Overload Assembly Crowd on Hand For Glenn Cunningham's Address

In his speech and as one student remarked afterward, "he talked almost as fast as he runs," Glenn Cunningham made a Young Men's Christian Association address at Wednesday's student assembly.

The keg, labeled "Kansas Boy," rested on a table where students should have been eating.

"We are all one," he said, "and it is the duty of each and every one of us to help those who are in need. We cannot afford to be selfish or self-centered, for we are all part of the same family."

Cunningham spoke about the importance of education and how it can lead to success. He encouraged the students to work hard, to be kind to one another, and to always strive to be the best they can be.

"Education is not just a means to an end," he said. "It is a way of life. It is a way of thinking. It is a way of being."

"We must all work together to make the world a better place," he concluded. "Let us be kind to one another, let us be fair, let us be just. Let us all work together to make the world a better place."
SCAMMERS SETS NEW PRECEDENT

Since "Scammers" was such a complete success and innovation, it behooves us to attempt to the coming and present undergraduates that they carry on in the present tradition. In the opinion of most of the faculty members and seniors, this was by far the best "Scammers" yet presented to the public of Ithaca. The idea of a complete original unit is not novel in itself but it is a new trend for Ithaca College.

May I suggest that through this coming semester it would be a good idea to begin working on original money, skits, dances, and arrangements and have them ready for the first part of the school year. With more rehearsal and concentrated effort, "Scammers" can be made into a first-rate production of the Little Theatre year.

The spirit of cooperation and willingness to work always brings a feeling of good-will among the students. We forget that we are music students, drama students, or physical education students. We forget that we belong to various opposing or competing fraternities or sororities. This, of course, makes for a definite "class" we become one single solid organization. "In union there is strength."

Congratulations to Oracles for sponsoring such a worthwhile thing as this and for giving us the assistance and counsel to Martin Avery and George Boomer for their loyalty and work on the annual end of the production; to Bill Carney for his fine conducting, and of course to Ed Kelley who originated the idea of a new habit and industry to carry it through to a triumphant finish.

Marla was absolutely beautiful just as she gestured virulently. It was at the tea given in the English pavilion that I first met Tom Correll, and the discussion was on Barcelona and the former Spanish minister of something-or-other. I watched her breasts, fasci- culated. It was made up of little gold leaves with her favorite con- certs engraved on them. Moscow, Madrid, Sydney, Jerusalem. A woman of the world! The conversation shifted from place to place at the little group surrounding her discovered mutual acquaintances in London, Paris, Berlin.

I wondered about getting an in- terview, but someone beat me to it; I learned in. The usual question: "Have you ever been here long?"

"No, just six weeks. Came over on a last British boat without con- voy. Took twelve days. Horrible lights out and one allowed onto deck after P.M. No one moved without a life preserver. The first thing I did in New York was to pull up the blinds and turn off all the lights. I tell one of the first night reading for my gas mask, when I heard a police siren in the street.

How I inquired, "But what a terrible claim it must be to live abroad in that atmosphere."

"On the contrary. You are more sane here than we are. It's part of our life, and we are too busy to think of it. No buses; we walk wherever we're going. London life is gay and there are more theaters going than in New York, despite raid dangers. Everybody does war work—drama, exhibitions, government."

Then in a slightly amused tone: "Want it a critical audience?" No one answered, but she was right; the audience had been critical and, in

Monday evening, March 11, Epsilon Chapter pledged nine fresh girls. They were Fay Ellis, Eleanor Kehnig, Ellen Smalley, Martha Williams, Elizabeth Schenck, Clara Wolfe, Helen Kombraten, Maude Mcisaac, and Dorothy Manson.

We are pleased to announce that Mrs. Lynn Baggot, Mrs. Pierre Henriotte, and Mrs. Carl Schroder have accepted our invitation to be Pus-Perene members.

Mrs. Julia J. Osher, National President of the Federation of Music Clubs of America, and Epsilon Chapter Honorary member, visited Ithaca last week on business.

Miss Gertrude Evans, our National President, left Monday on an extensive trip of visiting chapters all over the country.

Junior Week activities included a Tea Dance held at the Sigma House Saturday afternoon. It was well attended and a pleasant time was enjoyed by all. Alumnae sisters visiting us over the week-end were Helena Searing, Betty Krites and Mary MacDonald.

Don’t forget Sigma Spring Formals—April 19th.

Delta Phi

Due to the rush of play rehearsals, Stampers, and Junior Week-end, the Delta Phi girls have been kept very busy.

We are very proud that Jane Peg was chosen to be Prom Queen. We wish to offer her heartiest and most sincere congratulations.

As a postlude to the Prom a closed Breakfast Dance was held Sat- day from 5 to 8 A.M., for Delta Phi girls and their escorts. Saturday evening we held open house.

House guests for the week-end were: Ruth Brown of flushing, Virginia Tice of Moravia, and Doris Leach whose name needs no further mention.

Next Friday evening, March 15, Delta Phi is planning to hold an open "Nick" dance. The charge will be 25 cents per couple. We wish to take this opportunity to urge everyone to get a date and come for evening of enjoyment.

Phil Mu Alpha

The festivities of the famous Junior Week-end were brought to a close by a formal house dance Saturday night, March 10. Music was appropriately furnished by "swing sisters" of the house. Among those "festrers" in the field who were available for that week-end included Brothers Russ Williams and "Doc" W. Zettel.

Monday evening, March 11, the following were pledged to the fraternity: Satina, Bigler, and Downer.

We also wish to remind you that we have Harry Johnson living in the house with us this year! It is with deep regret that we announce that the Phi Mu "F.A." fell in defeat to the Plain Street "A.C.A." to the tune of 17-24.

For the month the Phi Delta "dogs" (pledges to you) have given their all to the Phi Delts. Their unir-"in efforts in the arts of saluting, sweeping, ironing, washing, cleaning rooms, and other small tasks have been the cause for so many comments and noted looks on the countenances of the members. Friday night a house dance will be held for the pledges to put them into the proper spirit for the all night session of informal initiation which will follow the dance. Sunday afternoon, March 17, a formal initia- tion will take place which will be followed by a formal banquet at the Ithaca Hotel with Dr. Benjamin Catherwood as the guest speaker.

At the last meeting, arrangements were made for another profes- sional session in the near future, and plans were discussed for another Phi Delta Pi will elect new officers for 1940-41 at the next meeting.

To keep in the swing of things Junior Week-end, the Phi Delta held a Dance Dance and served refreshments while we were still able to see out at least one eye.

Again Phi Delta Phi welcomed Jean Edle, Margaret Cleveland, Bert Washburn, and Lucille Bacon back for a short visit over the week-end.

UP-BEAT (Continued from page 1) a way, rightly so. Her playing was like the velvety smooth south of a kitten's paw—with the claws sheathed. One wished for some dynamite, some flashing runs, a cold shower to clear the hazy atmosphere.

Yet I think that many of the criticisms were based more on emotion than on sound reasoning. People were so bothered by the peculiar program that they overlooked the merits of the performance. But, to leave Miss Cohen, that is the trouble with so much criticism, condemning an entirety for one of its parts. That might be all right for some but not for an educator. A teacher's criticism must be both tolerant and constructive.
