Second Best?

Once again man has stepped closer to the stars. Once again the man that did was Russian. Should this be a source of major concern, fear, dread, etc. for Americans?

First, we must admit that the U.S.S.R. has operational rockets with more thrust than those of the U.S. This is of undoubted military value. But we have sufficient rocket power to deter any surprise attack. There is a point where great amounts of extra military rocket thrust can make a military rocket no more efficient, or even less efficient.

Now secondly, I believe there is no doubt that the United States could have put an astronaut into space and probably brought him back many weeks ago. There is also little doubt that behind the cloak of the Iron Curtain several Russian space pioneers were killed in vain attempts to become the first up and back. We are waiting, I believe, for the greatest possible margin of safety. We have the rockets and the men ready, only the lack of decision.

One of these days there will be a U.S. spaceman. He will have the greatest possible chance to return and tell the story. This I would not call second best.

Commentary

By Jere Douglas

"... That all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, and the pursuit of happiness." The ideals of the Declaration of Independence became the law of the land with the enacting of the First and Sixth Amendment to the Constitution. But those constitutionally guaranteed rights are being denied today in the United States.

Those of us who are denying such rights to so many people are not alone. The sweeping mandate of the House of Representatives to the committees on American Activities, combined with the powers given to any congressional committees, grants to the HUAC the privilege of denying these rights. * * *

The mandate states: "The Committee on American Activities, as a whole or by subcommittees, is authorized to make from time to time investigations of the (1) existence of anti-American propaganda activities in the United States, (2) the diffusiveness within the United States of subversive and anti-American propaganda activities, (3) the influence of the government as guaranteed by our Constitution, and (4) the problems of cooperation or competition in relation thereto that would aid Congress in any necessary remedial legislation." The powers granted to a congressional committee in this manner to answer questions which he has never before been confronted with, not being required to yield an accused with his accuser, and charging a witness with contempt of Congress for refusing to answer "pertinent questions" (a vague term defined at the discretion of the committee).

The First Amendment guarantees a man his or her rights to freedom of speech; yet be-cause a man speaks out against the HUAC, he is subjected to investigation, not of the merit of his argument, but of the form of government as guaranteed by our Constitution. The Fifth Amendment protects the government from collecting information about private lives and practices by providing that no person deprived of life, liberty, or the pursuit of happiness are protected.

What can be done to remedy this vestige of McCarthyism? Abolish it? No! For whatever can be said against the courage of some who have performed an important function to perform. The solution that I put forth is to rewrite the First Amendment to include an absolute guarantee of free speech. It is reasonable to continue to proclaim legislation to protect our country, the innocents abroad, and the American people, their liberty, and the pursuit of happiness are protected.

Treasurer's Office
Cashing of Checks May Be Curtailed

College Treasurer Joseph Mayer has announced that the check-cashing service his office has provided for the students may soon be curtailed due to a rise in the amount of checks returned to the College for "insufficient funds." The administration realizing the difficulty students face in cashing checks, Community, has provided this service to the students for several years. Students are able to cash personal checks for up to ten dollars at the treasurer's office. Mr. Mayer says the service will continue. He operates, however, that in the future students refrain from passing non-negotiable checks.

BOMBERS OPPOSE PENN STATE ON SOUTH HILL FIELD TODAY

The Ithaca College Bombers are slated to oppose the Nittany Lions of Penn State on the South Hill Field this afternoon. Coach Bucky Freeman's boys have lost their first three games of the season; one to Navy, one to Army, and the last one to the weather. Grounds forces postponed the Ithaca's slated home opener against R.P.I. last Saturday. The Bombers will be out to defeat the weather and Penn State this afternoon in the second of only five home dates on the schedule this season.

Penn State has defeated the Ithacans twice in the last two years. In 1959, the Bombers lost the final game of the District II playoffs to State and last year the Bombers opened at home this Fri- day. In 1959, the Bombers defeated Seton Hall in each of the last three years; 5 to 1 in 1958, 9 to 3 in '59, and 17 to 0 last year.

The Ithacans also will host Penn State in two of the first three games of the season's home games, plus selected away games. Penn State's varsity football program is being directed by Dave Williams, who has announced the Penn Slate, Seton Hall, Lafayette and Columbia varsity games will be broadcast from South Hill Field, starting time will be 2 p.m. The play-by-play action will be described by sportscaster Ron Martzolf, Dave Williams, and Ted Ford.

I.C. Track Coach Begins 28th Year; Twelve Lettermen Return To Action

Iimode (Joe) Yavitz, beginning his 28th season as Ithaca College track coach, faces a marginally improved season, the toughest in the college's history. He has 12 lettermen available besides an eager crop of sopho- mores and newcomers. Yavitz is hopeful they will make all the winning season. Last year the Bomber track and field men won three of four.

Open Against U of R

The Ithacans will open Saturday (April 22) at the University of Rochester track meet, face a toughened schedule, expected to be Jim West of Buffalo in the 100 and broad jump, John Coons of Canandaigua in the mile and two miles, and Gary Gregorick of Little Falls in the high hurdles and the high jump.

In the Union College invitation before last meet, Ithaca placed seventh among 12 teams.
