Curious Savage Planned
As Last Major Production

The Curious Savage, by John Patrick, has been selected as the closing production of Ithaca College for this semester. The show will be presented on May 15, 16, and 17 at the College Theatre. 8:15. The playwright of The Curious Savage, Mr. Patrick, is better known to us as the author of The Hasty Heart.

A benefit performance of the play will take place on May 14, sponsored by Inter-Fraternity Council of Ithaca. The presentation is under the direction of Mr. Charles H. Randall.

The cast of The Curious Savage is enacted by the following members: Sadie DVD, Ralph Bunche, and Howard Culler, corner.

The program will open with Orpheus Overline by Jacques Offenbach. Robert Mickel will be the baritone soloist in the next number. From the music of the Lightly chubby by Charles. Following will be Diane Finale from 'Green' by the Russian composer, Sergei Prokofiev. This number was arranged for band by John Boor, a graduate student in the music department.

The program will continue with the Lord's Prayer by Malotte. Next on the program will be Mardis Gras by Perle Greff. The ever popular Deep Purple by Peter DeRose will follow.

The program will continue with The Deboutans by Charles. Contract soloist for this number will be Howard Culler. Prokofiev is again represented on the program with his Op. 19, to be played next. The concert will continue with selections from the musical Elia Kazan and by Malotte.

Students, faculty, and the public are cordially invited to attend the concert. The concert, as explained by Mrs. Irving M. Einziger, national president, is "to encourage thoughtful exploration and to bring forth perspectives on the subject of academic freedom among the students themselves."

Plan "Fall Weekend" Now

Last year, we had a "Fall Weekend," it was obviously not as good as it should have been. The Student Council, wishing to start a precedent, went on the idea in a very limited space of time. Because of this, certain things occurred that should not have. The Float Parade on Saturday night was not well attended nor represented by the various dorms or organizations on the campus. The rain, however, was the only thing to blame for this. Now that the precedent has been accomplished, this year's Float Parade may be considered for both days included compositions by Bergsma, Cowell, Dahl, Goeb, and Schreppel, and faculty member Robert Bouc.

The trip will consist of a two-day tour of the most famous popular music: ballades, a cappella, and has mastered styles from Carle to jazz. Pete plays a nice piano on drums. He is an excellent singer and is common to mine. I don't care for the dovetailing "rolling pins" type.

Ithacan Available For Grad Students

This year for the first time, Physio students, two-year Business students, or anyone else who leaves Ithaca College may receive a copy of the Ithacan Free Press. They will be sent to those students' bonus for only $1.50. Sonia Norris, the Ithacan Office Manager, will be in charge of sending the college paper to the various students who have asked for it. Anyone interested should see Sonia Norris, leave his name and address on the "Graduate Student" form, and list: Under the elm tree, the vigorous, exciting, loveable little ladies and gentlemens who make up the college paper to the local board. The local boards are under no compulsion to follow them, subject to appeal. The appeal must be filed in writing with the local board within 10 days or the local board may go by college bus to

JAZZ IS NOT considered a legitimate form of music by many music educators. However, there is an increasing number of jazz exponents at Ithaca College who play jazz and other forms of popular music that through a popular medium has reached a legitimate status. The group is featured on WTHI. Thurs. nights from 9:30 till 1:00 on a program called "Ithaca Campus Combo." Under the leadership of the composer is pianist Jim Clarke. Pete Sutton, the rhythm section is veteran "Digger" on drums and Lee O'Connell on bass. Dick Oakey plays trumpet and Ray Defeo takes care of the "Swing." This group is an example of the kind of jazz that is so greatly wrong can we tolerate; or are we foreseeing philanthropists? Too often we have seen the more lively and thoughtless people who make up the college paper to the local board. The local boards are under no compulsion to follow them, subject to appeal. The appeal must be filed in writing with the local board within 10 days or the local board may go by college bus to

The trip will consist of a four hour tour of WTHI, FR and TV. The tour will include the observation of a live television show and a "graduate student" tour of the station. The trip will end at a local board and will end with an address by James Traylor, WHAM Television Producer.

"I'm graduating in June!" "I'm graduating in June!"

Sounds like a broken record, but actually, we believe that a record has been broken. John Willsey, a senior at IC, will graduate in June with a degree in business management. John's daughter, Joan, will graduate from Immaculate Conception School in June, and John's son, John Michael, will graduate from Ithaca High School in June. John willseiy from Ithaca High School in June, and his son, John Michael, will graduate from Immaculate Conception School in the same month.

The big story began back in 1922 when John quit high school in his sophomore year to join the U.S. Navy, where he remained for 25 and one half years. He entered as an apprentice seaman and was retired a full lieutenant in 1947 due to a disability incurred while in New Guinea for 16 months.

While in the navy, Willsey helped to establish the first aviation training unit in 1929 at Annapolis. In 1940, he assisted in establishing the NROTC at the University of Virginia. Jack bought a little home in Norwich, Va. He extends an invitation to his friends to stop in for a visit when traveling through the eastern city.

Jack is a member of the Boots and Spurs Club at C.S.P.C. In 1950, Jack came to Ithaca College.

After graduation, he is open for bids unless the University of Massachusetts, where he wants to get his M.A., accepts him.

Graduate Summer School Will Be June 30-Aug. 9

The 6-weeks Summer Session for graduate students in music, physical education, and speech will be held June 30-Aug. 9.

Two intersession terms for driver education courses will be held June 29-July 10 and June 29-July 1.

An intersession workshop in audio-visual education, and another devoted to "The Dance in the High School Curriculum" will be conducted June 21-37. The dance workshop will be under the direction of Prof. Ley of the University of Massachusetts, who was at IC a year ago.

Graduate credit earned during intersession does not provide the earning of 8 hours of credit during the 6-weeks term.

Dr. Conrad H. Rawski, acting director of the Graduate School, urges early enrollment in intersession and Summer Session courses. A bulletin describing the courses will be sent on request.

LUCKY STRIKE
Junior Weekend Choices

The Data Chapter of Theta Alpha Phi presented three original one-act plays on May 2 and 3 in the College Theater. These plays were last year's winners of the annual play writing contest sponsored by the fraternity.

The second prize winner, "The Highway," was written by Robert Moss. This one-act displayed a variety of colorful characters. Nort, Paul, and Howard were easy-going musicians who are typically found at a summer hotel. Arlo, the owner of the hotel and casino, was a stingy, money-pinching man with a lew of nasty comebacks. His wife, Fjo, was an affection-starved alcoholic. The play was highlighted by the arrival of Annie, the bawdy, big-hearted strip-teaser. The dialogue was repetitious in parts, and the reason lay in the use of too much profanity. The plot was original with a clever ending when Annie gets customers for Arlo, not by strip-teasing, but by playing the drums in the band.

The Cocky, winner of the third prize, was a children's operetta written by Nicholas De Marco. The plot was at fault because it mixed elves with religion. The cohoer prayed to God for a pair of shoes, and immediately, three shoes appeared and made them. The music, composed by Richard Taylor, deserved merit, but it seemed unsuitable for the mood of the play and lacked the appeal needed for an audience of children.

Steve Marchese

Steve Marchese of Lodi, New Jersey catches our attention this week. He came to Ithaca after receiving an Associate of Arts degree from Fairleigh Dickinson College at Rutherford, New Jersey. His studies were in a broad range of fields, for while he was there, an elective drama course was started.

Going back a few years, Steve attended the Irvine School for the Theater for a year and a half, as summer stock with the "Ilangwood Summer Theater" for one season, and later organized and chartered the "Hill Top Players." This group is a semi-professional community theater activity in his home town. He both directed and acted while connected with it.

Coming to Ithaca College at the beginning of his junior year, he didn't write any time. Steve is a member of the Theta Alpha Psi, Kappa Gamma Psi, and the Newman Club. Some of the plays he has taken part in are: "Judgment Day," "Othello," "Enemy of the People," and now he is rehearsing for "Curtis Savage." Steve has been a part of Scammers both years he was here as actor, director, and director.

This fellow is quite versatile in his interests. He plays baseball, tennis, and is summing up finishing his uncle who is a surveyor, and during the school year, he does part time work around anybody's house.

After giving some of his time to Uncle Sam, Steve hopes to be able to work in television; however, he will have a teacher's degree so he can teach at a school several years after he completes his education. Here's wishing you the best of luck.

Dilys Jones Presents Organ Recital

Dilys Jones, a senior in the music department, will present an organ recital at the First Unitarian Church on May 11, at 4:30 p.m. Miss Jones will be assisted by a brass ensemble.

The program will open with Handel's Hymn by John Darubuse. This number is for organ and brass quartet. Next on the program is In Adam's Fall by Homilcha-Biggs. Following will be a group of three compositions by J. S. Bach: We All Believe in One God, O Nun Bewail Thy Grieving Sin, and Prelude and Fugue in D Major. The brass ensemble will next play a program of Owens-Adamson, Meyering-Viertel, Beethoven, by Paul Henscheidt. The ensemble consists of trumpets: Robert Neidhardt, Delbert Mattlyn, LeRoy Van Wie, and trombones, Richard Schrock and Robert Williams.

The program will continue with Eurype Prechate and Fastnay by the English composer Richard Arrnell. Mr. Arrnell is the music director for the British Broadcasting Corporation. Next on the program is Six Sweet Chorale Preludes by the contemporary Belgian composer, Flor Peeters. Following will be the Hymn, "Blessed Assurance," by Douglas Moore. Concluding the program is Two Preludes on Hymn Tunes—"Hosannah," "Hyfrydly," by Ralph Vaughan-Williams. The concert is sponsored by the Dunham Society and the Carpenters elementary school. Lucky children.
The Bomber nine ran their win streak to 5 in a row with an 11-2 win over Wilkes College, May 3 at the four home field. Greg Cordon went the route to pick up the win while his mates, led by Al Gilberti's three hits, piled up an early lead to salt the game away. The win gives the Ithacans a 9-3 record for the young season.

Little Jim Mykytyn picked up his first win of the season over the Mansfield State Teachers 8-6 on May 1. The Teamers reached up 11 hits but could not bunch enough of them to knock Mykytyn out of the game. Two 3 run innings put the locals out ahead for keeps. Art Cichocki had 3 for 4 to lead the IC hitters, while Leonard, Gilligan and catcher Tushibah had two hits apiece. Mykytyn run into trouble in the ninth, and Cordon took over for him and retired the side to preserve the win.

The IC nine put the squeeze play on the Sampson Airmen and walked away with a 5-4 win at Percy Field. With the score tied in the first inning, the bases loaded and one out, the Bombers pulled the winning squeeze play. One the first pitch, the runners broke and Gilberti squared around to bunt. He missed the ball, but Ronnie Cole slid around to bunt. He missed the ball, but Ronnie Cole slid.

When the Ithaca College baseball team went down South to play the Randolph-Macon college nine, Coach Bucky Freeman had to carry a tray of food out to Sinny the driver of the IC bus. You see, Sinny wasn't allowed to drive the IC bus. You see, Sinny wasn't allowed to drive.
