Miss Bovee, Drama And Speech Senior, Gives L.T. Recital

Mary Ellis Bovee, a senior in the Department of Speech and Drama, gave her dissertation for this term. The recital was a spontaneous presentation. It was a clever play about the nervousness of a student who was suffering from stage fright. The play was both amusing and enlightening and was received with great applause.

Ithaca Concert Band - To Dedicate Program To Patrick Conway

Bandmaster Organizes Convent Band; 1922; Remarks Head Date Dec. 1929

By Philip Lee

The Ithaca College Concert Band will present its annual Patrick Conway program on Monday, May 14 at 3:30 p.m. in the little theater. Mr. Conway was one of the most outstanding of the bandmasters. His band had a reputation for musical excellence that has hardly ever been equalled. In the transition from military to concert bands, he was an innovator, believing that the conductor should have the possibility of rendering music as he conceived it and not just play it like a " Parsing the page, we learn that the Ithaca College Concert Band under Patrick Conway will perform on May 14, 1929. The concert band, known for its musical excellence, would feature a variety of music, including works by Handel, Mozart, and many others. The band would be conducted by Mr. Conway, who was known for his innovative approach to conducting and his ability to bring out the best in his musicians. The concert would feature music from various composers, showcasing the band's versatility and skill. The event was part of the school's annual concert series, providing students and the community with a chance to enjoy high-quality musical performances. The concert was a testament to the dedication of the band members and the bandmaster, who worked tirelessly to ensure the success of the performance. The article highlights the significance of such events in providing a platform for students to showcase their talent and for the broader community to appreciate and enjoy music. The Ithaca College Concert Band under Patrick Conway was indeed a noteworthy event in the school's cultural life, reflecting the university's commitment to excellence in music education and performance.
"To hell with the troublemakers," shouted Charles D. Dawes, international diplomat-banker, financier, when on the first of May a board of Chicago school teachers began working without a salary. Their protest was in the form of a peaceful, fact and bloodless demonstration. They finally stormed the City Council building and the banks that are serving in securing their payment. The Chicago citizens, in the meantime, have had to pay for the wages of striking teachers and the payroll. These thousands of children of Chicago's have been forced to enjoy the self to give expression to their earnest and human feelings. They have had but two partial paydays in fifteen long months; they have been neglected in their faith in the government-its great monarchies of stone, the monuments of stone, the statues of steel, the surety and security of this city-its greatest achievement.

The strength of the city's-its power lies in the interpretation of its own historic and artistic treasures. Chicago should provide, for these professionals, placed among the most perfect arts of expressing deep emotions, one of the most magnificent monuments of all music in that form. Some seers seem to recognize a unique and thoroughly professional quality in the art of music created by the masters, and the interest in which grows as well as the man. The artistic creation is in its own accomplishment.

In view of Chicago's functioning tax problem so lightly. Bankruptcy Dawes is giving to expression to the earnest and human feelings. Tuesday evening, April 25, the following brothers were elected to office: William S. Churchill, president; Leonard Whitney, vice-president; Thomas Frome, secretary; Walter Frome, treasurer; and Richard Bushnell, editor. During the meeting the following business was transacted: The officers and brothers present are requested to attend the initiation of the new chapter. The officers and brothers present are also requested to attend the meeting of the Student Assembly this Thursday at 4:30 P.M.

Delta Psi

The house was filled for the entertainment given last Tuesday, in which Miss Christine Biltz sang a number of songs, and also played the violin. Miss Biltz is a member of the Delta Psi orchestra and is a very good violinist. The entertainment was started by Professor L. H. Davis, who spoke a short time on the subject of life and health. The entertainment was then ended by a very entertaining dance.

Pi Alpha Kappa

The boys won their first badminton game last Tuesday, in spite of the heavy rain. The game was played rather closely throughout, but the boys finally came through to win by a score of 3-2. The battery of Bucky and Allen seem unbeatable; it looks as if our future opposition will suffer a lot of grief at the hands of the Tetts. We hope that they will continue to win the next game which is to be played next Tuesday.

Delta Chi

First annual varsity basketball game played the afternoon of the 21st. The game was a very close one, but the team came off victorious. The team consisted of the following members: R. K. Burton, C. M. Lewis, J. H. Reif, and W. W. L. Gifford. The game was played in the new gymnasium and was attended by a good crowd.

K.G.P. Band Gives Modern Student at Student Assembly

K.G.P. Band

A program of modern dance music presented by the Kappa Gamma Phi Dance Band under the direction of John Glennon, was the feature attraction last Wednesday's student assembly, with Arthur G. King as master of ceremonies.

The first half of the program was made up of the current popular rhythm numbers — "New Orleans," "For You," "Alexandra," "Ring Time Band," and "The Gamma Polka." The stamp was composed by Dan and Dau Mains, vocal refrain by "New Orleans," "For You," and "Alexander's Rag Time Band," by Moses, Vern, and Dau Mains, respectively. The second half of the program was dedicated to the 1933 Cayuga. The first song (a la Satchmo)—"Buy Your Cayugan Now"—was composed by Hans, Long and Main, and sung by Clifford Foreman. Following, announcement concerning the Cayugan and its sales center, the orchestra continued with "Dixie," "On the Tip of," and "Tea for Two," with vocal refrain by "Here We Go Rumbling." Next, an announcement of the Ithaca College-Cornell basketball game was made at Cornell May 10, at 8 o'clock. The program ended with three more stanzas of "Dixie."

TEAS MUSIC PHY ED SHOW DANCE OCCUP SPARE TIME AT JOURNEY

THURSDAY evening, when fifty to seventy-five out of town people were present, the first major election of the assembly a few weeks ago, repeated the earlier work, much to the delight of those who never knew before that professional would-be comedians and clowns are so sumptuous, and that his gang of fencers, singers, dancers, clowns and comedians, and trained magicians brought much new touch of color and spirit to the occasion of the Twelfth Annual.
