ITHACA COLLEGE A CAPELLA CHOIR

The choir will leave for its annual Spring Concert tour this afternoon. The tour will last eleven days, with the choir singing in New York and Pennsylvania cities, ending with a broadcast from Radio City.

Band Plays Spring Concert in Theatre; Wagner Predominates

The modernists of Ithaca could find no possible flaw in the program played by the band in the Little Theatre last evening. With the exception of Rossini's Semiramide Overture, it included all favorites of today presented in fine style.

The Overture, however, seemed to be the most popular in the entire evening, as is often true of its rhythmic fascination, and was greeted with enthusiastic applause that merited as an encore Tschaiakowsky's Little Polka, a suitable follower.

Of the entire first section of the program, which was devoted to the works of Richard Wagner, the most pleasing to the ear, with the possible exception of the Grand March from Tannhauser, was the selection from The Rheingold. The tone of the entire organization throughout the number quite justified the band transcription, of which Wagner admirers are often wary. The familiar Tristan and Isolde music seemed the most ambitious of the evening, and showed to advantage the interpretive powers of the organization, which were surely taxed to the utmost by the demands of this beautiful piece of music literature.

After the intermission, lighter numbers were introduced leading to the more modern conception, which reached a peak in the refined interpretation of Manhattan Masquerade as arranged and conducted by Josef DeVaux of the clarinet section.

Another high point of interest was the Carillon of the late Sir Edward Elgar, which gained popularity through its interesting form and persistent bass, its combinations of higher overtones, added to the poetic interpretation as read by Mr. Newens. The imaginative listener might easily picture himself under "the belfry in the market of the ancient town of Bruges."

Criticism of the concert may say that the program was too long. It may also say that it was too heavy. It must nevertheless admit that so many fine transcriptions have never before been presented in the Little Theatre on any one occasion. The selections themselves held no particular show places for the individual performers, but the reliability and perfection of each section's part in the whole speaks adequately of the excellent work that Mr. Beeler has accomplished in the presentation of this ambitious evening of music. It is to be regretted that there were so few there to hear the splendid work of the organization.

Dr. Job Announces Schedule For Annual Commencement Program

The following is the list of scheduled events for annual Commencement Week:

Baccalaureat Sermon at First Methodist Church, Sunday, June 2. President Job will deliver the address. Thursday, 3:00 p. m. June 6 the annual meeting of the Alumnae Association to elect a member of the college board of trustees.

Thursday, 4-6:00 Dr. and Mrs. Job will receive seniors, students, faculty, and friends of the college.

Thursday evening, June 6, the dedication of a recently painted portrait of W. Grant Egbert, the founder of Ithaca College. An appropriate program has been arranged.

Friday morning, June 7, the annual commencement exercises will be held at 10:00 a. m. in the Methodist Church. Dr. F. W. Maroney of Columbia University will deliver the address.

Norwich Wins First Place; Sch'dy Girl Gets Prize In Contest

Norwich High School won the long play contest yesterday with its presentation of "Death Takes a Holiday" Although no trophy is awarded for second place, Mont Pleasant High School of Schenectady was given this position for the production of "The Late Christopher Bean."

The $100.00 scholarship for outstanding acting was awarded to Miss Laura Winter of Mont Pleasant for her beautiful and understanding portrayal of "Abby" in "The Late Christopher Bean". Miss Winter's presentation of the beloved old housemaid was professional in every detail and comparable to that given by Pauline Lord in the original New York production.

The $50.00 scholarship given for the second best piece of acting was awarded to Miss Grace Liljegvist of Bath, N. Y. for her clever work in "The Patsy."

Kappa Gamma Psi Elects New Officers

Iota Chapter of Kappa Gamma Psi announces the election of the following officers for the coming year: president, Walter Ninesling, jr.; vice-president, Rufus Kern; treasurer, Andrew Jupina; recording secretary, Starr Cole, Jr.; corresponding secretary, Carlton H. Bentley; chaplain, Oliver Vogt; historian and sergeant-at-arms, Hugo Winterhaunder.

Wednesday evening Kappa Gamma Psi held formal initiation, bringing the following group of pledges into active membership in the fraternity; Elliot Ackerly, Alfred Little, Thomas Ash, Oscar Ericson, Carl Schmidt, John Mungo, John Mucha, Arthur Greenberg, Harry Clute, and Leonard Wright.

Phi Mu Alpha Holds Banquet and Initiation

Sunday afternoon, May 12, Phi Mu Alpha held its formal banquet and initiation. The initiation service was held in the Little Theatre at 6 p. m. The banquet followed at the Victoria Hotel.

William Cornell gave the toast to the initiates and Robert Boehmler gave the response for the new members. The next speaker was Carmen Caiazza. Mr. Bert Rogers Lyon was the main speaker of the evening. Forty-three members attended the dinner. The new members are, Helmar Wickstrom, Eugene North, Ralph Iorio, Fred Blendenger, Edwin Gott, Edward Urion, Edward Spratt, Karle Zeltwanger, Charles Fleming, Harold Davis, and Robert Boehmler.

Mr. Landon Speaks At Adelphi Banquet

One of the largest groups of Freshman ever taken into Adelphi were banqueted last Monday evening at the Ithaca College dining hall. Following Toastmaster Henderson's welcome; his introduction to the newly elected officers and heads of various organizations throughout the school, Gene North presented a most pleasing response for the Freshman initiates.

Remarks by Dr. Job, Miss Powell, J. Brown were followed by the guest speaker of the evening, Mr. Sidney Landon. "Education and Culture" might appropriately title the address which the speaker insisted was not prepared. Be that as it may, Mr. Landon's message to the freshman was excellently presented. To quote Mr. Landon in part: "Education must be acquired and culture may be inherited. Liberal tendencies toward a modern education that will promote culture is one of the most difficult things that confront us when we take into consideration the international complexities that beset us. Mankind groping its way through the centuries may have faltered but there has been no swerving in the earth's diurnal swing. Civilizations may have set but the sun has not failed to appear in the East. It comes as a perpetual promise."

A solo by Dorcas Boddie and group singing of the Alma Mater closed the meeting.

Original One-Act Plays Next Work of Drama Department

Four original one-act plays, written by the students of the Drama Department will be presented on June 4, in the Little Theater. The plays have been chosen from those written by the playwriting class. Following are three of those chosen, and the casts. The fourth play is yet to be decided.

"Roses in December" by Dorothy Humberstone.

Mrs. Terrence, Ginna Beeler; Mrs. Forman, Priscilla Houston; "Mamma", Rosalie Graubart; "Klappy", Mary E. Connors; Rev. Barr, Barney Gulden; Peter, Pete Pierce; John, Joe Short; Old Letty, Helen O'Hara.

"Coffee for Three" by Carleton Bentley.

Drysdale, Stephen Straka; Whiter, Bill Dorfman; Moretti, Luther Perry; Voice, Pete Pierce.

"All's Fair" by Angela McDermott.

Ann, Mary Campfield; Patsy, Dorothy Humberstone; Jackie, Gertude Brown, Stephanie, Peggy Horton.

Certification Granted In English to Drama Department Grads.

President Job has just received word from Assistant Commissioner of Education, Dr. Herman Cooper, that the department has approved the curriculum of Ithaca College for the training of English teachers. This means that the graduates of the Speech and Drama Department will be eligible to teach all phases of English in the high schools of the state. It also means that majors in music and physical education who have had as much as eighteen hours of English are eligible for a teacher's license in English.

This action of the State Department of Education is of great value to all Ithaca College students because it means everyone may qualify himself for a teaching field outside his major.

Prominent Visitors Attend Roberts' Play

Many prominent visitors in the Theatrical world were present for the premiere of Walter Charles Roberts' "Largely Placidia." Among those entertained by the Drama Department were; Blanche Yurka, internationally known actress, Dr. Karl Hunt, formerly chief casting director for the Schuberts, S. J. Block, representative and scout for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer pictures Inc., and Myra Furst, prominent New York play broker, and agent for Mr. Roberts' plays. Each of the above expressed appreciation of the hospitality extended by the students of Ithaca College, and each in turn thoroughly enjoyed the play as presented by the Drama Department. Mr. Block was particularly interested in the work being carried on here, and promised to return for the presentation of the original one act plays in June.

Large Speaking Contest
Equally as interesting will be the speaking contest for which there seems to be an unusual registration. Sixteen girls will compete throughout the morning starting at 9:00 A. M. The boys' contest will begin at 1:30 this afternoon. The speaking contest is being held in the Baptist Church, next door.

The judges for the one act plays are Walter L. Newton, of Rome Free Academy; Helen Kelly of the West Junior High School, Binghamton; Florence Callahan, of the South Side High School, Elmira. The judge for the finals of the one act plays will be Miss Editha Parsons of the Speech and Drama Department of Syracuse University. Mrs. J. D. Mosher of the Ithaca Journal, Thomas Mitman of Ithaca, and Lillian Hood of Cook Academy, will be the elimination judges for the speaking contests. Howard Foster of Canandaigua Free Academy will be the final judge for the speaking contest.

Unusual interest has been shown by the competing high schools in this year's tournament. Of special note is the group of fifty students who will arrive tomorrow from Seneca Falls High School.

VILLANOVA TROUNCES ITHACA BALL TEAM 11-3; RECORDIN STARS

Villanova came to Ithaca Monday with a fine reputation and also a team that backed it up in admirable style.

For five innings the college boys played superior ball to the Pennsylvanians and held a 2 to 1 lead on well placed hits by Heim, Recordin and Patrick. In the sixth frame the Villanova lads came through with four runs to take a 5-2 advantage. From there on Villanova kept piling up runs and finally winning out 11-3.

Webb of Ithaca, replaced Hawley in the eighth inning but was hit freely giving the visitors a total of five runs.

The Blue and Gold fizzled out on a fine chance to score during the 7th, when all the busses were filled. Hawley was forced on third and Patrick and Schlossburg flied out.

Recordin starred for Ithaca, garnering a triple and a double, while Schoppmeyer of Villanova had three hits to his credit.

Welcome Contestants!

The annual Little Theatre tournament is again with us. This week end, Ithaca College in general and the Drama Department in particular is playing host to three hundred high school students. This is the twelfth tournament to be held at the College. Each year it has grown in size, and this year's aggregation far surpasses all previous registrations.

To these contestants The Ithacan extends a hearty welcome. Much may be gained from your brief stay in Ithaca, and we would have you enjoy yourselves to the utmost. Preparations have been made for your entertainment, and we sincerely hope that you will avail yourselves of them. We suggest that you consider yourselves a part of the institution and urge you to make this your home. Again may we say—Welcome!

"Rosmersholm" Presented By Cornell at Hill Theater

At the Willard Straight Theater from 8:30 p. m. to 11:30 p. m. and after several pre-curtain and unprofessional noises both on and off the stage, the Cornell University Players, member of the National Theater Conference, presented the Cornell Laboratory Theater in "Rosmersholm," (under the direction of A. M. Drummond, assisted by Voss and Angus,) a four-act tragedy by Henrik Ibsen who, directly after the final curtain, rolled over on his side and winked at Strindburg, who in turn, seemed highly amused at the bungled and highly dramatic lines by Ibsen as spoken by the Cornell graduate players.

One's reaction to the play proper is negative—very, mainly because for three hours lines were spoken from the Willard Straight Theater stage that could be heard only by the four people who sat in the front row.

Mary Roger's characterization was superior to any of the others—and she could be heard. Unfortunately, however, her voice seemed unsuitable to the part, as did her walk. In her most dramatic moments, she seemed to be chasing and booting her grief around as though it were a rubber ball on a string. Miss Roger's pantomime saved the evening.

The bit part played by Colby Lewis was nicely done, but even his performance, as were others, was noticeably damaged by the utter disregard of stage technique in relation to turns, upstage speaking, etc. Every now and then, one could sense that so-and-so was told to stand here or sit here.

The costumes worn by Miss Rogers were pretty, the stage sets very pretty, but what a pity 15 minutes had to elapse between each act. Three hours is such a long time to sit, even between mural walls. The play will be repeated tomorrow night.

Casa Loma Orchestra to Appear At Annual Navy Day Ball

PERSONALS The Ithaca College Campus

The Misses, Anne Marie Fallor Lavina Swanson, Cecelia Keefer, Madeline Halstead, Nancy Morabito, Sally Lawes, Winifred Barnes, Sally Pusateri, Emily Roberts, Ruth Byrne, and Harriet Mason were week end guests at the Delta Phi house. Miss Buddy Kline is now visiting the Delta Phi house while spending a few days in Ithaca.

Professor Karapetoff delightfully entertained the Mu Phi Epsilon Sorority, at his home, Monday evening.

Miss Marjorie Burnham was formally initiated into Mu Phi Epsilon, Wednesday evening, May 8. The Banquet held in her honor, was at the Old Antique Shop.

Miss Martha Holland was a soloist on the Composers Club broadcast, Sunday afternoon.

Miss Harriet Mason graduate of the Drama Department, '31 has secured a position teaching at the Canajoharie High School, beginning in September, 1935.

William Petty, '34 former president of the Student Council visited friends in Ithaca on Tuesday.

Dr. Frederick Martin entertained Blanche Yurka and Myra Furst at his home and at the Ithaca Hotel during their brief stay in Ithaca.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

At State and Tioga
Invites Your Banking Business

With Glen Gray and his original Casa Loma orchestra together with Bob Causer and his 15 Collegians playing their own arrangements, the Navy Day Ball, Cornell University's big social event of the spring season promises to be a successful affair. The dance will be held in the Drill Hall one week from tonight, and lasts from 10:30 till 3:30 o'clock.

Coming on the eve of the famed Carnegie Cup regatta when the Cornell crews race Yale, Princeton and Navy on Cayuga Lake, the dance promises to bring one of the largest crowds of recent years to the Hill. In anticipation of the throng, the committee in charge has arranged for a larger dance area than ever was used at previous Drill Hall dances.

Glen Gray is bringing with him two of radios' favorite vocalists. Kenny Sergeant and "Pee Wee" Hunt are heard every week on the Camel program, and together receive as much fan mail as maestro Gray himself.

Tickets for the dance are now on sale at Mayer's Smoke Shop, Browning King & Co., Triangle Book Shop, and Willard Straight Hall. Tickets for the dance are limited in number, and a price reduction is offered for those purchased before Friday, May 17.

By A. Propos

The Tournament again . . . and Ithaca College plays host to the High schoolers . . . activities seem to be crowding upon us . . . on and on . . . and no let up until June 7.

N. Morabito mentioned on the theatrical page of the "Mirror" . . . to quote the columnist . . . "Almost everyone in Brock Pemberton's office has had something to do with the stage at one time or another . . . Nancy Morabito, Brock's secretary, is a graduate of Ithaca College, which teaches only the three arts . . . music, drama, and physical education."

Several people around school can show you what the best dressed man will wear for four or five years . . . It has been said that Leslie Howard can be likened to water colors . . . that is, his acting can be . . . It has also been noted that Mr. Howard's performance in Petrified Forest is blurred a bit to those who sit in the in the back row. The movies treat Howard kindly . . . for they do say that Mr. Howard is not the dynamic sort of actor that can fill the theatre with his mere presence.

At the Phi E. K. banquet three people were waiting to be served . . . the plate was slow in coming . . . during the wait, one of the three consumed many glasses of water. She exclaimed, "This is my fourth glass. If I drink another I'll scream." Mr. R. replied, "You mean scream, don't you?" Miss K. tittered.

All that hissing that goes on in the local theatres . . . it has been said that hissing can be used advantageously . . . even at a movie, but it must be done intelligently.

Why must musicians tootle and make so much noise before they finally commence to play? Luke Perry remarks that all musicians want to be soloists, and that is their one chance to do it.

Unfortunate accident to Ray Callaghan . . . he's getting along nicely . . . many people getting jobs . . . and being sold insurance . . . Did you mail that letter yet?

Highlights of the week: Fredric March in his interpretation of the accused Jean Valjean . . . Committee of the tournament posing in doorway, waiting for props. That man in Ithaca who received seventy-five dollars from the chain letter association . . . all the extra mail carriers being put on to take care of the mail. Cardinal Richelieu . . . one sunshiny day . . . the band concert, a trifle shadowed by its length . . . and heavy for the dillitente . . . "Death Takes A Holiday" and "The Late Christopher Bean" . . . both well done . . . Walt Benham to get a haircut after the tournament. Those people who maul . . . and tickle . . . and flounce around in the lobby . . .

Many dates being made for the Navy Day Ball . . . Cayugans to be shipped May 26 . . . save your pennies . . . that very funny baseball game . . . and that darn good red headed catcher . . . Telephones are great things . . . some people never would get everything down the hill without one . . . Some of those odd, varied, and inane reactions to Mr. Roberts' "Placidia".

How alone one can feel in a rain storm . . . and how wet . . . wonder where all the little worms that come out on the sidewalk after the rain keep themselves while it is raining . . . a robin's holiday . . .

The ironical accident to the boys from Hornell, who made a mistake on the tournament date . . . Maniacs Ball on the 23 . . . Seems a pity that so many good friends are not made until their school-years are almost over . . . Three or four years is to long a time to wait to come out of the shell . . . frosh . . . take notice . . .

That very "pro" scene shift in "Placidia" . . . two and one half minutes . . . nice work, boys . . . rather fascinating to watch the lads from the fly gallery . . . or so 'tis said. The old red head from the metropolis plays nursemaid to a scottie . . . Caulfield, of course.

Classes are again on the wane . . . One would hardly recognize Elocu-

Hornell Group; Too Early For Contest Meet With Accident

A sorrowful note was cast upon the tournament proceedings when it was learned that an accident occurred to the group of boys who came from Hornell last Friday, thinking that the Tournament was to take place last week end. On the way back to Hornell the car they were riding in was forced off the road, with the result that one boy, Walter Scheider, was killed, and five others in the car sustained injuries. Scheider, who was to graduate this June from Mechanics Institute in Rochester was the brother of George Scheider, one of the boys in the cast of the play.

Red's Phy. Ed. Commentaries

By TOM JONES

Not only the Phy Ed department but the whole school are very sorry that Ray Callaghan didn't duck last Monday. For the benefit of those few who don't know about the serious accident in the school this year Ray Callaghan was hit in the back of the head with a 16 lb. shot. He was immediately brought to the school Infirmary and now under the special care of both an outside nurse and Miss Laurie he is doing very well. Hurry up and get out of the horizontal Ray everyone is anxious to see you around.

Mike Canavan and Little Win Dotter are getting quite interested in the finer things in life. Both of them said Sebela Wehe's recital was very enjoyable. In the mock marriage ceremony Little Win acted as the minister and Mike as the choir.

Jobs are floating into the school this year. So far we have six of this years men with positions and one of last years class. The men with jobs are Barney Goodfellow, Whitey Bushnell, Lou Gregory, Bob Muir, Carl Eldridge, and Russ Herrick. The last year's man is Hermey Marks.

The track team is going to Trenton next week for the Invitation Physical Meet.

I haven't heard any response from the tennis challenge that was in the paper last week. If the fellows in the Phy. Ed. Dept. are willing to pass up a joint challenge from the other two Depts. it doesn't look too well for the athletes of the college.

The new president of the W.S.G. A. is a Phy. Ed. Congratulations are in order to Jane Paulin for the fine work she has been doing in the past. Next week there will be five Baseball games. The home games will be with East Stroudsburg, Clarkson, and Rock Salt.

Belle States, a graduate of the Ithaca College Department of Physical Education, is married and is now Mrs. Frank Rodden. She and her husband visited Ithaca over the weekend.

Mr. Hill is in the western part of the state making a tour for prospective students.

Flash *** Whimpy Hillis' spring activity is walking from the Administration Building to Choir practice.

It must be that all the new directors are acting in the role of laborers. Muir and Eldridge are washing Carmen's windows. Too bad girls, there is a clause in Carl Eldridge's contract that states that he can not be married during the first year of teaching.

Of all the Phy. Ed. students in the recent play Larry Elwell got the most out of it. He found a little blonde to bestow his attention upon.

It has been very quiet in the Phi E. K. house these last few days Skelly has had two teeth pulled and his jaw has been bothering him.

Dick Dorf spent the weekend in Sidney again. It is just as well Grace didn't get a position in California.

The Ideal had better look to its laurels, the Cozy Corner seems to be becoming The Rendezvous of the college.

The Baseball team took a kicking last Monday from Villanova 11 to 3.

Even at that it was a darn good game, the score was due to the tough breaks that Ithaca received but does not indicate at all the ball game that was played for about seven innings. Gid Hawley pitched fine ball and Bus Recordon and Patty were outstanding in the field. The attendance was some better but it can still improve.

W. S. G. A. ELECTION HELD WEDNESDAY EVENING

The Women's Self Government Association held its second mass meeting of the year in the Little Theatre Wednesday evening, May 8. Molly Smith, president, presided. The following officers were installed; Jane Paulin, President; Mary Evelyn Connors, First Vice-President; Judy Davis, Second Vice-President; Margaret Weatherstone, Secretary; Dorothy Rothermel, Treasurer; Sally Bracken, President of Outside Girls; Rosalie Graubart, Census Chairman.

The speaker for the evening was Mrs. Rowland. She chose as her topic for discussion "The Reason for Being Born." Dean Powell also gave a few words of encouragement and farewell to the graduating seniors. Throughout the program, entertainment was furnished by Gertrude Brown who read, "Lasca" and Sally Bracken, violinist, gave a delightful interpretation of "Hungarian Folk Song" arranged by Hubay. She was accompanied by Kathryn Keesey. Reports were read by outgoing officers, after which the meeting was adjourned.

Cephus Again Describes College Life To His Dear Uncle Hezekiah

Between Rains

Dear Uncle Hezekiah,
Once again I have taken my quill in hand and shall now pour forth one of my sporadic communications to you. (Now you see what Paw didn't raise hogs for.)

I went to a baseball game the other day. Ithaca College played a college. Boy we've sure got a good team. You'd enjoy seeing those fellows play. I had to leave after the fourth inning.

Maybe Maw or Paw told you about that show the play actor students did last week. Well it seems to have caused more exclamations of horror and burning ears than that 'musical comedy' that played at the Hog Hollow Opera House—but I still think its a good show but maybe thats because I've read the Bible and other history books.

I stepped into the cellar here the other day and I thought I was in the wrong building—but I wasn't. It seems the play actor school is holding a dingus which is called a Tournament, to which all different high schools bring their Senior plays and their elocutors and what not and they all do their stuff and the best ones get a prize in the end. I guess its going to be a lot of fun and I'm going to see a lot of free shows.

I heard the band play the other night which is still much more better than the Hog Hollow Brass Band Organized in 1892.

I suppose you got the spring plowing pretty well under way. You're lucky to have land to plow. It looks like if things keep on only us that have land to raise stuff on are going to be able to partake of the daily bread.

Well I got to do a little plowing in Man's knowledge now.

Your Nephew
Cephus

BAGATELES

tion Hall . . . and while you're down there, don't fail to see Chad's painting on the far wall . . . an exquisite bit of artistry.

People looking very "summery" . . . done up, so to speak, in yellows and blues. . . that person who was "lifted" on the Bottle Hunt is known . . . pretty lucky, pretty lucky.

See you at the gym tonight.
The show at Treman and King's this evening is expected to surpass even "Placidia" in brevity of dress . . . nice suits.

RECITAL ARRANGED BY PROF. WILLIAM COAD

Mr. William Coad will present another of his delightful sonata recitals on May 14 in the Little Theatre. As in previous recitals, Mr. Coad will be accompanied by Miss Grace Curtis. The program is as follows:

Mozart No. 10 in B flat
Andante Sostenuto E. Cantabile
Rondo-Presto
Faure op. 13 in A
Allegro Molto
Andante
Allegro Vivace
Allegro Quasi Presto
Beethoven No. 9 op. 47
(Kreutzer)
Adagio Sostenuto
Andante Con Variazioni
Finale-Presto

There is no need for a lot of whangdoodle talk about cigarettes
— just plain common-sense

When you stop to think about your cigarette—what it means to you—here's about the way you look at it—

Smoking a cigarette gives a lot of pleasure—it always has.

People have been smoking and enjoying tobacco in some form or another for over 400 years.

Of course you want a cigarette to be made right. And naturally you want it to be mild. Yet you want it to have the right taste—and plenty of it.

In other words—you want it to Satisfy.

Scientific methods and ripe mild tobaccos make Chesterfield a milder and better-tasting cigarette. We believe you will enjoy them.
