THE AMARD DRAMATIC FRATERNITY

Presents their Founder

President George C. Williams

in his own dramatization of

“CAP’N WARREN”

By Joseph Lincoln

The first performance of Joseph C. Lincoln’s Cap’n Warren, dramatized by President Williams, will be given by the Amard fraternity, in the Little Theatre, tonight.

Mr. Williams, founder of the Amards, will be presented in the leading role—that of Cap’n Warren—and indications from rehearsals promise a clever and subtle interpretation of Lincoln’s well known “old tar.” Mr. Williams will be supported by members of the fraternity. Katherine Boyle, who played the lead in The Queen’s Husband, will portray the part of Caroline, niece of Cap’n Warren, while Roland Fernand, president of the fraternity, plays Stephen, his nephew. Mr. Sisson will play opposite Miss Boyle.

Mr. Chadwick, scenic artist, has prepared special scenery for the occasion, and has endeavored to keep as much as possible to the old Cape Cod setting in which the action of the first and last acts takes place.

Special scenic effects, which form an important contribution to the setting of the play, have been carried out by Don Foxe, technical director.

This promises to be one of the most outstanding productions of the school year. In his dramatization, Mr. Williams retained all the charm of Lincoln’s Cape Cod stories, with their whimsical characters and laugh-provoking situations, sprinkled here and there with a tear and a heart throb.

A number of years ago, Mr. Williams asked permission of Mr. Lincoln, who is an intimate friend of his, to cut the well-beloved story of Cap’n Warren, so that he might use it as a monologue. The latter gave his assent, and when Mr. Williams had accomplished his purpose, he was invited to Mr. Lincoln’s summer home at Cape Cod, to present the reading before the author and a group of his friends. Mr. Williams’ adaptation of the book, into a monologue, pleased his host so much, that he was asked to dramatize the story so that it might be given on the stage. He acquiesced, and after he started the work, it only took him one month to complete the task, and have it ready for presentation. The play has been given twice before in this school, with Mr. Williams as Cap’n Warren both times, and from the comments on the former performances alone, we know that Mr. Williams has achieved something which is well worth our pride in him.
While he was the guest of Mr. Lincoln that summer, he became well-acquainted with the man who is the character Mr. Lincoln had in mind, when he wrote the book. This man is Cap'n Hendrick, an old "salt" who has spent the biggest share of his life on the water. This veteran of the seas, has since then, taken Mr. Williams with him on many fishing trips, which have been always profitable. Because of the friendship between these two men, Mr. Williams is able to portray the leading character in a splendid way.

The Amardas feel decidedly proud at this time to be able to present their founder in one of his own dramatizations. The performance will be given Friday and Saturday nights as well as tonight. Tickets may be had at the box office now for all performances; so reserve your seats right away and don't fail to see what promises to be one of the best productions of the season.

PHI DELT NEWS

We take this opportunity of announcing to the Conservatory students that our membership has been increased by six new members. Four A. M. Friday morning witnessed a mysterious gathering of shivery girls in the vicinity of the Phi Delt house. Purpose—informal initiation. Formal initiation was held on Saturday afternoon and preceded the initiation banquet which was held at the Ithaca Hotel. The speaker of the evening was Miss Gretchen Niece, a member of Alpha chapter of Phi Delta Pi and installer of Theta Chapter here in Ithaca. Our other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Chapman, new patron and patroness of our chapter, and our new members—Christine Ackerman, Emily Chickerling, Treva Elieher, Grace Niesch, Anne Safford and Jane Smith.

Between preparation for initiation and rehearsals for “Six Student Scampers” we have been pretty busy this past week, and now we’re all set for a bit of rest—and some concentrated study. “Forewarned is forearmed,” and Dr. Sharpe gave us a fair warning of what he expected of us in his speech at our assembly on Friday morning. Words don’t adequately express it, but—it certainly is great to have him back again, and we Phi Delts are for him “to a man.”

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA

Miss Gertrude Evans, and Miss Kathryn Evans have returned from a very pleasant trip to Boston, Mass., where they were the guests of the Lambda chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota.

Miss Mary Aldrich, who is at present teaching in Syracuse University, spent last weekend with us. We were all very glad to see Mary again, and we hope for more visits in the future.

A very successful benefit bridge was held at the Chapter House, Saturday afternoon, December 8th.

Epsilon Chapter expresses its sympathy to Miss Evelyn Johnson, who was called home recently, due to the sudden death of her father.

DELTA PHI NEWS

On Tuesday, October 30th, a wiener roast was given by Delta Phi in the Conservatory Gym. In spite of the inclement of the weather, we all had a delightful time.

Saturday afternoon, November 24th, a card party given by this sorority, was held at the home of Miss Ward. We were pleased to have as our guests, Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Wilcox. Virginia Jarvis won first prize, Edith Quackenbush, second prize, and Ruth Nason, the booby prize.

OUTSIDE GIRLS

The Outside Girls have at last chosen a name. After a long search we finally decided upon the name suggested by Dean Spencer, which is “OGO”, or Outside Girls Organization.

In the new Conservatory building, we have

ORCHESTRA CONCERT

Wednesday evening, December 19, at 8:15 in the Little Theatre, the Conservatory Orchestra, directed by Mr. Adolf Pick will give a concert. Among other numbers the Orchestra will render, will be the Eighth Symphony by Beethoven. Also the Poeme Symphonique “Vltava” by Smetana, given by the full orchestra; and part by the string orchestra. The soloist for the evening will be Miss Mary Aldrich of Syracuse University, formerly of the Ithaca Conservatory, who will sing “Hear Ye, Israel!” from the Elijah.

CONSERVATORY NOTES

Eulila Bunnell, contralto, gave a solo in the First Methodist church on Sunday evening, November 25th.

Messrs. Don Chartier, Anthony Bel, Nicholas Di Nardo, Otto Panara, Lynn Bogart and Bern­ard Mendelkern are playing in the Bingham­ton Symphony Orchestra, every Sunday afternoon.

During the Thanksgiving holidays, Dan Dewhurst, baritone, sang once more in the Jewish Synagogue of Hamilton, Ohio, where he was the soloist for some time, before coming here.

Martha Stahler of Newman Hall, sang several delightful numbers recently, at the festival which was held in the Baptist Church. She was accompanied by Ann Friedman.

FACULTY RECITAL

At 4 P.M. this afternoon in the Little Theatre Miss Jean Lee Latham will read two of her own plays, “The Blue Teapot,” and “The Little Chap.” The former play has been given many times both here in Ithaca, Geneva, and other places, and is quite a favorite. The latter play won third place in the West Virginia State Contest of the National Drama League. Both of these plays are familiar to Ithaca audiences and it will be a pleasure to hear Miss Latham, as author as well as dramatist, read them.

ASSEMBLY

On Thursday morning, December 20, we will have the pleasure of listening to an address given by Mr. Harry G. Stutz who is the Editor of the Ithaca Journal News. So far we have not heard from many of our town friends and we consider it a privilege to have Mr. Stutz come over and speak to us.

been fortunate enough to obtain a room which will serve as our club-room. There was a formal opening of this club-room, some time ago. We wish to thank all those who have so kindly donated furniture and other things, to make the place home-like and cheerful.

The club will be open Sunday afternoon, and Monday, Wednesday, and Friday nights. There is no restriction upon the use of it, for any outside girl. It is a place where she may feel wel-

AMARD’S ANNUAL TWELFTH NIGHT REVELS

December 20th

The Amard’s annual “Twelfth Night Revels” will be held Thursday, December 20th in the Dutch Kitchen of the Ithaca Hotel.

The “Revels” is a reversion to one of the old Elizabethan customs and includes the visitation of the “Revelers,” all clad in gay costume, to all the dormitories, where they will sing during the regular dinner hour. This is followed in the Dutch Kitchen by a banquet and a presentation of the old Lutenworth Christmas play, as was presented at Christmas time during the reign of “Good Queen Bess.” The banquet will be followed by a dance, which will bring to a close one of the most elaborate social events of the season. The “Revels” is also a get-together of all our alumni who are able to be back, and we expect a goodly number.

The “Revels” will express the jollity and good will of the Christmas spirit, and with this aim in mind—the Amards are planning this year’s “Revels” with the hope of its being the best ever given.

SOPHOMORES OF WIL­LIAMS SCHOOL IN RECITAL

The Sophomores of the Williams School of Expression and Dramatic Art will be presented in a recital on the evening of December 20th. The program will be unique and will be a departure from the usual order in as much as a skit has been planned in addition to reading—both dramatic and humorous. An exceptionally talented class, the Sophomores promise a full evening of enjoyment.

Lester A. Sisson
who has a prominent part in “Cap’n Warren.”

The campground is a place where she may feel welcome to go, anytime it is open.

Elaborate plans are being completed for a Christmas party to be held December 15th, in the Public School Music building. We guarantee a good time for all those who attend. Watch out for further notices of the details of this party.
SIX STUDENT SCAMPERS POSTPONED

The Six Student Scampers have been postponed until after Christmas, when they will be given with all the zest with which they were started. The date has been set for Tuesday and Wednesday nights, directly after vacation. The dress rehearsal will be on Monday night, January 7. Every one be on time, for this night is just as, if not more important, than the nights of the performance.

EGBERT HALL

It seems but a very short time ago, even less than one week, that we were all anxiously anticipating the twenty-eighth. It came and went just as every Thanksgiving does and now we are back at college and working as hard as ever. Sunday night and Monday morning were spent in discussing what had happened, and where, with each “Egbertan.” The vacation must have, however, been too much for some of our girls. There has been no more than five or six at each breakfast since and “Mary” Muller and Marion Duncan have been ill.

Plans for our house dance this Friday night have kept some of our girls very busy and the good time each shall have will be the reward for their well spent efforts.

Miss Julia Stubblefield, daughter of Mrs. Harry Bretz, house matron of Bank’s Dormitory, has been visiting her mother since Thanksgiving. For some unknown reason each fellow seems to have a peculiar desire for wanting to get home. Perhaps I am a bit general in saying “each fellow” but with a few exceptions the rule is true.

We hear from Ben Phillips that he is meeting with good success with his Glee Club, Band and Orchestra. His letters sound very enthusiastic. Fay Swift is also very much interested in his work. He is planning big things for his pupils. Stanley Porter has a splendid band. His seventy-five piece band has been making a big hit at the football games this Fall.

WILLIAMS HALL

(In this case William’s troubles)

Last week I heard a reading on the Student Recital—(It’s Hard To Be A Lady In A Hardware Store)—and it made me think—I just wonder if you’d all like to know “It’s Hard To Be A Fresh At William’s.” And the worst part of it is that we Fresh don’t get a chance to ever say what we really feel. I’m continually being either “Shushed” or ignored by the “august body” known as the “Upperclasswoman.”

Take for instance the preparation for our house dance! The Upperclasswomen were busy making out their programs while we sat making our paper flowers!! It may be fun to be “infantile”—but even as dignified a Fresh as I can get nowhere.

But here! I forgot that in payment for the privilege of expressing my thoughts in this brief space—I was to give the news notes of the house. News! A Fresh doesn’t even get in on the bits of news. But one thing we all know, we surely missed Mother Fowler a great deal during her sojourn at the Infirn, and we are very glad to have her with us again. And in spite of the peace and quiet (?) enjoyed during the Thanksgiving vacation—it seemed good to have everyone “return to the fold.”

Among the guests were Mrs. Lyons, Mrs. Spencer, Miss Julia Stubblefield, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stagg. The dance was not the only important event. Banks Hall was transformed into a veritable snow palace, with decorations of icicles, stars, and Christmas candles, and falling snow. Stanley Martin and his eight-piece band furnished the music, and established an enviable reputation for themselves. They have acquired twenty loyal patrons.

Among the guests were Mrs. Lyons, Mrs. Spencer, Miss Julia Stubblefield, and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Stagg. The dance would have been the success it was, if our home mother, Mrs. Breitz, had not given over her untiring efforts, toward that end.

The dance was not the only important event. Banks Hall had representatives in every one of the one-act plays, and we feel that our freshmen really distinguished themselves.

One distressing fact is, that Louise Lippincott came back from vacation ill, and had to be taken to the infirmary. She is improving now, and we will be very glad when she comes home, for we miss her so much.

Mary Hurlbut was pledged to Sigma Alpha Iota last week, and is proudly wearing her little red and white ribbon.

SINFONIA FRATERNITY

PHI MU ALPHA

The news at the house is what might be termed scarce. The thought uppermost in the minds of the Sinfonians just now, is Christmas. For some unknown reason each fellow seems to have a peculiar desire for wanting to get home. Perhaps I am a bit general in saying “each fellow” but with a few exceptions the rule is true.

We hear from Ben Phillips that he is meeting with good success with his Glee Club, Band and Orchestra. His letters sound very enthusiastic. Fay Swift is also very much interested in his work. BANKS HALL

Up to date, Banks Hall has been so completer over having the editor-in-chief on second floor, that we have neglected to put our personal news in the Once-A-Week. So much has happened though, that the “time has come” as the Walrus said, “to talk of many things.”

Of course, everyone knows that our home dance was last Friday night. Banks Hall was transformed into a veritable snow palace, with decorations of icicles, stars, and Christmas candles, and falling snow. Sandy Martin, his eight-piece band furnished the music, and established an enviable reputation for themselves. They have acquired twenty loyal patrons.
