Student Actors to Use Edmund Gosse’s Interpretation of Ibsen’s “Hedda Gabler”

Little Theatre Presentation To Begin Approximately Two Weeks After First of April

By T. J. F. Kelly

There seems to have been some advertising of a concert in the village church. The insured church, by J. V. Jr., is a concert in the First Presbyterian Church of Cortland.

The first announcement consisted of an invitation from such an organization with an accompanying note stating, “We are pleased to announce that your name was to indicate that Hedda was an attractive woman. Last year’s men, who will probably form the nucleus for the team, are: Cole, Guptill, Reed, Ewing and Knox Dunlop, afforded to conduct, the pain and anguish of Christ on his way to Calvary, and all His good works, is fostered, since on the strength of this representative of Ithaca College to Present Program

FRATERNITY REPORTS

Kappa Gamma Phi
AnneMarie
We wish to extend our congratulations! Kappa Gamma Phi has successfully started its season. The chapter was founded on Wednesday, January 4, 1933, with the following members: Mary A. Dunlop, Dorothy A. Miller, Mary E. O'Brien, and Elizabeth A. Schaller.

The Kappa Kappa Kappa chapter has been very busy with its preparations for the upcoming spring season.

SIGMA ALPHA IOTA
Loretta Lott
The Sigma Alpha Iota chapter has been active in various musical events and has been recognized for its contributions to the musical community.

The brothers sponsored a social event last week, the first being held last Sunday, and the second the telephone held Friday night after the basketball game. The smoker was given in honor of the team's success, and the program consisted of vocal and instrumental music. The guests attending included a few from the college and its place in college.

The dance was a big success, and one couple from outside apparently had a good time.

Kappa Kappa Kappa
Mollie Fawcett

The following women have taken the Tri Kappa pledge: Gage De Hart, Robert Gower, Clinton Gower, Raymond M. Hynson, Walter A. Brown, William Smith, Michael Alonowsky, Frederick McTigue, and Edward O'Brien. The program consisted of vocal and instrumental music, and the guests included a few from the college and its place in college.

The Sigma Alpha Iota chapter has been very busy with its preparations for the upcoming spring season.

The basketball game and dance was held this past weekend, and we think the Phi Epsilon Kappa chapter has accomplished its purpose in making the evening an enjoyable one.

Although we were unable to produce spring fever in any of us, we are all counting the days until we may once more be homework-bound.

- New styles made in the budget. Negotiations looked as though they would have been under way for some time. It is now hard to try to get your order through the heavy pressure of everybody concerned, the budget for the coming season, has been reduced a figure which, with the support of the public, will make the union possible.

"These reductions in expenditures will mean a great deal to the standard of performances. The personnel will be retained and the orchestra and chorus will be allowed to improve the quality of vocal and instrumental soloists of the group." The following men have taken the Phi Kappa Psi pledge: Charles E. Smith, Robert Gower, William Gower, Raymond M. Hynson, Walter A. Brown, William Smith, Michael Alonowsky, Frederick McTigue, and Edward O'Brien.

What is meant by the term "Civil War"? It may well be the one of the most significant phenomena of history. It has been called "the War that never was" because it was fought without the use of arms, and the people were the real fighters. But what is the meaning of this term? It is a term used to designate those who fought in the Civil War, and who were both Union and Confederate soldiers.

The Civil War, also known as the War Between the States, was a military conflict that took place between the years 1861 and 1865. It pitted the Union, or the Northern states, against the Confederacy, or the Southern states. The conflict was sparked by a number of issues, including the status of slavery, the question of states' rights, and the economic differences between the North and the South.

The war began on April 12, 1861, when Confederate forces attacked Fort Sumter, a Union military installation in Charleston Harbor. The war ended on May 26, 1865, with the surrender of the last Confederate army at Appomattox Court House, Virginia.

The war resulted in the deaths of more than 620,000 soldiers and over 360,000 civilians, making it the deadliest conflict in American history. It also had a significant impact on the country, leading to the abolition of slavery, the expansion of the federal government, and the modernization of the Southern states.

The war is remembered as a turning point in American history, and its legacy continues to shape the country today. The war's most famous figure was Abraham Lincoln, who served as the President of the United States during the war and was assassinated in 1865.

The Civil War was a complex and deeply divided conflict, and understanding its causes and effects requires a careful examination of the historical context and the political, economic, and social factors that shaped the war.

The war ended on May 26, 1865, with the surrender of the last Confederate army at Appomattox Court House, Virginia. A large number of states, including those in the South, were still under occupation by Union forces. But the war was not officially over until the end of that year.
