Theatre Tournament Winners Listed; Over 400 Students Attend

The twelfth annual Little Theatre Tournament conducted by the Department of Speech and Drama closed last Saturday evening with the presentation of the final one-act plays. Throughout the three-day period, Ithaca College was visited by more than 400 high school students. The Tournament was considered a complete success from every angle.

Plans are under way to make the Ithaca College tournament a final contest for other high school contests held in the State. The increased enrollment will probably make it necessary to add another half day to the Tournament next year. It is desirable to have six one-act plays in the finals rather than the usual three.

Following is a complete list of the winners and the awards made: In the long-play contest, first place went to Norwich High school for their production of "Death Takes A Holiday." For this honor they have received one leg on the trophy for first place which must be won three times to be kept by the winner. The second place went to Mt. Pleasant High School, Schenectady, which presented "The Late Christopher Bean." The one-act play contest was won by Sunbury High School of Pennsylvania with the play "Singapore Spider." They too have one leg on the trophy awarded for this place. The second award, a cup, to be kept permanently went to Delaware Academy of Delhi, N. Y.

Mt. Pleasant High School came through to win the first place in the prize speaking contest, thereby receiving a trophy. The winning contestant was Miss Laura Winter who presented a cutting from "Berkeley Square." Second place in the speaking contest went to George Lascelles of Rome Free Academy.

The individual awards for the best acting in the long plays went to Laura Winter of Schenectady and second place to Grace Liljevist of Bath. The best acting awards for the short plays went to first, Lucille Hartrauft of Cortland and second John Parkansky of Sunbury.

Three Drama Dept. Seniors to Present Recital Thurs. Eve.

Donald Blanding, John Brown and Sally Osborne will present their Senior Recitals Thursday evening, May 23, in the Little Theatre. A varied program is promised. Mr. Blanding will present original character impersonations of well-known stage and screen personalities. A lecture on the Drama will be given by John P. Brown, Jr. The lecture has been written by Mr. Brown. Mrs. Osborne will present, "The Twelve Pound Look" by Sir James M. Barrie. The students have been coached by Mrs. Broughton, Mr. Landon and Mr. Newens respectively.

Lawrence Hickok Seelye President of St. Lawrence

Laurens Hickok Seelye, late of the American College at Beirut Syria, and at present a member of the faculty of Bennington College was elected president of St. Lawrence University at the annual meeting of the board of trustees last week. Mr. Seelye succeeds Dr. Richard Eddy Sykes who has retired after sixteen years as head of the university and who becomes president emeritus on his retirement from active leadership.

SENIOR RECITAL

The next in a series of Senior recitals to be given this term is "Let Us Be Gay" by Rachel Crothers, to be presented by Miss Dorothy Fuchs, Saturday evening at 8:30 in the Little Theatre. "Let Us Be Gay" is one of Miss Crother's best known plays and Miss Fuchs has been rehearsing the vehicle for a considerable time. It plays a full evening and promises to be one of the most interesting recitals of the season. Miss Fuchs was tutored by Mrs. Broughton.

Hamilton Professor Claims Writers Use Obscenity for Life

A professor at Hamilton College in a recent interview with a representative of Hamilton Life, weekly publication of that institution, expressed surprise that such writers as James Joyce are popular in colleges, and especially Hamilton. He is Professor M. L. Bonham, and has been associated with Hamilton for sixteen years.

Undoubtedly faculty members of other colleges have given some thought to the matter, but Professor Bonham is decidedly interesting. He says: "Many writers today try to make up for their lack of ideas by using obscenity and calling it life." He was surprised to know that such writers as James Joyce should be popular at Hamilton, in view of the fact that the student body itself was so remarkably clean-minded. After sixteen years of association with Hamilton undergraduates, Professor Bonham declared that there is far less obscenity and immorality among Hamilton men than among similar groups throughout the country.

What the Hamilton professor cannot understand is the fact that the Hamilton student's tastes in literature and actual life were so different. He predicts that such books as "So Red The Rose," by Starke Young would be considered far greater in 100 years than books such as "Anthony Adverse."

Mrs. Ida Deck Haigh Entertains Sorority In Informal Recital

Thursday evening, May 9, Epsilon Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota was honored to have Mrs. Ida Deck Haigh, chapter honorary member, in an informal recital for the members of the sorority. Mrs. Haigh is an accomplished pianist and well-known in music circles. Mrs. Haigh is frequently heard on programs with Gilbert Ross, violinist, as his accompanist.

Her program was as follows:
English Suite—A Minor ..... Bach
Prelude
Sarabande
Bourree
Gigue
Choral—Preludes ..... Bach

Choir Completes Tour Tuesday; WJZB'cast Sunday Night, 10:30

The Ithaca College Choir, under the direction of Ralph Ewing, will complete an extended tour on Tuesday, May 21, after singing at the Scranton High School. To date the choir has completed engagements at Towanda, Pa., Elmira, N. Y., Endicott, N. Y., Binghamton, N. Y., Honesdale, Pa., Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Berwick, Pa., Danville, Pa., York, Pa., and Washington, D. C.

On Saturday, they will sing at John Wanamaker's Dept. Store in Philadelphia, and on Sunday will be heard over WJZ and the National Broadcasting Co., direct from Radio City, at 10:30, Eastern Standard Time. Monday the choir will sing at New Rochelle. Following the concert at Scranton, the choir will return to Ithaca, where a concert will be given at the First Methodist Church on Wednesday evening at 8:15.

Coward's "Hay Fever" To Be Given June 4, 5

The last production of the season for the Drama Department will be Noel Coward's "Hay Fever," which will be presented on June 4 and 5, in the Little Theatre. Sally Osborne will assistant direct the play. The cast is as follows:

Judith Bliss	Elizabeth Dodge
David Bliss	Michael Fusco
Simon Bliss	Arthur Rowland
Sorel Bliss	Mary Laskaris
Richard Greatham	Byron Gulden
Myra Arundel	Virginia Beeler
Jackie Coryton	Gertrude Brown
Sandy Tyrell	Alfred Little

"Hay Fever" is considered by many to be Coward's best comedy. Then, too, it is the hardest to play for the reason that the action moves with amazing rapidity and requires deft technique. So successful was the play in New York that it ran triumphantly for over a year. Since 1925, the date of its premier, it has enjoyed many successful revivals both in this country and in England. The premier in England was played with a cast headed by Marie Tempest while in America Laura Hope Crews played the leading role. Parents and relatives of the graduates will be able to witness the play, since it will be presented during Senior week.

Coad-Curtis Present Brilliant Recital in L. T. Sonata Series

It was the good fortune of several townspeople and a few wise students to hear another superior performance of sonata literature, in the last recital of the year given by Miss Curtis and Mr. Coad in the Little Theatre on Tuesday evening.

The program opened with a melodious Mozart sonata, which showed to advantage the delicate and sympathetic interpretations of the artists. Its characteristic light themes were alternated between the violin and the piano in such a clever manner that the number came to an end much too soon for the enthusiastic audience.

After this, the modern Faure, with the technical show of the first and the last movements sandwiching in an Andante of beautiful modulating progressions and an Allegro Vivace in a charming folk-melody, furnished a decided but pleasant contrast.

Beethoven's Lovely Kreutzer sonata concluded the evening in the way that only Beethoven can. Its whole performance left a feeling of awe in the listeners.

It is with regret that we think that this is the last of these recitals for many of us. The two artists achieve in their playing a one-ness that is seldom found in two individuals so talented. Either one is splendid, but the combination is near perfection.

Informal Musicales at Phi Mu, Entertaining

Delta Chapter of Phi Mu Alpha, Sinfonia, entertained at their chapter house at 117 DeWitt Place, Sunday afternoon May 12 at 3:15, with an informal musicale.

The program was as follows:
"Playera" ..... Sarasate
"Ghosts" from Albert Spaulding's
"Etchings"
Violin Solo ..... Clyde Owens
Accompanist ..... Harry Carney
Selection from "Midsummer's Night Dream" ..... Mendelssohn
Horn Solo ..... Edward Urion
Accompanist, Mr. Bert Rogers Lyon
"Mysterious Mist" LeRoy Connolly
"Deep River" ..... Willard Robinson
Arr. by Clyde Owens
String trio: Clyde Owens, Harold
Henderson, LeRoy Connolly
"Polonaise" ..... Wiesonborn
Bassoon solo ..... Harry Carney
Accompanist, Mr. Bert Rogers Lyon

Four Plays Chosen For Next Dramatic Dept. Presentation

The fourth play to be selected for the program of one act plays next month is "Trial By Fury" by Joseph A. Short. The characters, Abbey, called "exhibit A", and Sammy, "exhibit B", will be played by Angela McDermott and Walter Benham.

The story is typically American and concerns itself with the problems of domesticity. Abbey is a former school teacher and Sammy is a creative artist. Abbey finds herself constantly confronted with the fact that she was a school teacher, while Sammy tries earnestly to "make adjustments". Fast dialogue and a clever climax should make an interesting twenty minutes of entertainment.

The following three plays complete the program to be presented on May 29 only. "Roses in December" "Coffee For Three" and "All's Fair."

"Roses In December" by Dorothy Humberstone will depend upon lighting and stage effects for its success. Mrs. Frances Batterson Powers will play the leading role of Mrs. Terrence, instead of Virginia Herman Beeler, as announced last week. Mrs. Terrence in episodes of retrogression throughout the play relives the better part of her life. Mother love is the theme the author wishes to express.

"Coffee For Three" through the mechanical medium of the radio captures "Morretti" an escaped convict, and the author, Carleton Bentley has provided an exciting bit of drama for the Little Theatre audiences.

"All's Fair" by Angela McDermott concerns the "going's on" of four college girls-attending a fraternity dance. The situation and the dialogue is well handled by the author.

Maniac's Ball to be Held in Gym Thursday

Kappa Gamma Psi will hold its annual Maniac's Ball in the college gymnasium on Thursday night, May 23, from ten to one. Music will be furnished by a combination of active and associate members in a band of fifteen pieces. The music committee is headed by Charles Budesheim. The dance, one of the highlights of the college year, is under the supervision of Walter Ninesling, Jr.

Robert Frost, Poet To Get Honor Degree

Word comes from St. Lawrence University that among the honorary degrees to be given by that institution will be one to Robert Frost, outstanding American poet. Mr. Frost will receive the degree of Doctor of Humane Letters at the annual commencement exercises at St. Lawrence on June 10.

Others who will receive honorary degrees are Dr. Hamilton Fyfe, principal and vice chancellor of Queen's University, who will receive an LL. D., and the Rev. Noble E. McLaughlin; D.D.

Regarding Methods Of Getting To An Ithaca College Dance

Theta Alpha Phi, dramatic fraternity, sponsored a dance in the gym a week ago tonight. A large, gay crowd attended the affair. The orchestra played lively tunes and Bill Cornell sang with the orchestra as it played his own composition. The dancers were frolicsome. The committee looked at each other and smiled. The dance was such a success, they thought. Socially, it was, but imagine the committee's consternation upon discovering, after all expenses had been paid, that the dance had run them twenty dollars in the red. They discovered the reason when they had assembled all the fake tickets that had been collected at the door. Thirty-five per cent of the dancers on the floor last Friday night were typical examples of the great "American Chiselers." It reminds me of what Dr. Job said at the Adelphi banquet, held recently at the college dining hall. The entire student body should have heard it. Perhaps someday they will.

The Little Theatre Tournament dance was the first social event the college has seen for some time. It's a pity the sponsors had to lose money on it. Those people sponsoring the Maniac's Ball might begin now to make their tickets—fool-proof.

RIVER REED

The little reed that wavers by the shore
Will waver yet when waters shall subside,
And dry soil, ridged and ribbed, shall ever more
But lend itself the willing strength to hide
The lonely root. The little reed shall bend
And give itself to straying wind and send
Its roots more firmly through the sod
Until it finds the root that leads to God.
Impervious root that heeds not any tide,
Withdraw thyself into the soil and hide
Therein the graciousness of strength sublime:
The wind, the rain, the gentleness of time.

—R. V. B.

A BIRTHDAY

There is one among us who has a birthday tomorrow. He will be sixty four years young. In the many years he has been associated with Ithaca College, students have come to know, love and respect him for the true gentleman and friend that he is. The Ithacan takes this opportunity to say on behalf of the staff, the student body and the faculty—HAPPY BIRTHDAY "CHAD"!

BAGATELLES

By A. Propos

You should have seen that diligent person on the park bench the other morning. The actor, or actress knows no bounds, as evidenced by a line rehearsal . . . even in DeWitt Park. Unfortunately I was out of ear shot, but the pantomime, gestures and emotions carried even to the third story window . . . and the little girl looked very interested . . .

Can't imagine anyone being in a class since September and still not knowing the number assigned to him or her . . . yet such things do exist . . . even among college students.

Am told that Mr. Al "Young's Gap" Gelfante will be pressing this summer! . . . am also told that the stone prefixed by a similarity to lumber has a "putting brain" . . . whatever that is . . . It looks now as though we'll be dancing our way out of school . . . what with the Navy Day Ball tonight, the Maniac's Ball next week . . . the various sorority and fraternity formals and a senior dance during commencement week.

The end is all too soon . . . only twenty-two more days to be exact . . . counting today . . . Straka looks sleepy . . . the choir's Miles away, so Lombardi's taking it on the chin from the Boyce . . . which reminds me that six A. M. rehearsals don't go so well with the people on the trip.

That boy, I don't know his name, who shouted in The Green Room "A Phy Ed must have a strong heart" should be told . . . so should those lads who said "No" when asked to carry a few chairs from the gym to room twelve . . .

Interviews and more interviews . . . they'd be all right if anything ever came of them . . . hear that Mother Blanding has an interesting recital to give . . . I hope she's well!

Interesting jottings . . . The central casting bureau in Hollywood reports that last year, only 12 of the 4000 registered extras made a living wage . . . that to be a "dress" extra girl you must have evening gowns and coats, formal afternoon clothes and wraps as well as all kinds of street and sport wear . . . and that an extra "dress" girl spends from $600 to $1000 a year on clothes . . . if an extra is singled out to speak a line, the pay jumps from $10 to $35 . . . the chances still look slim . . . Freddie Bartholomew, who played David Copperfield is to be Greta Garbo's son . . . in her next picture.

Those boys playing catch on the campus . . . tha-rilling . . . Byrd greeted in Washington by the president . . . one keeps wondering why all this explaining . . . Noticed recently where 250,000 square miles of land had been mapped and staked for Uncle Sam.

Those lobby yodelers should also be told . . . Seniors too !!! So many colds . . . Mrs. T. is reported to have said it is better to snuff than to blow . . .

Baseball Team Loses To St. Lawrence And Clarkson; 2-1; 13-8

Ithaca College suffered defeat at the hands of St. Lawrence University Monday afternoon to the tune of a 2-1 score. St. Lawrence bagged their two runs in the second inning; Ithaca College pulled theirs' in in the 9th. Hawley held the Larries to four hits. The game was ragged with 13 Ithaca men left on bases. Hawley and Pismanoff did the battery honors.

In the Clarkson game on Tuesday, Clarkson triumphed with a score of 13-8. Webb and Hawley tried hard to hold the heavy Clarkson hitters with Pismanoff doing his bit behind the plate. The game was listless and rugged due to the inclement weather.

Wednesday afternoon a practice game was held with the Rock Salt team. Another practice game was held Thursday-afternoon.

East Stroudsburg will come to Ithaca on Friday for a game at Percy Field and on Saturday afternoon, a return game with Clarkson will be played at 1 o'clock.

scientifically, she says . . . Mr. Landon claims that graveyards are dead issues . . . especially for debate . . . well, we'll leave that one for the undertaker.

A suggested reading list for June might include:

1. The Magnificent Obsession; 2. Where The Blue Begins; 3. Testament of Youth; 4. Goodby Mr. Chips. . . a sort of desert, so they say . . . Liberty is suggested for Nicholas . . . Andy's new name for Straka . . . "Sweet Pea" . . . Very tender indeed.

How nice it would be if that light in the Cornell Tower Clock would go out . . . just once.

Lots of parties going to the Glenwood on Saturday night . . . It's a beautiful spot.

THE MAN WHO WROTE

"Darling, I am growing old" was never inside this store.

If he had been he'd have sung an entirely different tune.

The idea that a man is as old as he feels . . . is out. He's as old as he looks . . . and in a Reed suit . . .

Well the faculty will start noticing how many blonds are in the class . . .

And the class will have a heck of a time keeping its mind on do, re, mi's and spend most of it on the lass and teas.

This isn't a one-way street . . . we're showing palm beaches and tropical worsteds, that's true . . . but we know lots of men who are still in the market for woolens . . . we're so sure of it we've had more sent in.

Twenty-five bucks puts on your back a suit with the technique of Bach; the color of Verdi and the melody of Schubert.

Red's Phy. Ed. Commentaries

By TOM JONES

Whimpy Hillis, K.K.K. was elected as the Phy Ed representative to the student council at an assembly held last Tuesday.

Other things discussed by Mr. Hill during the assembly was the possibility of the present juniors to teach English with a provisional certificate; with four added hours the present junior may also teach History. As Mr. Hill said "It gives you three strings to your bow." It certainly should give you something better to aim at.

Necking in public places around school should stop. Watch it Ray!

A new curriculum will be available to the Phy Eds starting next September. The first year work will remain the same for Mr. Hill feels that if after the first year students desire to change their major they will have practically all the hours and credits accepted.

There has been so much comment about the unnecessary raise that a certain Phy Ed frosh made during the exhibition in the Green Room last Friday that I thought he would like to know it and possibly he would take a tip. Save some of that noise, you might need it to sell yourself to a principal some day.

The Track Team leaves for Trenton this noon. It is the only meet of the year so we wish the team both lots of luck in dodging 16 lb shots and lots of success in the meet.

Charley Green is one of the holders of conference championships and since this will be his last appearance in it we all hope he breaks his own record and again brings 5 points to Ithaca. We of course expect wins from Lou Gregory too. Lou will also be making his last appearance on college cinders.

The Baseball Team has been running into some trouble but we hope that tomorrow revenge will be sweet.

Bob Muir doesn't know whether to take that big hop on or buy a new car. It doesn't seem as though there is much choice. If he does take that big hop it will cost money but if he buys a car it will take money for gas from Long Island to Ithaca. It seems a man just can't win.

Meck has been staying in nights in his pajamas at seven. Is it track or is it inspiration in Allentown.

The tennis matches with the other departments will start Monday or Tuesday.

Cappy Livicchi is substitute Phy Ed man in Friendship. We hope it leads to something better Cap. Make good.

Rumor has it that our freshman, Annette Starke went "down the aisle" at 5 o'clock Thursday.

CASA LOMA BAND AT BALL TONIGHT

Sargent and Hunt Featured

Kenny Sargent and Pee Wee Hunt, stars of the Casa Loma Radio orchestra, will appear at the Navy Day Ball tonight in person. The dance which promises to be one of the outstanding events of the season, will be held in the Cornell Drill Hall from 10:30 to 3:30.

As announced by the decorations committee, the Drill Hall will take on a marine atmosphere, suitable to the occasion. The huge throng expected will dance by light furnished from a thirty foot lighthouse placed in the center of the enlarged dancing space.

The Casa Loma orchestra has become famous throughout the country through its unique arrangements of popular tunes. It has played at more than 80 colleges and has satisfied countless thousands at these affairs and at the Glen Island Casino and the Essex House, besides its weekly broadcasts. The Glen Gray organization will be augmented by Bob Causer's Collegians.

Course I'll join you
