the week.

New Brochure Issued; To Publicize College

The latest development in the campaign to publicize Ithaca

College is in the form of a sixteen page brochure which has come off the press this week. It is entitled "Ithaca College: Fifty-Seven Years of Achievement, A Visual Summary".

and contains pictures and descriptions of the college and its many activities.

The next step in the promotion of the brochure will be its distribution to all high school principals in New York State, Ithaca College Alumni, newspapers, radio stations, television stations, and faculty members; A. Garman.

since the budget is tight, this will be handled by Dr. Grimshaw.

Students will have had a conference with

Dr. Grimshaw during which they will be told of the procedures required and the ethics to be maintained. They will also receive invitations to see the revised films and be briefed on the school, as well as the career opportunities of students.

This will include descriptions, showing of Kodak

chrome slides, and listening to remarks by the professors teaching experiences.

Oracle Election Earned By 33

Eleven seniors, nineteen juniors, and three faculty members were hired last week by election to Oracle membership in the College Library.

The highest scholastic recognition attainable at the time the paper goes to The five thousand copies of the issue, which will be turned back to the colgle for this scholarship. It will con-to be awarded to a deserving student in the School of Business at Ithaca

College, and both have had much work during the past few years.

Fifteen plans are completed and their views approved, the two visitors will enroll in the IC School of Business for two years, with financial assistance provided by many interested individuals and agencies in and around Ithaca.

Original plans were started when a report on magazine promotion made by the Ithaca Westmount Foundation early last fall to the Women's Association of the Wasson Gym Club.

At that time, the plight of displaced persons, refugees, political fugitives and war prisoners, was pointed out and letters were read from Miss Schulz describing the requirements and conditions of

and other articles.

Many offers of help still needed by those who paid the greatest price for the war and all readers who may be interested in the lot of them, are asked to help by sending what they can

to: Mr. Paul Schulz, Volperstrasse

11, Nienburg/Weser, Germany.

Although consideration for membership in Oracle is originally designed for high scholarship, grades alone are not enough to guarantee election. Also taken into consideration are: character, personality, the recommendation of departmental directors, and participation in extra-curricular activities.

The initiates are: Gabriel, Charles Gray, Donald Jackson, Earl Popp, Gertrude Rudmin,

and Robert Soffes.

Review in Recital

One of the student body recently said that most of the student recitals are pretty "stuffy." I hope that the student body was referring to the recital on Wednesday evening, March 16, which was presented at the Memorial Auditorium. While this recital certainly was not one of "those stuffy ones," if anything it was "over­sized."

The recital opening selection, Seguidilla by Albéniz, typified all too well that pleasant, rhythmic, and melodic stylized "flamenco" atmosphere that typifies the best brand's playing was clean and had all the right musical inflections. Furthermore, it seemed to herald a good recital opener. It would have been more at home in Aunt Mar­tha's parlor.

Debusky's Minuet was another appealing little piece and due credit should be given to Betty Lou Cohen for the sensitive, dexterous interpretation. Betty Jean Taylor's interpreta­tion of The Jugler by Tschirhart was one of an equally pleasant little selection.

The first violinist of the evening, Eleanor Russell, proved again the ability of our fine group of students to turn out another show even of this caliber. They were played with technical proficiency and without a hint of strain, and her playing was dynamic, yet disarmingly gentle. This, her first recital appearance, was an unprecedented success.

The second violinist, Madeline Robbins, shared the stage with Mr. Lovett. Her interpretation of The Adagio movement from Mozart's Concerto in G Minor seems to have become a permanent fixture in the recital program. This time Robert Lovett presented his interpretation of the adagio movement. Mr. Lovett seems to have considerable technical difficulty which may have been the cause of the rather inconsistent inter­pretation.

The first violists are heard far too seldom on our recital programs. Kenneth Jere­mey's playing of the Kol Nidre by Elgar was a welcome change of piano literature. The tone quality of this student's playing was beyond reproach and his performance was quite impressive.

This evening's recital was pleasing and enjoyable. If anything, it was "over­sized." For more information, ask the student body what they think about the recital. If you do not believe them, you must have been asleep. If you feel that this person was in the audience with you, you might want to change your attitude to a more friendly and receptive one. This person is the author of the recital program.

To all those who participated in the recital and to those who listened, thank you for your interest and your support.

To Compete In NCAA's

The second fastest pin of the tournament was received his great ovation from the packed house at the Case Club. It was after this victory that Jim La Rock, Willson of Wheaton, undefeated 155 pounder, his weight shed down to 148 pounds in the 4-1 tournament was scored in the final round, as the only pin in the final round, as the public the College's courses and action. Promotion of attendance at college events, to which the public is invited, is one of the most important jobs of the News Bureau. Through the proper timing of advance stories in local newspapers and others circulating in the area, such as Ithaca News, that the Syracuse Herald-Journal—thehouse organ—can stress the public in attending the plays, concerts, recitals, and athletic events and the boards and the town. Stories in nearby cities that have expressed interest in Ithaca College are also informed of forthcoming attractions at the university.

In villages and cities that Ithaca College students call "home," their parents and friends have learned of their college activities and achievements through reports in newspapers of the area. The News Bureau maintains a card file of all the students, their homes and addresses, and newspapers which circulate in the vicinity. News stories are forwarded to these papers when the student participates in varsity or freshman athletics, a play, a concert, is initiated into a fraternity or honorary society, or receives recognition in any other way.

When the student is graduated, a biographical sketch of his achievements should be sent to his home community. This information is sent to newspapers of the area, to the National Collegiate Press, and to the New York Herald Tribune for distribution.

Each week during the sports season, the News Bureau compiles the scoring reports of all sports teams, and the number of points scored by each team in games played this year, as many other photographs of Ithaca activities.

The News Bureau also compiles the records of all sports teams, and the number of games played by each team in games played this year, as many other photographs of Ithaca activities.

CAMPS AND NOTES

In an effort to provide our readers with a complete schedule of what is going on in the various Ithaca College athletic and social events, we have compiled the following information:

- Pi Theta Psi
  - The physics fraternity is one of the newest groups in the school and is making rapid strides to become active. It is establishing a department at Ithaca High School.

- Phi Delta Phi
  - The department was formed to promote the interests of the students in the field of physics. The department is making plans to elect new officers in April and to hold their annual banquet and formal initiation in the summer. Phi Delta Phi has started and will continue until May 14th. It will be of interest to all.

- Delta Kappa
  - The society is interested in the development and extension of educational ties between graduates and undergraduates. They are making plans to elect new officers in April and to hold their annual banquet and formal initiation in the summer.

- Kappa Psi Alpha
  - At the last meeting, the main order of business seemed to be plans for the various activities. The announcement was made that giving due consideration to the purpose of the organization, the time and place of the meetings. The meeting was held at 4:30 p.m. in the Ithaca Hotel Ballroom. Plans for the meeting included a discussion of the work of the various committees and a report on the progress of the various projects.

RADIO WORKSHOP

By Richard Wanamaker and Frank Stanley

The final program in the dramatic series Of One Blood was presented last Sunday over WHCU-AM and FM, with transmitted recap Tues. at 7 p.m. over Rural Radio. This show, produced and directed by the Ithaca College Theatre, was a special casting of the little-known, but significant, story of the Sacco and Vanzetti affair. It is based on the popular novel by Hylton. The remainder of the program was given over to Ann and the music, and, as usual, interference, moderated by Mr. Groller and including several religious and civic leaders of Ithaca.

Selected programs for early May will use scripts of the JC radio subjects on the subject of “Conservation” and will be broadcast over WHCU-AM at the State Fair. These will be unusual for the film stations now using its facilities. Coverage, for this daily aid to education, which is heard by children in all schools over the state, will surpass the previous effort.

Mr. Elise T. Hadlock and Mr. Dewitt Ziem of Boynton Junior High School in Ithaca, will exercise overall supervision of the programs, originating in the Lenox, and will be participating in the subject matter of each program.

The radio group will also call the attention of the prospective listeners to the many new schedules that are now taking the recent started courses in Radio Education with Mr. Groller.

Play Contest

Last year, fifteen plays were submitted for the Play Contest. A play is due to Mr. Groller by May 14th. It is hoped that the number of plays entered in this contest will surpass the previous effort. The deadline for entries is May 14th. The Ithaca College is an open class contest for all eligible students. Anyone can enter. The winning plays will be performed in April. All entries are due to Mr. Groller by May 14th. It is hoped that the number of entries will be increased to include Buffalo and Albany.

Rules for Contest

1. The contest is open to any member of the Ithaca College student body, resident or non-resident.
2. All plays submitted must be in one act or in act for 30 minutes. Plays may be acted, and under 60 minutes running time, and suitable for production.
3. Each entry must be left with the Art Department of the study of the Ithaca College student body.
4. Each entry must be left with the office of the Student Body President, Mr. Groller.
5. All entries must be typed, double-spaced, and signed by each student.
6. The decision of the unbiased board of judges will be final. Plays will be judged on originality and facility of production.

Althomua Wirtz From France

Those who remember Nicholas Althomua, former ICP Ph Ed., may be interested in the following excerpt from a letter received by Miss Weir of the Speech staff. Rich Althomua was studying at the Sorbonne in France.

"The fact that I play basketball every afternoon, and that the weather is beautiful, gives me many advantages that the ordinary foreman lacks. Of course, I may not be very rich. But the very rich have nothing to offer except what the very poor have."

"My studies keep me very busy... much more so than my days at school."
