College Recognizes Need For Additional Courses

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA SETS HIGH STANDARD AT SUMMER CONCERT

Military Math Featured

On Sunday evening, June 28, the Ithaca College Symphony orchestra under the baton of Mr. Pierre Henroutte, gave its first performance of the summer season before a small but appreciative audience. Although the orchestra has been diminished in personnel by about 15 people, it is said to have given one of its best performances. The program included "Pathetique Symphony" by Tchaikovsky; "Minuet" by Balzoni; "Ballet Music," from the opera "Faust," by Gounod; and "Coronation March" from "Der Prophet," by Meyerbeer.

Unfortunately the orchestra will be without the service of Mr. Hennoutte for the remainder of the summer since he left for State College in Pennsylvania where he has a teaching contract. However, Mr. Craig McHenry, one of proved ability, has taken over the principal task of conducting the orchestra. Work has already been done preparatory to presenting a second concert, which will probably be given early in August.

The Concert Band is also active this summer. Although it has lost its conductor for the time being, Mr. Lee Small, has taken over the job of rehearsing the band previously under the direction of Mr. Walter Beeler, now studying and teaching at the University of Michigan.

July 19th is the date set for the Band Concert. The tentative program includes "March to the Scaffold" by Berlioz; "Humoresque" by Dvorak; "Russian Sailors Dance" by Gliere; "Italians in Algiers" by Rossini; "March Movement" from the symphonic poem by Tchaikovsky; "First Movement" from "Symphony in B-Flat" by Fauchev; and "An American Rhapsody" by Wood.

Women Graduates March Onward To Teaching Battlefields

A midsummer review of the number of seniors who graduated from the Music department last spring reveals that to date, 21 of them are now enrolled or teaching in public school music and are planning to step into their new jobs this coming fall. Because of the large number of seniors this year, there are more men. The burden of teaching is thus a little lessened.

Johnnie Makos, the music director of Ithaca College, is in charge of this year's summer concert which will be performed on July 24th at 8:15.

Ladies In Retirement" opens two night run

"Ladies In Retirement," a melodrama by Percy & Denham, begins a two night run in the College theatre tonight, at 8:15. The third play of the summer season is under the direction of Dr. Charles J. McGaw, and the show has the smallest cast ever to be mounted on the Ithaca College Stage.

Estuary House, on the Thames in London, is the setting of this well known murder play. The story deals with the desire of Ellen Creed to provide a home for her two sisters. Ellen has raised a great deal of money to finance the purchase of the house. The care of these helpless girls becomes an obsession of Ellen's and she finally goes to the extreme to protect her loved ones.

The "Ladies" in question are six in number--while the 7th member of the cast represents the male factor. Howard Johnson plays the role of Albert, a likeable, petty villain. (Continued on page 2)

Mighty 8th - Who's Who Among the Freshmen Of '36

The name of Martin Morrett is one not unfamiliar to the ears of those who have been in Ithaca College for the past decade or less. A graduate of the class of '26, Mr. Morrett returns to the college this summer to replace Prof. Walter Beeler as instructor of trombone and baritone. Mr. Morrett's musicianship is without dispute. While a student in Ithaca he played trombone in the Concert Band, and also in the Symphony Orchestra, and sang in the operettas produced at that time.

Since then he has done very successful work in the public school systems in Pennsylvania. His extra-curricular activity during the past few years consists of playing in the Harrisburg Symphony Orchestra, and of earning an M.A. degree at the University of Michigan.

Mr. Morrett has considered himself to be quite a family man for the past year and a half. The reason being a very sweet daughter, who is the apple of her father's eye. Needless to say, we are more than happy to have Mr. Morrett to the musical clan of the college.

Speech Clinic At Work Here

The class of the Ithaca Speech Clinic under the tutelage of Mr. Ralph Jones met for the first time of the summer season last Monday. It has an enrollment of ten students with the possibility of one or two yet to come. The pupils come from the most part, from upstate New York, although a few from as far away as Long Island.

The class has six boys and four girls, whose speech defects include acute cases of stammers and nasals. It is interesting to note that a person with a nasal disorder is particularly hard to correct, as he is unaware that he speaks differently from anyone else. Mr. Jones has asked many of his students he expected to cure completely, Mr. Jones commented, "it is sort of like saying 'Abracadabra' and waiting for something to happen. I can't really be sure of any, yet I expect to cure at least half of the cases in my class, and give the remaining students a good ground work for a future cure."

Mr. Jones has only acute cases in his summer class.

Mr. Jones was a pupil of Dr. Frederick Martin, who taught corrective speech here in Ithaca College. Dr. Martin now conducts his own school, Martin Hall, in Bristol, Rhode Island. Mr. Jones did his undergraduate work at Wesleyan, Conn. He received his Masters Degree in handicap speech at Columbia University, and has since done work at Cornell in health education. He teaches here at Ithaca College, Cornell and in the Ithaca public school system.

SMALL COLLEGES UNDER DURESS OF WAR
College Presidents Express Opinions

The prospect of continued success for private colleges in the United States is one of the most disturbing effects of an all-out war situation, has become a familiarly-discussed subject in educational circles. Three recent statements by college presidents seem to summarize educational opinion with regard to the outlook for these institutions:

Asserting that private colleges have proved a healthy influence on the life of the nation, the Rev. Robert I. Gannon, president of Fordham university, says "it is significant that wherever absolute states have flourished they have depended for their support upon public, and therefore political, control of all education. Without critical or even suspecting any college or university in the country, we can face the fact that the elimination of absolutely states has flourished wherever private control has flourished."

However, if our private colleges insist upon maintaining outdated curricula, if they are timid and fearful in the face of crises which affect income and attendance, if they lower their standards and admit the unprepared, if they are jealous (Continued on page 3) thief, just the sort of person "for whom the word cad was coined." Margaret Lett is cast in the role of Ellen Creed, the murderess housekeeper. It is a role calling for deep insight of character, and emotional power, a part which Miss Lett capably fulfills.

The Creed family is 3 in number, and Virginia Bevin and Evelyn Keeler portray the two good sisters, Louisa and Emily. These two girls are in exact contrast to their stern sister who has been obliged to look after them since their father's death. Those who saw the movie version will remember Miss Louisa as the lady with the telescope, while Miss Emily's obsession is that she "must tidy up the river banks." Miss Leonora Fiske, Ellen's employee who is permanently retired at the end of the first act is portrayed by Jane Young. The other two ladies in the play are Virginia Tanguay, new to the I. C. stage this summer, who is cast as the Nun, and Janice Washburn, as Lucy, the maid, Albert's partner in crime.

HATS OFF TO HOERNER

George Hoernor again has turned out a superior setting for the show. Brick oven, fireplaces, and 19th century spinets were obstacles expertly overcome under his supervision. Bert O'Brien, student stage manager has charge of the lighting and production end of this show.

"Ladies In Retirement" has been enthusiastically received on Broadway, in summer stock, and the movies. It should prove worth as much entertainment for the I.C. students and summer theatre audiences.

"Love In Full Bloom"

The proverbial statement that in the spring a young man’s fancy turns to love may have something in it. The spring season must have given impetus to all the binding ties of wedlock on the part of Delta Phi Zeta members. The former Evelyn Staros became Mrs. David Preston Taplin. Randy McLean, no longer known by his maiden name, married Second Lieutenant Don Baker (formerly a drama student at Ithaca College) Monday evening at seventy o’clock. June 26th will be the second of the members to marry one of Uncle Sam’s second lieutenants. She will marry Gordon Johnson, better known as Jake, to the students at L. C., in the early part of September after beginning his career in the service. Last but certainly not least announcement of the engagement of Mary Whalen to Hurley McLean, Phy Ed ’42.

There will be an open house dance (informal) held at Delta Phi Zeta the evening of Saturday, July 18th. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Exchange Sandwiches For Symphony

Our summer program includes many intra-fraternity activities. A treasure hunt will be held Friday night with a camp fire sing along the following morning. Plans are being made for an open house dance to be held Friday night, July 17th. A swimming party and picnic is planned for August as part of the program to help all girls become more acquainted with one another.

Probably all of the readers are aware of the sandwich sale sponsored by the chapter. The object of this project is to enlarge our “sisters’ circle.

Miss Gertrude Evans, national president of Sai since 1931, has resigned and offered her services to her country. Epsilon chapter gives sincerest wishes for her happiness and success in her work. We are planning a buffet supper for Miss Evans before she leaves.

Congratulations are in order for Ellen and Bert Lyons. We wish loads of good to them to be waiting in their new profession.

responsibility for the duration will rest largely upon the shoulders of the women.

A few of these people have been seeing more or less frequently through the summer months. Kenneth Niles is taking work at the college, before beginning at Warrensburg, N. Y. Clark Eddy is also studying during the summer session. Eddy’s school is in Ft. Ann, N. Y. Of course as long as Bev Miller is at Ithaca we’ll be getting a glimpse of Ed Timbrell. Ed is looking forward to teaching in Shortsville in the fall. Willard Blausen goes by on his bike once in a while. Undoubtedly he is working in the field until fall begins he will begin teaching at Mt. Upton, N. Y.

Bill Conrey had made the number securing positions stand at 22. Not so long ago, however, the U. S. Army had different ideas and instead of teaching at Greene Eddy Bill has been stationed at Ft. Moomouth, N. J., in the Signal corps.

As to the remaining people, we only know of their whereabouts in the fall. They will be located as follows: Betty Woodruff at Cobleskill; Margaret Tuttle at Otsego; Irene Poate at Gilboa; Barbara Henderson at Angelica; Norma Wood at Tully; Dorothea Graves at Cairo; Rosemary Ellis at Philadelphia, N. Y.; Frances Spaulding at North Rose; Ed Green at Palmyra; Jessie Trips at Laurens; Althea Thompson at Windham; Janet Brown at Windham; Marjory Maseley at Walton; Jeanette Stevens at Grand Gorge; Emily Shaw at Kerhonkson; Margarette Bozenhard at Peekskill, and Alice Keon at Eldred.

To these new teachers we wish the greatest of luck as they assume the responsibilities which are awaiting them.

"From the shores of Lake Cayuga to the shores of Lake Champlain" camp songs will be the rage with the Phy Ed girls for at least a week or so, until the events at Sigma Delta Tau. A lifelong life into the book of memories. But at present, the Vermont woods, with their fifty camping sites, the numerous camp fires, archery tournaments, swimming meets, song festivities and campfire shows hold the center of concentration.

Classes from nine to six, including Sunday, didn’t give too much time for play, but the more ambitious, lassies would leap out of bed before reveille to engage in a bit of tennis, archery, or perhaps to study a bit of the tree lore. After taps, when “Sentry” Page had completed her rounds, the flashlight signals and the letter writing period began. Exams, projects, and compass problems were rather frequent annoyances, but the getting up at five-thirty on the morning that such details were required, the “study-clubbers” solved their problems.

FAMILIAR SCENES

Familiar scenes about the campus: “Friend” DuBoff and her ever-present crew haz; Mrs. Kreinhedar running off in a corner to privately read her mail; the “Cobblers” with their corn cob pipes; the worn path to the infirmary and the many bandages adorning our bruised and battered; Degen’s vivaciousness; the new camper show with such talent coming to the fore as Carolene Brewster; Dottie Burbank, “Smitty”, Lila Siller, Janet Muself, and Patsy Mair; “Scott” Siller, flashing through the water—(just call her “Speedboat’’); Emma Emmens’ high score in the archery tournament; Miss Hugger and Mrs. Kreinhedar under a few buckets of water at night of camp; the over-night canoe trips; the exciting finale of the tennis tournament; the fleeting form of Olga Hour; the ever familiar “Unks” and his call—“Buddies”; (Continued on page 4)

Emphasis On Social Events

Sinfonia’s summer program is well under way with many activities planned. We have already enjoyed two open house dances, and tennis tournament is now in preparation.

This past week saw one more of our brothers leave for the armed services; Bro. Wayne Camp has joined the signal corps.

Howard Ward has accepted his bid and is now going through his period of pledgeship. Monday night spaghetti supper has extended the spirit of fellowship so abundant at this time of year.

We are happy to welcome Mrs. T. back from her well-earned vacation. We’ve missed her.

Renovation Completed

Kappa Gamma Psi started the summer with two joint open houses, one with Newman and the other with Hilliard. We are especially grateful to Phi Mu Alpha for helping to make the dances successful. Their idea of attending in a group is a swell one and should be emulated by the other fraternities.

Brother Korkosz who is now playing with brother Gurzynski’s “Genlemen Wilt Class” or “Dixie Class” Lyceum has returned recently for a short visit.

Dog, Rover, and Brother Clark stopped by on their way back to George’s. We were delighted the latter will teach a summer course. The municipality greeted him by presenting him with a Hillsiard. We are especially grateful to Phi Mu Alpha for helping to make the dances successful. Their idea of attending in a group is a swell one and should be emulated by the other fraternities.

Brother Korkosz who is now playing with brother Gurzynski’s “Genlemen Wilt Class” or “Dixie Class” Lyceum has returned recently for a short visit.

Johnna Motola, Big Mike McKillip and Berlinne O’Neill are rooming together in a suite of rooms at the Miami Biltmore, according to a letter received by yours truly from Johnna. No, they’re not on a vacation, they’re receiving an indoctrination course before becoming full fledged Physical Instructors in the U. S. Army. Frank Hudon of the United States Coast Guard is expected to visit the campus in the near future. Incidentally, Frank has turned in some nice ball games for the Staten Island outfit.

Speaking of the Coast Guard, Lieutenant Benjamin A. Light, left for duty with the armed forces Wednesday.

George Cowton ran into Chuck Johnson at the camp he was sent to.

Charley Fitzgerald’s name has been absent from the line-up lately; let’s hope nothing serious...

Talent, Musicianship

In Light Summer Recital Program

The violin, piano and voice recital presented at the Little Theatre last July 1 was brief, light, and well enough executed to be entertaining even on a hot summer evening.

The vocalist, as usual, displayed excellent stage presence and gave the most enjoyable performances of the evening. Earl Jones received a hearty ovation for his rendition of two German lieder, one by Schubert, and one by Wolf. He has been studying German and his pronunciation of that language is especially praiseworthy. Elizabeth Peckham’s song selections by Rubenstein and Schubert very charmingly, and we wonder that she hasn’t appeared more on and suspicious of each other and do not put the interests of higher education above institutional prosperity, then they will, as they should, ultimately cease to function.”

Courage to supplant apprehension is called for by Dr. Arnaud C. Marti, president of Bucknell University. He argues that “the privately endowed college faces some of the gravest problems of the whole educational world, and adds that “every person engaged in higher education, every business, is facing equally puzzling problems.” He then goes on to ask: “Why should the college be exempt from worry, from readjustments, from sharp sacrifices? It is no time for a college to feel sorry for itself. Rather it is time for it to face its problems squarely, bravely and with unselfish zeal for maximum service to youth, to freedom and to America.”

Pulitzer Prize Play

"Craig's Wife" To Be Shown In August

On August 6th and 7th the Ithaca College Drama Department will present George Kelly's play, "Craig's Wife," directed by Dr. Holcombe. The first play Dr. Holcombe has directed at Ithaca College. The play, Pulitzer prize winner in 1925, was first presented non-commercially at the University of Iowa under Dr. Holcombe's direction.

MAN VS. WIFE

The play is incisive and cutting and moves with rapid tempo. Mrs. Craig's credo is that a woman should seek from marriage independence and security rather than romantic love, and her guarantee of the maintenance of a home for herself is "the control of the man on whom they are founded."

She is a fanatical housekeeper, discourages the visits of her husband's friends and alienates him from his family. Mr. Craig bears with her patiently until an accident reveals her true colors. He leaves her, and Mrs. Craig is left alone in the house for which she has sacrificed so much.

At present the play has not been cast, but try-outs will be held in the near future. The potentialities of this modern drama are great, and the opportunity of a fruitful opportunity for the audience as well as the students.

for Ed Sawyer's "Binghamton Tril- lers" plays, Mr. Sawyer is really going up under his guidance. Only a few games behind the league leaders, his boys are in there fighting for the pennant.

The phy-ed department is also suffering the loss of Ben Light, who recently received his commission as a Lieutenant, junior grade in the U. S. Coast Guard. He is stationed at Manhattan Beach, where he will have charge of indoctrination courses.

Our "men of the line" now have the services of both Gene Tunney and Ben Light so we no longer have to worry about a "physical fitness program."

CONDUCTORS WALK OUT

Prof. Walter Beeler has loaned his broken baton to "Doc" Small who is proving admirably his ability to conduct the Concert Band. Mr. Beeler is teaching at the University of Mich. for the remainder of the summer. Prof. Johannes Dent of Dancing has departed from our ranks. He was last seen, fiddling under arm, heading for Pennsylvania where he will remain as an instructor for the summer session.

Whole Cast Rehearsing for "Mrs. Moonlight"

Bully Bill of Chautauqua is still looking for a house for members of his frat, re-established Sigma Delta Psi. Max Talaska expects to get his Tennis Tournament under way this coming week. Tennis enthusiasm was well displayed last week when "the heavies" boys of the softball league, Tommy Demers, Ross Talaska, Matt, and Hope are doing a right nice job... Plans for the first annual "Sports Night" will soon be under way. This program is being adopted by the Varsity Club for the purpose of raising money for awards. Without cooperation it should produce... Of all the people absent from our ranks, Chris West will probably be missed more than anyone.

The Symphony orchestra is meanwhile under the capable leadership of Craig McKenney.

Dr. Holcombe returned early this week to surrender himself to the authorities. He spent several weeks at his retreat in Madison, Wisconsin, the home town of Mrs. Holcombe. There is sufficient evidence to prove that Director William Dean will be returned to us for the production of "The Milky Way," the last play of the summer season. Speaking of directors, Mr. Reisz is now planning to hit the vacation trail to Southern Californie—and us without a pipe line! Also bound for points west is Dr. McGaw, who will "retire" after his present production for a visit to his home in Royal Oaks, Michigan.

PROFS. WON'T TALK

It is rumored that Professors Finch, Brown, and Thayer are making plans for an immediate get-away. Since it is their prerogative to ask for information rather than to divide it, we have no detailed information available.

To you members of the faculty and administrative departments who have remained faithful to the cause, we give our sincere thanks and deep appreciation. You have toiled long and tediously—may virtue be its own vacation!

Ed. note: It is with the greatest concern for his health and long life that we offer a timid suggestion that Dr. Zeller, our "supercilium of stooge and study, repair to another land at least his library, for a brief respite from his manifold duties. We'd miss him, but it's getting to a point where he might sacrifice him willingly for so noble a cause—and Shakespeare would have to substitute—Macbeth has been murdered enough.
