Translations In der Frühe

In der Frühe

Kein Schlaf noch kühl das Auge mir, Dort geht schon der Tag herfür
An meinem Kammerfenster.
Es wühlet mein verstörter Sinn Noch zwischen Zweifeln her und hin Und schafft Nachtgespenster.
-Ängste, quäle
Dich nicht länger, meine Seele!
Freu' dich!
Schon sind da und dorten Morgenglocken wach geworden.

At daybreak

No sleep yet cools my eyes; day is already beginning outside my chamber window.
My troubled senses rummage still here and there among my doubts, creating nightly visions.
-Frighten and torment yourself no longer, my soul!
Be happy!
Already, here and there, morning bells are awakening.

-Eduard Mörike

Verborgenheit

Verborgenheit

Laß, o Welt, o laß mich sein!
Locket nicht mit Liebesgaben, Laßt dies Herz alleine haben Seine Wonne, seine Pein!

Seclusion

Let, oh world, oh let me be!
Entice me not with gifts of love.
Let this heart in solitude have Its bliss, its pain!

Was ich traure, weiß ich nicht, Es ist unbekanntes Wehe; Immerdar durch Tränen sehe Ich der Sonne liebes Licht.
Oft bin ich mir kaum bewußt, Und die helle Freude zücket Durch die Schwere, so mich
drücket, Wonniglich in meiner Brust.

What I mourn, I know not.
It is an unknown pain; Forever through tears shall I see the sun's love-light.
Often, I am scarcely conscious And the bright joys break Through the pain, thus pressing

Delightfully into my breast.

-Eduard Mörike

Pastorale des Cochons Roses

Pastorale des Cochons Roses

Le jour s'annonce à l'Orient, De pourpre se colorant,
Le doigt du matin souriant Ouvre les roses!

Pastorale of the pink pigs

Dawn arrives in the East, coloring itself crimson; the finger of smiling morning opens the roses.

Et sous la garde d'un gamin

Qui tient une gaule à la main,
On voit passer sur le chemin
Les cochons roses.

Le rose rare au ton charmant Qu'à l'horizon, en ce moment,

Là-bas, au bord du firmament

On voit s'étendre, Ne réjouit pas tant les yeux, N'est pas si frais et si joyeux Que celui des cochons soyeux D'un rose tendre!

Le zéphir, ce doux maraudeur, Porte plus d'un parfum rôdeur

Et dans la matinale odeur Des églantines,
Les petits cochons transportés Ont d'exquises vivacités Et d'insouciantes gaiétés Presqu'enfantines;
Heureux, poussant de petits cris, Ils vont par les sentiers fleuris Et ce sont des jeux et des ris Remplis de grâces;
Ils vont, et tous ces corps charnus Sont si roses qu'ils semblent nus Comme ceux d'amours ingénus Aux formes grasses.

Des points noirs dans ce rose clair

Semblant des truffes dans leur chair,

Leur donnent vaguement un air De galantine;

Et leur petit trotinement,
A cette graisse, incessamment, Communique un tremblotement De gélatine.

Le long du ruisseau flofrottant, Ils suivent tout en ronflotant La blouse au large dos flottant De toile bleue, ils trottent Les petits cochons, Les gorets gras et folichons, Remuant les tire-bouchons

And under the watch of a young boy who holds a stick in his hand, one sees passing over the path

the pink pigs.

The rare, charming shade of pink which on the horizon, at that moment, over there, at the edge of the firmament,

one sees spreading, does not delight the eyes as much, is not as fresh nor as joyful as that of the silken pigs of a soft pink.

The zephyr, that sweet marauder, carries more than one roving scent.

And, in the morning fragrance of sweet briars, the little pigs, carried away, are of exquisitely liveliness and of carefree cheerfulness almost child-like.

Happy, emitting little cries, they go by the flowery paths, their games and laughter full of grace; they go, and all these fleshy bodies are so pink that they seem naked, like artless lovers with plump bodies.

Black specks amidst the pale pink seem like truffles in their flesh, giving them something of the air of galantines, and their little trotting motion to their fat, unceasingly communicates a quivering like jelly.

Along the flow of the stream, they follow, all a-snorting, the broad flowing smock of blue cloth. They trot, the little pigs, the piglets plump and playful, wiggling the corkscrews

Que fait leur queue!

Puis, quand les champs sans papillons Exhaleront de leurs sillons Les plaintes douces des grillons Toujours pareilles, Les cochons rentrant au bercail Défileront sous le portail Agitant le double éventail De leurs oreilles;
Et quand là-bas, à l'Occident, Croulera le soleil ardent,
A l'heure où le soir descendant

Ferme les roses, Paisiblement couchés en rond,
Près de l'auge couleur marron,

Bien repus ils s'endormiront,
Les cochons roses!

-Edmond Rostand

their tails make!

Then, when the fields, without butterflies, emit from their furrows the sweet laments of the crickets, ever the same,
the pigs will reenter their fold, marching under the doorway, waving the double fan of their ears.
And when, over there in the West, the burning sun crumbles, at the time when evening descends closing the roses, peaceably bedded in a ring near a chestnut-colored trough colored, well sated, they will fall asleep,

the pink pigs!

Les Cigales

Les Cigales

Le soleil est droit sur la sente, L'ombre bleuit sous les figuiers;

Ces cris au loin multipliés, C'est midi, c'est midi qui chante.
Sous l'astre qui conduit le chœur,

Les chanteuses dissimulées Jettent leurs rauques ululées De quel infatigable cœur.

REFRAIN: Les cigales, ces bestioles, Ont plus d'âme que les violes;
Les cigales, les cicalons, Chantent mieux que les violons!

S'en donnent-elles, les cigales, Sur les tas de poussière gris, Sous les oliviers rabougris Étoilés de fleurettes pâles.

The cicadas

The sun is directly over the path, the shadow turns blue under the fig trees, the cries in the distance multiply, it is noon, it is noon that sings!
Under the star that conducts the choir, the singers which are concealed throw their raucous hooting from such a tireless heart!

REFRAIN: The cicadas, those bugs, have more soul than violins, the cicadas, the little cicadas, sing better than violins!

They give themselves up, these cicadas, atop the heaps of grey dirt, under the scraggly olive trees starred with little flowers.

Et grises de chanter ainsi, Elles font leur musique folle;
Et toujours leur chanson s'envole Des touffes du gazon roussi!

(REFRAIN)

Aux rustres épars dans le chaume, Le grand astre torrentiel, À larges flots, du haut du ciel,
Verse le sommeil et son baume.
Tout est mort, rien ne bruit plus Qu'elles, toujours, les forcenées, Entre les notes égrenées De quelque lointain angélus!

(REFRAIN)

-Rosemond Gérard

And tipsy from singing so, they make their crazed music, and always their song soars out from tufts of scorched grass!

Over the rustics, scattered among the thatching, the great torrential star in wide streams, from high in the sky pours slumber and its balm.
All is dead, nothing sounds any more but them, the frenzied ones, filling in the spaces between the tolls of some remote Angelus!

(REFRAIN)

¿Y que voy a besar?
¿Y que voy a tocar?
¿Y cuando cruzará mi espíritu?

And what will I kiss?
And what will I touch?
And when will it cross my spirit?

-Gene Scheer
