Little Theatre Tournament Visited by Three Hundred Guests

Varsity Wins 2 as Frosh Take Cornell Frosh by 7-6 Score

The varsity baseball club continued winning when it defeated the DePauw, Indiana, Saturday, in a game over 7 to 2. Hawley and Bernard both scored two runs apiece for the Ithacans in the first inning. City League boys from hiring, while in the third and further game with the Cornell Frosh and defeated them 2 to 6. Until the last inning's boys held the Cornellers for four straight hits in that last inning nearly cost them the game. Hawley looks like a future star of 23 field goals with the ability of a good material among the none, still to round out the old team.

Monday afternoon, the Frosham club defeated the Cornell Frosh School in a game over 7 to 3 in a game over 7 to 3 in the first half, in a game over 7 to 3 in the third half, and in a game over 7 to 3 in the fourth half.

"Eliah" Spectacular; 439 Voices in Chorus

Bonelli, Doe, Solists

Henry Carey Jr.: Ithaca Boys

Among the outstanding musical events of the spring season was "Eliah," presented on the last day of the Ithaca High School. "Eliah" was found to be a fitting vehicle for the students of the Ithaca High School to express their love for the Bible.

The Ithacan: Friday, May 11, 1934

Randings and summations by Tom Murray

It was well, it was quite a Tournament ... and all that. Although there aren’t as many schools represented as in some years ... there was more talk about some of the contents returning to our noble walls in the fall. We saw some clever lads and ladies in those plays and should be glad that they are at least thinking of coming here. For some of us ... it was just the transmutation for which we feel like veterans.

For several weeks ... that is derisory. Bill Cornell was often heard to ask if we were possible ... Some one should have told him. Or maybe they didn’t have the heart to say it.

Do you think I could have my last attempt to stake a conclusion ... if it’s picked an old show that he had often placed ... refurbished some of the scenes, got some new songs, picked a star cast to draw the crowd ... and then tried to put those scenes in the background. He gave them bits in the way of and juggled the verses for himself. But it is the same case ... same scene, played. Couldn’t have come ... but Louisa Fairclough, a star of the silent days ... crashed through in a bit part. She nicely show with costume and appropriate looks. For she was a fine job with a bit part she is in the light. Al succeeded in promoting a comeback ... but it was for Louisa ... Mona. Try to make myself remember ... that’s for so of the drama.

Was talking to Ed Flynn ... who is normally neither here. But Ed has a bit of research work he would like to do. He has discovered that there is something interesting about the different kinds of total qualities to be found in sprawling suburban choir. He feels only the pity in the Ithacan offer so far ... but hopes that soon he’ll have a whole room-full of them. He has not yet any real nobles experience ... like Guy’s symphony. Maybe in a year or so from living in Schenectady.

Must take back what I said last week ... Billy Petry and Luke Potts not the first to leave the elements ... Was told quite definitely that three girls had been in ahead of them. We males are certainly being ground ... I hope that reveals of the pieces of the various and perfect form of Bach’s “Prelude and Fugue,” contrasted with the strange and brilliant “Rivulet and Fire Dance” by Ta-Full or the stirring “Húngarische Rhapsodie” of Liszt. The ability to master Goring’s regard, surely music and at the same time dress Downfall’s “Intrusions in the Water” is particularly advantageous to any student of the Art.

Without attempting a detailed or analytical review of our musical concert we must compliment both pupils and teachers. To prepare and deliver in public a program of that length and difficulty demands much study and hard work. Many of the students of the three days’ work has been fine spirit and application.

In passing, an additional point may well be noted. Much may be learned from “Eligos” student recordings as well as finished performances. The performances of technical accuracy necessary for full stage presentations cannot be overemphasized.

BAGATELLES

The only sin against life is to permit one's self to get too tired to enjoy it... Yellow hat and scarf in Ithaca... The awful flux isn't too far away... The shortest pen ever written is now repairable to be, "I, Why?"... which is much better than its predecessor, "Adam, Had 'em."... The pretty clamps of Nassau on the past tree, covering near the Dining Hall... we can't smell them... which remind me that the Summer School students will keep the press... as ponderable... Proposers, a combination of diplomacy, teaching, and bath-reading all at the same time... but to different scholars... Peggy and Steve in Saranac again... Jim Zani's very hot tea... Loren, Charlie... If things always remained the same we would be bored as a chimney on the roof-top... a hitherto unknown... Betty and Teddy... "'Twas rumored already... are going quite steadily... "Giant!" Keller's voice audible in the "Barretts of Wimpole Street"... Delightful current calls... Alumni Banquet a success... The Bohemian meeting... subtle studies on English diction... unforgettable corners... Stravinsky, Debussy, Opium, Ballet, Agamemnon, Pölinke, Black Rhythm on a Pendulum... Ona Vogt has it... and Election Hall is still that way... showing off till the company goes... at the "House of Rothschild"... the line that stopped the show... He tipped his chauffeur a dime when leaving the car... whereupon the chauffeur said, "But Mr. Rothschild, you're daughter always gives me more than that..." and whispered Mr. B. replied, "Well, my daughter has a rich father. I haven't."... Thanks to C. James for "From the standpoint of one of the audience, at least, blanchers proved a remarkable one of the intrinsic value of music."... Had confused and diffused sensations at Elffin... So encouraging... people no longer applied between movements of a symphony... nothing should have been shot about the fact in the Little Theatre during the Tournament... it's only wise to make us as uncomfortable as we should have felt during "Shakespeare."... On being asked how they liked the play, someone replied, "... and when he said 'Put!... be still!'... Feel sorry for those who missed the C.C. (Crandall-Christie) recital... and some did... Just discovered that sensitiveness can be hid... someone whom I thought I knew for two years... just introduced himself to me... with a tear... a tiny person with hands that do things beside dingle... He was overwhelmed by his ignition... so he said. He didn't feel overwhelmed... rather did he feel an admission... and that happens to be the first time I ever knew. Don't you think so, Pete?... An Indian's cheeks... or perhaps, wrinkled... yes... but red... like an apple that lasted through the winter... Like that line of gallantry... "Come into my garden, I want me sues to see you..."... and speaking... it proves reminds me of wall-flowers... those were the girls who never danced... now, the wall-flowers are the ones who dance every dance..."..."... was told me..."... The tall sunflowers... pleasant chieftains, with curtains for stems and yellow drops of water for pets... with their loyal subjects... the crimson plumes instead of plundering my Violets and Crocuses, the happy children... while the levee主治ess Hollyhocks wait for the rain... That hum toasting makes my eyes water...

---and they do something like that to mellow good tobaccos

WHERE THE RARE WINES... came from they know that the two most important things in wine-making are the selection of the grapes and the long years of aging in the wine cellars.

IT'S VERY MUCH THE SAME IN the making of a cigarette. You have to get the right tobaccos, then put them away to age and mellow in wooden boxes.

You can't make a good cigarette like Chesterfield in a day. It takes over two years to age the tobaccos for your Chesterfields—but it adds something to the taste and makes them milder.
