The Economics Club of Ithaca College held its first formal meeting March 2 at the Hotel Ithaca. The constitution was approved and the following officers were elected: Fred B. Buchanan, Vice Pres.; Fred E. Crip, Secretary; Philip B. Farney, Treasurer; Philip D. Farney, Facuty advisor is Dr. Alfred Kraessel.

After the business meeting Dr. Kraessel talked to the members on the economy of Latin America. The aims and purposes of the organization are to pledge itself to observe and be governed by the constitution, by-laws and other enactments and rules initiated by the club; to encourage, advance, and improve the understanding of economics for the benefit of the members; to improve individual proficiency in the study of economics; and to do everything within their power as a club and as individual members of the club to promote and better the economics program at Ithaca College.

The club meets on the first and third Mondays of each month, at the Ithaca Hotel. The next meeting is March 16 at 7:30. At this meeting, J. S. Barr, of J. S. Barr & Co., Inc., will give a speech on securities, followed by Havannes and Jeptha by Carl Benson, Miss Starkman, and the other members are Frank DeRoven, Bob Capurica, Ron Price, Joe Paige and Henry Malmberg.

The fraternity has also initiated a new idea, in giving complimentary tickets to the Presidents of the College's fraternities and sororities, the president of the Student Council and the editor of the ITHACAN.

TAX COURSE OFFERED OVER 1C TELEVISION

Frank W. Kolmin, associate professor of accounting at Ithaca College will provide information on filling out federal income tax blanks during a series of four talks over WICB-TV, the College's educational television station. The discussions will be given from 8:30 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays, beginning this week, on Channel 2 of the community coaxial cable system.
The following editorial has been compiled by discussing the problem of cheating with school workers, punished and unpunished cheaters.

COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES have many student problems. One is the control of cheating and cheaters.

To do this effectively, a "gray area" exists which might be called a justified rationalization as an answer.

In this instance the matter of failing and passing corresponds to honesty or dishonesty. Students who are the "cheaters" get the high marks. Students who do not cheat are forced into it or else suffer the consequences of low grades, as compared to the cheaters' higher grades.

These "pioneers" are the source of all these other issues. But there is still a deeper source. It is honesty or dishonesty of others. But there is still a deeper source. It is honesty or dishonesty of others.

This is what is called an easy rationalization as an answer. Students will work and receive what they work for.

Let's think about this. When students are able to post marks as compared to the cheaters' higher grades. Students who fail to admit to dishonesty will be punished.

SIDELIGHT by Annie Reif

Three cheers go to the Dade's offices on their brief outline as to what probation means to you, the student.

The reason the snack bar closes at 9:00 p.m. is a great attraction somewhere in the coming season.

Dave Paolini contributed brilliant performance in the title role, but I am inclined to believe that these were primarily the fault of a dated script. It is difficult to imagine how these static moments dissipated by redundancy.

Ithaca College Choir, directed by Joe Buzell, presented a splendid job. His task was immense and he succeeded admirably.

The technical work was ingenious and his direction of the actors equally fine.

There were dull stretches that lessened the production's impact, but I am inclined to believe that these were primarily the fault of a dated script. It is difficult to imagine how these static moments dissipated by redundancy.

Dissipated Hillel's advisor, Dr. A. Kraesten, and Hillel's director at Cornell, Rabbi Morris Goldstein, of the "pioneers" of the recent Hillel Bagels and Lox meeting who were responsible for the typographical errors. of a dated script.

Wishing to co-operate with the editors fully, I have even consideredturning in the enclosed blank and return it to them. Thom Portelli, in the title role, was unfortunately less effective. Perhaps a presentational of this quality will convince the faculty and administration that the students of the Radio-Television department (and other departments) are quite capable of undertaking such major tasks, and should be not only permitted, but encouraged, to do so.

Forget about letting a few hand picked individuals suffer for the many. Avoid the cheating or attempted cheating at it's source, the teacher who allows it.
Senior Wrestlers Lead Bombers To 24-7 Victory

by Brian T. Moe

The College grapplers closed a fine season Saturday with an impressive 24-7 victory over Oswego State Teachers College.

Three seniors, Ross Viol, Ray MacFarlane, and Tiny Marello all kept their win streaks going with fine performances. These three along with Weldon Canough will try their luck Friday and Saturday at the 4 Ps in Cleveland. Marello will be defending his heavyweight title.

Joe Sangorgi, at 138, pinned his man in the second period with a cruxital. Then, Jimmy Valentine, who had his shoulder hurt in the second period against Pete Zaneus, wrestled to a draw. Dick Jones, who has showed promise this year as a sophomore, won on a decision in the 177 lb. class.

Weldon Canough had a tough time against John Augustine, and was pinned. Jimmy Hafferty wrestled a fine match and came out with a decision in the 197 lb. class.

Ross Viol wanted no time in putting his man away in the first period and Ray MacFarlane, needing 5 points in thirty seconds to win, got four points and the decision.

In the heavyweight bout, undefeated Tiny Marello squared off against undefeated Joe Farner. After nine minutes of tough wrestling, Marello came out with a decision over Farner.

By winning its last four matches, the Bombers will probably return to competition.

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows —

Finally, you'll notice that men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? They've made a thinking choice. They know what they want in a filter cigarette. They know that VICEROY gives it to them! A thinking man’s filter and a smoking man’s taste!

If you have answered "YES" to three out of the first four questions and "NO" to four of the last five... you really think for yourself!

Only VICEROY has a thinking man's filter... a smoking man's taste!
Editor-in-Chief Richard Del Russo and Co-Editor Nick Ippolito are proud to announce that the 1959 "CAYUGAN" is now in the very capable hands of Wm. J. Keller Inc., Publishers of Finer Yearbooks. This year marks the first time that the Keller people will be printing our college annual. Faculty advisor, John B. Harcourt, as well as the entire Cayugan Staff, feels very confident that of all the yearbooks printed by the Keller Company this year the '59 Cayugan will rate very high.

During the production of this year's book a completely new procedure was followed which worked out very successfully. Our first task was to completely remodel the Cayugan Office into a work shop that would turn out progressively better and better yearbooks. Next on the list entailed the organization of a staff of people who would be capable of doing the work expected of them and also follow the fundamental order of a line and staff organization. Editor-in-Chief Del Russo is very happy and also indebted to the excellent cooperation given to him by his staff. Although he feels that no special credit should be given to any one individual, the Editor-in-Chief must extend a very special thanks to Co-Editor Nick Ippolito for doing a job which could be counted equal with the work put into the book by the Editor himself. Del Russo was never at all sure whether he or Ippolito was doing the Editorship work. We could say that this year's book had 300% effort put into it: 100% by the editor, by the Co-Editor, as well as 100% by the entire staff.

The entire staff would like to extend a very heartfelt thank you to the administration, faculty, and the student body for their part in helping make this year a successful one.

At the present time next year's staff is being organized and anyone interested in working on this staff should leave his or her name with Dean Clarke's secretary. Many people have already been on the job training for next year's book and there are only a few vacancies available for those people who feel they are qualified to work on the staff. We are looking for responsible people who want to make next year's book a better one than the one published this year.

According to Edward L. Hengerer, Jr., the Keller Company yearbook representative, the '59 Cayugan should be in the student's hands sometime in May. Distribution will be handled the same way it has been in the past and the students will be able to pick up their books in the Annex by using the last coupon in the activities book. We are planning on three days to distribute the book.
