Blue-Gold Baseball Squad to Journey to Pennsylvania, Jersey

This week-end, the Ithaca College baseball team will be touring to Pennsylvania and New Jersey to meet these two squadrons. The first scheduled game will be played on Saturday at Bothwell Park in Ithaca. During the week-end, the team will then appear at Princeton and New Brunswick, New Jersey. Apparently, the young men will have a most successful week-end.

Walter C. Roberts and Virginia Keller Direct Henrik Ibsen's "Hedda Gabler," Produced In Little Theatre Before Easter

Hedda Gabler, the greatest Ibsenian drama since Shakespeare, and the first race of our modern era, was performed at this college on Monday, with a sold-out audience. The play, directed by Dr. W. C. Roberts and produced by Miss Virginia Keller, was received with universal acclaim.

The performance was held in the Little Theatre on April 3rd and 4th, and was presented to a capacity audience each night.

Formal Initiation Begins at 4:00 Program and Banquet Follow Announced

MISS WOOD WELCOMES

Dr. Job and DeWoll Powell Become Members

By Lorraine Intinn

Oracle, Senior Honor Society, held its initiation and banquet Wednesday evening, April 19, at which time nineteen seniors and two faculty members were initiated. The initiation ceremonies began at four o'clock, and were followed by a five-hour banquet.

The program was opened with a welcome to new members by the president of the college, Dorothy Wood. This was followed by the reading of Virgil Longstreet's poem, "Twilight," recited by Charles Donner, Senior representative of the college, who spoke for Dean Powell and the President. Then, a tablet honoring the members of the program became one of the tablets of Oracle, "Song of Virtue." This was read by Mr. Powell and the President.

Dorothy Wood, Senior Honorary Member, introduced the new members of the society, and then introduced the faculty members: Helen Smith and Dorothy Wood, President; Helen Thomas and Lorraine Johnson; and a violin solo by Abdul Hearts and Dorothy Wood. The program closed after the presentation of the tablet by the students of the college, "Song of Virtue." The program was held in the Little Theatre.

"The New Reluctant" initiative was the first presentation, and was followed by the replies of Virgil Longstreet, President, and George Tesman.

Due to the preponderance of Ithaca College students at this weekend's exhibition of violin playing, many students were prevented from attending. Initial "Maniacs' Ball" Sponsored by Kappa Gamma Psi

Iota Chapter of Kappa Gamma Psi, National Music Fraternity, presented the annual "Maniacs' Ball" sponsored by Kappa Gamma Psi at the Ithaca Hotel, Friday night, April 22. The formal turnout of the affair was approximately 150. The rhythms were interpreted by the music faculty, with the opening notes of the tunes interspersed by the personnel of the Stuyvesant Room.

The organization was a well-trained fifteen-piece band which was conducted by John M. Manion, director of bands. The personnel of this rhythmic organization were composed of the members of the fraternity. Some fine arrangements were offered to the dancers. The "Dance of the Green Ghost" as it was called, was one of the most original and unusual features of the ball. The following guests also performed among the dancers: Dean Powell, Mrs. Harris, and Mrs. Jarvis.

Modern Masks Of Skill Have Use and Significance

By Michael Pears

Our civilized world has neglected and forgotten the use of masks, and it is only in recent years that interest in the art of making and using masks as products of artistry, invention, taste, and skill—masks that have been transformed, through the years and changes with the present generation of modern men—has reached a new high level of professional craftsmanship.

Although the ritual and religious significance that prevailed in antiquity and time, and even among native and barbaric people is unknown to us, we cannot deny the mystery that envelops the mask. It is a mystery that is the basis for the traditional rituals and worship at which the secrets of the heroic and primitive people surround the masks and give them such a pantheistic character in their religious ceremonies. When a person, no matter how sophisticated and evolved, confronts a masked man, that person will be mystified. The mask may or may not fascinate, it may or may not terrify, it may appeal to the sense of humor or fail to do so, but it will never fail to satisfy.

As various races are put on the same person, his figure will seem to alter. His proportion changes due to the illusion created by the eyes of the spectator the figure belonging to the mask, and which he projects in the mind of the whole figure is made. An ugly face makes the whole figure uglier, just as a beautiful physiognomy will bring out the best in our consciousness of beauty and grace.

There are of course other evident and simple facts which every art instructor knows and which are dominant in the formation of the sense of the size of the head in relation to the height of the body; a large face dwarfs the figure while a small head makes the figure appear taller.

A mask in action seems to change its expression which can only be explained by the fact that the so-called facial muscles are the muscles of the muscles, but are brought about by the movement and position of the head and not in relation to the rest of the face. The difference in the mask caused by the position of his head, we are under the impression that something changed in the expression of the mask. A freezing mask is one that looks ugly, proud, pugnacious, and dominating; but a real mask that expresses sorrow or suffering if the head is put on a mask and starts to express its character through the expression of his body, he will find his face uncoupled from the real mask, and he will find it difficult to stop this wanted mimicry.

Representatives at the convention of the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students of Secret Societies last week included Jane Ewing and Tedie Cahill.

Joe Bruner spent the week-end in a hospital, recovering from a recent operation.

Three of those who attended the Session on "The Great Small House" were Allen Cahill, William Cornell, and Director Ralph Ewing. They were members of Phi Delta Pi at a formal initiation held in the Little Theatere.

"The Ithaca Woman's Club" is a new club formed in Ithaca recently. Among those who attended the first meeting were Miss Nellie Flagg, Elizabeth Young, and Lieutenant Colonel P. K. Fisher.

Joe Bruner will be discharged from the hospital on Saturday, and will return to Ithaca on Sunday to begin his work.
