Gloria was written as a concert work. It was commissioned by the Voices of Mel Olson, Omaha, Nebraska, and the composer directed the first performance on the occasion of his first visit to the United States in May 1974. The Latin text, drawn from the Ordinary of the Mass, is a centuries-old challenge to the composer: exalted, devotional and jubilant by turns. Rutter’s setting, which is based mainly on one of the Gregorian chants associated with the text, divides into three movements roughly corresponding to traditional symphonic structure. The accompaniment is for brass ensemble with timpani, percussion and organ – a combination which in the outer movements makes quite a joyful noise unto the Lord, but which is used more softly and introspectively in the middle movement. The composer later made a version with full orchestra.

Translation:

I. Gloria in excelsis Deo, et in terra pax hominibus bonae voluntatis. Laudamus te, benedicimus te, adoramus te, glorificamus te, gratias agimus tibi propter magnam gloriam tuam.

III. For thou only art holy, thou only art the Lord. Thou only, O Christ, with the Holy Ghost, art most high in the glory of God the Father. Amen.

Hans Leo Hassler was one of the most prolific and highly regarded German composers and organists of the Late Renaissance. Though Hassler was a Protestant, he spent much of his creative life in the service of German patrons who were Catholic. Hassler composed both sacred and secular vocal and instrumental music, but is today probably best known for his masses, motets, and German songs. A student of the influential Venetian composer, Andrea Gabrieli (Giovanni Gabrieli's uncle), Hassler is credited with bringing the expressive and colorful musical style of the Italian Renaissance to Germany. Musical giants of the Baroque, namely Heinrich Schütz (1585-1672), Dietrich Buxtehude (1637-1707), Georg Telemann (1681-1767), and Johann Sebastian Bach (1685-1750), were undoubtedly influenced by Hassler's compositions and reputation as an organist. Cantate Domino is traditionally used in the Catholic Church as the Introitus for the Fourth Sunday after Easter.

- Scott A. Taylor and Lawrence Kaptein

Translation:

Sing to Lord a new song
Sing to Lord all the earth
Sing to Lord, and bless his name

Cantate Domino canticum novum
Cantate Domino omnis terra
Cantate Domino, et benedicite nomini ejus

Considered one of the most gifted English madrigalists, Thomas Weelkes (1576-1623) was also an important composer of English church music. He spent most of his life as a church musician, first at Westminster College. Sometime between 1601 and 1602 he was appointed organist at Chichester, only to be dismissed in 1617 for public drunkenness, which caused a scandal. However, his early years as a composer, during which he produced two volumes of English madrigals, were extremely fruitful. Hosanna to the Son of David, although impossible to date precisely, was likely composed during his time at Chichester. Weelkes does not directly quote the New Testament account of Christ’s triumphal entry into Jerusalem (Matthew 21:9) but excerpts three verses and adds the Latin phrase “Hosanna in excelsis Deo.” This decidedly non-Anglican text, coupled with the music’s survival in four secular manuscript collections, suggests that the composer was writing for some courtly event. Scored for six-part chorus, this piece might remind the listener of the rich sonorities heard in the Venetian choral works of the late 16th and early 17th centuries. © James Bagwell, 2008

Cantate Domino
Winner of the Cantate Chamber Singers 2006 Young Composer's Competition, this setting of Pslam 98 highlights both the rhythmic and lyrical qualities of the text through exciting use of the vocal registers and the piano writing.

Conductor and composer Dominick DiOrio is assistant professor of choral conducting at the Indiana University Jacobs School of Music, where he directs NOTUS: IU Contemporary Vocal Ensemble, an auditioned chorus specializing in music of the last fifty years. He supervises the masters program in choral conducting and also teaches courses in score reading, choral literature, graduate choral conducting, and the doctoral choral seminar. This Spring, NOTUS will travel to Cincinnati to perform at an interest session for the American Choral Directors Association (ACDA) regional convention and to New York City for a special performance at Carnegie Hall for the “a cappella NEXT” festival.

Called "a forward-thinking young composer filled with new ideas, ready to tackle anything," DiOrio was recently named Best Composer 2011 by HoustonPress for Klytemnestra, his new opera with Divergence Vocal Theater. His second opera, The Little Blue One with librettist Meghan Guidry, will have its premiere in April 2014 in Boston with Juventas New Music Ensemble and musical director Lidiya Yankovskaya. He has been awarded prizes in composition from the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers, and the American Choral Directors Association; as well as from Boston Metro Opera, the Yale Glee Club, the Young New Yorker's Chorus and the Cantate Chamber Singers. His work is published with Alliance, Boosey & Hawkes, Éditions à Couer-Joie, Edition Peters, G. Schirmer, Lorenz, Mark Foster, Oxford and Santa Barbara.

DiOrio earned the Doctor of Musical Arts degree in conducting from the Yale School of Music, studying with Marguerite Brooks, Simon Carrington and Jeffrey Douma. His DMA research on Krzysztof Penderecki’s St. Luke Passion is published in The Choral Scholar. He also earned the MMA and MM in conducting from Yale and the BM in composition summa cum laude from Ithaca College, where he studied with Gregory Woodward, Dana Wilson and Janet Galván. He currently serves as the Indiana National Board Member for the National Collegiate Choral Organization (NCCO) and on the advisory boards for the Princeton Pro Musica and the Young New Yorker's Chorus (YNYC).

El Vito

El Vito is the result of necessity. In the fall of 2010, my colleagues and I planned a collaborative concert focusing on the music of Spain. In my research, I found music for my mixed ensemble very quickly, but the only women’s music available was pretty lullabies. We needed an exciting piece to showcase the passionate flamenco-style music of Spain, so I arranged one myself. The vito is a song and dance (St. Vitus is the patron saint of dance) from Andalusia. Its character is fierce and flashy...the piano takes on the role of the guitar accompaniment and the singers participate in the percussion by clapping (although this is quite simplified from true flamenco clapping). –Joni Jensen

Translation:

With the vito it goes

I don’t want them to look at me for I blush.
Single ladies are of gold, married ladies are of silver.
The widows are of copper, and the old ones are of tin.
Don’t look straight at my face for I blush.
I don’t want you to look at me for I’m going to fall in love.
A Malaguean lady went to Sevilla to see the bulls and in the middle of the way the Moors captured her.*

Alleluia: Incantations
Irish choral music has little history before the latter part of the twentieth century. This is somewhat understandable for a country often subjugated, but with such a strong indigenous musical identity of its own. In 1987, Dublin composer Michael McGlynn founded ANÚNA, Ireland's National Choir. Much of the group's repertoire explores the relationship between traditional choral ideas in combination with the musical heritae of McGlynn's native land. The choir's name, originally An Uaithne, derives from the collective term for the three ancient types of Irish music, Suantraí (lullaby), Geantraí (happy song), and Goltraí (lament). They have, over the quarter century, created a unique choral voice for Ireland, receiving wide accoladed for the originality of their performances, recordings, and the natural quality of their vocal production.

Translation:
You are the stag, you are the bird, you are the fish, alleluia
You are the wind, you are the cold, you are the sea, alleluia
You are the sun, you are the star, you are they sky, alleluia
You are the grass, you are the flower, you are the trees, alleluia
Alleluia my Jesus, alleluia my heart, alleluia my Lord, alleluia my Christ.

The Journey to Ithaca
Commissioned by the Ithaca College School of Music and the Ithaca College Choir, The Journey to Ithaca came about through the imagination and dedication of Janet Galván, my first conducting mentor and teacher. She was so touched by the emotions found in this poetry that she felt compelled to commission a musical tapestry to enweave it. This work is a brilliantly optimistic composition. The lines and phrases are ebullient, flowing with a sense of vitality, exuberance, and hope. Central to the message of the text is this important philosophical idea: riches are found not only in the accomplishment of a goal or the achievement of a prize, but in the many and varied experiences that accompany such a quest, such a journey.

My own four years at Ithaca College fit so seamlessly into this same narrative. I set out for Ithaca as one man, and left from it a very different one. I owe that beautiful and profound transformation—my own personal journey to Ithaca—to the incredible professors and mentors that shaped my own education. I tell many that I would not be where I am today without the patient and caring teaching of Janet Galván. And I know that I am just one of many hundreds of students who feel this way.

This work is dedicated humbly to Janet Galván and to the many students that she has helped to set forth from Ithaca. They will no doubt continue to enrich the lives of people across the country through their advocacy for education and pursuit of musical excellence.

--Dominick DiOrio

Lead Kindly Light

This text by John Henry Newman and Edward Bickerstith was made famous by inclusion in a number of hymnals to a tune by John B. Dykes. Here, Dan Forrest gives us a masterful original work for large mixed chorus with a substantial piano accompaniment.

Dan Forrest has been described as "a composer of substance" (Columbus Dispatch), with "superb choral writing...full of spine-tingling moments" (Salt Lake Tribune). Born in 1978, Dan is a pianist-turned-composer whose music has already established a lasting presence in the U.S. and abroad.

Dan's choral works have receive numerous awards and distinctions, including ASCAP Morton Gould Youth Composer's Award, the ACDA Raymond Brock Award, Meet the Composer grants, the Raabe Prize, the Donald Sutherland Endowment award, numerous ASCAP Standard Awards, and many others.

Dan holds a doctoral degree in composition from the University of Kansas and a master's degree in piano performance. He is a former professor of music at Bob Jones University, where he served as Department Head of Music Theory and Composition for several years.
'Alekoki
Translation:

Unbelievable
Waters of the 'Alekoki
Like the rains of the uplands
In Nu'uanu

Cold forsaken me
Waiting there
Believing certain
Your thoughts are of me

This body is captive
To your voice
Thoughts linger
At the waters of Kapena

Blocked
Upland streams
And I am above
In little rooms

One brave man
Faces the storm
The storms above
And the blustering wind

I behold beauty
And the flowers of the Mauna'ala
Tell the refrain
Water of 'Alekoki
