

Leadership Lessons Learned at the Head of the Charles

Jacqueline McDevitt '17

Communication Management and Design

Sponsored by Michele Lenhart

Serving as a senior co-captain of the women's rowing team provides many opportunities to put leadership skills to work. During one particularly challenging regatta experience, the presenter of this session was able to demonstrate the importance of determination, authenticity, and optimism in helping her team overcome obstacles. The lessons learned will last far beyond that race.