Dr. C. H. Rawski Speaks To Women At Mass Meeting

On Wednesday evening at 8:15 a mass meeting of the Women of Ithaca College was held in the Little Theater for the installation of the new officers into W.S.G.A.

Dorothy Burbank, former president, was in charge of the very impressive installation ceremony after which Joan Day, the new president, gave a short speech urging the women of I.C. to be thinking about Scampers; saying that it is now more or less their responsibility to see that it is possible for there to be a Scampers next fall. She asked that any girls having ideas for a theme, script, music, etc., pass them on to those in charge.

Dr. Rawski, speaker for the evening, gave an inspirational and stimulating speech about the question, "What can our college girls do for the War effort—What should we do?"

His answer was that it is now our duty and responsibility to live right and properly, and in so doing, the sending of young men to war zones will not be sheer mockery. He said that as a part of the nation we must WORK and ACCEPT RESPONSIBILITY with cheerfulness and conscientiousness.

"The ability to live a balanced life is innate, and you have the ability to unfold yourself. You are capable of more than reflex, you are capable of a response, which is something creative," said Dr. Rawski.

He stated further that fear during these times is necessary, but that fear is like fire; if you keep it in its place, it helps you; if not kept in its place, it is damaging.

Such "down to earth" and reasonable statements as Dr. Rawski presented were certainly enlightening and helpful, and if we aren't going to let "the little man with" (Continued on page 3)

Two Dormitories Close For Summer

Due to the closing of two of the college dormitories, Newman Hall and Chadwick, for the summer term, many of the girls have been busy hunting for new rooms and room-mates for the summer session. In an effort to economize, Dr. Job has requested that the girls double up for the accelerated term. The enrollment for the summer session is always smaller than that of the regular terms, and the college feels that a change of residence for one term will be helpful to the institution, and in no way detrimental to the girls.

At Home and Abroad

Excuse the typewritten letter, but much has to be said in a short space, and we understand that any mail at all is better than none; and our feelings and messages to you are just the same.

As you have probably noticed we are leaving tomorrow for a vacation of two weeks for those of us who are coming back for the summer term, and four months for those of our group who will remain "unaccelerated". Consequently it means that, just as last summer, the ITHACAN will not be published on its bi-weekly basis. There may be one or two special issues, which would more or less review and preview past and coming events. You may be certain that copies of these will be sent to you—wherever you're stationed (if the P.O. regulations are in accord). Keep in touch with us—for we're always anxious to know of your experiences. If you're sent to a new base, notify us of your change of address in the event that there will be ITHACANS to forward to you.

We've enjoyed getting your "communiques", and we're proud of the splendid records each and all of you have made. Keep it up, and come back to us soon.

Seven Drama Majors Present Readings

The final Work In Progress program to be given this year was presented Monday afternoon in the Green Room by Drama Department students, all pupils of Mrs. Rose C. Broughton.

Opening the program was Marion Teter who gave "Fight The Good Fight". The rather trite story of a man who has accepted everything his parents have given him with a complete lack of appreciation was made very pleasing to the audience by the fine interpretation.

A rather amusing scene from George Bernard Shaw's "Candida" was very capably presented by Edna Ruelke. This was Edna's first appearance on a program and she proved herself capable of fine work.

A turn toward the highly dramatic was taken by Mary DiSarro in her reading of "Number Three On the Docket", a monologue giving the story of a woman on trial for the murder of her husband. Mary presented an excellent characterization of the neurotic woman.

Maxwell Toklas lent variety to the program with his uproarious selection "Behind the Beyond" by Leacock. This satire was excellently done and was well-received by the audience.

Something which everyone likes now and then—a story which leaves the audience to supply its own ending—was presented by Marilyn Millen in "An Unfinished

Student Council Choses New Heads

Student Council, with its newly elected representatives, met last week to choose a new slate of officers to fill the vacancies left by Dom DiSarro and Nick Morano, both of whom are now in the army.

Succeeding DiSarro as president is Jane Young, who represents the ITHACAN on the council. Jack Graves, recently chosen president of the senior class (August '43 will take over the duties of vice-president. Dorothy Burbank will retain her position as secretary-treasurer. Other representatives will remain the same until new elections for the fall term.

Story". Marilyn held the audience in suspense with the cleverness of her selection and her creditable interpretation.

Gloria Hoffpauir read two poems: "The Harp Weaver" and "Patterns". This was a little different from the usual material presented on these programs and made a pleasant change. Both were given in Gloria's usual fine manner.

A whimsical bit from "Dear Brutus" given by Bette Buehler completed the program. Another newcomer to W.I.P. Bette proved herself capable and we would like to hear more from her.

PRESIDENT GIVES DIPLOMAS AT INFORMAL GRADUATION

Dr. Leonard Bliss Job

A new departure in commencements was observed this morning, when fifteen of the seniors receiving degrees this semester met in President Job's office for their graduation exercises. They had all been privileged to take part in the December 18 Commencement, but as an added recognition the class—those remaining from the un-accelerated group—received their diplomas from Dr. Job after a brief, informal "chat". No doubt to many of those present this little informal meeting will remain lasting in its impressions as would an attempt at a formal commencement at a time when everybody is so busy.

President Job reminded the graduates of the opportunities which are open to them in these unusual times, and encouraged them to think of their new opportunities as privileges in serving the larger society of which they are becoming a part.

Those people who comprise the first graduating class of 1943 are as follows: in the Drama Department, Emily Jane Cameron, James Davis, Marilyn Millen, and Wayne Retzlaff, who had completed enough work before he left for the Air Corps to be entitled to receive a degree.

Graduates from the Music Department who got diplomas this morning are Juanita Baker, Ellen Drake, Fae Ellin, Laura Hammond, Georgiana Hoyt, Earl Jones, who has also gone into the Air Corps, Helen Kondratowicz, Robert Ludlum, Bernadette Nichols, and Jean Schneider.

From the Physical Education department there are nine graduates: Richard Cartwright, Nancy Cheney, Al Doig, Emma Emmens, Lurline Gilbert, Doris Harrington, Harry Kinsey, Rena Nichols, and Richard Willover.

Cayugans At Last

In case no one has noticed, the CAYUGANS are out! The first one was sold last Monday morning. Combating what seemed like almost insurmountable difficulties, printer, publisher, and editor were finally able to sit back and look at the finished product. Copies were immediately mailed to service men and the members of the December graduating class who ordered them.

Registration This Week For Summer Term

According to information received from Dr. Job, the summer term will begin on Monday, May 10, and all students planning to return for the summer should register this week before leaving for vacation. Those students who fail to register because they are uncertain as to whether they will return for the next term or not, may register on May 10.

It has been stated that approximately 150 students plan to return for the summer.

No new courses will be added to the curriculum for the summer, but new courses will be offered next fall. However, if it is possible, a Nurse's course will be offered beginning July 1.

The graduate school will open on June 28 with the usual courses offered in all departments.

In the Phy Ed department refresher courses will be offered to high school teachers of Home Economics, Science, and Physical Education who may be asked to teach high school classes in health. Also courses will be offered to other high school teachers who may be asked to teach classes in Phy Ed because of the scarcity of fully trained teachers of Physical Education. This six weeks program will begin on July 5.

Phi Mu Alpha

As we come to the end of another semester of school, we find that it is the last time a great many of our boys are going to spend with us for a long time to come. Robert Ludlum and Al Pauley are graduating this week. Louis Stout, Burt Leich, Tony Buculo, and George Lyon are not returning this summer and probably not next fall. However we hope to be represented this summer by Mac Lewis, James Ure, John Graves, Al Walshe, Rodney Pierce, John Huck, "Shorty" Blank, Nick Baffaro, and Robert Miller. It is possible that Gehris and Myers will be here this summer too.

We have new officers for the summer term. James Ure is our new president, replacing Robert Ludlum. Chris Izzo is now our Historian and also the Alumni Secretary. John Huck has taken over the position of social chairman.

Last weekend we had the pleasure of seeing some of our brothers back from the service. Jerry Ring was again in town. Wayne Camp was also back. Mr. Lyon had the pleasure of seeing his son, Bert, Jr.

It is a pleasure to announce the engagement of John Graves to Miss Jane Beller. They became engaged on March 27. May I also congratulate our brother Bernie Smith who was married Sunday, April 18, to Miss Fayrose Pallitz. The best of everything to you, men.

Our pledge is to receive his informal this Wednesday night, and then he will formally become a member of Phi Mu Alpha on Thursday afternoon.

Till we meet again, we wish all of you who won't be here this summer a most happy vacation. And for all of those who expect to keep up your studies this summer, don't study too hard.

Phi Epsilon Kappa

Well here it is the end of another school year, perhaps the last one for many of us who are about to enter the armed forces, but we leave with nothing but pleasant memories of our all too short stay at Ithaca College.

The members of Phi Epsilon Kappa wish to pay tribute to Al Doig who has done a wonderful job as Pres. of our fraternity. Al, who graduates this week, is headed for the army, and all of us feel that we are losing a grand brother to a much bigger organization than ours.

To Jim Hercinger our new Pres. we extend hearty congratulations. The fellows who remain in school are going to have a hard time keeping Mu chapter going. It's up to them to cooperate with Jim to the utmost of their ability. We have to let our brothers in service know that we are at least trying to keep things going the way they would want them to go.

Probably our last "weekend" for the duration was held last Fri. and Sat. A formal dance at the Clinton House, an afternoon of bowling, and a semi-formal dance at our "house on the hill" constituted what some of the older brothers termed "the best of them all." Almost all of our active members attended including Bob Bradley, "Mole" Stewart, and Karl Cook who came in from Rochester late

Fri. night, and Dave Rothenberg who took a few days off from his teaching job in Buffalo. We hope that all who were there had a swell time. As is usually the case, this "weekend" was one that we can think about and talk about for a long time to come.

Here's wishing you all a swell vacation. We hope to see you all in the very near future.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Election of officers for the summer term was held last week. Elinor Cady will head the fraternity as President; Betty Mitchell, Vice-President; Lucille Rugg, Secretary; Beverly Miller, Treasurer; Mabel Camp, Chaplain; Sunny Roberg, Sergeant-at-arms.

Formal initiation was held Monday evening, April 19. We are happy to welcome to S. A. I., sisters Felice Pletman, Ernestine Puhlick, and Esther Reagal. Refreshments were served after the ceremony.

Tuesday night we conducted our Senior Farewell Service for those seniors graduating this week. They are Bernadette Nichols, Juanita Baker, Fae Ellin, Helen Kondratowicz, Laura Hammond, Jean Schneider, Georgiana Hoyt and Ellen Drake.

Since this is the last issue of "The Ithacan" for this term, Sigma Alpha Iota wishes to say to all those who won't be back for awhile—"so long" and "Good Luck!"

Kappa Gamma Psi

Thanks a lot for the swell turnout for our Open House dance two weeks ago. It was nice to see so many charming faces. This reporter humbly begs your pardon for mis-informing you as to the time.

Well, our ranks have diminished by one more since last week. Joe Schwartz has left us for the Army. We wish him and all the other boys in the Services the very best of luck.

This is a very busy week here due to finals but that is not a new story. We certainly will deserve our vacation. We wish you all a very happy Easter. A special wish for an enjoyable summer is sent out to all those who are not coming back for the next Semester. We hope to see you back in the fall. To the others, "Have a nice time and we'll see you in 2 weeks."

Theta Alpha Phi

New officers were elected at the March 31st meeting of Theta Alpha Phi. The new slate includes: Jane Young, President; Carol Lewis, Vice-President; Gloria Raunick, Secretary; Meryl Saphro, Treasurer, and Marion Teter, Historian. Mary DiSarro was appointed chairman of social activities.

It was decided at this meeting that a fifty dollar war bond would be presented to the school fund by Theta Alpha Phi. Marilyn Millen, outgoing Treasurer, was chosen to present the bond to Dr. Job.

We are saying goodbye to two of our members, Marilyn Millen and Emily Jane Cameron. I'm sure you will all join me in wishing them the best of luck and success in all their endeavors.

Theta Alpha Phi will remain inactive during the summer semester, but will resume its social functions in the fall.

Snowed under by exams and other last minute duties, the Phi Deltas are trying to crowd in a last few moments of fun and good times before bidding adieu to four of our sisters. How we'll miss "Jibber" Gilbert, "Em" Emmens, "Nan" Cheney, and "Bones" Harrington. We have had so many happy memories of good times with them.

However, four new members have been added to take their places, and they are: Dottie Schroeter, Marion Reeves, Violet Schallenburg and Joy Pisano. Formal initiation took place Tuesday night followed by a small dinner at the "Smorg".

And now its time to wish all those that are not coming back this summer the best wishes for a very happy and restful vacation. And to those returning in two weeks for a summer spent in the delightful Ithaca climate—make the best out of this two week intermission. See you in May!

Tape and Liniment

by Tom O'Connor

In the way of paying respects to our fellow colleagues in the field of physical education, I would like to capitalize this column for the purpose of pointing out the splendid job one of our former students has been doing while out in the field. Last Friday night a physical education demonstration was presented at the Hancock Central School under the able guidance and supervision of John Rosenberg of this institution and Irene Weglinski, a graduate of Cortland State Teachers College.

This demonstration was not presented by a select few in the school, but it called for the participation of all students attending school, from the very first grade to the last year of high school. It showed to the parents and people coming under the school's jurisdiction, that their boys and girls were not taking a course in physical education merely to let off excess energy, give them a time to relax from studies or build up big muscles; but it showed that they were participating in physical education for educative reasons—to coordinate, develop body movement and imaginative power, promote team play and general development of the whole individual: physical, mental and organic.

I think we should be happy that conditions such as these prevail in some of our educational systems and we should, as future educators, strive to install these same ideals in the minds of society. One of our main objectives of physical education is to promote desirable programs in all of our schools and make for the betterment of society.

Mr. Rosenberg and Miss Weglinski are both contributing immensely to the betterment of society, not merely for the individual alone but as an outlook on the war effort. They are educating the boys and girls of this school, to help them meet the war crisis with a strong physical and mental status; and to make them capable of establishing themselves in the changing conditions that will follow with the peace terms. Instructors in physical education are vital to the progressiveness of civilization; of course, we need man power to win this war but we also need strong, healthy, alert men and women to carry on after the war. An efficient physical educator will contribute a great part in attaining this end.

Congratulations to Dr. Grimshaw and Miss Annette Bettinger for the splendid part they took in representing Ithaca College at the annual Physical Education Convention last week, which was held in Cincinnati this year.

Co-ed Capers

by Norma Peterson

Signing yearbooks, finishing themes, completing notebooks, taking finals, packing, Phi E. K. weekend, and saying goodbyes have taken up the biggest part of these past two weeks. There is something about the last week of school that makes you hate to leave no matter how much you want to go. Here is something to boost up your spirits. I overheard a Cornell co-ed say to an I.C. co-ed the other day while double dating; "I see that you live up to the reputation of the I.C. girls in being such a lovely dancer". Good enough, huh?

Dottie Burbank and Doris Harrington may now be included in the list of future physical educators. H-m-m-m. They signed contracts last week at Margarettsville and Hartford respectively.

Maybe some of you fellows didn't know that Hurley (MAC) McLean was married April 10, to Miss Mary Whitaker, in Poland, New York. How about that?

That Square Dance Club that I mentioned once before is really progressing. At the last two meetings some of the members have tried calling the dances. This gives Miss Hugger a rest and is very good experience for the caller. Fun too, isn't it?

Well, I guess this is it . . . time to say goodbye to the Senior girls and those who aren't coming back to summer school. We'll miss you, kids, but don't forget to pay us a visit whenever possible. To the rest of you co-eds, remember to bring back your cotton prints as there ought to be some free time for some lucky person to loll around in the sun (such as it is).

Bye now—

Delta Phi Zeta News

Delta Phi Zeta hasn't much to report this week. Studying for exams has left little opportunity for anything else. However, plans are underway for a farewell party for Marilyn Millen, who is graduating this week, and Muriel McCarthy who is transferring to Syracuse in the fall. We're also planning a get-together in New York for Gloria Raunick, Marilyn Millen, Carol Lewis, Gloria Hoffpauir, Muriel McCarthy and Mary Ann Reeve, all of whom will be in the big city for at least part of the vacation.

And so—goodbye for now; and Happy Holiday!

ered and the ideas should be practiced.

Off The Record

by Helen Rogers

The recent death of Sergei Rachmaninoff has increased the interest of many in recordings of his music, and perhaps the most rewarding are his piano concertos and the Rhapsody on a Theme of Paganini. The latter has been twice recorded by Rachmaninoff himself and the Philadelphia Orchestra under Leopold Stokowski.

Outstanding among recent revivals is Gustav Mahler's Das Lied von der Erde (The Song of the Earth), with Bruno Walter and the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra with Kerstin Thorborg and Charles Kullman as soloists on seven twelve-inch records. It is in every respect a symphony, notwithstanding the inclusion of solo alto and tenor voices, comprising six movements, each based on one of a group of Chinese poems by Li Tai Po.

The Stinson Trading Company on four ten-inch records, gives us Music of Soviet Republics, a collection of eight colorful and inherent songs.

In the popular field Jack Teagarden gives us Prelude to the Blues, which he and his orchestra have coupled very nicely with The Blues Have Got Me (Decca). The movie "Cabin in the Sky" brings back the title song and Taking a Chance on Love (Victor) with Vaughn Monroe and his orchestra. Kay Kyser and orchestra offer two tunes from the movie "Happy-Go-Lucky" in the form of The Fuddy Duddy Watchmaker, a sprightly affair, and Let's Get Lost (Columbia).

by Dorothy Voorhees

For those of you who have absolutely no intention of spending your vacations sleeping (at night) here are two sparkling new CBS shows. The first is a sustaining shot entitled Hot Air which is broadcast Tuesday night at 12:05 A. M. This is a delightful mixture of music and comedy with Eddie Dunn holding up the humorous end and Mary Ann Mercer, Jack Fulton, and The King's Jesters doing their part on the musical side. Good Listening, a funful quiz show, is the second new program. You don't have to be a junior genius for this one because it tests the listeners' alertness rather than their knowledge. As usual, cash prizes are awarded. The program features Clayton Collyer as quizmaster and songs by the Three
