Playing of Schumann’s Compositions; Ziegler Delights Large Crowd

Mr. Ziegler, head of the piano department in Ithaca College, was heard in a recital on January 7, in all Schumann program. Little Theatre was filled to near capacity by music lovers who were highly appreciative.

Above were rewarded with the participation in a line of technical and melodic sentiments in the presentation of the Romantics. The program was as follows:

Concert Band To Play Varied Selections in Little Theatre Sunday

The Ithaca College Concert Band will give its last concert of the fall season on Sunday afternoon, January 14, at 3:00 o'clock in the Little Theatre. Several other concert bands will also be given in the recital. A calling card will be made to present a study of the popular vocal music to present a study of the dramatic music of the romantic period. A change of twenty-five cents will be made to those holding student tickets and the prices will be for the uniform fund of the band.

Drama Dept. To Give Farce “Static”

New production of the Dramatic Department will be a mystery play which is scheduled for presentation on February 2nd and 3rd. Arrangements have been made with Langrider and Company, Toronto, Canada, to produce the play for free of charge.

The play “Static” is a mystery and concerns the fatal consequences that happen. The play was written in 1924, and the director of the production is Brother John Milton Hagan who is described as a mystic in three acts. A cast has been selected and rehearsals are well under way. Due to the poor health of one of the members, the play will be closed to all students of Ithaca College.

Metropolitan Favorites

American’s Operas

Musical and dramatic America can become better known through the proving of opera in the schedule of the operas in the Metropolitan New York has again captured the front page.

Lucrative Birti, published simultaneously with Edward Johnson and Lawrence Tibbett, is hailed as the “Joan of Arc” of the opera. Of course, the smile is justified, for the $200,000 and half has been the fruit of home good fortune, if the success of the recent opera is anything to go by.

“Unprecedented” was the caption that appeared under the title of an American-made opera—there is one in the Metropolitan New York has again captured the front page. Signs Alpha Iota Notes

Announcement has been released by the Alpha Iota Chapter that Mr. W. Frederick Pfeiffer on Monday, January 15, at 8:00 o'clock in the Little Theatre in Lewiston, Pa. Miss Mabel Ewing of that city will be the speaker. It has been announced that Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Kale, the parents of a baby girl from December 15, Mrs. Stephanie is a member of the Alpha Iota Chapter. They are living in Cincinnati, Ind.
It is true that the College may have many a fine old manuscript, but Robert Raphine and Nicholas Carter for our library. It was always assumed that books must even be in vellum and cull. (I am not sure about this.)

At the unveiling of the book, the Otho H. Illions Bank of "The Couragious Body plans to be in the library reading room, which is called the Illions Room. At the stroke of the clock, the Illions Room opened, and the true, but that assure us there will be no mystery but the mystery of the Otho H. Illions Body Chorus will arise with songs so popular as "Oh, in the library on all these lines." For a completely withering effect they play. As to the students, they are an interesting gentile harp arrpeggios running under a mystic and perhaps elusive obbligato. At any rate, they are quite serviceable. Oh, we're looking forward.

The plays presented by the Ithaca Dramas (including titles like "Hedda Gabler" and "Dante Deborha") have always been of considerable merits. They have been played in the same sort of room as the true worth of the students. They have been made for the preparation for which brought many interesting productions.

And it cannot be gainsaid that the audience for whom Dr. Deborha has always presented these plays in a very fine and professional manner. The students have been excellent acting at all times.—This year in "Red Harvest." Surely the students must be greatly en­

It is a feature of public school music and music authority of fine reputation. He says: "Ithaca College Choir did fine singing I ever heard—congratulations!"

The scope of the vast numbers of letters received extended, in distance from California to Ottawa, Canada, and included appreciations of intellectual musical authorities as well as sincere expressions of humble music lovers.

Mr. Carlton Martin, guest conductor at the broadcast, was most valuable in the generous assistance which he gave to Mr. Ewing and to the Choir. Mr. Martin's genius as a conductor inspired the Choir to the most profound expression of musical emotion and sublimity of vocal ensemble.

REVIEW OF NUMBERS PLAYED BY ZIEGLER

An interesting sidetrack upon Schumann's imaginative nature is brought out in the various movements which he adopted for himself and his friends.
These he used in both his compositions and writings. In the composition "Carnoter," several of the tone-pieces of "Florestan" are close to call the air of Schubert's tranquil, but pulsating and full of imaginative activity. "Eusebius," the gentle, thoughtful and sensitive qualities of his nature. Hence the sig­nificance of the dedication of the piece, which was originally entitled, "Seiliebe", for the pianists, dedicated the name Clara to Florestan and Euseibi."

One of the most remarkable qualities of Schumann was his ability to transform an ordinary figure into one of his own musical idiosyncrasies. In his treatment of the "Florestan," he was able to create a character of certain musical qualities which was the foundation of the piano music which he had chosen to interpret. Schumann achieved a curious resem­bility of a turn-of-the-century German woman, a very dignified and strict in her way of life.

In conclusion, an insight into Schumann's musical style of "Davilnchen" is particularly interesting. In his attractions, his friends and all whom he considered "Florestan" (with music without the knowledge of the world), in the mass of his music, to approach the cause of music, and to rise above the musical progress against "Pilgrim­" in every form.

Would membership in Schumann's "Davilnchen" be a good idea, with the background of understanding of our
