THE ONCE-A-WEEK REPRESENTATIVE

Nothing this year has thrilled the Once-A-Week staff more than last week's column, "The Vy of Phy Eds." It seems that the paper this year has been filled altogether too much with music and dramatic news and quite a few comments have been made as to the lack of I. S. P. E. mention.

It is only natural that the calendar be filled more or less with recitals, etc., from the music and dramatic departments as their work is more of an exhibitional nature. But there is absolutely no reason why we should not hear regularly from Phi Delta Pi and Phi Epsilon Kappa as well as Mu Phi, S. A. I., Sinfonia, and Amards. Every fraternity and sorority should have a reporter responsible for their news.

The Once-A-Week staff is elected entirely by voluntary competition and unfortunately it is composed at present of only dramatic and Public School Music students. However, it is a bulletin of all the Affiliated Schools and we want news of every department, Martin Hall included. Get busy reporters! The Once-A-Week needs you!

INTERESTING TO KNOW

HELD WHISKERS SACRED

If the beard has any standing in the world today, it is undoubtedly because of the Jews, who held their whiskers to be sacred, and swore by them. Later, the Turks did the same. The sultan's followers used to comb their whiskers after prayers, catch the hairs that came out, break them in two and bury them, on the theory that in some mysterious way the hairs helped to make soft walking to the gates of paradise. This the Turks firmly believed.

THE MOON

Dear Con Folks,

This has been such a busy week on the other side of the world that I've only been able to get time for little glances toward you.

Cornell's Farm and Home week, seems to have been much improved by the help of conservatory artists. Every once in a while I hear nice things about them. There are just two or three really big things that I've heard about.

Mr. Peter W. Dykema, Professor of Music Education in Columbia University whose coming to Ithaca, April 12th was announced recently, will at that time give a lecture on the significant tendencies of music in education.

In addition to this lecture Professor Dykema, who is the National President of the Sinfonians, will also make this visit to Ithaca his official visitation to Delta chapter of Phi Mu Alpha.

Professor Dykema is one of the most important musical educators in the United States and a lecturer whom everybody can enjoy.

Mr. Lyon received a letter from Leslie Wentzel in which she tells of her work in Upper Iowa University. Leslie is head of the voice and public school music department there. She has charge of a church choir and is director of the University chorus and the Girls Glee Club. With so much work Leslie might divide with some of you poor little seniors who are looking for a job.

Dean Brown is leaving for Boston tomorrow for the annual meeting of the Department of Superintendents of the National Education Association. This meeting draws more than 15,000 superintendents from all parts of the country.

The contact with these superintendents is important on account of the placement service connected with the Public School Music Department.

Dean Brown's classes will be omitted next week, but will be made up on his return.

—The Man in The Moon.

Someone who knows the Man-in-the-Moon feels sorry for him. He's pretty faithful about getting the news. Be sure to tell him all (not quite all) you know.

PENNANT SCARECROWS

Tiny flags that may be seen fluttering in the gardens in Japan are used to frighten birds away, thus protecting the garden. A lath upright is placed about every 20 feet, and a cord carried from post to post. On the cord strips of paper and cloth are tied. The fluttering pennants are therefore, a graceful adaptation of the scarecrow idea.

ELEPHANT HEARTY EATER

The National Zoological park says that a large elephant will consume from 100 to 125 pounds of hay per day. Besides this bran mash is also given.

MRS. SPENCER GIVES INTERESTING LECTURE ON SPAIN

Monday evening in the Little Theatre, Mrs. Spencer gave an interesting illustrated lecture on Spain. Her information was absolutely first hand as she used even original photographic studies which she herself made during her year there. She told delightfully of the different types of homes and home conditions as well as peculiarities of the people.

The various dormitories sold tickets for the lecture, all the profits going toward house expenses. A number of towns-people heard Mrs. Spencer and they were all quite enthusiastic in their response. They join us in hoping that we shall hear her again—soon.

MU PHI EPSILON

There really isn't much to tell you this week but we shall do our best. To begin with we must mention our valentine party given at Mu Phi House last Thursday evening for Winifred Bagley, one of our pledges. It was also a Birthday party and the whole affair was planned by Mrs. Sterrie A. Weaver, who is a very good friend of Winifred's. Mrs. Weaver's husband, Sterrie A. Weaver was the first one to start a summer school in Public School Music which had no connection with publishing concerns. Dean Brown, by the way, was a member of the Weaver Summer School. So you see we all got a big "Kick" out of the affair because of the interesting things connected with it.

The next affair of importance to mention is our dance which was held last Friday evening in the studio of Miss Madora Rumsey on State Street. Men came from Penn State, Muhlenburg and Galeton to dance to the peppy strains of "Tim" Whiting's band and the whole thing was a howling success even if we do say it ourselves. The prize for the lucky number dance was won by one of our alumni Bert Allen Wilcox. The committee chairman were as follows:

Rrefreshments—Mildred Scott
 Finances—Norma Covert
 Decoration and Programs—

Mary Louise Barto

We all enjoyed the illustrated lecture given by our Dean on Monday evening. We hope she will favor us with another at some future date.

MAY SHED ARM AT WILL

A starfish may jerk off each of its five arms seized in succession; it may cast off an injured or parasitized arm; in rare cases there is multiplication by division. Sea cucumbers discharge their viscera in the spasms of capture and may thus escape from an astonished foe. The replacement of the food canal is sometimes accomplished in ten days, though it may take as many weeks.

SIGMA SIDELIGHTS

Epsilon once more entertained at formal dinner on Friday evening in the form of a George Washington party. We had as our guests, Alice Trusdale, Mary MacDonald and Mildred Alderfer.

Our bridge party proved a very successful one.

Mary Martin who was initiated into this chapter in 1920 and who studied cello while here is doing trio work in New York City. She is also taking a course in kindergarten work there.

Mrs. Elliot Springstead (Kay Wieting) of Cobleskill, N. Y., who was also initiated in 1920 will leave this month with her husband for Los Angeles, California, to visit Mrs. O. ^{Trayon} ~~Trayon~~ (Leone Hicks, also initiated in 1920).

Marguerite Williams, Mrs. Bates, and Mrs. Williams have landed at Cadiz.

Recently through the efforts of Mrs. Bert R. Lyon, the patronesses furnished the necessary funds to screen the large porch at the rear of the house. This is just another step toward our National Convention to be held in June 1928.

An absent-minded grocer called on his old friend, the family doctor, one evening. They chatted for a couple of hours, and as the grocer rose to go the doctor asked:

And now they are going to be divorced with only ten more instalments to meet. Well, as I said, they had their first quarrel just six instalments after our engagement. The first regular rehearsal for the entire chorus will be held next Saturday morning at 9:30. Please be present.

BAND TO PAY TRIBUTE TO ST. PATRICK

March 19th is to be the date of an Irish Concert by the band. We all remember the popularity of last year's concert. This one is to be even better. Two numbers, which ought to be especially enjoyed are "The Land of the Mountain and the Flood", and Victor Herbert's "Irish Rhapsody."

"The Land of the Mountain and the Flood" by McCuhn is one of the lesser used overtures of the Musical World. Throughout the number one is reminded of rough, rugged mountain scenes, with wild rushing streams, and echoes of a far distant Alpine Horn at intervals, adds materially to the realism of the number.

Victor Herbert is one of the most popular composers of the day. His "Irish Rhapsody", which also features in the March program, depicts the character of both the people and music of the land of the Shamrock. The careful, intermingling of favorite Irish melodies in a very original manner makes the number very interesting both from the theoretical as well as the melodic standpoint.

The sergeant sang out at company parade: "All those fond of music step two paces forward!"

With visions of soft jobs in the regimental bands, half-a-dozen men stepped forward, smiling broadly.

"Now, then," yelled the sergeant, "you six chaps get busy and carry that grand piano in the basement up to the officers new quarters on the seventh floor!"—Exchange.

BIG TIME TOMORROW NIGHT WITH PHI EPSILON KAPPA

Have you a date for tomorrow night? If not—get one. If so—bring her (or him) to the Gym. Oh Boy, when Phi Epsilon Kappa gives a dance you have a right to expect a rousing big time. And when they get an orchestra like Jimmy Day and his Night Hawks you know the music will be as good as the crowd.

Think of the one-thirty permission, girls, free for nothing. That's a thing that doesn't often happen and we surely can't afford to miss the opportunity tomorrow night.

Tickets are $1.50 per couple and $1.50 for stags—informal for everybody. All of us are in the spirit for a good old "Con" informal. Let's get together at the Gym tomorrow night at 9.

MOTHER KILLS HER DAUGHTER AND SELF THEN BURNS HOME

—Arizona paper.

The play was of the most wildly made dramatic character, but the great scene was that in which the hero confronts the sneeringly triumphant villain. "Sir Marmaduke," he exclaimed, "you have reduced me to beggary, broken the heart of my aged mother, and eloped with my wife. But beware! Don't go too far."—Western Christian Advocate.

First Movie Magnate—"We just got a wire that Lindbergh won't sign that starring contract we offered him."

Second Croesus—"He won't, eh?? Who does he think he is? Don't he know we're giving him a chance to make a name for himself?"—Life.

HORSESHOE FALLS CUT BACK

The larger of the two cataracts at Niagara, Horseshoe falls, is receding at the rate of about five feet a year, says Nature Magazine. The travel of the American falls is much slower—only a few inches a year. The time the cataract has taken to cut its way back to its present site has been much discussed among geologists, whose estimates vary from 7,000 to 70,000 years.

FREAK SEA TURTLE

Fishermen at Montevideo, Uruguay, recently brought to port a sea turtle weighing more than half a ton, and with a beak full of sharp teeth curving inward, though sea turtles as a species are toothless.

THE GIRL O' MY DREAMS

It was a still May evening. I was strolling slowly along, when suddenly the vision of the most beautiful girl in the world burst upon my sight. Her ruby red lips were parted in a friendly smile; her saucy chin was tilted at an inviting angle, and her perfect features were crowned by a mass of waving golden glory. Unable to resist her sly advances, I took stock of my resources and bought that issue of "The Saturday Evening Post."

A young man, while buying a ticket for the pantomime, was rudely brushed aside by three flappers, who got their tickets first. By chance the young man got the seat next to them.

"If there is any young lady in the audience who thinks she could learn to love me," said the comedian during one of the acts, "will she please stand up?"

The young man said to the flappers, "Will you let me pass out, please?"

BIG TURNOUT FOR FIGHT

Wrestling match is close—

"Knock-their-teeth-out" Swarthout wins by small margin—"Punch-their-nose-in" Latham proves worthy opponent—

Banks Hall was the center of attention of all passers-by, on the night of February 19, (please don't hunt up this date on the calendar—oh, yes—well, it was Sunday night if you must know) because of the undisputed signs of a big fight, staged in room I, on first floor. The curtains were pulled, and therefore, no outsiders could see the blood-stained carpet, the tufts of hair floating around, or the teeth scattered here and there. No! All those who had not turned over their penny and two pins, could only stand outside and shiver with horror as the blood-curdling howls of the witnesses rose higher and higher, and the pants and groans of the contestants, grew more and more audible.

To begin at the very first of the story, the whole dormitory was startled stiff when two members of the faculty announced their intention to meet with evil purpose—a ten-round purpose — at 10:30, equipped with handkerchieves, atomizers and seconds. With more than terror-stricken curiosity, the crowd gathered, and as, after a breathless, heart-breaking, and nerve-racking wait of two minutes, Miss Gean Latham, of the third floor, entered with a manly swing, accompanied by her two seconds, the Misses Katharine Boyles, and Virginia Kuschke. Almost immediately afterward, Mrs. Genevieve Swarthout, of second floor, approached gracefully, attended by Miss Elsie Waters. (Miss Latham, having more money could afford two seconds. Mrs. Swarthout, having a husband, could only hire one.) Miss Martha Minus, referee, and proud of her position, had arrived long before anyone else. Miss Dorothy Bachman acted as time-keeper, and cheated once or twice, because the battle grew so very exciting. I won't say that she showed favoritism.

When the cold cream jar sounded the first gong, both fighters were up on their toes, dancing with eagerness. With this, let me merely leave the whole ten rounds to your excellent imaginations, and jump to the finish. (This is mainly because I never wrote up a fight before, and if I had, I couldn't and wouldn't attempt this one.)

At the end of the tenth round, "Knock-their-teeth-out" Swarthout, was proclaimed the winner because of one excellent jui jitsu hold, that she used. Having been awarded the one-half million dollar gold piece, she was carried upstairs on the shoulders of her fans. Miss Latham, no longer having a title, brought up the rear, with a few of the faithful at her heels. Perhaps she will get a few of the pins that were donated.—E. L. W.

Elaine—"Were you cool in battle?"
Gawaine—"Yes, I even shivered."

I heard
A young mother,
Looking on her small son
Say,
"There's one thing—
Sure—
He's never going to Feel that
His Mother is an Old fogy.
I'm always
Going to be
A good
Sport to Him!"
And her mother
Smiled on her
And said,
"Dear child, you
Cannot hope
To be a
Good sport for
The Next
Generation.
I may
Be shocked to Death at
You, but
By the time
That
Young son
Of yours is
Ten, he
Will have given
You a

No, my dear,
The best that
You
Can ever hope
To do,
Is to be

All of which
Is interesting—
If true—
Isn't it?
I
THANK you.

THE PLEA

The sun was setting with a golden glow in the west. Twilight, the lover's hour was approaching. In the shadows, stood an enchantingly pretty girl who beckoned to him. Her ruby lips moved as if in speech. Her bewitching face with its dimpled cheeks wore a look of intense appeal and anxiety. Finally she grew impatient, and half turned away.

Slowly he looked towards her, and wandered listlessly over. He seemed rather timid as if in fear of the girl.

At the sight of him so near, after all her pleading, a flush of joy swept over her lovely face. His kind blue eyes looked up at her in a humble adoring way. Caressingly she stroked his silky hair. After a time the girl went slowly towards the house while her collier followed her.

NEWMAN HALL

We're on the scent! Very few traces of "Charlie" Andrews and Pat Peters could be found over the week-end. Somehow, a rumor that they were entertaining out of town callers, reached our ears. We put our detectives out to investigate but they lost the trail in the heavy snowstorm. They were led into blind alleys by their interested assistants (male) who evidently were misled by the footsteps in the snow.

"The Third Floor Gang" to which Frances Kinnear who left this term, belonged, received a letter from her on Saturday. Now, that's what we call the thing to do!—Go home for the week end once in a while. Thelma Hanley and Caroline Koch did it! And Sally Miller went to Erie. How about it? Let's try it some time. Whatsay?
