New WSU Ratings Ease Curtail And Visiting Policy

According to Dean Helen H. Hood, Dean of Women, a Women’s Student Government Council meeting this past week took action on several measures.

The first measure was the Council’s decision to make the Freshman curfew 11:00 p.m., for weekdays. This enables the Freshman Students to vote on the 10:15 p.m. bus to South Hill instead of the 10:05 p.m. bus.

The second measure was voted by the Women’s Student Government Council, which permits Women students to be in the lobbies of Valentine and Quayle dorms and the South Hill Men’s Dorms, from 7-12 p.m. Proctors must be on duty and all Women students must enter by the front door and stay in the lobby.
Students Shape Up

When we reduce the function of Student Council to that of a police force, we are reducing the capacities which this organization was meant to have.

Lately, Council has been called upon to recover stolen objects and return them to the College Union. Quickly, and quietly, Council recovered these articles through lecture and prying out a sense of responsibility from the students.

Careless neglect of responsibilities might have proven embarrassing to Ithaca College. The closing of the lounge or snack bar would both have been a difficult situation to explain to prospective students and their parents to say nothing of our own guests.

We of the Ithacan acknowledge the efforts of Council and hope that in the future they will not be asked to teach ethical standards which should have been learned by now.

New Regime

Doing something for the first time is an experience that incurs mixed reactions—both in the doors and the recipients of the new managing staff of the Ithacan. Child like to express a dual attitude towards this, our first solo publication. We realize, in very concrete terms, just how much we are indebted to our predecessors for the firm body of organization that they have passed into our hands. We feel a strong responsibility for maintaining the standards that were an integral part of our predecessors' policy.

On the one hand, however, no organization can ever hope to remain static and still be a true representative of its student body. Our attitude at this present moment may be described as an "elastick" one which includes a willingness to shape new goals and grow in new directions as we, the staff, animate ourselves to the needs and wants of the student body.

We are sure that you of the student body, receiving the end product of our labors, have various reactions also. Enthusiasm, curiosity, pleasure, displeasure? Criticism can be a vital and constructive force . . . an indication of the awareness of the students, but criticism without action is stagnant! We would like to urge anyone to act in this respect. Comment and criticism can contribute what they have to offer towards the improvement of this school newspaper. The Ithacan is opening its doors to those who are interested, and many should be, in becoming a functioning part of its staff.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor: At the most recent meeting of Student Council there was a motion passed to which I was the only representative to vote a no. In this motion, I.C. "talkers" would be the members of the committee or the president would have the power to express my opinion on the action which Student Council is about to take.

The Student Council decided on February 7 that the Junior Class was guilty of collecting money for this year's Student Council has the charge of hunting "and other activities." Your true, L.A. Rep. to Council

 Costa Rican Election Has Dr. Kolmin Wednesday, 5 February, 1962

Dr. Kolmin In New Position; Seeks African “Talent” by Barbara Conley

Dr. Frank Kolmin, Assistant Dean of Arts and Sciences, had this to say about the selection of the presidential student program, “There is good academic talent out there. What is needed is the chance for them to get higher education.”

Dr. Kolmin was recently invited to take a seat on the steering committee of the African Scholarship Program of American Universities. This is an honor both for Kolmin and for Ithaca College. On the board, universities such as Harvard, Princeton and Ohl are represented. As of January 1, 1960, the Cooperative African Scholarship Program, which was conceived and conducted from Ithaca College, merged with the African Scholarship Program of American Universities. GASP contributed forty-two to the pool of funds.

Dean Kolmin and his colleagues administer the program and have the final say. For the first time, Kolmin went to New York to recommend African students to universities for admissions. It will be up to the individual institutions to admit the students.

Dr. Kolmin feels that these students have valid recommendations since they are “very mature people with an extreme sense of purpose, and their own personal advancement to their own underdeveloped country.”

Dr. Kolmin recently traveled to Africa to screen African students being admitted to two hundred American colleges and universities under the auspices of the GASP.

Dr. Kolmin was one of nine members on the committee responsible for the screening.

Dr. Kolmin’s friends and fellow countrymen in the United States have incorporated and have been a major asset to his work. He has brought to the country his knowledge of the undesirable pro-Communist, anti-revolution which ousted the government of the revolution which ousted the government of Mr. Ulate Blanco in 1948.

As friends and fellow countrymen in their struggle for justice.

The Ithaca College varsity won its 11th match in a row with a 12-7 victory over their opponents.

Dr. Kolmin went to New York last year to recommend African students to American colleges and universities for admissions.

IC Organizations Schedule Ebbets, Jouglard, in Local Bowling Clinic

Professional bowlers Harriet Ebbets, a former IC graduate, and Lee Jouglard will highlight the "Tree" Bowling Clinic scheduled this weekend at Ithaca's Bowling Lanes and sponsored by the IC Organizations. Many of the students are planning to join in with Ithaca's AMF Staff for the benefit of its loan fund. The preparations are under the direction of the Ithaca College Bowling Club in cooperation with the AMF Staff of Champions and AAMF Pinippers. Ebbets, a member of the AMF Staff of Champions and winner of the Detroit Times Single Classic with 1,084 for five games. Since 1948, he has been a member of Detroit's All-City Bowler.

The clinic, held as an incentive toward the goal of running all weekend with Friday afternoon being reserved especially for Ithaca College students. The exact time will be announced. Tickets for the drawings so far include two bowling bags, a bowling ball, bowling shoes, and bowling displays.

Dr. Wilferger (Continued from page 1) two years served as a medical officer in England, with the Air Force.

He practiced in Ohio before coming to Ithaca and was a member with full privileges of six hospitals.

In addition to the American Academy of Orthopaedic Surgeons, Dr. Wilferger is a member of the American Medical Association, and a Diplomate of the American Board of Orthopaedic Surgery.

The crowning of the winner will take place at the Annual Sweetharts Pageant and Dance on Saturday, February 24, from 9 to 11, at the Y.W.W. Hall.

The Ithaca Village

The Ithaca College Oracle Society sponsors a musical production each year for the benefit of its loan fund. The preparation of this production and its presentation are entirely under the direction of the student body.

Scampers '62 was a fine success. Jim Aversa and Jay Tarses provide the comic relief called THE VILLAGE HEIR. In comparison with the standard form of music comedy this one would have to be considered short. There's nothing set up and nothing professed. It just goes. Bright, witty lines pop out of the briskly paced dialogues here and there in every type situation. These lines are funny, and they play well; but if you miss one you just have to sit back and wait for another. The script remains largely dependant on the lightness of the material and the business.

The musical element of THE VILLAGE HEIR must truly be considered its outstanding feature. Composed by John Whitney, it swings from catchy, finger-stopping melodies to smooth, silent hummimg rhythms. It's really good and provides the show with proper pace. Hats off to Mr. Whitney, Steve Brown, the arranger, and again Jay Tarses, who wrote the lyrics.

Craig McNab staged the entire production of THE VILLAGE HEIR, and he puts on a very well done. His judgment with the scene transitions, some of which were executed in periods of total stage blackouts, was a careful one. The scene design, provided by Cliff Wardle, appeared to call for a rather heavy setting as soon as the lights were restored and the next scene underway, but it was inventive and played well. Director McNab and Designer Wardle showed cleverness in their handling of the musical and production business.

All of the individual performances were generally good. Some of course were better. Mike Wittern, Linda Graves, Kathy Kriese, and Harriet were turned out good, solid leading roles. Wittern, as Elmer Gettle, used his face well in reacting to the cast in the various setups. There are no tiny beardless hoy in New York's Lower Village. Miss Keating performed like the name Grace Klemm sounds—strong and straight. She can belt a song with a Ritz Classic and with it was shown very good in the romantic interest. Linda Drake. She was unpretentious and played an easy, graceful quality. She was also charming with her solo song, "The Way I Really Feel." Al Graubard offered some clever flashes of comedy with his portrayal of Rainbow Ch focus house.

It is not difficult for me to consider outstanding performers of Scampers '62. The best musical characterization provided by Jim Gregory was excellent. As Overt Allen he sang, shipped, preached, and was an amusing character on the stage. Gregory was comical. We should see more of him on the Ithaca stage next season. In addition to the American Machine and Foundry Company, makers of AMF Automatic Pinippers, Lee Jouglard of Detroit possesses one of the sport's most surprising records.

Elected as "Bowler of the Year" by the Bowling Writers Association of America for 1959-60, he was the Number One bowler on Mark Mark's Bowling All-American Team the same season when he set a new ABC league average (270) in winning the singles title. At the same time he won his first ABC Masters invitational tournament and was runner-up in the championship round of the ABC League for nine games. Also that year he bowled a total of 2,084 for nine games which copped the ABC team All-Events with an all-time high of 9,060. He currently ranks sixth in ten year ABC averages with 202.60.

Among his other major accomplishments were a "300" club diamond medal (he has bowled twelve "300" games), a "700" club trophy and his ten year league average (cumulative) of 210, highest average of 217. He was runner-up in the National Tournament of Champions in 1960-61, in which he placed third the year before. In 1962 he won the Michigan State Doubles Elimination with Pete Carter, and was runner-up for the Michigan State Match Game Championships in 1961, and again in 1963 and 1965.

When at Ithaca College, she served as vice president of Phi Delta Phi, was a member of WAA, and was associated with three Scampers productions.

Harriet, born altiste, has been bowling professionally for only two years, yet her natural ability, fine coordination, and her playful handling of the problems of musical production. It is not difficult for me to consider outstanding performers of Scampers '62. The best musical characterization provided by Jim Gregory was excellent. The Bomers return home this Saturday evening as they engage powerhouse L.E.T., always one of the Nation's top teams. In Singles, 1964, in Singles, at xyx, in what should be a close contest. There will be a tie to start at 6:30. Coach Herb Broadwell may be planning a few changes in order to strengthen the I.C. lineup at Lou Ricks may be moved back to five, or Bob Ronny Jaccoli may drop a notch to the 147 pound class.

Any students interested in participating in any of the committees should contact Bob Ronny for further information.
