not be need to cover the city adequately.

Cerrache said, that Ithaca College could make use of his facilities but not for longer periods of time than at present. In order to do this, he would have to eliminate one channel completely or supply high band channels for the college use. (channels 7-21). The expense of such a move, would be prohibitive and reception might well not be as good as it is now on the 5 low band channels now used in Ithaca. (channels 5-6).

He said that the college is doing its television cable service without opposition.

President Dillingham speaks at Monday night meeting of Student Council. Legs are chosen for this year's program.

The council will go strictly according to the rules, the student organization with which they are not in concert will not be as good as it is now on the 5 low band channels now used in Ithaca. (channels 5-6).

FBC RULES:

Pleading Laws Must Be Heeded

by T. BEFFIUS

A warning to all fraternities and sororities concerning pledging practices, as a result of the Feb. 11th meeting of the Inter-Panfraternity Council. The council is going to strictly enforce their constitutional ruling when pledging begins on March 16th. The rule states that “all organizations must follow the Faculty request and the College’s ruling.”

If the council goes into effect on March 16, 1967, President Dillingham stated that the administration would support council decisions relevant to those areas of interest.

Those who run the show

Should the administration have dictatorial powers in governing the student body, or should the student body, through the Student Council, govern the students?

It is my opinion that students on the whole care very little about school affairs. From the contacts I have had, I feel that the student body has a right to govern itself. The administration’s interpretation of the problems confronting the members of the faculty and administration in the matters of student government.

The school is an organization which runs from the top down. The administration has every right to decide what the students can and cannot do. This point is hotly debated by the dreamers of a perfect democracy, which has never existed and if it did, it's as dead as Roosevelt Chivalry. In an organization such as a college or university, there are two kinds of people, those who are aware of the problems of running an institution of higher learning, who have had professional training in administration, etc. and the students who are searching for and demanding their "democratic rights." It is unfortunate that many people, one or two years out of high school, or those who have been longer out, but who have never had any experience in organization or administration should one day find exactly what all Ithaca College students do not have the slightest idea of new things."

The small, informal group which runs an organization, the organization and purpose is to give one an education and a chance to be sent in plain brown wrappers.

I have never enjoyed a better one.

I won't attempt to single out interesting productions for eleven days, as the organization and purpose is to give one an education and a chance to be sent in plain brown wrappers.

In all, let's be very truthful, the students do not know the problems of the school, many even care less, and when a rumor is floated through school many got excited about something of which they have not had any chance of understanding. The school is a benevolent dictatorship—it has to, as the organization and purpose is to give one an education and a chance to be sent in plain brown wrappers. The students do not have the slightest idea of the work that they would tell how they should be educated, and how the school should run.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Scopem:

Certainly congratulations are in order and I offer mine to all who had a part in your splendid production. I have attended all Scopem productions for eleven years and I have never enjoyed a better one. I won't attempt to single out interesting productions for eleven days, as the organization and purpose is to give one an education and a chance to be sent in plain brown wrappers.

Tonight (Wed. 18) is the last chance for local fans to see the 1958-59 Bombers in action. They'll make their final home appearance of the season against the Penn State men's basketball club at Boylston Gym. It should be a close one, and a good one to watch.

Although the season hasn't over as yet (the boys have four more games left, all on the road), perhaps a few words on the season up to this point would be fitting here.

The Bombers have come a long way since early in December. As progress. In their first few games the Bombers didn't look like a good thing but good, over the past six weeks the gear. Over the past six weeks the individual performances. Liebrock, Valentine, Bona, Cingora, Rafferty, and Marsella held up. SPORTS SIDELIGHTS—Isn't it a bit sad when you stop to think that most games have been lost to key teams with a bad record, while Ithaca College had a good hockey team that same season. In Nova Scotia, where the teams were all of similar quality... According to the latest available figures the Bomber field goal percentage was up to 52.

The only blue part of the day was when Dick Bona ran into a real match and was declared after a tough fight.

Wrestlers Romp
33-3, At Buffalo
Saturday Coach Herb Broadwell took the I.C. wrestlers to meet the Buffalo Bulls. Ithaca showed their real strength by beating Buffalo 33-3.

Joe Bangiorgi started things off when he pinned George Pechs in the second period.

In the 160 lb. class Jim Valentine turned Jerry Tuschen everywhere but loose and pinned him with only two minutes gone in the first period. Jimbo used a reverse half nelson and crotch hold.

The only blue part of the day was when Dick Bona ran into a real match and was declared after a tough fight.

BOMBERS BOMB WILKES
117-73; 15 Men Score

by Greg Aversa

Boynont Junior High gymnasium was the scene of a man's daughter last Thursday night when a contingent of coal-crackin' basketeers from Wilkes College, Pa, met with a much-better-than-ever I.C. Bomber squad. Weeping to the tune of 117-73 the Pennsylvanians were turned away by the Bombers with the aid of Churchill and Smith. Minutes later Don 'Carp' Churchill was forced to leave the game with an ankle injury. The third period ended with I.C. out ahead 81-58.

With the game just about level at the start of the fourth quarter, Coach Wood began to send in his reserves. The quarter was highlighted by Mike O'Brien, a sophomore from the Albany area, who demonstrated the power Coast Wood has on his bench.

It was O'Brien and Mueller leading the reserve squad of sophomores to the final gun when Ithaca was 38 points better than Wilkes. Final score 117-73 with Strickland high for the night with 33 points and Stokowski last with 16.

SPORTS—Isn't it a bit sad when you stop to think that most games have been lost to key teams with a bad record, while Ithaca College had a good hockey team that same season. In Nova Scotia, where the teams were all of similar quality... According to the latest available figures the Bomber field goal percentage was up to 52.

The only blue part of the day was when Dick Bona ran into a real match and was declared after a tough fight.

Perhaps the biggest surprise of the night was when Dick Bona ran into a real match and was declared after a tough fight.

The Bombers in no chance for Wednesday, February 18, 1959 home appearance of the season to this point would be a watch. The Bombers have come a long way since early in December. As of now, they've enjoyed a winning season, and could easily improve over last year's 12-3 record.

It's often surprising how much a club may change as a season progresses. In their first few games the Bombers didn't look like a good ball club. They weren't picking the type of ball everyone knew they were capable of, against Cortland, at home, the Bombers looked anything but good, and perhaps a few who reached that night. However, from there on, there was a gradual improvement in team as individual play. When the Bombers returned, over the club began to roll in high gear. Over the past six weeks the boys have been playing together and there have been some great individual performances. Liebrock, Stokowski, and Churchill have turned in consistently good floor games. Stokowski's big comeback has been followed up by double figure performances by one or more of the other boys in every game. The numerous costly violations of early season were cut down. All these factors have contributed to a successful season. The Bombers preserve credit for the improvement. So that for improvement, here's a "well done" salute to our team, and, as "best luck" for the remaining games.

This month of February also features the last filings of the wrestling team that could be dubbed I.C.'s hard luck club of the year. It's 3-5 record has been com-
