JAMES J. WHALEN
ACADEMIC SYMPOSIUM

4/9/15

8:00 A.M.-4:30 P.M.
CAMPUS CENTER

ITHACA COLLEGE

Welcome to the James J. Whalen Academic Symposium! This is the showcase at Ithaca College for works of scholarship, research, and creativity by our students.

You will find in this program evidence of excellence from each of the college's five schools. Please take the time to stroll through our poster sessions, attend our symposia, and talk with our presenters. Our students are impressive in the range of topics and methods that they choose to explore with their faculty advisors. We all benefit from the commitment to excellence that is on display here today. Be prepared to be stimulated and excited by all you see and hear!

Wade Pickren

Director, Center for Faculty Excellence and Sponsored Research

"To be successful, students must understand how different perspectives and analyses can contribute to seeing a problem in its entirety. They do not need to become expert in multiple fields, but they do need to understand how multiple fields contribute to solving a particular problem."

Thomas R. Rochon

President

"Students learn by doing. At Ithaca College we are committed to providing opportunities for our students that are rooted in this educational principle. The Whalen Academic Symposium is one such opportunity. This event is truly a celebration of the scholarly and creative endeavors of our students and therefore a highlight of the academic year."

The James J. Whalen Academic Symposium honors past president James J. Whalen’s dedication to student learning and undergraduate research. Ithaca College has a long tradition of fostering student learning through collaborative research with faculty mentors, and the success of that tradition has been demonstrated repeatedly as Ithaca’s students have presented their findings at conferences such as the national meeting of the Council on Undergraduate Research and the Eastern Colleges Science Conference. Today’s symposium marks the 18th anniversary of the first-ever Whalen Symposium in 1997. Today’s program provides a rich sample of the wide range of undergraduate research at Ithaca College. On behalf of the steering committee, we would like to thank and congratulate all participants in today’s event for their hard work and dedication to the ideas and values of past president James J. Whalen.

“Be open to life. Do not allow conformity to wear down your aspirations. Have the courage to trust your own dreams.”

James J. Whalen
President of Ithaca College, 1975-1997

ABOUT THE KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Danette Ifert Johnson is vice provost for academic programs, overseeing curriculum development, assessment, and review for major programs and the Integrative Core Curriculum at Ithaca College. She is also a professor of communication studies.

Johnson earned a B.A. in speech communication and history from West Virginia Wesleyan College, an M.A. and Ph.D. in communication studies from Northwestern University, and a second M.A. in educational psychology from West Virginia University. Before moving into her present administrative role, she taught for 20 years, including appointments at Texas Tech University and West Virginia Wesleyan College.

Johnson's research interests focus on how people refuse requests from others and on communication in instruction. She has worked with students on projects about perceptions of profanity and television portrayals of family communication patterns. She is also interested in "whatever my students are interested in researching" and has published papers with students on crisis communication, the effects of media coverage, effective classroom practices, swearing, and nonverbal messages.

Johnson is active in the Eastern Communication Association (ECA), a professional association primarily serving communication faculty and students in 12 states, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico. She is a past president and past executive director of the association. In 2009, she was recognized as a Distinguished Teaching Fellow of the ECA, the association's highest honor for teaching excellence, and in 2012, Johnson was recognized as a Distinguished Research Fellow of the ECA, the association's highest honor for research excellence.

INTEGRATIVE CORE CURRICULUM (ICC)

CULTIVATING INNOVATIVE, HOLISTIC, AND VISIONARY THINKERS

The ICC is a set of thought-provoking academic experiences designed to help students connect concepts across disciplines.

This year, several of the sessions have been grouped by ICC theme. First-year students may wish to attend sessions that are in their chosen theme but of course are welcome to attend sessions in any other theme, as well. We hope that connecting to the ICC themes will inspire us all to think about the ways in which our areas of research are related.

IDENTITIES

Who are we, and how do we distinguish ourselves from others?

INQUIRY, IMAGINATION, AND INNOVATION

How do we know what we know?

MIND, BODY, SPIRIT

What does it mean to be a balanced person?

POWER AND JUSTICE

How are they related, and how can they be balanced?

THE QUEST FOR A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

How do we sustain a growing population with limited resources?

A WORLD OF SYSTEMS

How do people make sense of and navigate complexity?

"On behalf of the Whalen Symposium Steering Committee, I would like to congratulate the students and faculty mentors of Ithaca College who have worked hard to make this one of the largest and most multidisciplinary academic symposiums to date. Join us for a day-long celebration of curiosity, creativity, and collaboration."
