IFC Sets Up Pledging Dates, Rules

The Spring semester pledging dates have been set up by the I.C. Inter-Fraternity Council, and all campus fraternities and sororities must abide by them, according to IFC president, Frank Romans.

Bids to prospective members must be in by Thursday, March 10, and the "silence period", which will begin on that date, will be in effect until March 14, the first day of pledging.

Period Ends April 20

The pledging period should be completed no later than April 20.

The following sections of the IFC constitution are reprinted for emphasis:

"First semester freshmen are not eligible for bids. Only students who have been at Ithaca College for at least one full semester may receive bids.

No organization may extend a bid to a student who is an probationer, or who has not attained at least a "C" average for the semester immediately preceding the date the bid is to be extended.

No bid may be issued by any member or any organization by word of mouth, directly, or indirectly by hints or by implication without placing the offender's penalties as may be levied by the council.

"All organizations must observe the faculty request that no improper dressing or activities that make pledges conspicuous shall be carried on outside of organization houses. No activity that is dangerous to a pledge may be engaged in at any time.

Buffalo Edges Bombers, 52-51 by Jim Aversa

In a low scoring, see-saw battle at Boyston Gym last Wednesday night, the IC Bombers dropped a 52-51 basketball decision to the University of Buffalo, bringing the home team's record to eight wins and three losses for the season.

The Bombers, after holding a slim lead throughout the contest, were unable to get an offensive drive underway, and relinquished the lead with only two and a half minutes remaining in the fray.

The teams exchanged infrequent baskets during the first half as they were both unable to hit any degree of accuracy. It's biggest lead came with just two minutes remaining in the first half.

Sharpie Hits

With the score doublecided at 17 Ed Sharpie hit with consecutive field goals, and John Stowe added several shots, upping IC's march to 22-17. Tom Shosho closed the scoring for UB and IC led at the mid-mark, 35-19.

The second half showed little improvement in both clubs as they continued to miss shots and throw away passes.

Lose Lead

With two and a half minutes left in the contest, IC held a 48-46 lead. Shosho, UB's most prolific scorer, tied it up on a 3 point play, and a minute later he put his team ahead with a free throw, 54-49.

At the clock was running out, Paul Libskick hit UB's Philfipt in a futile attempt to gain possession.

Philfipt made good on both tries and the visitors with 20 seconds in immediately preceding the date the UB lead was able to hold its lead with only two minutes remaining in the secutiion.

Colacocchi Hits 38

In the preliminary contest, the IC Bombers continued their winning streak, led by Paul Colacocchi, who hit double figures, getting 13, while Shosho led the visitors with 15.

Buffalo, a small college power, had included Colacocchi among the visitors, 50-63, in a game earlier in the season.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

In reference to an article in the February 10 edition of The ITHACA-
ACAN entitled "The Man—

The Individual—and TV," I must first admit that, although I would seem proper that the critic be between friends with the object of criticism, I have been unable to free myself to read the article a second time.

Therefore, I will react briefly by stating that as a student of mass communications, I have often foavored my own position with what I am always sure are "brilliant" theories concerning the effects of television on our society, and the insufficient management of the television industry.

Perhaps after twenty-two more years of study, I will feel qualified to publish my theories.

I suggest that the author of the above-mentioned article consider a similar course of delayed ambition, and also whether expression based upon fact, or even opinion, is not more worth-while than that which is based upon the mere wish to express.

To the senior class:

COLLEGE QUIZ GAME BROADCAST

A battle of the intellect was waged by Cornell and Colgate last Tuesday on WORC-TV's version of the "College Game" (seen every Sunday evening on CBS television). The program, aired between 2:30 and 5:00, featured two teams, consisting of four players each, who were engaged in the answering of quizmaster, Will Richter.

The quiz format, a proven success (and failure) on commercial channels, is capable of providing entertaining and informative viewing. Unfortunately, one of its capabilities was not realized in this particular half-hour.

This was due to the inability of the team from Colgate to contribute anything more toward the desired competitive atmosphere of 13.0 show than its presence.

The result was a boring, one-side exhibition in which the Cornell team emphasized its superiority with little effort.

Student Council Loyalty

Elections to the Student Council always present an interesting problem, the problem being one of loyalty.

When a student is elected to the Council from one of the various departments of the school, is his loyalty to the council or to the activities of his department?

The answer might be this: no student should take a position on the Council unless he will devote sufficient time to the Coun-

This answer will settle resignations, the treasurer being absent from meetings, and other members of the council taking leaves of absence to participate in the activities of their various departments.

The loyalty question should be a major question a student asks him or herself when running for a position on the council, whether he be president, treasurer, or just a representative.

Electrons to the Student Council always present an interesting prob-

Do You Think for Yourself?
(DIAL IN THESE QUESTIONS AND SEE IF YOU'RE IN FOCUS*)

If you saw a full-rigged sailing ship in the middle of the desert, would you say (A) "Long time no sail!" or (B) "What they'd invent talking mirages," or (C) "Anything can happen in Las Vegas!"

When a man says, "Brevenity is the soul of wit," he means (A) he's about to make a long speech; (B) was thoughts come in short sentences; (C) "What up?"

When you're caught in a pouring rain—and you're offered a lift by a pal whose driving is dangerously erratic. Would you (A) tell him you enjoy walking in the rain? (B) say, "Sure—but let me drive!" (C) accept rather than hurt his feelings?

In choosing a filter cigarette, would you pick one that (A) says the filter doesn't count, only the tobacco (B) is designed to do the best filtering job for the best taste; (C) gives you an enormous filter but very little taste.

When you think for yourself, you depend on judgment, not chance, in your choice of cigarettes. That is why men and women who think for themselves usually smoke Viceroy. They know only Viceroy has a thinking man's filter—the most advanced filter design of them all. And only Viceroy has a smoking man's taste... the full rich taste of choice tobacco.
