The program was as follows:

Arthur Hartmann, Concert Violin and Introduction to Miss Evans

FRAMES INCLUDED

An offer of a magnificent collection of lithographs and photographs, formerly the property of the late Maud Powell, was recently received by Miss Gertrude Evans, national president of Sigma Alpha Eta.

The collection is made available through the kindness of Arthur Hartmann, president of the world-famed orchestra as well as founder of the Hartmann string quartet and transcriber of a great number of violin works which are played and recorded by his fellow musicians. The Hartmanns were a very close-knit family, and Mr. and Mrs. Hartmann; and her late husband, H. Godfrey Turner.

The collection, given to Mr. Hartmann by Turner, represents years of planning and achievements of the renown that Hartmanns are in the world of music. Autographed photos of the Hartmanns, with their autographs, and, as the original copies of all the scores, are included in the collection. There is also a photograph of each member of the family.

Billie Holiday's to Sigma Alpheta, Mr. Hartmann writes Miss Evans, "I am certain that there could be no more fitting house for this collection of a great violin master and his followers with the most beautiful and laudable women of your acquaintance to have it." There is no greater compliment to be acceptable to you all and because of the fact that there is no better place among you all and because of the fact that there is no better place in the world of music, I place among the distinguished collection (Continued on page four).

With the dawning of every February, birthminton of preactents, genuine bookbunch, and, lastly, the annual folklore that happens in February. Especially in Ithacians, it rain, snow, suicide, freeze, and blow—all in twenty-four hours. Usually, the weather man truthful, so February promises much this year.

February second is the birthdate of George Washington, father of our country, you know, and people usually give speeches which he would not have done in the presence of the audience. In [space].

There are paradoxes, instigated by D. A. B. H. P. (the group of all things), that the weather is run by Mrs. Greshel forgetting the weather because of a common speech. The common speakers come home tired, flabby and ignorant, of the present climate, first floor, and do nothing else is customary in the great outdoors. (Who are you or I to deluge their private lives?).

After the tenth of February wash them tides them selves into their private life, and a cautious look around. A fire that has the snow come and carouse all. Those who are out of cayots have to be suit and turn. Then again if there is no snow, they will take a day and go back to bed, grumble and say "What on earth was that?"

On February twelfth we celebrate the great Empress of Egypt, who fired the slave girl and a leading administration just all of work. What this country needs is more of a magnificent type and less of a mangy type. Following this, a celebration by calling in the Lincoln and the Monroe. They are so doggone glad to have another year now that they are keeping them on for February twelfth.

Right around this time is the peak of winter. The world is sharpening hatchets and throwing them guns, getting prepared for the annual war of votes. The only thing different here is that we have a system of production, which would have destroyed the persons who were cannonized than shotgunized, (devised and done by the present government by the government of the country for the good of the country).

The time is fast approaching when the editor and a number of the present staff members must say goodbye. (By the way, the assistants an editor ever had. [Space].)

Fraternity Notices

Phi Mu Alpha Ed Summer

These days the house is in a continual uproar of unremitting noise for our annual All-American Program. This program consists of weeks of American cornets and played by various ensembles comprised of members of fraternity. The date set for the concert is Tuesday evening, February 23rd, 1932.

Another honor goes to Clarke "Euldean" Maynard. He has just carried off the full scholarship with an average of over 90%. Al-though there’s a lad who has too much mentality for one person— I am not going to work the age old—He ought to be, too.

Joseph Sheppard, Ray Hertig and Elwood Schwan furnished the music and entertainments for a banquet given by the Phynhan Sisters on Monday evening, February 16th. Schwan broadened his scope of accomplishments and loyal pledge to an impressive number. Therein lies the entertainment angle.

Old Phi Mu is going social in a large way. We are to be hosts to two receptions to be held at our home within the next two weeks. One to be held directly following the initial showing of Damn Deborah on Thursday evening of this week. The other to climax the evening of the All-American program.

Walter Roberts, who is the drama director of the Williams School, is the author of the play to be given to us in the form of a World Premiere. This is sure it something that we must sup-port.

Mr. Roberts’ efforts have been causing a great deal of comment. It is with evident that the reception accorded this production will far exceed any expectations. Mr. Roberts may be considering. Here’s hoping! Good luck, Walter.

Several men in the house have taken a jump to traveled. Berrell, Mac Whitney, George Frickard, Del Purga, Bob Alexy, Craig McHenry and Walter Better are going to Kingsleton, N.Y. this coming weekend to play at the Golden Rule Inn.

Raymond Brown was a winner of a scholarship in the Williams School. Raymond has received an average of over 90% throughout the first semester of the year. Incidentally, this is Ray’s third scholarship since entering Ithaca College.

This is just another one of the honors that Ray has captured for us. Great going, Ray. — A splendid achievement is worth much recognition.

Anyone approaching our domain from the north will notice a new fire-escape that was presented to us by one of our local alumni, Glennmore Holmes. Mr. Holmes has shown a great deal of interest in the development of Delta Delta Pi and we wish to publicly thank him through the columns of the Ithaca.

As a gentle reminder— Don’t you say of the Junior Prom this coming Friday night. If you do you are missing a big chance to hear a swell band right over your shoulder. Come gather and support the Delta Delta Pi girls and hear some real warm music.

After a round of social events, and in many instances our instructors had to count ten before we were fully awake, we are just about settling down to a good old routine once again. Yes, school has started once again, and winter likewise seems in the offering, but not once again—rather we should say that Mother Nature is constantly springing surprises, this time seems to be swinging the season about. The old adage "Better late than never" surely fits in, in this case.

One of our number has not returned to school as yet—Doris Ann, whose mother is not very well. We hope that she soon recovers and that Doris makes a lightning return. Berry Glenn is late coming back because of sickness. We might also mention Beula Cunningham, but she is without a legitimate excuse, here being merely that she was spending the week at Lake Placid.

Truly speaking, how many of you would show such an ap-pearance of interest in your school duties and scholarships as to forsake them for one whole week in order to witness the past events at Lake Placid?

We are glad to say that in a recent report from our national office it was stated that Theta Delta Pi ranked highest in the amount of money donated to the Birthday Fund, al-so we took first place in the amount of pledges subscribed to this fund. However Iota Chapter of Savage School was awarded the first place, owing to the fact that they having a smaller quota to fill were able to pay the total amount due.

Teresa Ether and Kay Smith, two of our promising alumnae spent the week-end in Ithaca. Come again.

And卖给 the top and all ready for another semester. Some of the brothers are not very pleased with their marks but have made a rev-olution to make this semester an honor one.

The boys have been having a merry time at the house—that is in the late hours of rounding. Brother Parker, our house manage-ter, has been getting gray hairs over the situation, but cheer up, soon your troubles will be over. Oh, yes! last I forget— we wish to thank the Phi Delta Pi girls for their wonderful coopera-tion in making the tea dance the success that it was.

Brother Fasula and his commit-tea did a splendid piece of work. We owe them a vote of thanks in putting over our part of the tea dance the way they did.

Ameds Dorothy Ganger

Many members of the Ameds have been very busy within the past few weeks with rehearals for the play Damn Deborah which is the second production of the Drama-atic department on the Fourth Anniversary program of the Ithaca College. Five performances are scheduled for this play on February 18, 19 and 20 with a matinee on the 19 and 20.

The author of Damn Deborah, Walter Roberts, has chosen an in-teresting historical fact for the main theme of the play, Deborah Sampson, masquerading as Robert Shurtleff, serves in the Continent-al army for many months without her sex being discovered. The dia-logue is cleverly written thus en-abling the girl to avoid many dif-ficult but amusing situations. The prologue and epilogue take

The game was fast and rough, with many fouls being called on both sides.
